MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A public meeting was held in the town hall on Monday evening to discuss the advisability of the corporation buying the new electric light plant from Mr. S. A. Parkin. The meeting was strongly against buying the plant, and a resolution to that effect was passed almost unanimously.

Miss Edith McKee of Peterborough is visiting friends in town.

Miss E. Eyres leaves next week to attend the Port Hope High School.

Miss Almy Crossley of Peterborough, and Miss May Eakins of Toronto, are visiting Mrs. A. Johnston.

Miss Alma and Miss Violet, of Port Hope, are visiting with their sister, Mrs. M. Argue.

The annual meeting of the Millbrook Curling Club was held on Tuesday evening when the following officers were elected:

President—Chas. Needler.
Vice-President—H. B. Allen.
Sec.-Treas.—H. M. Wood.
Representative Members—T. B. Collins and L. F. Clarry.
Committee—D. Hampton, A. A. Smith and W. Collins.

The election of skips was left over for a future meeting of the club, and it was unanimously decided to stay in the Ontario Curling Association.

The East Durham and Cavan annual fall show came off on Thursday and Friday, and was a grand success. The concert in the evening under the auspices of the Cavan Society was very largely attended. There were many fine exhibits, among them the following:

SPECIAL EXHIBIT.

GRAFTON & CO.

Messrs. Grafton & Co. are in the clothing business to stay as shown by their persistence in placing the claims of their superior manufactured clothing before the people. Under the management of Mr. W. E. Conway, the energetic local manager, the gorgeous advertising van of the firm and their beautiful tented exhibit of clothing, has penetrated every corner of the district and been admired by thousands at the several fall fairs. Grafton & Co. were splendidly represented at Millbrook, the brilliant placards announcing the merits of Grafton & Co.'s hand-cut and tailor-made clothing were to be seen in every part of the village and grounds, while their splendid tented exhibit of superior clothing for men, youths and boys was the centre of an admiring throng, who were anxious after viewing to purchase clothing and would have done so had the rules of the society permitted it. For the best quality of clothing and the lowest prices the public know that the place to go is Grafton & Co, 387 George street, Peterborough.

Fragrant as the Flowers

Is the new and delightful tooth preparation "Ivorine." Foaming Ivorine is charmingly pleasant to use—a perfect delight to the senses and possess in a marvellous way the property of rendering the teeth white and brilliant. Ivorine hardens the gums, prevents decay, and imparts to the breath a delightful fragrance.

From the Garden to the Tea Pot

Is the secret of our success. Do you ever think how many profits are made out of an article before you use it? None more so than tea, especially imported packet tea. We handle no teas but our own. Oak-K-osh is one of our reliable brands, and is as good as any forty cent tea in the market. We are selling it for a limited time at twenty-five cents a pound. Try a pound and you will want more. STROUD BROS., 370 George street, Peterborough, also at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto.

We would recommend you to buy from the manufacturer direct, Grafton & Co.

SOCIAL AND CONCERT AT YOUNG'S POINT.

A most successful social and concert was given on on Monday evening by Mrs. Allan at the South Beach House, Young's Point, in which several most talented ladies and gentlemen took part.

The proceedings were opened in a few well chosen words by the Rev. F. H. Bartley, priest in charge of the Mission. After expressing his thanks and delight at seeing so many present, he called upon the Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rector of Peterborough, to speak.

In very flattering terms, Mr. Davidson spoke of Mr. Hartley's good work and popularity in the Mission, and trusted that he would long be spared to carry it on. The following was the programme:—

PART I.

Song	Miss Young
Pianoforte solo	Mr Taylor
Song	Miss Julia Strickland
Reading	Mr Hamblin
Song	Miss Sullivan
Piano and Violin solo	The Misses Young
Song	Mr. Benson
Recitation	Miss Bloomfield

PART II.

Song	Miss Strickland
Recitation	Miss Anna Young
Song	Mrs A Wilson
Pianoforte solo	Mr Taylor

Trio	Miss Kearney, Miss Young and Miss Scollard
Reading	Mrs W M Graham
Song	Mr Benson
Recitation	Miss Bloomfield
Song	Miss McFarlane
Piano duet	Miss Kearney and Miss Young
Song	Miss Phalen

The greatest praise is due to the able way in which Mrs. Allen, the popular and well-known manageress of South Beach House, handled all the arrangements and upon whose energy rests the success of the evening.

The programme was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the Queen," after which tea and cake were handed around to the visitors.

Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves immensely and all those who took part in the programme acquitted themselves most creditably.

The proceeds, which amounted to $25, were devoted to the Church of England Mission at Young's Point.

Don't You Remember Long Ago!

As the years roll on we more and more recall the events of the past. School days with their tasks and chores come back again to us in memory, but with the glamour and enchantment of distant views. The old school and church, the boys and girls we romped with, father's voice, mother's smile, the joy of the holiday—no pleasures of the present can compare with those enjoyed in the days now locked up in the eternity of the past. In a similar way we recall the the old time tested friend of the past—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—that never failed us then and is just as sure to serve us now.

Overcoats, Ulsters and Suits

WE HAVE GIVEN MORE THAN ORDINARY ATTENTION TO THE SELECTION OF OUR .

FALL and WINTER CLOTHING

The experience of the past two seasons has taught us that there are many men who expect Ready-made Clothing to be as good as clothes made to order, and who are willing to pay a fair price when they get what they want. The Winter Suits and Overcoats are here in abundance, taking up every inch of space on our two floors.

$11.00 buys an Overcoat that is away up in every respect, except price. The colours are light tan, dark brown, black and navy blue. $6 or $8 will buy an All-wool Frieze Ulster that would require an expert to tell it from the genuine Irish Frieze. Colours are the same as our other Ulsters. Our suits comprise everything to be found in a first-class store from $5 up. Be sure and give us a call.

CUSTOM WORK.—Our very large assortment of Cloths for Suits and Overcoats, made to measure, gives you a splendid selection.

Fine Dressers

---The Most Particular Men

—Men who understand that "not to be conspicious is to be well dressed"—men who are recognized for their fine judgment and good taste, as well as by their faultless-fitting garments—

DO YOU KNOW

That in our New Custom Department, we make to order all the latest styles of Fashionable Clothing now in vogue for fall and winter wear.

Fully represented in our stock of Cloths are the Newest and Most Expensive Suitings and Pantings, such as French Worsteds, English Venetians, West of England Cloths, Serges, Scotch and Canadians Tweeds, as well as the leading lines of OVERCOATINGS, such as Beavers, Meltons, Cheviots, Thibets, &c.

There's nothing missing—not a style of cut, pattern, desirable make or fabric, that the most fastiduous Dresser longs for, but what is here—consistent with the popular demands of the season of 1895.

Overcoats $11.50 up.

Suits $12.75 up.

Trousers $2.50 up.

While we can afford to dwell largely on the values we offer, at the above figures we want to impress upon you the fact that we make to order HIGHER GRADE OVERCOATS and SUITS—ranging in price from $15.00 to $18.00—equal in every respect to the garments you have to pay $18.00 and $22.00 in every Merchant Tailoring Store in town, except GOUGH'S.

Our Cutter.

MR. DUNCAN CAMERON, well-known in Peterborough for years, is our Cutter. He is a man of acknowledged ability and taste. Unsolicited testimonial from satisfied customers speak in his favour. The latest and finest Merchant Tailoring Effects have been produced from his hands, and as comparisons cost nothing give us your fall order, and we will satisfy you that what we say is right.

We take great pains in cutting and fitting and employ only the best sewers and finishers. Every suit turned out is guaranteed a perfect fit, and as we do a strictly cash business we are giving value that cannot be got elsewhere.

Small Profits.

We're believers in small profits: the more we sell the less need be the profit on a single article. Why? Because the quantity of clothing we turn out brings the material down to the lowest notch, and the cost of running our establishment down to a minimum.

Besides we're making and selling Clothing alongside of a large trade in fashionable Hats and Caps, Gentlemen's Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, &c.—hence the advantages to be derived in the way of saving money at our two stores are positively unobtainable from other merchant tailors.

Neckwear.

See them in our window and make a selection while our range is complete. Ties in any style you wish.

English Collars And Cuffs.

A complete range of sizes, heights and patterns in well known brands.

50-dozen celebrated 4-ply English Collars and Cuffs, in all the latest shapes, 20c each or $2.25 per dozen.

Have you seen the new stand-up turn-down Collar? We have it.

TWO-CENT LETTERS

To Be Issued by the Postoffice Department.

WORK FOR RAILWAY COMMITTEE

Nothing Done in Reference to a New Flag —Important Matters to Come Before the Railway Committee— Trolleys and Mail Collection.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—at the request of several leading banks, the Post-office Department has decided to issue letter cards of the denomination of 2c. The bank state that they will be able to use several thousand of such cards in a year, as they will be of great advantage to them for sending out notices to customers in preference to ordinary letters. The department has also decided to issue a one-cent letter card for use in towns where there is no delivery by carrier.

Enquiries at the Marine Department to-day elicited the information that practically nothing has been done since the session with regard to carrying into effect any of the several sugestions which have been made to the Government respecting a new Dominion flag. That some action will have to be taken soon is evidenced from the fact that the Province of British Columbia has just acquired a new coat of arms, and has discarded that which was a survival from the crown colony days, viz., a crowned lion standing upon an imperial crown. The new coat of arms granted to British Columbia by the College of Heraldry is designed to exhibit the position of the province as an important part of the British empire, and also to make plain the individuality of the province. It consists of a shield upon which the Union Jack is exhibited, the national ensign being the emblem common to the whole empire. On the upper part of the shield there are six alternate wavy lines of white and blue to represent the sea, and on it a golden sun-setting. This is designed to indicate that the province is the most westerly part of the empire. To dispel the idea which some people might have that the setting sun was a sign of strength, the motto has been chosen, "Splendor Ocasu," that is, 'radiance without setting." These words were used by a Roman philosopher in the reign of Emperor Hadrian to describe the sun, and are expressive of the fact that the sun's brilliance never wanes. The old coat of arms has been retained to the extent of making it the crest of "Achievement," as it is termed in heraldry, the crest consisting of a lion standing upon the Imperial crown, appearing above the shield. Supporting the shield on the left is a stag, wapiti, which represents Vancouver Island, and on the right a mountain goat, representing the Mainland of British Columbia. If this coat of arms be substituted on the Dominion flag in place of the crowned lion it will only serve to strengthen the patchwork idea and lead to a stronger demand than ever for the simplification of the present emblem by substituting such a figure as that of the maple leaf.

The next meeting of the Railway Committee will be held on Friday, Oct. 18. There is quite a lengthy list of cases to be heard. In addition to a number of applications which have been previously under consideration, several new ones will be considered. The Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway has several applications, two of them affecting the Hamilton, Grimsby & Beamsville electric road; another referring to a junction with the Michigan Central Railway at Welland, and another applying to the crossing of the highway on the west bank of the Welland Canal near Welland.

A formal order will be issued validating the permission given to the City Council of Toronto for the temporary crossing recently laid over the C.P.R. tracks at North Toronto, so as to allow the Metropolitan Street Railway Company connection with the Toronto Street Railway, in order to convey water in tank cars into the city. When City Solicitor Fullerton made application to the department for such permission it was promptly granted.

The attention of the Deputy Postmaster-General was to-day called to the proposed utilization of street railway cars for the collection of mail matter in cities and towns. Col. White said the department was being urged to try the experiment, but, according to information which had just reached the department, the system had not been a success in England, where it has been in operation for some time. The last report of the British Postmaster-General, which has just reached the department, states that in several cities the system of attaching letter boxes to tram cars has been tried, but except in Huddersfield, where it was first introduced, the public did not appear to make much use of the accommodation.

Col. White thinks if the system were applied to Canada the result would be the same as in England.

The period at which the annual statistical returns of different railway companies of Canada should reach the Railway Department expired on Oct. 1, but out of 140 railway companies in the Dominion only 55 have sent in their statements. The dilatoriness lies on the part of the smaller companies and an officer of the department has been sent to the headquarters of several of the companies to urge them to hurry up. Often Government departments are reproached for not getting out their statistics earlier, but in this particular case the departments are not to blame.

Up to the 7th of October, or 28 working days in all, 559 vessels had passed through the Canadian canal at the Soo. The amount of the tonnage was 455,837.

Officers of the Fisheries Department have seized at Murray Harbor 67 cases of lobsters, the property of the Hon. D. Davies of Georgetown, P.E.I., the allegation being that the fish were caught and canned during the closed season. Mr. Davis contends that the lobsters were caught beyond the three-mile limit and therefore out of the jurisdiction of the Dominion. The department, however, will not concede this, as the waters of Northumberland Straits are defined to be strictly territorial waters of Canada. Mr. Davis threatens legal proceedings.

The argument in the fisheries case before the Supreme Court was proceeded with to-day and concluded at 4 o'clock. Mr. Irving concluded his remarks on behalf of Ontario and British Columbia and Mr. Blake was heard for Ontario. The Attorney-General of Quebec presented the separate position of his province and Mr. Clarke did the same for British Columbia. Mr. Robinson, Q.C., then replied and the court reserved its decision. To-morrow the court will hear the appeal from the decision of the Exchequer Court in St. Louis vs. the Queen, the case against Contractor St. Louis.

It is reported that the Government intends to make an additional walk around the base of Parliament Hill, something in the nature of a marine drive. It will make a much longer circuit that the present Lovers' Walk.

STOLEN C.P.R. SHARES.

A Frenchman Arrested in New York When Offering Them for Sale— A London Lady's Property.

New York, Oct. 10.—Charles Roussell, a Frenchman, was arested to-day as a suspicious character, in the banking office of T. E. Ward & Co., at 59 Wall-street. He went there to sell 100 shares of Canadian Pacific Railroad stock, which he claimed to have purchased in Paris. He made his first appearance in their office on October 1, when the firm told him they would try to find a customer for his stock. Roussell showed a receipt on a Paris banking house, showing that he had paid 26,765 francs for the stock. He left 50 shares and promised to return to-day. Meantime the firm received a cablegram from their London agent stating that on the 9th of last April they had been asked to look out for certificates of Canadian Pacific stock numbered 177,013, 19,265, 19,026, 194,965 and 194,967. The request had been made by Miss Winifrid Gordon of London, who reported that the certificates are her property and had been stolen from her. When Roussell appeared to-day he was arrested. The other 50 shares were found on him. The prisoner was remanded until to-morrow.

ED. FORREST'S BODY FOUND.

A despatch from Stokes Bay last night states that the body of a man supposed, from papers found upon it, to be that of Edward Forest, 88 Belton-avenue, Toronto, fireman on the wrecked steamship Africa, had been picked up.

The crew of the tug John Logie of Southampton, found the body floating off Pike Bay with a life preserver bearing the name of the Africa.

Forest had sailed on the barge since spring. Three weeks ago he came to Toronto to visit his family and while here engaged two firemen, who joined the boat at Buffalo, Forest going on board at Detroit. These two men are supposed to be the "two firemen, names unknown," mentioned among the drowned in the first despatch concerning the disaster. Nothing further has been heard of the barge Africa, and there is not the slightest hope left that she survived Monday night's gale.

The schooner Severn is lying partly under water, and is badly broken up. She has been abandoned as being a total wreck. The crew of the Severn are at Stokes Bay.

Thirty People Hurt.

St. Louis, Oct. 10.—A collision occurred last night between a Missouri Pacific accommodation train and a Wabash engine in the yards at 22nd-street. The front end of the Missouri Pacific coach was crushed in. Thirty passengers were injured, but none seriously. The engineers and firemen escaped by jumping. The damage to the rolling stock will amount to $10,000. The collision was caused by an open switch.

Kindness Conquered Indians.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Rev. Father Antoine, O.M.I., passed through the city yesterday. Since May last he has been visiting the Catholic missions of the far north, and travelled several thousand miles. His only means of transport were canoes and dog carts, and with these he penetrated into country far north of Great Bear Lake and to a point not very far from the shores of the Arctic Sea, which he reached after a journey of 2,000 miles. The hardships encountered on the trip were many and trying, the principal cause of annoyance being flies and insects. The Indians are docile and obedient, deeply attached to the Canadian pale face, and cherish a most trustful and childlike faith in the truths that are taught them. Father Antoine says that kindness conquered them where arms and force would be impotent to do so.

Suing Commandant Booth for Libel.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The Rev. Alfred, formerly Brigadier De Barritt, yesterday entered suit against Commandant H. H. Booth, claiming $5000 for alleged libel, contained in a letter written by Booth to an officer of the Salvation Army in England, soon after Barritt left the ranks of the army.

Manufacturing Establishments, Residents and Barns Gone Up in Smoke—Six Persons Burned to Death at Loon An Old Lake—Man Loses His Life in Paris.

Chatham, N.B., Oct. 11.—Fire broke out about noon to-day in the store of Bryan Morin, in Duke-street, and is still raging furiously. Already about 25 buildings have been burned. These include the Roman Catholic Cathedral and the convent of Chapel Hill, Alex. Robinson's carriage factory, Miller's foundry, and the dwellings of D. G. Smith, Thomas Fitzpatrick, Alexander Robinson, Frank Cassidy, James Hackett, and all the houses in Foundry lane. At this hour, 3.30 p.m., the fire is still spreading.

The town of Newcastle was appealed to for aid and a fire engine and crew have just arrived.

Campbellton, N. B., Oct. 10.—Later—The Roman Catholic Church and convent at Chatham were not destroyed as at first reported. The fire is now under control. About 25 buildings were destroyed.

The Gillespie foundry and machine shops, owned by James G. Miller; Robinson's carriage factory and 35 residences, occupied by about 50 families, and 30 barns were totally destroyed. Part of the household effects were saved. The homeless families are nearly all very poor. The west side of St. John-street, Foundry-street and Chapel-street were destroyed. The convent caught in several places, but was saved by men with buckets. An unoccupied house on the line of fire was discovered to be on fire, supposed to have been set.

The insurance was principally held in the Phoenix of London, the Lancashire and Imperial. Some other companies have a few hundred dollars, but the greater part is in these companies. The total loss is $60,000.

Barns and Stock Destroyed

Brucefield, Ont., Oct. 10.—The barns of Mr. W. Berry, a quarter of a mile south of here, together with all his grain and most of his farm implements were burned to-night about 7 o'clock. Cause unknown; loss partly covered by insurance.

Blaze in New York.

New York, Oct. 10.—Early this morning fire started in the five storey brick building, 334 and 336 East 23rd-street. One of the walls of the burning building fell and did considerable damage to the surroundings. Loss $25,000.

A Million Dollars Lost

Sydney, N.S.W., Oct. 10.—A block of buildings on Bayley-street, in Coolgardie, Australia, was burned yesterday. The loss is estimated at £250,000.

Six Burned to Death.

Tweed, Ont., Oct. 10.—A fire occurred at Loon Lake, about 30 miles northeast of here, on the night of Tuesday, burning the dwelling house of Mr. Thomas Lindsay. There were ten persons in the house at the time. Six were burned to death, all children of Mr. Lindsay, two girls aged 21 and 16, two boys aged 13 and 7, and twin babies. The fire occurred about 12 o'clock at night, and no one seemed to know how it started.

There was, besides Mr. Lindsay's family, a man by the name of Peter Lebarge and his son, who barely escaped by jumping from the second-storey window. Mr. Lebarge is employed by the Gilmour Co. in getting out timber, and he lost $70 in cash and his watch and clothes.

Mr. Lindsay is badly burned about the face and hands. The Lindsay dwelling was situated between Loon Lake and Sheldrake Lake, and the nearest neighbors are some five miles distant.

Old Man Burned to Death.

Paris, Ont., Oct. 10.—A middle-aged stranger from the vicinity of Hamilton, named William Graham, was burned to death last night while sleeping alone in a house which he had rented from Mr. Yates. A gold watch was found on his person, but if he had any money it was burned, as his clothes were consumed. His face was almost past recognition and both legs were partly burned off. The body has not been claimed as yet.

HANGED BY THE CARS.

An Octogenarian Meets His Death at Brighton—Railway Wrecks.

Brighton, Ont., Oct. 10.—Mr. Olives Davern, aged 81, an old resident of this place, was assisting in putting a case of eggs under a train to-day, and while under the cars the train started. The wheels mangled his left leg fearfully. Davern could not stand amputation and died at 6.30 p.m.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1895.

THE FINANCIAL MUDDLE.

The Montreal Gazette, commenting upon the financial statement issued by the Government, which shows a deficit of $4,079,532 for the past fiscal year, says that the returns are "extremely gratifying." The ground for gratification, he says, is that "the result for the year has been about half a million dollars better than what Mr. Foster estimated when he made his budget speech last session. He then estimated the deficit for the year at $4,500,000. The actual figures show it to have been $4,079,532." During the same period the public debt has been increased by $6,816,443. There can be only one cause for Tory gratification at such a disastrous financial showing as this, remarks the Montreal Herald, and that is that the Liberal Minister of Finance will find it difficult next year to meet this deficit. Every difficulty which Tory extravagance places in the arduous path over which the Coming Liberal Finance Minister will have to travel is, of course, for the Government organs "extremely gratifying." And the Herald might have pointed out that while our highly protected Canada is adding to its debt at the rate of nearly seven millions a year, effete and distressed Free Trade England is paying off her gigantic national debt at the rate of thirty million dollars a year. Last year the debt was decreased by about forty-five million dollars. In 1826 the gross liabilities of the nation were £853,473,597, (about four thousand million dollars; the gross debt now is a little over three thousand millions,) which shows that in sixty years a trifle less than a thousand million dollars of indebtedness has been cleared off. The Suez canal shares that the nation holds are worth $120,000,000, and if this sum is deducted from the gross debt it reduces the national debt accordingly. A huge debt increasing with alarming activity, increasing extravagance and increasing taxation are some of the beauties of a high taxation policy and Conservative government.

THE Conservative journals want Mr. Laurier to suggest a settlement of the Manitoba school difficulty. That is the duty of the Government, and it is no more the Liberal leader's business to do this than to raise the price of wheat, which our present rulers persistently refuse to do.

EACH estimate of the Manitoba and Northwest grain crop seems to go up higher. Premier Greenway says the Manitoba share will reach over sixty million bushels—namely, thirty-five million of wheat, twenty million of barley and six million of oats.

THE late William Gooderham, of Toronto, left $269,000 in charitable bequests. During his life he was a generous man and a consistent church member. He was a whiskey distiller, but perhaps in his case, the Ottawa Journal thinks, temperance people will admit that a good thing came out of Nazareth.

THE Ottawa Journal says: "Hugh John Macdonald's name as a possible Cabinet minister is quite a pleasant amendment to most recent suggestions. He is neither a nonentity nor the possessor of a smudged record." And in these respects he is not eligible for a Cabinet position. He would be in danger of being speedily asphyxiated in the atmosphere of the present Cabinet. Brains are not so much in demand as brass in the Dominion Cabinet—wiggle counts for more than work.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

The Last Meeting for 1895—2,725 Cheese Boarded—Buyer Cook Pays 8c. for Selections—Other Factories to Sell off the Board.

A regular meeting of the Lindsay cheese board was held on Thursday. Business opened at 11.30, President Robertson in the chair and Secretary Curtin at his post. The buyers present were Messrs. Cook, Flavelle and Fisher.

The following factories boarded the number of cheese set opposite their names:

	Sept. 1st h'f.	Sept. 2nd h'f.	Oct. 1st h'f.
Star	120	120	220
Lornesville	45	50	85
Cameron	70	70	140
Dunsford	76	79	100
Gamebridge	—	—	—
Maripoma	120	—	100
Derryville	75	85	100
Cambray	60	60	75
Janetville	35	35	—
Manilla	—	—	—
Fenelon Falls	85	85	80
North Verulam	85	85	80
Minden	28	27	28
Leaskdale	—	—	—
Valentia	30	30	60
North Ops	40	42	15
Downeyville	35	30	15
Reaboro	65	—	—
Bobcaygeon	74	70	—
	868	885	1,078

When President Robertson called for bids Mr. Flavelle offered 7¾c. for September make, and on being pressed made it a board bid. Mr. Cook responded with 7¾c for selections; Mr. Fisher offered 7 11-16c and Mr. Cook raised to 7¾c. At this point a lull ensued in the bidding, Mr. Flavelle being called away for a few minutes. When he returned he raised the bidding to 7 13-16, and Mr. Cook offered 7¾ for selections, September and October. He named a number of factories but all refused, the salesmen saying they were prepared to accept 8c. Mr. Cook finally accepted and named Cameron, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, Cambray, Derryville and Dunsford, all accepting. Mr. Flavelle the offered 7¾ for the balance of the board, but only Janetville was willing to accept. Lornesville then sold off the board by consent to Mr. Cook, and Mr. Flavelle then raised his bid to 7 13 16, stating at the same time that he was not anxious to have the offer accepted, owing to the state of the market and the fact that two of the factories would have to be communicated with respecting the offer.

After some further discussion a number of the salesmen who had not sold consented to hold their cheese until to-morrow for Mr. Flavelle at 8c., subject to cable.

The last meeting of the board for 1895 was then brought to a close.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

The demand for cheese, and the general condition of the market continue disappointing. The markets are dull, and prices are easy. The London Grocer, in its issue of Sept. 14th, gives a gloomy report of the situation in the English market. "For want," it says, "of a more elegant or expressive term, the trade in Canadian and American cheese is described as 'sick,' and sales throughout the week have been difficult to effect. There are importers who no longer stand out for the last sixpence or shilling, but take what they can get without turning away a likely purchaser, and in this manner it has come about that cheese in perfect condition has been realized at 40s to 41s ex-warehouse, with qualities a shade or two lower at 38s to 39s. fine at 34s to 37s, and poorer or flavory sorts in proportion, or as low as anybody could wish." And also has the following editorially: "There is a commonly expressed opinion in Tooley street that the trade in Canadian and American cheese there is in a depressed state, alike unsatisfactory to buyers, as well as sellers, and operations this season, so far, have been attended by more losses than gains. This is a most disappointing turn in the course of the market, which, in May last, was thought by many leading firms to have touched the lowest point; but what has been experienced by holders since then has not confirmed this impression, and business is as difficult now as it has been at any previous period this year. Although the 'c.i.f.' quotations have advanced from 31s and 32s at the opening of the new season in the spring to 38s and 40s to 41s lately no corresponding rise has taken place in the value of cheese landed and delivered in London, and buyers for forward delivery have been fulfilling their engagements at a considerable disadvantage to themselves. June cheese which was sold at 40s compares unfavourably for holders with August makes, recently forced off at 36s to 36s 6d; and guided by reports emanating from the other side of the Atlantic, which say that about 500,000 boxes of cheese are in storage there, some parties in our market have an idea that, if the home trade hold off a little longer, they may be able to obtain September cheese at similar rates."

Ottawa, (Special) Sept. 30—An American who has been here interviewing the members of the government on private business, has left for Toronto, where it is understood he will try and make an arrangement with the Dodd's Medicine Company of that city for the establishment of a manufactory of Dodd's Kidney Pills in New York State. He declined to specify the locality. During his stay in Ottawa he has been investigating the now celebrated case of G. H. Kent, who was saved by this remedy when in the last stages of Bright's disease, and has satisfied himself of the genuine nature of the case. He asserts that the medicine is now universally used throughout the state.

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humor on the scalp," says Mr. D. P. Davis, Neal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected. Everyone who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

Norway Pine Syrup strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs, colds, etc.

Froebel, the great promoter of the kindergarten system of teaching children said: "Let parents not live for their children, but with them." The mother who understands this sentiment lives with, even her unborn child. She studies to be wise about herself and the little life she is fostering. She does all she can to give her child a fair start in life, by giving it a strong well developed body. All through babyhood, childhood and youth she lives with her son or her daughter. Especially her daughter she will keep near her. She will allow no false modesty to stand in the way of that daughter's knowledge of herself, of her possibilities, of her perils. She will teach her that happy, healthful motherhood is an honor, a blessing. That sickness is a mistake, a breaking of nature's law. But there are times of unavoidable overdoing when the system becomes run-down.

For over thirty years Dr. Pierce has used his "Favorite Prescription" as a strengthener, a purifier, a regulator. It works directly upon the delicate, distinctly feminine organs, in a natural, soothing way. It searches out the weak spots; and builds them up. It is beneficial in any state of the system. A woman who would understand herself will find an able assistant by sending 31 cents to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book that has reached its 680th thousand. It contains in its 1008 pages an immense store of information in plain words that any person will readily understand.

MR. O. G. SPEAR, of Sand Beach, Oswego Co., New York, testifies in this wise: "Our first child was born before my wife was sixteen years old. Afterward her health was very poor. She tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She gained flesh and strength by using two bottles. During the last few weeks of her second pregnancy she again used the "Prescription." Her confinement was a rapid and easy one, and she got up strong and well."

Overcoats, Ulsters and Suits

WE HAVE GIVEN MORE THAN ORDINARY ATTENTION TO THE SELECTION OF OUR

FALL and WINTER CLOTHING

The experience of the past two seasons has taught us that there are many men who expect Ready-made Clothing to be as good as clothes made to order, and who are willing to pay a fair price when they get what they want. The Winter Suits and Overcoats are here in abundance, taking up every inch of space on our two floors.

$11.00 buys an Overcoat that is away up in every respect, except price. The colours are light tan, dark brown, black and navy blue. $6 or $8 will buy an All-wool Frieze Ulster that would require an expert to tell it from the genuine Irish Frieze. Colours are the same as our other Ulsters. Our suits comprise everything to be found in a first-class store from $5 up. Be sure and give us a call.

CUSTOM WORK.—Our very large assortment of Cloths for Suits and Overcoats, made to measure, gives you a splendid selection.

The Noon Parade.

The Guy Bros.' parade at noon to-day attracted quite a crowd on the streets. The silver band is fully up to the mark of former years, which is saying a great deal, as Guy Bros.' band has always been one of the noted musical organizations of the country. The company is larger than last year and presented a fine appearance in to-day's march.

Badly Scalded.

A few nights ago Wm. Parker met with a serious accident in the G.T.R. roundhouse, where he is employed. While at work underneath an engine unknown to anyone, the fire was dumped into the ash pan, containing some water, which was immediately converted into steam, and before Parker could scramble out his face and hands were badly scalded. He will be laid up for some time.

A Detective in Town.

Detective McGrath, of the Toronto Police Department, passed through to-day on his way home, after spending his holidays duckshooting in the vicinity of Hastings. His appearance in town caused quite an excitement, as his stalwart figure is well known to those citizens who have occasion to go to Toronto often. It was pleasure, not business, however, which brought him here.

Claiming Wages.

In the Police Court, this morning, Messrs. Beverely and Young, two shantymen, sued Mr. Alfred McDonald, lumberman, for alleged unpaid wages. The men were at work in the timber limits and leaving suddenly were, it seems, refused their pay. The case has been enlarged for a week to give Mr. McDonald an opportunity of inquiring into the case, as at present he has no means of ascertaining if the men were even employed in his camp.

Don't You Remember Long Ago!

As the years roll on we more and more recall the events of the past. School days with their tasks and chores come back again to us in memory, but with the glamour and enchantment of distant views. The old school and church, the boys and girls we romped with, father's voice, mother's smile, the joy of the holiday—no pleasures of the present can compare with those enjoyed in the days now locked up in the eternity of the past. In a similar way we recall the old time tested friend of the past—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—that never failed us then and is just as sure to serve us now.

WENT CRASHING INTO THE RIVER.

An Express Train Goes Through the Bridge.

AN AWFUL SCENE DOWN AT THE LOCKS LAST NIGHT.

No Fatalities Occur, but the Escape of all Borders on the Miraculous—Hundreds Visit the Scene of the Wreck—The Engine and Baggage Car in the Otonabee—The Lines Now Clear.

By a most miraculous Providence a terrible fatality was averted by the narrowest possible margin, last night, at the swing bridge on the Grand Trunk line, just south of the town. The engine and baggage car plunged through the open draw into the Otonabee, carrying with them the brakeman, baggageman, fireman and a commercial traveller, and, almost incredible as it may seem, all four not only escaped instant death, but were able to reach the shore in safety, Mr. Marks, the traveller, being the only one whose injuries were considered serious.

Just how the accident occurred and upon whom the blame will rest are points which are at present hard, indeed, to determine.

The train, composed of engine, baggage car and passenger car, pulled out of the station for Belleville at about nine o'clock, as usual, and on bridge semaphore the driver slowed up as is his custom, and on seeing the danger lights displayed brought the train to a stand still. The train hands state that after waiting there between eight and ten minutes they distinctly saw the lights change on the semaphore, and when the white signal was shown No. 10 was headed for the bridge at a ten mile an hour rate. Leaning part way out of his cab Driver Andrews, who was replacing Billy Taylor on the run, saw the bridge moving, and with a yell to his mate threw himself off in the darkness.

Just what happened next the trainmen never knew. A terrible crashing jar was felt and with a plunge the engine and jumping clear of the pier, buried itself in the river, dragging the baggage car after it. Baggageman Gardiner, Fireman Hayes and Brakeman Brown, all of Peterborough, and A. A. Mark, traveller for J. D. King & Co., of Toronto, went with this portion of the train into the river and how they escaped instant death is indeed miraculous. The shock in itself was terrific, as the drop is fully thirty-five feet from the trestle work to the water and after escaping injury in this manner, to also pass through the ordeal of reaching shore through the deep water in so dangerous a spot, is a trial through which few indeed could have passed with safety.

The passenger car almost followed the front portion of the train into the river also. In fact a portion of it did drop into the Otonabee, as the front trucks were wrenched off, but fortunately the body of the car fell to the ground when deprived of the support of the wheels, and the car containing eight passengers hung balancing in mid air on the edge of the pier. The windows were all smashed and the seats wrenched from their places by the violence of the shock. The passengers hastily made their egress through the rear door of the car, and in a very few minutes there were hundreds of spectators on the spot.

The sight was one which will never be forgotten. The engine was entirely out of sight in the river, only the top of the cab being visible. The baggage car had of the locomotive, and then rolled over, and only about two or three feet of it was above the surface of the water. The men who were inside of it do not know exactly how they escaped. The door someway flew open, and the train men, though stunned and dazed by the suddeness of the shock, got safely out in some manner. Mr. Marks had a more thrilling experience. He was in the car, having a smoke, when the catastrophe occurred, and before he could escape through the door the car filled with water and he found himself swimming in the car with only about a foot of space between his head and the roof. With great presence of mind he kicked out a window and obtained his liberty by climbing through it. He describes the sensation of being in the car and expecting it to roll over and smother him every moment as being something awful.

An enquiry which was held last evening goes far to show that the lights were meddled with by some one not authorised so to do.

ARCHIE JACKSON,

the bridge tender, has charge of the signals. He has only been with the Grand Trunk Company about ten days, but appears to be a careful and conscientious employee. He states that he went out to swing the bridge open for the Gilmour alligator, and before doing so set the danger signals in the semaphore. The alligator, he states, passed through, and the bridge was almost swung back into position again when to his horror he saw No. 10 pulling up past the semaphore for the bridge. Nothing could be done but await the inevitable. The engine struck the swing when it was within a few feet of closing, and, throwing it wide open, rushed headlong into the river. The bridge tender is most positive in his assertion that the lights on the semaphore were never changed, and that the train pulled past them regardless of the danger signal. He himself could not have changed it as he was on the bridge. His sister, who states she was out watching the alligator go through, says that she saw the danger signals set by her brother who then went on the bridge where he remained until the engine plunged into the water.

William Kempt and T. McWilliams, who state they were in the vicinity when both aver they saw the danger signals set and noticed no change. The train crew, however, as one man, state they were waiting for the lights to move and that the train did not pull past the semaphore until the danger signal was reversed and a white light shown.

Engineer Andrews stated to an EXAMINER reporter this morning that he was in a position to prove that the work at this signal box was often looked after by those who were not employees of the Company, but were just lounging around the switch box and occasionally lent a hand with the signals. He thinks that the accident was caused by one of these loungers turning the semaphore when he thought the bridge was closed. This is the theory that finds most favour in the eyes of the agent and also of the majority of the employees, who are loth indeed to think that an employee who has been in the service for ten years would make so fatal a mistake as to pull past a semaphore displaying danger signals.

Those who were in the passenger car besides Conductor Staunton, who was in charge of the train, were:—

Mr. Hoar and wife, of the Narrows, near Campbellford.
Mrs. K. Lancaster, Hastings.
Daniel R. Wright, Hastings.
John Welsh, tanner, Hastings.
Robert Harston, merchant, Warkworth.
W. J. McMillan, Westwood.
Mr. Feltwell, Campbellford, and also one other whose name has not as yet been ascertained.

At daybreak this morning an auxiliary crew was at work on the wreck, and the line was clear at 8.15, the Belleville train being delayed at the bridge only twelve minutes. The engine and baggage car, however, are still both in the river, and will only be removed by the erection of derricks and other appliances on the river bank.

Mr. Marks is feeling somewhat better this afternoon, and was able to see an EXAMINER reporter for a few minutes. His face and left hand are very severely cut and his hip is badly bruised. He states that he went into the baggage car to smoke, and sat down by the stove in the front end. Consequently when the car fell, all the baggage from the rear was precipated to the front and for a moment Mr. Marks thought he would be pinned down under the water, which rushed into the car in torrents. He struggled to the surface through the debris and hearing the water hissing around the stove thought it was the escaping steam from the engine and at once surmised that there had been a pitch in and that he was in danger of being burned alive. The flood of water soon relieved his mind in this particular, but he states that he was nearly drowned by being clutched by the tail of his coat by the baggageman. He broke a window, which was just out of the water and which was the only means of egress, and both he and the baggageman hung on to the ledge until a plank was put out to assist them to shore.

Station Agent Hayden states that the loss will be trifling, indeed, as the engine is not seriously damaged and the baggage car will be almost as good as ever, with a new coat of paint. The trainmen who visited the scene this morning expressed the utmost surprise at the very small amount of damage which was done.

THE DAUGHTERS OF ENGLAND'S SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

It Was Liberally Patronized and the Programme one of the Best.

The success which attended the tea and concert and ball given by the Daughters of England, last night, surpassed the most sanguine expectations of all. Table after table was replenished time and again with appetising viands before all those in attendance could be accommodated with supper. Over four hundred in all partook of the hospitalities.

The concert, too, was a most enjoyable part of the triple entertainment. Bro. Alfred Gaskin occupied the chair in a most efficient manner and announced the following interesting poogramme:

Musical selection.....Gibson Taylor

Recitation.....Miss Rose Taylor

God Save the Queen.

A fan drill performed by Misses Barlow, Statham, Sawers, Fee, Rush, Lundy, Rickey, White, Bell, Rush, Ackerman and Green, under the direction of Lieut. Ames, was one of the most interesting features of the evening and elicited great applause. The young ladies were attired in Japanese costume, and being most graceful in their movements the drill was invested with great attractiveness.

Amongst those present was "Daddy" Taylor, the most enthusiastic of Sons of England men. He took great pride in the performance of the band, which he worked so hard to organise, and which is making such rapid progress under the leadership of Mr. John Miller.

Sleeplessness, Mental and Physical Fatigue

Go hand in hand. The waste of the body that ought to be restored by rest and sleep suffers increasing diminution; the loss of strength and vigor of body and mind follows. It is in this class of diseases that the marvellous properties of Maltine with Coca Wine are most markedly exhibited. It penetrates to the very sources of vital action, inasmuch as the nerve centres are impressed by its medicinal power and the digestive functions stimulated to increased and more efficient action. This imparts to the whole system the much needed impetus, the nerves are soothed from a state of irritability to that of repose—sleep, with all its beneficent influences, comes back to lend its aid to the process of restoration. Digestion keeps pace with the improvement of appetite, and in a short time the nervous, miserable sufferer regains his old-time vigor and the capability to enjoy life and all it affords. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

THE OUTFALL SEWER.

Section No. 3 Now Under Way and Being Rushed Through.

Messrs. Grant and Winch have already commenced work on Section 3 of the outfall sewer, and have a large gang of men engaged in excavating. The route was staked out yesterday and the upper strata of gravel ploughed up, after which the pick and shovel brigade fell to work. Contrary to expectations the excavating has been commenced north of the Spaulding's Bay, and the men are working towards King street instead of in a southerly direction. So rapidly is the work being carried on that by ten o'clock this morning the sidewalk was already impassable by reason of the quantity of gravel which had been thrown up from the excavations.

Messrs. Rutherford & Bogue are pushing their work along very rapidly on Section No. 2, and by this evening the excavators will have reached George street and in all probability have finished their part of the work, and as the bricklayers are following up very fast, no doubt Section No. 2 will be finished early next week.

THE ENGLISH HOP CROP.

The hop pickers of England have had splendid weather for gathering the crop, which has improved so much of late that the yield is now estimated at 473,000 to 500,000 cwt., against 300,000 to 325,000 cwt., as estimated in July last. On the continent of Europe, however, the yield of hops for 1895 is placed at 980,000 cwt., as against 900,000 for 1894, showing the large decrease of 310,000 cwt. The hop crop of the United States is estimated at 430,000 cwt., against 498,000 cwt. last year.

Throughout the Prince Edward district buyers are paying from 6 to 10c. per pound. One buyer has secured ten tons for which he has paid 10c. for the best samples.

Benefits are too Soon Forgotten.

But in the case of Wilson's celebrated Invalid's Port Wine the experience is different, because those who have felt its fine effects in building up enfeebled constitutions, have not hesitated to speak of it gratefully to others. It is not a medicine at all, and yet it has all the effects, and more lasting effects, than some medicines for, rich, strong and generous, it makes blood and flesh and the invalid is surprised to find that he has a new lease of life and working powers after its use. A thoroughly reliable old port, which acts as a tonic, bringing back appetite and aiding digestion. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co. 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

THE LOST IS FOUND.

A Livery Rig Which was Stolen Last Night Already Recovered.

Liveryman Robert Gibbs is up at the scene of the Trent Valley Canal operations this afternoon endeavouring to identify a man who hired a horse and rig from him last night and after driving up near Nassau, left the poor animal tied up all night in Mr. George Harvey's lane.

The horse was very cleverly obtained from Mr. Gibbs. A stranger came to him with a plausible tale about a friend having had both his legs broken over in Ashburnham and needing a conveyance to take him to the hospital. Dr. Halliday was mentioned as being the attending physician and the horse was harnessed without delay. Mr. Gibbs began to wonder at the delay when two hours passed and the horse was not returned, so he telephoned Dr. Halliday. It was the first the doctor had heard of the case and Mr. Gibbs at once came to the conclusion that he had been victimized by a horse thief, and communicated with the police.

The horse was observed in the lane this morning by a farmer driving into town who told Mr. Gibbs where to find his property on hearing of the occurrence. The poor horse had pawed a hole in the ground almost big enough to bury itself, in an endeavour to keep warm through the long cold night. If the offender is found Mr. Gibbs intends making it warm for him, and is accordingly sizing up the Trent Valley employees this afternoon in hopes of finding the culprit.

THE MICHAEL YOUNG CONCERT.

A Small Attendance, but an Enjoyable Concert.

The Michael Young concert in the Opera House, last night, was favoured with only a very small attendance, though the concert as a whole was a very enjoyable one. Of course the singing of Master Michael Young was the chief attraction and in expecting great things from him, the audience was not disappointed. He sang with the same ease and elegance that marked his former appearance in Peterborough with the addition of a more matured method. His numbers, which were given with remarkably enjoyable effect, were "When the Heart is Young" by Dudley Buck; "When Lubin sings" by Hobbs and a song composed by Plumpton specially for Madame Melba, "Spring's Awakening" In all these he showed the possession of a splendid voice, remarkable for its purity, under excellent control, combined with a charming distinctness of enunciation. He was most heartily received. The other contributors to the programme were Mr. Ernest Wood, basso, and Mr. Allan Fairweather, tenor, who gave their respective numbers with good effect and were heard to delightful advantage in duet, singing, "Marzial's Love." Lincoln Carlisle, the comic vocalist of the company, contributed two numbers. Miss Young contributed a couple of well-performed pianoforte selections, and the accompaniments were well played by Mr. Carlisle.

PEACE IN MADAGASCAR.

Antananariva Fell on Sept. 30—A French General Appointed Governor.

Paris, Oct. 11.—The war office has received a despatch from Andriba, under date of Oct. 9, stating that Antananariva, the capital of Madagascar, was taken by the French troops on Sept. 30. This despatch further says that the Queen of Madagascar has made peace with the French, and General Metzinger has been nominated as Governor of Antananarivo.

The Autorite mentions rumors which it says are traceable to the war office, where despatches from Antananariva are being withheld from the public, to the effect that General Duchesne, commanding the French expedition in Madagascar, was compelled to treat with the Hova Government in consequence of his having arrived before the capital totally without provisions and having learned that the natives would burn the city and ravage the country if the French did not come to terms.

General Duchesne has informed the War Office by telegraph that Antananariva was occupied by the French expedition under his command after a brilliant action.

President Faure has responded to the telegram by apointing General Duchesne a grand officer of the Legion of Honor.

The Government will strike a Madagascar medal for the troops who took part in the campaign against the Hovas.

The Temps says the condition of peace agreed upon by the French expedition in Madagascar and the Hova Government provide that a rigorous French protectorate shall be maintained, Madagascar not to be annexed by France, however, and the reign of the Queen to be maintained. The Prime Minister, who is the husband of the Queen, is to be exiled. The Hova Governmental organization is to be retained, but under terms ensuring exclusive French control.

DICKINSON, NOT BAYARD.

Said to Have Worked the Game of Bounce in the Sackville West Matter in 1888.

Washington, Oct. 10.—A local paper discussing the Sackville-West pamphlet, says: "It was not Mr. Bayard, but Don M. Dickinson who was accredited with bringing the Murchison letter episode to such a tart and vigorous end. Mr. Bayard, according to report, was pacific throughout until obliged to speak for the President and the Administration. Mr. Dickinson was the man to bounce in that transaction. There was as much anti-English sentiment in Michigan along the Canadian border as in Irish circles in New York and Mr. Dickinson was promising a large Democratic majority to the President that year. He it was, as report had it, who insisted that Lord Sackville should promptly receive his passports, and when the same demand came also from New York the President yielded. In support of this, it is pointed out that Mr. Bayard has always been most friendly to England and particularly since the affair in question. Of course, when the Cabinet decreed Lord Sackville's dismissal, Mr. Bayard, as the official spokesman, must acquit himself of his task with spirit and emphasis, and that he did. Mr. Dickinson, on the other hand, was anti-English then, and is anti-English now. He is classed as a jingo. He was opposed to the landing of the English at Corinto and he entertains very advanced views about the Monroe doctrine. The whole proceeding, which terminated in Lord Sackville's humiliation, was in accord with the Dickinsonian view of how the United States should deal with English interference with American views."

JIMMY WALL GOES FREE.

The Hamilton Shooting Affray of June Last Investigated at the Assize Court Yesterday.

Hamilton, Oct. 11.—At the Assizes to-day James Wall was tried for shooting James Neelon, with intent to do bodily harm on June 28 last. Colin McDougall of St. Thomas was crown prosecutor, and the prisoner was defended by G. S. Lynch-Staunton. John O'Connor, the principal witness, told of how he and his brother had accompanied Neelon into Wall's saloon on Stuart-street, and shortly after heard a young man named Roach came in. The latter and Wall got into an argument. Neelon threw down a two dollar bill and receiving only 80 cents change asked Wall for one dollar more. Wall said Neelon had given him only a dollar bill. The argument was kept up, and Wall shot Neelon through the abdomen, and threatened to shoot the others if they didn't leave the hotel.

The defence was that the affair was accidental. John Pearson said he heard a row in the saloon, saw Wall go out to the sidewalk to look for a policeman. When he returned he took the revolver from behind the bar and pointing it toward the crowd ordered them out. They rushed at Wall, evidently to take the weapon from him and in the scuffle it exploded.

The jury considered the case till 8 to-night and brought in a verdict of not guilty.

BULLER WILL RETURN.

The Viceroy of Foo Chow Shows Defiance of British Requests Cruelty Inflicted on Culprits.

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Shanghai says that Admiral Buller, commanding the British fleet, will return to Foo Chow on board the dispatch boat Alacrity to-day, the Viceroy having assumed an attitude of defiance.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a second letter from its correspondent in Kucheng, retailing the difficulties attending communication with Foo Chow and describing the trial of a prisoner implicated in the outrages upon missionaries. When the court is ready the writer says the accused man is brought in handcuffed. He is filthy in appearance and has the wild and ghastly look of a starved man, which he probably is. The prisoner opens the proceedings by swearing that he was nowhere near the scene of the massacre, and then the torture begins. The man is first compelled to kneel with his bare knees upon a coil of chain. His head is drawn back and his pig-tail is fastened to a rack high above his head. A pole is then thrust across his legs and two soldiers stand on each end of it, crushing the poor wretch's knees into the coil of chain. The British Consul could not stand this mode of extracting testimony, and soon insisted that it be stopped. This was done as far as the proceedings in the court-room were concerned, but for an hour afterwards the shrieks of tormented prisoners could be heard coming from an adjacent room, where the torture was continued.

When the magistrates wanted to hear the confession of a tortured man the prisoner was brought back into the court-room. If he held back his confession he was threatened with resumption of his torture. This was usually sufficient to cause the prisoner to tell all he knew rather than return to the torture chamber.

Besides the torture described, the prisoners were beaten with bamboo sticks until their yells were most horrible to hear. One prisoner appeared in the court room unable to walk, from the beating he had received, and another man was unable to kneel because his knees had been broken by the chain links and his thighs had been lacerated by the strokes of the bamboo rods. In the midst of such misery cakes, fruit, tea and wines were served and partaken of by the native officials, who could not understand why the foreigners present pushed these delicacies aside, refusing to touch them.

The correspondent declares that the powers ought to demand justice without torture, reaching the mandarian as promptly as the man who works in the fields. The whole business, he says, lies at the door of corrupt officials.

SHORTIS' TRIAL.

The Prisoner's Sweetheart to Testify in His Behalf To-day.

Beauharnois, Que., Oct. 10.—The monotonous task of translating the Irish commission into French to the jury sitting on the Shortis murder case was completed at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The prisoner's old sweetheart arrived here in company with her mother yesterday afternoon, and will be placed in the witness box to-morrow to testify in behalf of her old lover. She will also tell her relations with him.

Mrs. Shortis is still very ill and confined to her bed from the strain upon her nerves.

AN ODD INSURANCE SUIT.

Husband Sold a Duplicate Policy, the Wife Must Reimburse the Buyer.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Some years ago Mr. C. S. Marshall, who now lives in Church-street, was insured in the Independent Foresters for $2000. The policy was made payable to Mrs. Marshall. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall separated, the latter still holding the policy and keeping up the payments. On the representation that the first certificate had been lost, Marshall secured a second. This he sold to Dr. G. B. Smith for $600; $200 was paid by Mr. Smith, when he discovered that the original certificate was in existence, and refused to pay any ore. Marshall entered a suit to compel the payment of the remaining $400. Justice Rose yesterday gave decision against him, at the same time ruling that Dr. Smith should be recompensed from the original policy, the balance to go to Mrs. Marshall.

Discontent in Newfoundland

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 10.—The popular discontent is very great at the Government's action in refusing to accept the bank notes, which the Government itself guaranteed.

Railway operations will likely close shortly until next spring. One hundred and twenty miles, or a year's work, of the railroad across the island remains to be completed.

THE MANITOBA HARVEST.

The Farmers of the North West Will Have Plenty of Money to Spend.

Winnipeg, (Special) Oct. 7.—The prospects of a good year for the Manitoba farmers are now assured, thanks to the abundant harvest. One of the causes for the sickness prevalent last year will now be obviated, as the farmers will have more money to spare for the purchase of the necessities for health. One of the straws which shows which way the wind is blowing is the fact that druggists are ordering the well-known remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, in unusually large quantities. The inhabitants of the province are well aware of the value of the medicine, and only the financial stringency has hitherto prevented its universal use.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from six prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars

TURKISH TROUBLES.

Reply of the Porte to the Six Powers.

MUSSULMEN NOT THE AGGRESSORS

An Inquiry to be Instituted by the Turkish Government - Meanwhile the British Warships Remain in the Neighborhood of the Dardanelles.

Constantinople, Oct. 10.—The Porte's reply to the joint note of the six powers, relative to the recent rioting here, has been made public. The Government enumerates the steps that were taken to maintain order and declares that Mussulmans were not the aggressors in the rioting. It further says that Armenians killed inoffensive Mohammedans and that in certain cases the Mohammedans had to defend themselves against their attacks.

The reply denies the reports that the Government forbade the sending of supplies to the Armenians who had sought refuge in the churches and declares that the refugees will soon leave the churches and return to their homes and the city will resume its normal aspect. It announces that the Government is about to open an inquiry for the purpose of discoverin the guilty persons and recommends the diplomats to their good offices with a view of restoring order, especially as the intrigues of agitators cause fears that more serious outbreaks may occur in the capital.

Upon receipt of reply the representatives of the six powers met at the residence of M. Cambon, the French ambassador, to consider the attitude of the Porte as exemplified in its note. It is the general belief that the note will not satisfy the diplomats. The meeting also discussed how best to clear the churches of the refugees who refused to leave them unless they were formally assurd that they would not be molested. It was thought that probably the best means to effect this object would be to have the dragomans of the several embassies assist in clearing the churches and conduct the refugees to their homes.

The police say that 100 Mussulmans have been arrested for taking part in the rioting.

The presence of the British fleet at Lemnos at the entrance to the Dardanelles, continues to cause anxiety to the Sultan, and he has made a second appeal to Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, to secure the withdrawal of the British warships. Thus far his appeal, like the first one, has been without avail. This leads to the belief among the foreign residents that Great Britain intends to persist in her demands, even though the other powers should declare themselves as satisfied with the concessions the Porte has announced itself as being willing to make.

This evening the plan of the Ambassadors to have their dragomans assist in procuring the evacuation of the churches by the refugees was put into effect and the churches were vacated in their presence, the Government having positively guaranteed that the refugees should not be molested. Thus one of the ineitements to further trouble has been removed.

The Ottoman Liberal committee, whose organ is published in London, recently posted in this city a manifesto declaring that the grievances of the Armenians are genuine and that they, like the Mussulmans, are being oppressed. The manifesto placed the responsibility for recent events on the Sultan's advisers. Izzet Effendi, a noted lawyer, and member of the Constantinople Bar, and several others, were arrested on suspicion of being the authors of the manifesto. Izzet Effendi is president of the committee. It is stated that he admitted that he was the author of the document. He is now closely confined in the Yildiz Prison.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 9.—The Methodist Mission Board after an exhaustive hearing have decided to recall the six missionaries in Japan, namely, Messrs. Crummie, Dunlop, Coates, McKenzie, McArthur and Elliott. This decision does not come into operation until June next, but the door has been left open so that if the missionaries can see their way clearly to support the policy of the board and act in harmony with its officers a desire has been manifested that they be cordially received. Dr. Eby, who, on account of illness, has been unable to appear before the committee, is to be employed by the Executive, while the case of Rev. F. A. Cassidy is still under discussion.

Recruits for the Congo.

Brussels, Oct. 9.—The Journal Bruxelles denies upon official authority the statement made in The Antwerp Matin yesterday that the Congo State authorities are enlisting a force of six thousand men for an expedition. The only men that are being enlisted are a few hundred recruits who are intended to reinforce the weak posts in the Lualaba region.

SOME SEVERE FIGHTING.

A Number of Encounters in Cuba Between Spaniards and Rebels—Bravery of Insurgents.

Santiago de Cuba, Oct. 11.—Last week several encounters took place between Spaniards and Cubans in the Manzanillo and Guantanamo districts.

In Guantanamo the Spaniard column met the insurgents near Monte Libano on the 29th ult. They fought bravely and the official reports say that two officers of the guerillas were killed and 40 soldiers wounded. The rebels had three men killed and two wounded, the former being Commander Gabino Vasques.

On Sept. 27 Gen. Munoz arrived at Manzanillo after being five days in the field. His force consisted of 850 infantry, 150 mounted guerillas, a company of artillery and another of engineers. This column met the rebels in different places between Vegulta and Bueycito. The Spaniards were carrying a large convoy, which they nearly lost. The insurgents attacked the Spaniards vigorously, after filling the roads where the column had to pass with trunks of large trees. It was with great difficulty that the Spaniards forced their way to Bueycito.

In San Bana de Tara the attack of the insurgents on the troops was so terrible that the Spaniards had to fight all together, infantry, artillery and engineers. In this encounter, according to official reports, the Spaniards had 15 killed and 70 wounded. Private information is to the effect that there were many more wounded.

A band of rebels yesterday attacked with dynamite a passenger train from Remedios, killing one person and wounding six others. The rebels, who were concealed in the undergrowth along the line, threw a bomb as the train passed, the explosion badly wrecking one of the cars. The affair will cause a further falling off in railway travel, as it is feared that the rebels will make similar attacks again.

Suing the Canadian Government.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 10.—Some time ago Canadian officials confiscated a lot of nets belonging to the Arion Fish Company, at Lake Nemakinaw and fired on and arrested some of the men employed by the company on the ground that they were trespassing in Canadian waters. The fish company has begun suit against the Canadian Government to recover heavy damages. The waters in which the trouble took place are disputed by United States and Canada.

CANDY

FOR CHILDREN.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. Too much sweet upsets the stomach and spoils the appetite, but candy in moderation if it is not taken before a meal, is food which children crave naturally, and among the purest and most wholesome is that manufactured by SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

THE CONDON IRON PUMPS.

Every year new and valuable improvements come to the front in the manufacture of well and cistern pumps. Mr. James Galvin, of Peterborough, showed three different styles of the Condon Iron Pump, each with their special advantages for the particular uses for which it is designed. The pumps received special recommendations at the West Riding Fair in Peterborough and Mr. Galvin was well pleased with the attention they received at the Norwood Fair. It will not be long before a considerable number of these pumps will be in use on the farms in East Peterborough. They are made entirely of iron, and ought to last far beyond the lifetime of the ordinary wooden pump. The force pump, for filling tanks on the top storys of stables or cow byres, for mixing feed, or for filling baths or any water reservoir supply, must prove a handy labour-saving convenience. It is guaranteed to throw water on top of a two-storey building, and can be put to many other uses of a like description. The other two pumps are specially recommended for wells and cisterns and are frost proof. The patent valves with which they are supplied are claimed to be a long-felt want in the pump business, as by their peculiar operation the annoyance and trouble of having your pump frozen is overcome. These pumps make efficient force pumps also and can be used for cleaning buggies, windows, etc., watering lawns, spraying and for fire protection.

HOWARD'S HARNESS.

As usual, Mr. Thos. Howard, of Hastings, "holds the fort" in the harness line at this Fair, and as usual carried away the first prize tickets. He showed 1 set single harness, with celluloid mountings, 1 set single harness with solid rubber mountings, 1 set double carriage harness and 1 set long tug farm harness. The superior quality of leather and the skilful workmanship put on all his manufacture, has given them a preference over other makes, Mr. Howard believing that the best is none too good for his business.

OAK HALL, PETERBOROUGH.

The advance guard of the Oak Hall mile post brigade, arrived on the fair grounds from Peterborough in close marching order. The representatives of the firm had been out early in the day completing their line of mile posts to Norwood and deployed on the fair ground to continue their effective advertising methods. The buzz of the Oak Hall bee, one of their novel advertising souvenirs, could be heard on all parts of the fair grounds and hundreds of them were given away during the day. This was the first year that this well known firm of clothing manufactures were represented at the East Riding fair, and if they did not make a display of their high-class wearing apparel, they displayed their wonted energy in making themselves known to the farmers and visitors present. Speaking to a member of the firm the latter said : "Oak Hall keeps no half-way qualities or doubtful values. We start at the cheapest trustworthy makes, and from this we go step-by-step to the highest grades. All articles in stock are worth every cent we ask, because all are marked at the lowest possible price. Others may claim to do more—we say they will not do as well. We avoid a position (being our own manufacturers) to make the lowest possible price, and we do it, depend upon that. We sustain and strengthen our record day-by-day with honest, reliable goods, at prices lower than asked by others. We offer in the most popular styles and fabrics of the season, neatest, reliable clothing for men, youth and boys. The bargain centre for clothing buyers—yours for all that is best and cheapest in men's wearing apparel is Oak Hall, the reliable one price clothing house, corner George and Hunter streets, Peterborough, John Moffatt, Manager. We're in Peterborough to stay, just as we are in Toronto, London, Windsor, Hamilton, etc."

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The Rugby football team turns out for practice to-morrow afternoon on the P. A. A. grounds at 4 p.m. sharp. The splendid showing made by the Peterborough Rugby team last year when they won easily from such teams as Osgoode II, should be a great encouragement to the boys to turn out and practice hard in order to get into the same kind of condition this year. Trinity College School is very anxious for a game, and as they have an excellent team, Peterborough's first fifteen will need to have lots of practice to get into shape to put up a good game against them. The following players are requested to turn out for practice to-morrow: Montgomery, Hicks, Thompson White, Pullen, Rev. Mr. Stepenson, Bell, Gordon, Bellegham, H. Lewis, Parsons, C. Pousaette, T. Burnham, Dumble, Allen, Hudson, Parker, Gurd, Innes, Adams, R. Davidson, W. Davidson, Keogh, Jeffries, Lambe, Thorne, Mackenzie, Lefevre, Hamilton, Wilgar, MacGachen, Kelly, King, D. Rogers.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Gravesend Race Track, Oct. 10.—The weather was perfect for racing purposes to-day, and this, coupled with a fairly interesting program attracted a larger crowd than usual to witness the sport. The features were the races for the Billow stakes for 2-year-olds and upwards and the Bay Shore stakes for 3-year-olds. The former event was captured by Handspring, who was second choice in the betting, defeating Rey del Carreres, the odds-on favorite, by a neck after a furious drive. The race was one of the fastest ever run on the Gravesend track, the six furlongs being covered in 1.14½.

The race for the Bay Shore stakes was won in a romp by Peacemaker. The other events were about equally divided between favorites and outsiders.

It was announced to-day that Sir Hacos, who was purchased from J. W. Rogers yesterday by Mr. Croker for $10,000, will be shipped to England in about ten days. It is also likely that Mr. Croker will take Rey del Carrerers to England with him, but the deal has not yet been consummated with Mr. Baldwin. Summaries:

Windsor Races.

Windsor, Oct. 10.—Good racing was seen to-day, the fourth of the meet, by those who braved the cold. At dark Wednesday six heats of the 2.14 pace had been paced. It took two more heats to-day to decide the race. Gertie B. took a fourth then a first place and decided the race. HIGHWAYMEN NEAR MYRTLE.

A Toronto Drug Traveler Held up in a Swamp by Three Men and Roughly Used.

Mr. James A. Johnston, a drug traveler employed by C. D. Daniels & Co., King-street east, had an exciting experience with highwaymen on the road about three miles from Myrtle on Wednesday night. Mr. Johnston travels on his bicycle, carrying his sample case on the handles. He left Myrtle at about 7.30 p.m. to make Balsam.

About half a mile from Ashburn he saw a man standing in the roadway and enquired how far it was to Ashburn. The man uttered some reply and quickly caught the handles of the bicycle, throwing Mr. Johnston from the machine, at the same time, commanding him to "hand out what yer got." The man carried a good-sized stick and waved it threateningly.

Mr. Johnston grappled with him secured the stick and felled him. Two other men sprang from behind the fence and matters were unpleasantly warm, when a threshing machine was heard approaching and the men decamped, in the direction of Myrtle. Mr. Johnston arrived in the city last night and bears some ugly marks on his face and body as a result of the encounter.

DURRANT'S TRIAL.

In a Clear Voice He Denies Having Any Part in Miss Lamont's Murder.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Durrant yesterday in his defence repeated the story about becoming ill and sending for a glass of bromo-seltzer. Altogether he gave a very plausible explanation of his actions at the time when it is believed the murder of Blanche Lamont was being effected not 100 feet distant from the position he says he occupied.

The most dramatic of the incidents of the day was when his counsel came to ask him directly about the murder. His answers were delivered in a clear, calm voice. He denied that he was at the Normal school where two witnesses swore they saw him or on the car with Blanche Lamont where three witnesses claimed to have seen him. He said he did not accompany Blanche Lamont or any one else to the church.

Then his counsel solemnly asked him : "Did you ever participate directly or indirectly in any violence on the person of Blanche Lamont ?"

"Never," replied the accused man.

"Did you kill or participate in the killing of Blanche Lamont in this city and county on the 3rd of April or at any other place at any time ?" he was then asked.

He replied : "I did not."

Durrant also denied that he ever visited the pawnshop of Adolph Oppenheimer to sell Miss Lamont's ring.

On cross-examination, Durrant said he was born in Toronto, April 24, 1871. He had resided in San Francisco 15 years.

WRECK OF THE AFRICA

Captain Silversides Tells of the Unfortunate Affair.

NO HOPE FOR ANY OF THE CREW

Crew of the Severn Were Rescued at Great Risk—One of the Africa's Lost Firemen Peter Brady of Toronto —Anxiety for the Safety of the "Atwater" and "M. Graw."

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Another victim of the Africa's wreck is a Torontonian who joined the boat on its fatal trip. That the details of the wreck are even more terrible than already published is evinced by the story told by Captain Silversides yesterday. There is no hope that any of the Africa's crew have been saved.

Of the two firemen who were lost in the wreck of the Africa one is Peter Brady, who lived with his uncle, Patrick Quinn, at 11 Coatsworth-street. He went from Toronto last spring as fireman on the steamer Business, leaving her at Ashtabula. On Oct. 2 he wrote that he was shipping with Matt Hayes on the Africa. Brady was fireman on the steamer Greyhound during the summer of 1894. He was unmarried.

It was stated yesterday that the other missing fireman was Edward Creamer, whose friends reside at 163 Bathurst-street. It transpires, however, that Creamer left the Africa when she reached Buffalo, and is now at Collingwood. Both Creamer and his father, who was engineer on the Africa last season, hold poor opinions of the boat's seaworthiness.

Captain Silversides of the ill-fated Severn arrived in the city from Owen Sound yesterday morning, and told to a World reporter a most thrilling story of the storm that wrecked his boat and the steamer Africa last Monday, and in which so many lives were lost. The hardships the crew of the Severn endured are almost beyond description.

"I believe it was ordained that those two boats should be wrecked," said the captain, "although we didn't expect gales such as we had after the equinox. A fog came on when we were in the St. Clair River, and we lay there for seven hours owing to a wreck which was lying in the river, just where we did not know. That seven hours was fatal. Had we but gone on we should have been able to have got shelter from the storm.

"For all I know the Atwater and M. Graw may have also been wrecked, as they have not yet reached Owen Sound, although they left Ashtabula at the same time we did and went ahead while we were anchored in the river. It is possible though that they have gone into shelter, as they had a good lead on us when we encountered the storm that wrecked us. We left Ashtabula in tow of the Africa, at about 5 o'clock on Friday night. The weather being very favorable and remaining so, with the exception of a fog until Monday morning, when we reached Sand Bay, Lake Huron. Monday the weather was threatening, and by noon it had changed to a stiff breeze coming from the west. We were making bad weather a couple of hours after and at 4 o'clock the wind had changed again and we encountered a gale from the northwest.

"At about 4.30 our misfortunes commenced, when the foresail of the Severn blew out of the bolt and the main gaff breaking away shortly afterwards caused the mainsail to go by the board. We were still making headway, however, although rolling heavily in the trough of the sea. Something must have gone wrong with the Africa at about 5.30 as she let go the tow line without any warning. We then set our stay sail and mizzen to try and work her into Boat Cove, where there is a harbor. The seas were very heavy and we were making water.

"The Africa had dropped to the leeward, and we last saw her astern of us about half an hour after she let go the tow line. My crew kept the boat afloat by using the steam pump. The weather was getting worse and worse. I was unable to steer for Boat Cove, and we were driven aground on the reef at ten o'clock. The Severn soon began to break up, and we took our places in the rigging, remaining there I don't know how long. It was bitterly cold, and we were all wet through. Every time the water struck us we thought our time had come, as huge parts of the ship, which had been broken off were washed back upon the boat with terrific force. A faint hope entered our hearts when the hatches were washed away, as there was then an opportunity of getting some shelter from the elements. We dropped separately into the hold, and finding a box of matches, the centre of which were dry enough to light, we started a fire on the coals. We then made a meal of some food we found, which, although soaking wet, we were glad to get.

"Words cannot express how glad we were at 7 o'clock in the morning to see a fisher boat from Stokes Bay making for us at a big risk to themselves in the terrible seas that were raging. Our clothes were frozen stiff, and we were in an awful condition. Mr Bradley, the fisherman who, with his partner, came to our rescue, must have had nerves of iron to run the risk he did for us. Why, man, you don't know what the danger was to fetch that small boat up to a wreck threatening to go to pieces at any moment, and on a reef at that. I have been sailing now for 35 years, and I was never more glad to see anyone in my life than I was to see Mr. Bradley and his mate. They got us off without any mishap, although some of the crew were hardly able to help themselves; but they got us all to shore safely, where we stayed all day.

"On Tuesday the gale had moderated to some extent and we went out to the Severn. The life boat of the Africa and a package of papers belonging to Miss Lee were found on Tuesday and we found Forest's body with a life buoy on it Wednesday."

Capt. Silversides returned last night to Stoke's Bay, to rejoin his crew, who are 10 miles north of there. He said before leaving:

"I do not think there is a chance of any of the Africa's crew having escaped. The boat must have gone down in a minute, as when we found the life boat we could tell it had not been used, as the fold-pins were not drawn. Those of the crew who put on life buoys will probably be washed ashore, but the other poor fellows will probably never be seen again, as it must have been at least 15 miles from shore where the Africa sunk.

"I am going back now to pay off the men. They are patrolling the beach looking for any bodies that may have been washed ashore."

Forest's relatives have gone to Stokes Bay to bring the body to Toronto for burial.

CLAIMS OF CANADIAN SEALERS.

An Important Conference to Take Place at Washington to-day to Consider Them.

Washington, Oct. 11.—There will be an important meeting at the State Department to-morrow between representatives of the United States and the British and Canadian Governments. The object of the meeting will be to formulate a treaty supplementary to the Behring Sea arbitration and to provide for the settlement of the claims of the British owners whose sealing craft were seized by the United States revenue cutters prior to the announcement of the official arbitration and also antecedent to the modus vivendi. Sir Julian Pauncefote, who will be the British representative, has just made a Canadian trip to collect data from the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and also information obtained by Collector Milne, of Victoria, as to the character and value of vessels and their catches, at the time of the seizure. It was these claims that Secretary Gresham agreed to settle for $450,000, providing Congress assented. It will be remembered that a bitter fight resulted over Secretary Gresham's recommendation, Secretary Gresham went to the capital and labored hard with the senators to have the money provided. These claims must now, in accordance with the terms of the arbitration, be adjusted by the supplemental commission which meets to-morrow.

The British claims aggregate over a million dollars and the Canadians profess to be very much disgusted with Sir Julian's acceptance of less than 50 per cent. of their value. American experts, however, who visited the ports from which these vessels operated, have since produced what they regard as convincing evidence that even $450,000 was more than 100 per cent. in excess of the real value of the property.

If precedents are followed, notably those set by Secretary Blaine, the Canadians will not be allowed to sit with the commission to-morrow as members thereof, but their functions will be confined to an advisory capacity to Sir Julian. Secretary Olney and his law officials will act for the United States, while Sir Julian will represent Great Britain.

FATAL AND OTHER ACCIDENTS.

An Old Resident of Smith's Falls Drowned. Death of a Man From Eating Pills.

Smith's Falls, Oct. 12. — Jeremiah Washburn, one of the oldest and most respected residents of this place, was drowned to-day in Rideau Lake. He had been up to his summer cottage and was returning in his sail boat. The upturned boat was seen near the shore, but the body has not yet been recovered.

Killed by Splitting of a Pulley

Aylmer, Ont., Oct. 11.—Mr. J. D. McDiarmid, proprietor of the hub and spoke factory of this town was instantly killed here to-night by the splitting of a wood pulley in the stave works. The pulley struck him with full force on the left side of the head, smashing his skull. He was a brother of Rev. Mr. McDiarmid of Toronto.

Was This the Man?

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 11.—The man who was burned to death in the house in Paris the other night, and who was said to have hailed from Hamilton, is believed to be R. Buckton, who was committed a short time ago in Dundas for drunkenness. The man comes from the vicinity of Guelph and owns property in Fergus and Elora. His brother manages the property and sends him the proceeds, and whenever he receives a remittance he rents a house and goes for a long spree. He is about 45 years of age and unmarried.

Sir William Van Horne Interviewed in Winnipeg.

FREIGHT RATES ARE REASONABLE

The President of the C.P.R. Gives His Opinion on Wheat Mixing and Other Matters—Low Prices and Grading Being Much Discussed.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—Sir William Van Horne in an interview with newspaper representatives yesterday, said the company did not at present contemplate the construction of any branch lines in Manitoba nor a new station building in Winnipeg; neither was it intended to interfere in any way with the grain buying or elevator business. He seemed to think the farmers themselves to blame for many disabilities under which they were placed. He considered the proposal to construct flat warehouses ill-advised, and endorsed the course of the Government on the grain mixing question. Freight rates, he said, were fair and reasonable, and there was no present prospect of a reduction. As to whether it were better for farmers to hold wheat than sell it at the present low prices, Sir William declined to express an opinion. Previous predictions as to wheat prices had not been fully realized. Sir William feels quite confident that the company can handle all the traffic this season without blockade.

The low price of wheat and the method of grading and mixing grain has caused a very general discussion of these questions of late. It is felt that too great advantage is taken of farmers who have frosted wheat. The suggestion has therefore been made that the Provincial Government have a thorough test made of all grades of wheat, having each ground into flour and made into bread. It is contended that the lower grades will make flour quite good enough for general home consumption and that millers can well afford to pay much better prices than now.

The Provincial Health Officers who investigated the causes of the outbreak of typhoid fever at Carberry and diphtheria at Wellwood find that polluted water was the most fruitful source of the diseases. There was also such very bad sanitation in some places that fumigation was unavailing and houses had to be burned.

A despatch from Regina says: The citizens yesterday had a rather unpleasant experience of the practical operation of the prairie fire ordinance passed at the late session of the Northwest Assembly. The ordinance empowered the Mounted Police to press any and everyone into service to extinguish fires, and when an alarm was given yesterday the police peremptorily ordered about forty citizens to leave work, shut up their business places and go out four or five miles into the country to fight fire. Their efforts were entirely successful, but some unwilling ones kicked vigorously against the new order of things.

THE WOMAN WAS PLUCKY.

A Lady Telegraph Operator Drives Off Two Masked Robbers.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—The Southern Pacific station at Baden, 10 miles south of this city, was entered last night by two masked men, who requested the telegraph operator, Mrs. Leva Marshall, to hand over what money there was in the office. Mrs. Marshall immediately reached for a revolver, but the robber anticipated her movement, and opened fire upon the lady, his first bullet striking her in the left arm just below the elbow. Mrs. Marshall returned the robber's fire. Alarmed at the fusillade, the intruders fled. Six bullets were sent after them by the woman, but it is not known whether any of them took effect.

MARLBOROUGH—VANDERBILT.

The Wedding Day Changed to Guy Fawkes' Day.

New York, Oct. 11.—It is now announced that the Duke of Marlborough and Miss Vanderbilt will be married on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at noon, in St. Thomas' Church.

The impression prevails that though cards for the church ceremonies will be general, only the bridal party and a few intimate friends will be asked later to the breakfast.

FRANCE AND MADAGASCAR.

No Territory to be Ceded by the Hovas Without France's Consent.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The Matin says that the treaty of peace made by the French commander in Madagascar with the Hova Government provides that no territory shall be conceded by the Hova Government without the consent of France, and that the concessions that have already been granted may be cancelled. Under these provisions the grants of vast tracts of country obtained from the Hova Premier by Englishmen and Germans may be withdrawn.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1895.

A RED rag to a bull is soothing and sedative compared to the effect which a visit of Mr. Laurier to Ontario has on the Mail and Empire and other journals of its political kidney. It is a high compliment to the Liberal leader that he is feared and hated in these quarters. If he were a nonentity and had no influence he would not command such distinction from his enemies.

ONE of the most useful books that the Dominion Government has issued in some time is an electoral atlas for the Dominion, showing the population and actual vote cast in each electoral division at the last elections, and giving maps of the divisions and their boundaries. The Hamilton Herald remarks that the earmarks of the gerrymander are visible on every page. Some of the divisions look as if they had been outlined by a streak of forked lightning with a jag on.

A VETERINARY surgeon writing to the Leeds Mercury, says that the fact that cattle imported from Canada are found to be suffering from pleuro-pneumonia in England, while no trace of it is found in the exporting country is easily explained. He says the diseases is developed at sea, the change of condition producing it. Cattle shipped from Australia to England are now found to be suffering from the disease. The suggestion may throw a light on a disputed subject. Certainly the lot of a steer in a cattle ship is neither a comfortable, natural nor happy one.

IT may be of interest to the public, and the ladies especially, to learn that as an offset to the privilege of becoming chatelaine of Blenheim, Miss Vanderbilt will bring to her future spouse an interest in the following properties: A fortune of $70,000,000; a house at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-Second Street, New York, valued at $3,000,000; Marble Hall, Newport, valued at $3,000,000; a house and estate at Oakdale, L.I., valued at $500,000; the steam yacht, Valiant, valued at $500,000, rubies, diamonds and other jewels, valued at $300,000. The young couple ought, with close economy, to be able to keep the wolf from the door.

CURES CATARRHAL DEAFNESS.

Strong and Unsolicited Testimony of the Curative Powers of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

Actions speak louder than words. Mr. John MacInnis, of Washabuck Bridge, N. S., made use of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder and says: "I used the medicine according to directions and found it to be a wonderful cure for catarrhal deafness. I can hear as good as ever. You will find 60 cents enclosed for which please send me another bottle. After recommending the catarrhal cure to my neighbour, she seeing the wonderful good it has done me, wants a bottle, so you will please send a bottle and blower to her also."

One short puff of the breath through the blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use. It relieves in ten minutes and permanently cures catarrh, hay fever, cc headache, sore throat, tonsilities and deafness. 60 cents. Sample bottle and blower sent on receipt of two three-cent stamps. S. G. Detchon, 44 Church street, Toronto. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A SKEPTIC CONVINCED.

HE HAD NO FAITH IN ANY ADVERTISED MEDICINE.

Attacked With a Bad Cold. His Trouble Went From Bad to Worse Until he Was Threatened With Locomotor Ataxia—Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured After Other Medicines Had Failed.

From the Yarmouth, N.S., Times.

The remarkable cures affected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have long been a matter of newspaper notoriety, and many of them—well described as miracles—have been in our own province, but we believe so far none have been published from Yarmouth. A Times representative enquired in a quarter where such matters would likely be known, and learned that there were several remarkable cases of restoration to health directly traceable to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, right in our midst. Curious to ascertain the facts in relation thereto, our representative called on Mr. Charles E. Trask, who had been known to have experienced a long illness, and now was apparently in excellent health, his care being attributed to Pink Pills. Mr. Trask, who has been an accountant in Yarmouth for many years, was in his office on John street when the reporter waited on him.

Found Mr. Trask in his Office.

"Yes," he said, "there can be no possible doubt of the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in my case, and I will be pleased if the publication of the facts helps some other sufferer back to health. I caught cold, was careless and caught more cold. The first thing I knew I was seriously ill. I could not walk. All strength seemed to have left my legs and the weakness increased. From being obliged to remain in the house I became obliged to remain in bed, but still supposed it was but a very bad cold. I became so helpless that I could not move in bed without help. I had good attendance and the best of care and nursing, but as week succeeded week I seemed to grow worse instead of better, till I was worn to a mere shadow, and began to care very little if I ever recovered. A hint that I was threatened with something called locomotor ataxia reminded a friend that my case seemed similar to some of those described in the Times, which had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this first drew my attention to them as a possible aid for me. I admit that I was skeptical—very skeptical—there are so many medicines being advertised just now, and I was never much of a believer in them. Well, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were purchased, and I took them, as I suppose I would have taken anything else, simply as the routine of a sick room. The first box seemed to show little effect, and by the time I had got through with the third box there could be no doubt my condition showed a marked improvement, and I was correspondingly encouraged. The pills were continued and I became rapidly better, so that I was able to sit up and go about the house, and occasionally go out if the weather was fine. Day by day I grew stronger, and to make a long story short, I feel I am to-day in as good health as ever I was in my life, and I can hardly realise I am the same man who suffered for six months, a helpless, despondent being, who never expected to be on his feet again. While I have no desire for publicity I am quite willing these facts should be made known for the benefit of others, and am ready at any time to bear hearty testimony to the genuine worth of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They restored me to health when I never expected to be about again."

Mr. Trask certainly looks the picture of health, and remembering the long period he had been laid up, our representative left, fully convinced that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have well deserved all that was said of them elsewhere. When such cases can be pointed to in our own midst there can no longer be any doubt of the reliability of the many statements of wonderful cures effected throughout the country.

A Feather in McGill's Cap.

Montreal, Quebec, October 11—All the frieds of McGill are delighted with a piece of news that Lord Playfair has brought across the ocean. As far back as 1851 a couple of scholarships were given to Edinburgh University which entitled the fortunate winners of these prizes to a year or more study in any university outside of Great Britain. Over 40 years have passed away and as might have been expected the great continental universities were generally selected by the chancellor, or those who had the choice in hand. Canadian universities are, however, forging ahead, and this year McGill has been chosen to receive two young gentlemen from Edinburgh, and it is learned that they have already left the other side and will reach Montreal in a few days. Lord Playfair adds that McGill has made wonderful progress of late in the eyes of university men abroad.

INTERESTING INTERVIEW.

An American Will Make Arrangements With a Canadian Firm.

Ottawa, (Special) Sept. 30—An American who has been here interviewing the members of the government on private business, has left for Toronto, where it is understood he will try and make an arrangement with the Dodd's Medicine Company of that city for the establishment of a manufactory of Dodd's Kidney Pills in New York State. He declined to specify the locality. During his stay in Ottawa he has been investigating the now celebrated case of G. H. Kent, who was saved by this remedy when in the last stages of Bright's disease, and has satisfied himself of the genuine nature of the case. He asserts that the medicine is now universally used throughout the state.

THE FETTERS ARE BROKEN.

The Strong Chains of Disease Dashed to Pieces.

The Sunshine of True Life After Years of Darkness and Misery.

Paine's Celery Compound the Bright Star of Hope for All Sufferers.

A Campbellford Lady and Her Rheumatism.

The strongest fetters and chains of disease are surely broken when Paine's Celery Compound is called to our aid. Wonderful life-saving work has been done in the past, and to-day, thousands are using the marvellous compound with the greatest success. Men, women and young people pronounced incurable by physicians are gaining new life, strength and vigour through the use of Dr. Phelps' great prescription, Paine's Celery Compound. That hideous and life-destroying disease, rheumatism, can now be easily overcome and banished. Proof of this assertion comes in every day. Men and women who suffered for long years are made well and strong by Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine known to physicians that can successfully cope with rheumatism and sciatica.

The case of Mrs. Mary McKillop, of Campbellford, Ont., strongly demonstrates the value of the earth's best medicine; she says:—

"I was a sufferer from rheumatism for a long time, and endured great pain. The cords in the palms of my hands were drawn up in knots and I despaired of getting relief. However, after using Paine's Compound, I have banished all my pains and troubles, and find myself strengthened in every way. I think Paine's Celery Compound is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism and all nervous complaints, and I will always recommend it strongly. I particularly recommend your medicine to all weak and delicate women.

PERRY THE TRAIN ROBBER.

Miss Haswell, the Troy City Missionary, Tells About Him.

Troy, N.Y., Oct. 12.—Miss Amelia F. Haswell, the city missionary, against whom the grand jury at Poughkeepsie failed to find an indictment on the charge of aiding Oliver Curtis Perry, the train robber, to escape from the Matteawan asylum, says that her friends are seriously considering what legal action should be taken in the matter of her treatment by the police officials and certain newspapers. Miss Haswell said that she had been persistently persecuted by the police. She said she was visiting in the western part of the State before Oliver Curtis Perry committed the first train robbery, and that she received a letter from Perry, who announced that he was passing through the greatest sorrow of his life and felt tempted almost beyond endurance. Miss Haswell at once wrote him, telling him to look to God for guidance, and be faithful to Him. But the robbery was committed before he received the letter. The missionary said that she thought Perry was tempted to commit the first train robbery in order to get money with which to reach his sweetheart, who he learned was dying in New Mexico. Miss Haswell said that when Perry called for her she told him to make restitution. The next day the robber sent the missionary a package of jewelry, which was at once placed in the hands of a lawyer and returned to the Central Hudson Railroad Company. Miss Haswell said that she had saved the company thousands of dollars and returned property which Perry would rather have thrown into the river than given back to the company. Miss Haswell said that she had befriended Perry when he came to her because she knew that Perry's life had been upright during the three years he was in Troy, and that the police had maliciously misrepresented the facts about him.

Belfast Shipbuilders on Strike

Belfast, Oct. 11.—Three thousand engineers and their assistants in the ship-building yards here went on strike to-day, their employers refusing to concede their demand for higher wages. The Clyde ship builders who, it was stated, would co-operate with the Belfast men, are working yet.

Ellenville, N.Y., Oct. 12.—Starvation is staring the canal boatmen in the face. Their 475 boats are tied up all along the line on dry land. Many are empty, but more are filled with coal. The boatmen usually make ten trips every season, and they receive $80 a trip. This season they have made only four or five trips. Few of the men have paid for their boats.

A. E. MACLEAN writes from Windsor: "The D. & L. Menthol Plaster is curing Sore Backs and Rheumatism at a great rate in this vicinity."

Sold each in air-tight tin box.

The dyspeptic carries a dreadful load on his back. It seems as if he were really made up of two men. One of them ambitious, brainy and energetic; the other sick, listless, peevish and without force. The weak man weighs the other one down. The dyspeptic may be able to do pretty good work one day, and the next day because of some little indiscretion in eating, he may be able to do nothing at all. He isn't capable of continuous and vigorous effort. His bodily discomfort affects his mind. Even when he knows just what is the matter, he neglects the simplest precautions and the simple treatment that would cure him. Most of dyspepsia starts with constipation, and constipation can be cured. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all human sickness. Some of its symptoms are sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, foul breath, windy belchings, heartburn, pain and distress after eating. All these are indicative of derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, and all are caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the quickest, easiest and most certain cure for this condition. They are quick, but not violent in their action. There is nothing about them that will give the system any shock. They not only relieve immediately, but if taken according to directions, they will absolutely cure. "You do not become a slave to their use." They are different and better than any other pill or preparation offered for the same purpose. Almost all druggists understand this, and are conscientious enough to tell you so. The druggist who tries to sell you a substitute is not a safe man from whom to buy medicine. If you will send your address, we will send you a sample package, containing from 4 to 7 doses, and you can see exactly what the "Pellets" will do for you.

If you will send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only, we will send you FREE the most useful medical book ever presented to the public. This is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain Language; a book of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, the great expense of preparing which has been covered by a sale of 680,000 copies at the regular price, $1.50 per copy. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Overcoats, Ulsters and Suits

WE HAVE GIVEN MORE THAN ORDINARY ATTENTION TO THE SELECTION OF OUR .

FALL and WINTER CLOTHING

The experience of the past two seasons has taught us that there are many men who expect Ready-made Clothing to be as good as clothes made to order, and who are willing to pay a fair price when they get what they want. The Winter Suits and Overcoats are here in abundance, taking up every inch of space on our two floors.

$11.00 buys an Overcoat that is away up in every respect, except price. The colours are light tan, dark brown, black and navy blue. $8 or $8 will buy an All-wool Frieze Ulster that would require an expert to tell it from the genuine Irish Frieze. Colours are the same as our other Ulsters. Our suits comprise everything to be found in a first-class store from $5 up. Be sure and give us a call.

CUSTOM WORK.—Our very large assortment of Cloths for Suits and Overcoats, made to measure, gives you a splendid selection.

Beautiful Photographs.

Mr. Harold Cluxton has shown the EXAMINER copies of photographs of St. John's beautiful church. The interior was taken while the Harvest Festival decorations were in place. The pictures are eminently successful, every detail even to the minutest being cleverly caught. A view of the exterior is also capitally done, the view taking in more of the grounds than is usually seen. Mr. Cluxton is a clever and artistic amateur photographer.

Committed to the Asylum.

Thomas Finn was this morning committed to the Insane Asylum by Magistrate Dumble. Finn was an inmate of the Asylum once before and was discharged through the efforts of his sister. During the last few months, however, the man has made a number of murderous threats against the lives of several citizens amongst them being the Police Magistrate and Postmaster, and after an exciting exhibition on George street last week he was arrested with above mentioned result.

Mowry, Financial Secretary; Johnston, Grand Warden; Patterson, Grand Marshall, and Fry, Grand Guardian. Finance Committee, Bros. Fry, McGill and Cowie. A plan of work for the year was suggested by the D.D.G.M. and adopted by the committee.

At Wahnapitae.

Coldwater was crowded with shantymen on Monday and Tuesday last, says the News. They had been gathered together by H. L. Lovering, preparatory to going up to Wahnapitae to engage in this winter's lumbering operations. The G. B. L. Co. will be operating but three camps in this district this year on account of the effects of a terrific storm on one of their northern limits, which has made it necessary to take out all the fallen timber as soon as possible to prevent loss through timber worm.

Hospital Sunday at St. John's

Hospital Sunday is an annual institution in most cities, where the work is brought before the people by the clergy and offerings received on its behalf. Of such a nature will be the service at St. John's church tomorrow evening, when the work of the Nicholls' Hospital will be dealt with. The central range of seats will be reserved for the Board and the medical and residential staff of the hospital, as well as other friends of the institution. No offerings, however, will be asked, or accepted, on behalf of the Hospital funds.

Don't You Remember Long Ago!

As the years roll on we more and more recall the events of the past; School days with their tasks and chores come back again to us in memory, but with the glamour and enchantment of distant views. The old school and church, the boys and girls we romped with, father's voice, mother's smile, the joy of the holiday—no pleasures of the present can compare with those enjoyed in the days now locked up in the eternity of the past. In a similar way we recall the the old time tested friend of the past—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—that never failed us then and is just as sure to serve us now.

Students of Music.

Choir singers and the public in general should not miss the opportunity of hearing the Jehin Prume and Harold Jarvis concert. The hearing of artists like the above is often more beneficial than lessons. The demand for Harold Jarvis' services shows the popularity of this fine artist. He is engaged to sing in the following places: Windsor, Oct. 11th; Oxford, Mich., Oct. 14th; Toledo, Ohio, 15th; Bradford, Ont., 17th; Guelph, 18th; Detroit, Mich, 22nd; Pontiac, Mich, 25th; Toronto, 28th; Peterborough, 29th; Montreal, 31st. Mons. F. Jehin Prume, violinist to H. M. the King of Belgium, will contribute four solos, including compositions of his own. Remember the date, Tuesday, October 29th. Bradburn a Opera House. 1d

Royal Court Entertainers.

Prof. F. E. Karn, the famous wonder-worker, gave one of his sleight-of-hand performances in the Opera House to a crowded audience last Friday night. He performed some exceedingly clever tricks but of a higher class than that usually seen at such entertainments. The Prof. exposed the secrets connected with some of his performances and showed the basis by which spiritualists deluded the public. During his exhibitions he frequently received loud and continued applause from his audience.—Orangeville Herald. This Company appears at the Opera House three nights, commencing Monday, Oct. 14th. Prices 10, 20 and 30c.

MR. H. T. HARTMANN BANQUETTED.

The Retiring Engineer of the Electric Works Elegantly Entertained—Banquet at the Huffman House—The Toast List.

Last night Mr. H. T. Hartmann, engineer for the Canadian General Electric Works, who has resigned that position, was entertained by a complimentary banquet at the Huffman House last night by the foremen and clerical staff of the works, and the occasion must have afforded Mr. Hartmann a flattering proof of the esteem and popularity he enjoys amongst his associates.

The banquet was held in the spacious dining hall of the Huffman House, which was brilliantly decorated for the occasion with flowers and a gorgeous display of electric lights. The table itself was splendidly laid out, and the brilliant flash of the electric lights, reflected by the glittering silver and cut glass, had a fine effect. The viands were in every respect of a quality and variety to equal the table decorations, and gave a fine proof of the excellence of the cuisine of the Huffman House, as will be seen by the following originally worded

ELECTROCUTION.

At 9 o'clock Mr. J. V. Hedenburg took the chair and introduced the toast list.

Succeeding the toast of "The Queen" and "Governor General" came the toast of "The Guest of the evening," to which Mr. Hartman eloquently responded.

"The Canadian General Electric Company" brought speeches from Messrs. C. V. Mallett and E. G. Paterson.

"Mr. Hartman's successor" was replied to by Mr. Frank Darling, who takes Mr. Hartman's place at the works.

"Our Guests" was responded to by Messrs. T. Dunn and H. King.

"The Foreman of the Shops" brought to their feet Messrs. H. D. Burnett, C. S. Stanley, Geo. Tovey, E. E. Lord, C. B. Robertson, Wm. Robinson and C. E. Crandall.

"The Clerical Staff" was acknowledged by Messrs. R. E. Layfield. H. L. Knowles and W. Brundrette.

"The Ladies" found eloquent champions in Messrs. A. Allen and R. B. Williamson.

The toasts of "The General Manager"—Mr. Fred Nicholls, and "The General Superintendent" were also heartily drunk, but as these gentlemen had been called by business to Schenectady, they were unable to be present. "The Toronto Office Staff" was also remembered.

"Mrs. Hartman's health" was most cordially drunk and Mr. Hartman, on her behalf, made a suitable reply.

The chairman responded to the toast of himself, and Messrs. W. A. Brundrette, J. V. Hedenburg, W. L. Outhwaite and A. L. Bundle to the toast of "The Committee." Mr. Huffman's response to "Our Host and Hostess," followed by "God Save the Queen," brought an evening, which was a delightful one to the forty gentlemen present, to a close.

PETERBOROUGH WINS THE TROPHY AT COBOURG.

The Local Team ran Away From all Competitors and Won by a Mile and a Half.

The Peterborough road team has returned from Cobourg, where they were successful in winning a most handsome bicycle trophy. The team is composed of Horkins, Lytle, Walker and Lush and the boys are showing up so very well that great regret is expressed that they did not enter in the big Dunlop Road Race in Toronto.

The teams from Port Hope and Cobourg were entered against Peterborough yesterday, but the local men won handily by over a mile and a half. The race was a 20 mile one and took place on the well known Donegan Park half-mile track at Cobourg under the auspices of the Cobourg Bicycle Club. A team was supposed to be composed of not more than four members and the twenty miles was divided up between them as their captains saw fit, only one man from each team being on the track racing at once.

The Peterborough team divided the distance up equally amongst them, each taking five miles. Horkins went on first and did exceptionally well, showing that he is in better form than ever, notwithstanding the expressed opinion of some wheelmen that his best days were over. He did harder riding yesterday than the other boys, and was successful in gaining a lap on the Cobourg man and a lap and a half on his Port Hope opponent when he gave place to Lush, who also was successful in gaining on his men in the next five miles. Lytle and Walker also gained appreciably on their opponents, with the result that the local team carried away the trophy "hands down." The time made for the twenty miles was one hour and three minutes, which is remarkably good considering that the track was very heavy on account of the heavy rain which fell during the night.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks of News From the Whirling Wheels—Interesting Cinders for the Eye.

Mr. J. W. Harlson, Mechanical Superintendent of this division, has been in town for the last couple of days on an official visit to the local G. T. R. repair shops.

Mr. P. F. Hodgson, Signals Engineer of the Grand Trunk, is making a day or so stay in town on his periodical trip, and is incidently enquiring into the signal system as adopted at the Locks bridge.

Mr. Dick Foster, the well known and genial yardmaster at the Grand Trunk station, has just returned from a pleasant holiday spent at Exeter.

Mr. G. Adam, the popular brakeman on the Lakefield branch, has returned from his holidays, during which he visited the St. Clair Tunnel, as well as Detroit.

HEALTH BRAND UNDERWEAR.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Our attention has been drawn to a controversy going on in your valuable paper, which directly concerns ourselves and impunes our good faith relative to the matter under discussion, with our much respected and valued customers in your town. When the writer visited Peterborough personally, he gave Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co. the SOLE CONTROL of the Health Brand Underwear in Peterborough for the coming year, and we may add that we have no present intention of changing these arrangements, as we find the firm in question acts only upon principles, which we esteem as the highest in any business firm.

Messrs. Kells & Co. are putting forward as a fact, that which is distinctly not true, and the writer hereby states in his capacity as Manager of the Montreal Silk Mills Co., that they have not received from us this fall, one dollar's worth of Health Brand Underwear.

We have no means of knowing how these goods (if genuine goods of our make) came into their possession, but the fact remains, that the public will most certainly buy our goods to the best advantage in every way, by dealing with our AUTHORIZED AGENTS, Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co.

We are Dear Sirs,
Yours truly,
The Montreal Silk Mills Co. (Ltd).
HENRY ST. JOSEPH, Mgr.
Montreal, Oct. 11th, 1895.

THE LOCOMOTIVE BEING DRAWN FROM THE OTONABEE.

A Wrecking Gang From Belleville at Work all Night.

Since the evening of the G. T. R. wreck the scene at the Locks bridge has been a busy one. The local employees cleared away that portion of the debris which impeded traffic and yesterday afternoon at about five o'clock Mr. William Clarke came out from Belleville with his wrecking gang and an auxiliary under the supervision of Mechanical Superintendent Hartnett, of Belleville.

The baggage car, trucks and engine tender were all removed by this morning from the river, as the gang worked all night.

At present the work of raising the locomotive is now going on. Two flat cars with jack screws beneath them for support have been placed on the bridge and upon them two substantial cranes or derricks are being manipulated.

Two strong chains, the links of which are each ¾ of an inch in thickness, are attached to the dome of the submerged locomotive, and as the men above operate the windlass, the auxiliary engine lends a helping hand by steadily pulling on a tremendous hawser, which is also attached to the ill fated engine No. 10.

The loss does not amount to one tenth of the figures quoted in other newspapers. Seventy-five dollars will repair the baggage car and passenger coach, and the damage to the engine is also light, as the boiler and fire box, the most valuable parts, are uninjured, and the damages to the attachments are more in the nature of wrenches and twists than actual breakage. The cost comes in through the payment of wages for the clearing away of the wreck.

"SALTING" DISHONEST FARMERS

The Sending of Deteriorated Milk to Cheese Factories Heavily Fined.

A good many Ontario county farmers can hardly establish a claim to the title of "honest farmer." Inspector Mills, of the Western Dairymen's Association has been after offenders who have supplied deteriorated milk to cheese factories. The offences have been committed in spite of repeated warnings given in the public press by publishing the names of parties fined for tampering with milk. The inspector had six farmers arraigned and they all pleaded guilty to the charge of supplying deteriorated milk to cheese factories—by diluting with water, by skimming off the cream, or by withholding the "strippings." Fines ranging from $5 to $30, and aggregating $85 were imposed. This is right. If Canadian cheese is to hold its place in the British market it must be honest, and farmers who wish, for a paltry gain, to destroy this character must be brought to time sharply.

The Poetry of Tennyson.

III.

THE PRINCESS.

"Her office there to rear, to teach,
Becoming as is meet and fit
A link among the days, to knit
The generations each with each."

"THE PRINCESS" appeared in 1847, three years before IN MEMORIAM. It proved at first a disappointment to the poet's friends, but in recent years, for several reasons, it has been read with much more satisfaction. The poem is in the form of a story, divided into seven short cantos, with lyrical interludes of rare sweetness, a prologue and a conclusion. The lyrics, though apparently foreign to the story, reflect indistinctly its underlying thought. The poem is called by Tennyson a medley, being a combination of modern ideas with mediaeval chivalry, and being also mixed in tone, part comic, part serious.

The prologue contains the setting of the tale. The spacious lawns of Vivian Place, in the south of England, present a scene of unusual animation. Sir Walter has given them up for the day to his tenants and half the neighbouring borough. Among those present are six young men from college, who are visiting the baronet's son, 'a Walter too.' During the afternoon the seven collegians join some young ladies who are enjoying a select picnic in an old abbey near by. One of the young men, a poet, takes with him a book he has found in the library,—being very much interested in a story it contains of a lady, one that armed

"Her own fair head, and sallying thro' the gate,
Had beat her foes with slaughter from her walls"

On his arrival at the abbey he observes a statue of a feudal warrior lady-clad,' and this prompts him to read to the others the tale of the heroine. At once the question is asked, "lives there such a woman now?" One lady quickly answers, "There are thousands now such women, but convention beats them down," and adds,

"O, I wish
That I were some great princess, I would build Far off from men a college like a man's,
And I would teach them all that men are taught."

The conversation that follows, leads to an agreement that the seven youths shall frame a story in which this mediæval 'miracle of women' is to appear as a modern princess, six feet high, grand, epic, homicidal. Each of the story-tellers is to be in turn the hero prince, and the women are to sing

"Between the rougher voices of the men,
Like linnets in the pauses of the wind."

The story and the songs are then given.

There can be little doubt that Tennyson's object in writing "The Princess" was to give his solution of the problem of woman's function in society. Realizing, as he did, the great importance of this vital question, he was not unfaithful to his office in setting forth in a most attractive manner what he considered the wrong and the correct views of the issue.

To the Princess Ida he gives that extreme philosophy of woman's rights against which he would protest. But he does this with the most kindly feelings. Ida holds that knowledge is all in all, and that women must lose the childlike element of their character. Knowledge and power are the ideals she worships. The fortunes of men and women should be justly balanced, scale with scale. In her bird's-eye view of the ungracious past, she appraises the Lycian custom of taking the name from the mother and of tracing ancestry in the female line. She speaks approvingly of the domineering Etruscan women, but fulminates her scorn of "law Salique and little-footed China."

To put her theories into practice, the Princess founds a university for maidens. The fair students on entering have to subscribe to such statutes as:

"Not for three years to correspond with home;
Not for three years to cross the liberties;
Not for three years to speak with any men."

Directing their attention to the statues of noble women that adorned the hall, she exclaims:

"Dwell with these and lose convention, since to look on noble forms
Makes noble through the sensuous organism
That which is higher. O, lift your natures up;
Embrace our aims; work out your freedom, girls.
Knowledge is now no more a fountain sealed

The first part of the story abounds with most humorous situations and incidents, which serve to impress the ludicrous results of a practical application of absurd theories. But amid all the raillery there is not the least indication of a disposition to injure or depreciate. He makes the Prince say—and he represents the poet himself—

"True she errs, but in her own grand way;
She sees herself in every woman else,
And so she wears her error like a crown
To blind the truth and me."

In the latter part of the story, which is almost entirely serious in tone, Ida becomes natural and amiable:

"Understanding all the foolish work
Of Fancy, and the bitter close of all,
Her iron will was broken in her mind,
Her noble heart was molten in her breast."

The last canto attains the acme of pathetic charm, as well of artistic finish. The Princess is tending her dying lover. Awaking from a sleep, but with eyes still closed, he hears her confess, amid deep sighs, her lamentable failure in sweet humility, and, in fact, in everything:

"Ah, fool," she says, "and made myself a Queen of farce."

To this the poet-prince replies:

"The woman's cause is man's; they rise or sink
Together, dwarfed or godlike, bond or free
* * *
For woman is not undeveloped man,
But diverse; could we make her like the man,
Sweet love were slain; his dearest bond is this;
Not like to like, but like in difference.
Yet in the long years liker must they grow;
The man be more of woman, she of man;
He gain in sweetness and in moral height,
Nor lose the wrestling thews that throw the world:
She mental breadth, nor fail in childward care,
Nor lose the childlike in the larger mind;
Till at the last she set herself to man,
Like perfect music unto noble words:
And so these twain upon the skirts of Time,
Sit side by side, full summ'd in all their powers,
Dispensing harvest, sowing the To-be,
Self-reverent each, and reverencing each,
Distinct in individualities,
But like each other ev'n as those who love."

GEORGE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL

Officers and Teachers Met Last Night for Business.

At a meeting of the officers and teachers of the George street Methodist Sunday School last night, Miss A. Sanderson and Mr. O. R. Dayman were appointed delegates to the Provincial Convention at Toronto.

Arrangements were made to bring Rev. A. C. Crews, the newly appointed General Secretary of Sunday Schools, to the anniversary services early next year. Mr. Crews is a very clever and forcible speaker and won golden opinions at the recent convention held by the Epworth League of the district in Ashburnham.

In consequence of Mr. Alfred Parker's resignation of the assistant superintendency of the Sunday School, Mr. O. R. Dayman was appointed to the office, very general regret being expressed at Mr. Parker's resignation.

It is understood that the church and Sunday school will enter into the work of establishing a Mission in the North End. Active measures will be taken immediately.

ODDFELLOWSHIP.

Members of Peterborough Lodge Pay a Fraternal Visit.

A special train conveyed between twenty-five and thirty Oddfellows, last evening, out to Chemong, where the Str. Maple Leaf was in waiting to convey the party to Bobcaygeon. A quick trip was made and at their destination the Peterborough Oddfellows found a large number of brethren awaiting them at the wharf.

The object of the trip was to confer the second and third degrees on three members of the Bobcaygeon Lodge, and after this had been done the visiting brethren were banquetted most sumptuously and a most pleasant evening was spent. The party reached town again at an early hour this morning, and have many kind words to say of the manner in which the 'Caygeon brethren treated them.

Sleeplessness, Mental and Physical Fatigue

Go hand in hand. The waste of the body that ought to be restored by rest and sleep suffers increasing diminution; the loss of strength and vigor of body and mind follows. It is in this class of diseases that the marvellous properties of Maltine with Coca Wine are most markedly exhibited. It penetrates to the very sources of vital action, inasmuch as the nerve centres are impressed by its medicinal power and the digestive functions stimulated to increased and more efficient action. This imparts to the whole system the much needed impetus, the nerves are soothed from a state of irritability to that of repose—sleep, with all its beneficent influences, comes back to lend its aid to the process of restoration. Digestion keeps pace with the improvement of appetite, and in a short time the nervous, miserable sufferer regains his old-time vigor and the capability to enjoy life and all it affords. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

SOME GOOD JOKES WHICH THE GUY BROS. CRACKED.

They Have an Overflowing House and Present an Excellent Programme.

The Guy Bros'. Minstrels drew well at the Opera House last night, and everyone in attendance went away well pleased with the programme which was presented in so amusing a manner.

The jokes were all new and intensely amusing. A great deal of laughter was evoked over an insurance scheme by which Bones had insured his life. He paid in fifteen cents a week and when he died his family received $25 a week as long as he was dead. He went to Heaven besides, but in the event of his not going to Heaven he got his money back. He then boasted of his trip abroad. He had been to Europe, Irrup, Stirrup and Ketchup. He had seen the Queen out driving and had the pleasure of being the only one she spoke to in the crowd. When asked what she had said to him it appears that she had told him to "get out of the way." He put snoring in the musical category and classed it not as instrumental or vocal music, but as "sheet" music. The four witty end men kept the ball of wit rolling in this fashion until the spectators shook again with mirth.

The songs of the four Guy Bros. were all, as usual, the very latest and most catchy of airs and the song and dance men were away above the average this year, Arthur Guy in particular introducing a number of little side remarks which moved those within earshot to hold their sides with laughter. His calliope whoops at intervals fairly brought down the house.

The classical posing of Charlie, Albert and Edwin Guy was something new in the minstrelsy line and was splendidly done. Hughie McVey in his club manipulations was a veritable wonder and easily leads all rivals in this special feature. Fred Smith is again with the combination this year and his three-stick exercises were a wonder indeed. Billy Lyon in his female impersonation took the audience in completely until his partner pulled of his wig disclosing Billy's cropped head and well known features.

SOUTH MONAGHAN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Its Annual Exhibition Yesterday—A Success in Spite of the Rain—Good Stock Exhibit—A Small Attendance, However.

The thirty-first annual exhibition of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society was held at Centreville on Thursday and Friday, and was quite a success in spite of the steady rain that interfered, with the attendance, chiefly, which was only about 400. The attendance from town would have been larger in the afternoon but for the fact that at noon when many were making a start the rain set in with a driving south-west wind that would have wet to the skin any that ventured to drive the twelve miles of distance. There was the usual exhibit of stock. In Durhams the principal exhibitors were Messrs. Wm. Rutherford, and John Mouncey. Mr. Nichol Dawson showed a fine imported Ayrshire bull, as well as thoroughbred Jerseys.

There was not a large show of horses, but the quality was above the average.

There was a good show of sheep. The chief exhibitor in long wools was Mr. Jas. Wood, and in short wools Mr. Nichol Dawson.

There was a small exhibit of swine.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT

was up to the mark of former years. Grains were well represented, while there was an unusually fine show of roots.

In the drawing contest for the prize offered by Gough Bros., the event was closely contested, their being not 18 inches difference between the three contestants. Mr. Robt. Weaver was first, Mr. Bradshaw second and Mr. Rutherford third.

In the novelty race Mr. Thomas Henry Perrin was the winner with Mr. Thos. Hopkins second.

Altogether, considering the detestable weather, the directors have every reason to feel gratified with the success they met yesterday.

Benefits are too Soon Forgotten.

But in the case of Wilson's celebrated Invalid's Port Wine the experience is different, because those who have felt its fine effects in building up enfeebled constitutions, have not hesitated to speak of it gratefully to others. It is not a medicine at all, and yet it has all the effects, and more lasting effects, than some medicines for, rich, strong and generous, it makes blood and flesh and the invalid is surprised to find that he has a new lease of life and working powers after its use. A thoroughly reliable old port, which acts as a tonic, bringing back appetite and aiding digestion. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. ELECTRICITY IN AGRICULTURE.

The New Agent Used by a Danish Farmer in Connection With Threshing.

The application of electric power to the tilling of the soil has already been made the subject of several articles in these pages. A still further move in the same direction is chronicled herewith: A Danish farmer has made a successful experiment in the use of electric power for threshing. He has hitherto had an old-fashioned threshing machine drawn by horses. Three pairs of horses have worked the machine with about 800 turns per minute, the horses being changed four times per diem. The power transmitted in this way is, owing to the nature of the machinery, irregular, occasioning considerable loss of time to the workmen employed. By the use of an electric moter to propel the threshing mill this disadvantage is removed. The power is transmitted evenly, stoppages are avoided, the threshing is more speedily effected, and the machine itself is spared considerable wear and tear. A stationary steam or oil engine drives the dynamo and the current is conducted through cables of suitable length to any given point in or outside the barn where the threshing takes place. Even where the threshing mill is placed several hundred yards from the working power two-thirds of the power can be reckoned on as serviceable for the threshing mill. At the farm where the experiment has been tried, the force is generated by a six-horse power oil (petroleum) engine, and in order to protect the electromotor from dust it is enclosed in a wooden frame. The distance between the oil engine and the threshing mill is about 140 yards. A speed of 1,000 turns of the mill per minute can be attained, and it is clearly demonstrated that the threshing proceeds with very much greater ease and rapidity than formerly. It is especially worthy of notice that the speed does not vary, even when the mill is very full. If the threshing mill is moved, of course the electromotor must also be moved. It is therefore placed upon a sort of sledge, which can be kept in place by a block of wood at each side. Another advantage in the use of electricity in the transmission of working power may be mentioned, viz., that the electric current can, without extra expense ,produce two lamps in the barn and the machine house.

TO SUCCEED THE TANDEM.

Novel Invention by Which Two Cyclists May Ride Abreast.

Bicycle manufacturers seem inclined to introduce some sort of a machine that will take the place of the tandem wheel now in use. The majority appear to favor a wheel on which two riders can ride side by side.

Several wheels of this character have been manufactured, but they have been on the bicycle type and not much fancied.

Something new on the bicycle market is what is called the Conmpanion, a bicycle, as shown in the accompanying cut. It seats two persons, being of the ordinary type of safety with two wheels. At a glance the construction of the wheel would lead to the inference that this bicycle would upset with two people; but, on the contrary, one person can ride it, and, on account of its lightness and admirable outline, it is becoming very popular.—New York Sun.

THE MANITOBA HARVEST.

The Farmers of the North West Will Have Plenty of Money to Spend.

Winnipeg, (Special) Oct. 7.—The prospects of a good year for the Manitoba farmers are now assured, thanks to the abundant harvest. One of the causes for the sickness prevalent last year will now be obviated, as the farmers will have more money to spare for the purchase of the necessities for health. One of the straws which shows which way the wind is blowing is the fact that druggists are ordering the well-known remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, in unusually large quantities. The inhabitants of the province are well aware of the value of the medicine, and only the financial stringency has hitherto prevented its universal use.

a deep groove surrounds the neck of the vessel and a bell-shaped cover fits into this groove. When the glass is filled with preserves up to the neck a bit of paraffine, wax or stearine is melted in a spoon, poured in the groove, around the neck of the bottle, and the cover is simply pressed into it. The paraffine or wax cools and hardens immediately and holds down the cover perfectly airtight, thereby preventing the possibility of spoiling the contents. The opening of these preserve glasses is effected by pouring hot water on the top of the glass, which softens the paraffine, and the cover can be taken up without upsetting the contents, and without trouble, and as easily be replaced.

ABOUT TOBACCO.

For 300 Years It Has Been in Use—Its Introduction in Europe.

One by one old established idols are shattered, and it has recently been decided that Sir Walter Raleigh will have to descend from the pedestal which he has occupied from time immemorial as the man who introduced tobacco into Europe, for Mr. Ralph Lane, a mere Governor of Virginia, carried that soothing drug home with him in 1586. Sir Walter smoked, however, even before Elizabeth, to whom he no doubt taught the dainty art, and it is even asserted that he clung to his pipe as he ascended the scaffold.

But there came a day when the authorities rebelled against the omnipresence of the drug. Europe frowned and Asia threatened; pagan, Mohammedan and Christian monarchs combined to crush them. James I. of England sent forth his counterblast; the half-savage ruler of the Muscovites followed suit; the King of Persia, Amrath IV. of Turkey, the Emperor Jehan-Geer and others joined in the crusade. Arming themselves with scourges halters and knives, and bearing gibbets on their banners, they pronounced death to all found inhaling the fumes of the plant through a tube or caught with a pellet of it under their tongues Pope Urban VII. thundered excommunication on every soul who took the accursed thing in any shape into a church. In Russia snuff takers had their noses amputated. Turks who smoked were tortured by having the stems of their pipes run through their noses, and in 1603 King James, issued a famous proclamation against the fast-growing habit, even prohibiting the cultivation of the alluring weed in the United Kingdom.

Henry Buttes in 1599 lauded tobacco as invaluable in cases of indigestion, and he added: "It cureth any grief, dolour, imposture or obstruction proceeding of colde or winde, especially in the head or breast. The fume taken in a pipe is good against rumes, catarahs, hoarsenesse, aches in the head, stomacke, lungs, breast, also in want of meate, drinke, sleepe or rest."

Prynne tells us that at the theatre ladies were offered the tobacco pipe as a refreshment instead of apples, which seem to have bene the fashionable indulgence up to that time. Pipes and tobacco were on every dinner table, and pipes even went into the lunch baskets of the school children, who were permitted to smoke them in company with the schoolmaster.

Goldsmith pictures the belles at Bath as entering the water in full bathing costumes, each provided with a small floating basket to hold a snuff box, a kerchief and a nosegay.

During the 400 years that tobaceo has held its own it has grown to be a part of the very symbols, customs and necessary institutions of the world, and it is estimated that fully nine-tenths of the human race now make it a factor in their very existence. The American Indian ratified his treaty with a pipe; a pinch of snuff with a kaffir makes you his guest and binds him to you by all the sacred laws of savage hospitality; in the Turk and Persian native fierceness and barbarity have been softened by its influence; to all peoples tobacco has become an essential, and curling wreaths of smoke are indissolubly interwoven with the sacredest institutions of society, government and religion.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25c.

Bleaching Celery.

Mr. John Lock of Ottawa County, Michigan, last fall had a piece of celery ready to be bleached. Not having sufficient boards he arranged stakes in the

A LADY OF WATERFORD COMPLETELY CURED.

Suffered for Two Years from Indigestion and General Debility.

Unable at Times to Attend to Her Household Duties.

Treated by Nearly All the Doctors in the Town Without Relief

"Six Bottles of South American Nervine Cured Me," Says Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., Over Her Own Signature.

MRS. D. A. GRAY, OF WATERFORD, ONT.

Certain dates are epoch making. They mark transitions in the individual life that are never forgotten. Their impress may be pleasant or sad, or both. As Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., an estimable and highly respected resident of that community, goes back in memory to the year 1893, her recollections are not of the most roseate character. Can there be anything rosy to one who is a victim of indigestion? All is sombre and sadness. But there was a silver lining to the cloud, as we shall see. Previous to 1893 Mrs. Gray tells us she had been troubled very much with indigestion and general debility for a period of nearly two years. Hers was no ordinary case. At times she was prevented altogether from attending to her household duties. Waterford has a number of skilled physicians in its midst and their services were called in, but in her own language, "I cannot say that they relieved me in any way." An era of joy was ushered in when her mother read the story of a cure by South American Nervine in a case where the symptoms, as Mrs. Gray says, "seemed to be exactly like her own. I bought a bottle and found much relief. After taking six bottles I was cured." The date was an epoch making date in this lady's life.

What the symptoms of Indigestion are, too many know. What the trouble is in its worst forms thousands know. People lament the spread of insanity in the present day. How far removed from loss of reason is a case of aggravated indigestion? The world to every such victim is blue enough, black enough, so uninviting and depressing that no wonder they are beside themselves. And yet the remedy is within the reach of all. That great discovery, Nervine, will cure the most desperate case of indigestion, debility or nervousness. You ask for evidence. A cloud of witnesses in the Dominion of Canada are saying, amen, and amen, to the testimony of Mrs. Gray. Why suffer, fellow-citizens, friends and brethren?

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

CANADA'S GOLD MINES

The Rich Belts Found in Rainy River District.

FOUR HUNDRED MILES IN EXTENT.

Canadian Soldiers Gain Certificates at Hythe School in England—Fruit Shipments to the Old Country—Samples of Tea by Post Limited to Half a Pound.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Mr. W. McInnes of the Geological Survey has just returned from his field work in the Rainy River district. He says the gold belt extends over four hundred miles, and hundreds of claims have been taken up. There are, he states, five stamp mills along the Rainy River. Three of these are on the Canadian side of the river and two on the American side. The Canadian mills are the largest and most important. The largest of these mills turns out a brick of gold every week, each brick being worth all the way from $1200 to $2000. There is great activity throughout the gold district. The claims are quickly picked up, and many are worked, but very injudiciously, and consequently little is made out of them. Many gold seekers dropped their money there and left this summer for Manitoba to work as harvest laborers. The latest and best find of gold, Mr. McInnes states, is on the north of Lake Superior. Development of gold finds in the Rainy River district, he says, is retarded by the absence of railway facilities.

Of the officers and non-commissioned officers of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry who went to England last spring three have been awarded certificates of proficiency in musketry by the Hythe School. They are: Capt. J. C. Macdougall, St. John's; Sergt.-Major J. D. Munro, Toronto, and Col.-Sergt. G. W. Calloway, London.

No further attempt will be made this year to send over tender varieties of fruit to the Old Country. Mr. Craig, horticulturist to the Experimental Farm, will, during the winter, make arrangements for repeating the experiment next sumemr on a much more extensive plan. It is hoped that cold storage accommodation will be placed in many vessels leaving Canadian ports, which will thus be enabled to carry to the Old Country shipments of Canadian produce of the more perishable kind.

According to the postoffice regulations samples by mail may run up to a pound and a half in weight, provided they are not of any commercial value, and that the maximum weight is reasonably required for sampling purposes. Vendors of tea have been utilizing the sample post for mailing their commodity to their regular customers, not as samples, but as an article of domestic requirement. A pound and a half of tea has some commercial value and as the transmission of such a quantity through the mails is a transgression of the spirit of the regulations it has ben decided to fix a specific limit for the quantity of tea which may pass through the mails by sample post. Postmasters are therefore enjoined not to accept for transmission, as samples, packages of tea containing more than one-half pound in weight.

Sir John Thurston, Governor of Fiji, is expected here in a week or two. Sir John has arranged to visit Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and other Canadian cities, with a view to acquiring and disseminating information which may lead to a further development of trade between Fiji and the various portions of Canada. He sails for home by the Warrimoo on Nov. 16.

The case of St. Louis vs. the Que was argued before the Supreme Court to-day on appeal from the judgment of the Exchequer Court in a suit by St. Louis for an alleged balance due for building the bridge over the Lachine Canal. The Crown in its answer to the petition of right alleges fraud against the suppliant in charging for more time and material than the work called for, and in putting on the pay rolls names of men never employed. At the hearing the petition was dismissed and the Court held that owing to the suppliant having burned his books, by which the Crown could not obtain the necessary evidence to prove its defence, every presumption should be made against the suppliant. This ruling was the main ground contested by the appellant, who claimed that the Court below had made the destruction of the books not presumptive but absolute evidence, and that the books were not destroyed in view of this suit, but partly from custom and partly because a Royal Commission had been appointed to examine the suppliant's work and report on its proper cost, and he did not wish to submit his private affairs to such a commission. He also claimed that his case was fully proved, independent of the books. Judgment was reserved. Geoffrion, Q.C., and Emard for appellant; Osler, Q.C., and Hogg, Q.C., for respondent.

A strong company is being formed with a capital of a million dollars to utilize the Lachine rapids for generating gas, electricity and power. Among the incorporators are J. J. Cook and James Armstrong, of Toronto; T. Pringle, G. B. Burland, S. Carsley, Hugh Graham and others of Montreal; Davis Bros. and Alexander Fraser, Ottawa.

John A. Bain, David Lowery, Ezra L. Brown, James A. Wallace and John D. Patterson, all of Brantford, and Lyman M. Jones and Walter E. H. Massey of Toronto, are seeking incorporation as the Bain Wagon Company, limited, with headquarters at Woodstock, and a proposed capital of $25,000.

The Letter.

An English correspondent, writing from the seat of war in Madagascar, says: 'The commander of the Hugon sent a Sakalava of 45 francs to bribe the people at the Hova port of Ambodavallibe ('at the bottom of the mountain') to show him over the battery, which is on the ——beach and mounted with ——guns. By mistake he addressed himself to the captain of the port, who, being only in the 'lemba' at the time, was not distinguishable from anyone else. Having shown the Sakalava everything to his satisfaction, the captain had a stone tied on the spy's neck, sent him out to sea in a canoe and had him thrown overboard in sight of the French man-of-war's boat, which was behind the bluff waiting for him. The same day were shot seven envoys of the French sent to steal cattle in the plain. Many spies are caught, and most of them are shot."

DOWN ON EXEMPTION IS ALDERMAN WATKINS.

HE SAYS THAT EVERYBODY SHOULD PAY TAXES.

His Letter on the Subject—Reasons for Asking Manufacturers to do their Share.

Alderman Watkins, of Hamilton, has constituted himself the champion of the opponents of exemption from taxation and addresses a letter to the Hamilton Herald, which at the request of a large taxpayer of of the town is reproduced below :

EDITOR HERALD,—Permit me to make some remarks regarding the list of exemption from taxation which manufacturers in our city enjoy, and which appeared in your valuable paper lately.

In the first place I would like to state that the position which I take with regard to the manufacturers is one of principle, and that only. Some of the manufacturers of our city rank among my best friends, and, as in consequence, I would not injure them in the slightest, but would prefer to do what I could to help them to make their business a success.

MORE REVENUE NEEDED.

Still it must be admitted, not only by the tens of thousands of people who are not manufacturers, but also by the manufacturers themselves, that something must be done whereby we may be able to obtain more revenue for our city in the future than we have had in the past. Even if this year closes without any overdraft, or the outlay of any of the committees being greater than their appropriation it must be allowed on all sides that such a result has been obtained, not because our city did not need to have more money spent upon it, but simply that we had not the money to spend.

Look at the streets of Hamilton to-day. The condition of them is terrible. Where the block pavement has become worn, there are holes in some places from two inches to ten or twelve inches deep. Many of the streets which are block paved are simply in a condition at the present moment which any country village might be ashamed of.

Then take our sidewalks. Something must be done to give us better foot pavements.

Take a glance at our waterworks system. It is a well known fact that in this epartment, too, before many years roll round, the city will be compelled to spend a large amount of money in order to keep or bring the waterworks system up to a proper state of efficiency.

Electric lights are being demanded in all parts of the city. People are not satisfied ithout them.

We have a fire brigade not inferior to any in the Dominion, and it, too, ought to have more money spent upon it in order to have it properly equipped.

In fact, in many other ways our city has suffered for the want of sufficient funds to make it what it ought to be in every respect.

AN UNSOLVED MYSTERY.

All such being the case, it is a mystery to me why we, as citizens, continue to give bonuses to enterprises and grant exemptions to manufacturers in the manner in which we do. It appears to me that the time has now come to take the matter of exemption from taxation seriously into consideration, and that our city council should deal with the question at once.

I know there are some manufacturers who have been exempt for a certain stated period. Of course, the city will have to keep faith with them until that time expires, but with these few exemptions, the matter could be made right so far as the other manufacturers are concerned.

The total amount of exemption to manufacturers, as furnished me through the medium of the assessment commissioner's office, is $1,066,285. On looking over the list I find the names of a number of the wealthiest firms and corporations in our city, which are exempt from taxation to a very large amount. In other words, many businesses which in the past have simply "coined money"—and plenty of them at the present time are still doing it—yet we find them exempt from paying their fair share of the taxes.

NO JUSTICE IN IT.

Just imagine the idea of a city exempting breweries, distilleries and tobacco manufactories from taxation. Look at the immense profits which it is a well known fact are made in these businesses—and don't forget the blighting and degrading effects produced on a community by such institutions—then think for one moment if there is any justice in permitting such establishments to be exempt from paying their taxes.

So far as the iron, wood, wool, cotton and other kindred industries are concerned, every citizen is only too glad to have them here; and it is to be hoped that they are all making money; but each one of them should help to keep up our city by paying their fair share of the taxes, the same as any other class in the community is called upon to do.

Some people may say that if the city does not continue to exempt the manufacturers in the future, as it has done in the past, the manufacturers will leave Hamilton and go to some other places which will exempt them. In reply to this I would say, do not be alarmed. Hamilton offers very exceptional facilities for manufacturers, and any firm doing business of any magnitude at all, could not well afford to leave its real estate and buildings here and go elsewhere, even for the sake of saving all their taxes, or such portion of them as they might be exempt from if they went to another city. Exempting manufacturers from taxation is simply another form of bonusing them—nothing more, nothing less.

BENEFITS THEY RECEIVE.

For every dollar' worth of benefit that the city gets from any manufacturing firm doing business here, I claim that that firm gets an equal return of advantage and benefit from the city. Let us see what the advantages are :

1. In street lighting ; nearly every street being lighted with the modern light, electricity.

2. Police protection; a guarantee of safety to the property and lives of the manufacturers and their workmen.

3. Fire protection. It is not the fires which our efficient brigade puts out that ought to be taken note of, so much as it is the fires which the brigade prevents from spreading.

4. Large, magnificent and well appointed practically free schools, to which the manufacturers and their workmen can send their children.

5. A free library.

6. An ample supply of good water for drinking and all other purposes.

7. Advantages of shipment for freight by Grand Trunk Railway and Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway. Do not forget here that it has cost our city over $1,500,000 to secure the railroad accommodation.

8. The choice of hundreds, if not thousands, of experienced workmen, from which to select employees.

9. A city which I doubt not will compare favourably with any other of its size on the continent in regard to health and for beauty of situation, being at the foot of the mountain, and at the head of Lake Ontario, causing every right-minded Hamiltonian to lay claim that he is a citizen of no mean city.

EXEMPTION NOT A NECESSITY.

I consider that it is not exemption from taxation which makes our manufacturing industries a success, nor on the other hand can it truthfully be said that if the manufacturers paid their taxes like other people as a consequence their businesses would be failures.

A manufacturer who gets exemption on $1,000 will only save about $15, for in any case, school rates must be paid. If a manufacturer is allowed exemption on $20,000, he would save about $300. If the exemption amounted to $50,000, it would still be only a saving of about $750 of exemption from the general taxes fund.

In other words, exemption from taxation does not insure success, but success is insured, everything else being equal, by brains, business ability, honesty, integrity and industry. Many of the merchants of our city are taxed very heavily, and yet they pay the assessment which the city claims from them. I never could understand why a manufacturer should be exempt from paying his taxes any more than a merchant. The merchant invests his capital in his business for the purpose of making money. If he makes a success of it, well and good. If he does not, then he has to fail.

What about the manufacturer? Does he put his money into his business for the benefit of the public, or from any philanthropic motives? Does he not invest his dollars with the expectation of making profit by so doing? This and nothing more. Such being the case, the manufacturer should certainly pay his taxes the same as any other individual in the community who may invest money, as a merchant, in buying real estate, building houses or any other purpose whatever.

POOR PEOPLE HAVE TO PAY.

It may not be out of place to state here that, at the present time, the city is putting the bailiff into many poor people's houses in consequence of their not paying their taxes. Now, why should a poor man have the bailiff put in to compel him to pay his taxes, when a wealthy man gets off to the tune of hundreds or thousands of dollars?

In conclusion, I would like to say here, that I would take it as a great favour if any person who may read this letter will kindly inform me where they think I am wrong in any of my statements. On the other hand, I shall be pleased to know whether my friends approve of the stand which I have taken in opposition to bonuses and exemptions.

REV. L. W. SHOWERS

Gives His Experience With Organic Heart Disease—The Dread Malady on the Increase.

For many years my greatest enemy has been organic heart disease. From an uneasiness about the heart, with palpitation more or less severe, it had developed into abnormal action, thumping, fluttering, and choking sensations. Dull pain with a peculiar warm feeling were ever present near the heart. I have tried many physicians and taken numberless remedies with very little benefit. Seeing Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart advertised in the Kittanning, Pa., papers, I purchased a bottle and began its use, receiving almost instant relief. I have now taken several bottles of the remedy and can speak most highly in its favour. The choking, abnormal beating, thumping and palpitation have almost entirely disappeared. The remedy is certainly a wonder-worker, for my case was chronic. Rev. L. W. Showers, Elderton, Pa. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

A MAIDEN POEM.

The following playfully satirical poem, written by a member of Form IV, Collegiate Institute, town, was read at a meeting of the Fourth Form Literary Society last evening :

There's plenty of work the wide world o'er,
There's plenty right here in our form ;
We've so much to do, we could not do more
Without sitting up until morn.

We have Algebra until we're weak
And essays we have by the score,
We have Chemistry, too, and French and Greek
And Algebra some more.

We have German and Trigonometry
With Euclid in between ;
The fourth book in Geometry
Has problems just sixteen.

We have Literature and Geography
And History twice a week ;
The English course was not enough
We have Roman now and Greek.

In Physics—let its praise be sung—
We learn of speed and force.
The Latin—that immortal tongue—
We have studied till we're hoarse.

In Botany we learn of weeds
And ferns and yeast and mould ;
The zoology calls for dreadful deeds,
Would turn a stranger cold.

Alas, we know there's plenty of work.
We study, then grind and then cram—
We have too much to do, but we must not shirk,
Or We'll fail on the next exam.

Our Cutter.

MR. DUNCAN CAMERON, well-known in Peterborough for years, is our Cutter. He is a man of acknowledged ability and taste. Unsolicited testimonial from satisfied customers speak in his favour. The latest and finest Merchant Tailoring Effects have been produced from his hands, and as comparisons cost nothing give us your fall order, and we will satisfy you that what we say is right.

We take great pains in cutting and fitting and employ only the best sewers and finishers. Every suit turned out is guaranteed a perfect fit, and as we do a strictly cash business we are giving value that cannot be got elsewhere.

Small Profits.

We're believers in small profits : the more we sell the less need be the profit on a single article. Why? Because the quantity of clothing we turn out brings the material down to the lowest notch, and the cost of running our establishment down to a minimum.

Besides we're making and selling Clothing alongside of a large trade in fashionable Hats and Caps, Gentlemen's Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, &c.—hence the advantages to be derived in the way of saving money at our two stores are positively unobtainable from other merchant tailors.

NO COMMISSION

To Investigate the Manitoba School Question.

WAS NOT DISCUSSED IN COUNCIL

A Delegation Waits Upon the Finance Minister to Have the Silver Nuisance Abated—Chief Justice Strong Granted Four Months' Leave of Absence.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 13.—The story in The Toronto News that a fall session will be held and that a commission to investigate the Manitoba schools has been decided on is entirely without foundation. The matter has not been discussed in Council, but it may be taken as a settled fact that Mr. Laurier will not dictate a policy to the Government. There will be no commission.

The Finance Minister was waited upon yesterday by Messrs. W. S. Weir, president of the Bank Ville Marie, and Thomas McDougall, general manager of the Quebec Bank, upon the subject of the American silver nuisance, which is said to be increasing to an extent which causes the banks a good deal of trouble. The two gentlemen come as members of the banking division of the Boards of Trade, and have been delegated to bring the urgency of the subject before the Government. An increase of the silver coinage of Canada is what the deputation urge on the Government, the plea being that such a course will be profitable to Canada. The driving out of the inferior coin is of course only a mater of departmental expedience, as on the occasion when American coin in Canada was the rule, not the exception, some twenty-five years ago.

Several changes are contemplated in connection with permanent corps. It said that Major Lessard will be transferred to Winnipeg, while Capt. I. D. B. Evans of Winnipeg Dragoons will assume command of Toronto troop with rank of major. Capt. George Bowie of Ottawa will become lieutenant in Winnipeg Dragoons and W. H. Patterson, son of the Lieut.-Governor, will receive a lieutenancy in "A" Battery, Kingston.

Major-General Gascoigne will take part in the presentation of badges to the members of the G.G.F.G. who won the British challenge shield for the regiment.

The Minister of Militia, accompanied by Col. Aylmer, D.A.G., and Col. Lake, visited the range at Rockliffe yesterday afternoon and viewed it from all points. A surveyor employed by the Government is at present engaged in making a survey of the proposed range in Nepean township.

The Marine Department has received a circular from the United States hydrographic office which is not without interest to the inland marine of Canada. It says: "It is very plain that compass bearings cannot be closely relied upon at the eastern end of Lake Ontario. In the neighborhood of the Main Duck Islands it has been frequently observed that there is a great deviation of the compass, sometimes as great as a point at a time. This renders navigation very uncertain in thick or foggy weather. This deviation is due, most probably, to numerous superficial deposits of iron ore. An examination of the magnetic observations that have been made in the Province of Ontario shows that there are numerous localities in the region immediately above Lake Ontario where there are considerable local irregularities. The dips at Kingston and Belleville, at the foot of Lake Ontario, and at Prescott, on the St. Lawrence River, are among the most irregular recorded on the magnetic survey of Canada, and it is certain that both the compass and the dipping needle will be subject to notable and irregular influences in the eastern portion of the lake. At Brockville and at Cornwall the anomaly disappears."

According to recent English newspapers an old criminal has been convicted by means of the anthropometric system of identification. The prisoner had carefully disguised himself; had got rid of any hirsuit adornment to his face, and generally succeeded in hiding his identity to such an extent that it was only by taking the imprint of his hand and comparing it with that of a criminal who had been in custody some time before the identity was established and conviction followed. In Paris the Bertillon system of identification of criminals is in vogue. It is, in brief, a system of measuring the bones of criminals, and is a never failing means of identity. When Sir John Thompson was in Paris attending the Behring Sea tribunal, he and his private secretary, the present Inspector of Penitentiaries, had an opportunity of seeing the system in actual practice. Inspector Stewart informed your correspondent yesterday that the system as practised by the gendarmerie at Paris is an unqualified success, even when photography has failed, and is said to have a most deterrent effect upon criminals, having a tendency to drive away the professional thieves from Paris. On being asked whether it was his intention to suggest the adoption of some such system at the Dominion penitentiaries, Mr. Stewart said that it was a matter more for the Dominion or Provincial police to take up. The matter was one well worthy of consideration. It had been adopted to a certain extent in England, and in some of the principal cities of the United States.

The giving out of the natural gas wells in the State of New York has led to the belief that unless the output of this product in Canada is restricted before long a like fate may befal the Canadian wells. Recently representations were received at the Customs Department urging the imposition of an export duty on natural gas, in view of the enormous quantities which are being piped into Buffalo every week from the Niagara wells.

Mr. Douglas Stewart, Inspector of Penitentiaries, and Mr. W. R. Billings of the Public Works Department, have visited Alexandria during the past week for the purpose of ascertaining what the prospects are for securing building material in the vicinity of Alexandria for the proposed Dominion Reformatory. They brought away samples of stone from several quarries and also clay for brick making, which will be tested by the Public Works Department. Mr. Stewart says that the prospects are very favorable for securing an amply supply of building material within reasonable distance of Alexandria.

Chief Justice Strong of the Supreme Court has been granted four months' leave of absence on the ground of ill health.

An Order-in-Council has been passed, giving effect to the recommendations of the Western Grain Board relative to the grading of grain.

GREAT FIRE AT DULUTH.

The Temple Opera House Destroyed—Loss $200,000.

Duluth, Oct. 14.—There was an explosion in the basement of the Temple Opera House, one of the finest theatres in the northwest at 12.15 yesterday morning. In a few minutes the whole interior was a mass of flames soon as they obtained an outlet. In half an hour the rear wall fell. The building adjoined the Masonic temple, but a wall separated them. The doors between were closed and the Masonic temple was saved. However, the beautiful rooms of the Scottish Rite Consistory, which were in the upper part of the theatre, were destroyed, together with the records and library. The insurance on the double building was $110,000 and its value was $300,000. The burned portion was valued at $90,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

SHOT IN THE STOMACH.

A Lanark County Man Used His Gun to Separate Fighting Dogs and Was Killed

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 13.—Mr. James Lally of Stanleyville, Lanark County, went out the other day and used his gun to separate his dogs in a fight. He injudiciously pushed the butt between them, with the muzzle pointing toward himself. His adopted son cried out to him to take care of the gun, but scarcely were the words uttered when the gun went off, and the charge entered the pit of Lally's stomach, making a terrible wound, some of the buckshot going clear through his body. He lived for 24 hours. The day the accident occurred Mr. Lally's sister was carried to the grave.

Serious Trolley Disaster.

Pittsburg, Oct. 14.—Three persons were killed and nine others injured by a runaway trolley car on the West End Electric Line jumping the track and going over an embankment at 6.20 o'clock to-night.

The killed are: George Rotham, aged 50, furniture dealer, Carnegie, Pa.; Fred Heisel, aged 55, glass worker, Carnegie, Pa.; unknown woman, about 30 years old.

The injured are: Mrs. Michael Foley, Pittsburg, bad scalp wound and internal injuries, may die; Conductor Albert McGuire, aged 35, scalp wound and internal injuries; Fred Waddle, motorman, aged 30, Pittsburg, shoulder dislocated; Michael Foley, Pitsburg, bad scalp wound; James Foley, aged 7, slightly injured; Mrs. Leach, Pittsburg, slight injuries; Henry Stilts, aged 17, Pittsburg, leg broken; Prof. Alex. Phillips, Crafton, right knee lacerated; Katie Foley, young child slightly bruised.

Just before the city line is reached there is a sharp curve at the top of a hill. When the car reached this point the brake rod broke, and the motorman lost control. The car dashed down the hill until it reached McCartney-street, where it jumped the track and turned completely over, landing in a ravine alongside of the road.

BURGLARS KEEP BUSY

They are Now on Their Regular Fall Tour.

FOUR SEPARATE GANGS AT WORK

The Safe in Blyth Station Blown Open—Nobleton's Postmaster Fired At—The Attorney-General's Department Investigating a Number of Reported Robberies.

Toronto, Oct. 14.—Detective Greer returned from Shelburne on Saturday to investigate the recent jewelry robbery in that place. On Tuesday, Oct. 8, a gang of burglars, supposedly from Toronto, removed a panel from the front door of J. W. Eaton's jewelry store; obtained entrance and got away with about $500 worth of goods.

Chief Detective Murray has also been detailed to go to Nobleton to investigate a raid by a similar gang.

Early Friday morning Nobleton's postmaster and general merchant, J. W. Larkin, heard a noise in his store and on asking what was wanted three revolvers were pointed at him by three men who evidently meant business, one of whom commanded him to go into the house. This he refused to do, whereupon one of the men fired, the bullet passing near Mr. Larkin. That gentleman went into the house for his revolver, but when he returned the men had departed. No booty was secured by the burglars.

At Kingston the other night an attempt was made to blow open a safe, but the burglars became frightened and decamped without taking anything. Professional cracksmen have also been at work in Streetsville, in Eganville and other points in the Ottawa valley.

The latest crime of the kind to be reported is from Blyth, Ont., where early on Saturday morning burglars entered the Grand Trunk station in this village, blew open the safe and carried off $53.35 in money. Entrance was made by forcing open the front door of the station. The burglars drilled a hole through the top of the safe to the interior; filled this with explosives; attached a fuse and their work was accomplished. The lockside of the safe was shattered and the interior completely destroyed. Glass in one of the windows in the agent's office was broken and the door leading into the freight sheds was torn from its hinges. Before leaving the thieves helped themselves to some grapes which were in the freight sheds. As in the other cases there is no clue to the perpetrators, but it is apparently the work of professionals.

Detective Greer is of the opinion that at least four gangs of professionals have started on their regular autumn tour of the province. The burglaries have taken place in different localities in almost every case and in such quick succession as to lead to the belief that they were perpetrated by different associations of cracksmen banded together in Toronto.

Every autumn the Attorney-General's department waits in expectation of the reports of burglaries in the province, which commence to come in towards the end of September. This year the shifty gentlemen were later than usual in commencing, but they have made up for their tardiness in their present activity. The provincial burglary season is invariably contemporaneous with the fall fair epidemic for a very obvious reason. If, during a time of ordinary quiet, three or four strangers should come to town to make the preliminary investigations necessary to thieving on a large scale, their presence would be noticed and descriptions of them easily obtained. If, however, the gentry go to a town while the fall fair is on and the town or village is crowded, they pass unnoticed and are able to make their preparations without difficulty. The Attorney-General's department will make every possible effort to suppress the professional labors of the cracksmen.

Exchanged Shots With a Burglar.

Farnham, Que., Oct. 12.—An attempt was made last night to burglarize E. Rye's jewelry store, but the burglars awoke young Rye, who sleeps in the store. One burglar shot at Rye, but missed him. Rye then returned the fire, and frightened away the two visitors, who left a revolver in the store. Rye followed them in the street and fired at them, but with no effect.

A Boy's Rascally Deed.

Toledo, O., Oct. 12.—Henry Myers, a boy, 17 years old, objected to his sister giving a birthday party at their home, and in order to discourage any future attempts in the same line mixed two ounces of croton oil with the coffee that was served to the guests. As a result 12 of the young people who attended the party are now in a serious condition and fatal results are expected from some of them.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. The concert given under the auspices of L.O.L. No. 294, on Thursday evening last, Oct. 10th, was a grand success. By eight o'clock every available seat was occupied, and the order given throughout the entire programme was excellent. The chairman, Mr. Wm. Adams, D. M., discharged his duties in a very acceptable manner. The programme was as follows:

Chairman's address
Recitation	Miss Jennie Evans
Cornet solo	H D Williamson
Song, comic	Mr Benson
Address	Mr Carnegie, M P P
Violin solo	H D Williamson
Song, Scotch	A Morrison
Autoharp solo	H D Williamson
Song, comic	Mr Benson
Comic solo	H D Williamson
Song, comic	A R Benson
Tea pot solo	H D Williamson
Song	A Morrison
Song, comic	Mr Benson

Mr. A. R. Benson kept the audience in roars of laughter with his character songs, and had to respond to an encore at his every appearance. Mr. H. D. Williamson is indeed a whole concert in himself, he being master of almost every musical instrument manufactured. His tea pot solo brought forth prolonged applause. In fact every number on the programme was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience present. Messrs. Benson and Williamson can rely on a full house on a reappearance at Bethel. Those gentlemen appear at a concert in Mount pleasant on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd. Don't fail to hear them.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

LIBERAL LEADERS AT RENFREW.

Wet Weather Dampened the Proceedings, But Mr Laurier Was Warmly Received.

Renfrew, Ont., Oct. 14.—The weather has been most unfavorable for a large meeting of the electors to hear Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and several other leading members of Parliament. It was raining steadily when the train arrived at the station and continued to rain until the afternoon.

Several of the leading Reformers of the town met the visitors at the station and escorted them to the Dominion House, where they were entertained by the local association.

Besides Mr. Laurier there were in the party Hon. Mr. Longley, Attorney-General for Nova Scotia; John McMillan, M.P., of Seaforth; G. W. Dawson; Mr. Pleyna of Addington, and Mr. Alexander Smith of Toronto.

The speakers were on hand promptly, but many of the audience, and especially the ladies who graced it with their presence, had not then arrived. The hall was soon well filled.

Among the gentlemen besides those before named who were on the platform were: Mr. T. Murray of Pembroke; R. A. Campbell, M.P.P., South Renfrew; Henry Barr, M.P.P., North Renfrew; Dr. Cranston and John Tierney of Arnprior; A. A. Wright, President of the South Renfrew Reform Association; James Craig of Renfrew and John Brady, the nominee of the Reform party for the next Dominion election.

The chairman, Mr. Wright, in his opening remarks, had no sooner pronounced the name of Laurier as being present than there was a burst of applause, which showed the unanimous feeling of good-will toward the Liberal leader. The chairman also alluded to Mr. Brady as a man well known to the people of Renfrew and who was generally esteemed and had therefore been selected by the Liberals as their standard bearer at the next Dominion election. He would follow our leader in a good and just cause, and was the right man in the right place. He (the speaker) had once asked an old conductor on the C.P.R. if he knew Mr. Laurier, and on his replying that he did very well, as a Reformer, and on being further asked how he did so, replied that the Reformers always paid their fares, while the Conservatives always travelled on passes, and it was our duty to give them a pass out and relegate them to the cold shades of Opposition. (Applause.)

Mr. Brady was called on to speak, and was received with applause, knowing the great interest taken by the audience in so eminent a public man as Mr. Laurier, and their anxiety to hear him and the other gentlemen who were to speak, he would not take up the time of the meeting longer.

The chairman then read an address to the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Opposition. This was received with loud applause, which was vigorously renewed when Hon. Mr. Laurier came forward to reply. He began by remarking that he had addressed larger meetings, but never a more representative one, composed of the sterling yeomanry of South Renfrew. He then spoke at length on the Manitoba question and his statement of his position was vigorously applauded; but he spoke at greater length on the trade question, the audience being evidently in full sympathy with him on that point, as well as on the extravagance and corruption of the Government.

These subjects were also largely dwelt upon by Attorney-General Longley, Mr. McMillan, Mr. Murray and Mr. Dawson.

The meeting broke up with cheers for the Queen.

NEWFOUNDLAND NOTES.

Schooner Wrecked in Trinity Bay—Financial Matters Not Prosperous

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 14. — The schooner Winnie Pearce, became a total wreck in Trinity Bay during yesterday's gale.

The steamers Louisburg and Colla, both from Montreal, have arrived here. Their decks were swept Sunday and they were damaged in the same gale.

The warship Buzzard has again been ordered to the wreck of the steamer Mariposa on the Labrador coast.

The revenue steamer Fiona has arrived from Placentia Bay with six smugglers, who will be tried in connection with the smuggling scandals.

The financial condition of the colony still causes uneasiness. The Government attempts to minimise the gravity of the outlook, but its refusal to accept the guaranteed bank notes is considered by business people to be most serious.

CHANDOS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Geo. Bullied and family, of Apsley, have left for the Northwest. His many friends in this neighbourhood, while sorry to lose such a good citizen, wish him every success in his new home.

Mr. Holbrooks is in this locality with the object of starting a music class.

Mr. Rolands, cheese inspector, visited Apsley and Chandos cheese factories last week. He gave a very favourable opinion of the cheese.

A number of young men have left for the shanty, and others expect to follow later. Work and wages fairly good.

Miss Kate McFadden visited her brother in Burleigh.

The Chandos cheese factory is a favourite resort for the school teachers on Saturdays.

Rev. Mr. Ratcliff, who has been visiting his son, Mr. John Ratcliff, has returned home.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equally interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now for instance the minor ailments that afflict us. Why should so many fraudulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless.

An Experimental Shipment Made by the Ontario Fruit Growers

Grimsby, Oct. 12.—To-day an important shipment of apples was made from this point to Sydney, N.S.W. The Board of Control of the Ontario Fruit Experiment Stations, through its secretary here, is making this experiment in the hope that it may be the means of opening up a good market for Ontario apples just at this season, when the markets of Australia are bare of fruit. One hundred and fifteen cases of beautiful apples, all wrapped in tissue paper, and rowed carefully in the boxes, compose the lot. They go by way of Vancouver, on the November steamer, reaching Sydney about December 1. The varieties sent forward are Spy, Cranberry, Baldwin and Greening. Mr. J. S. Larke, agent for the Dominion at Sydney, has offered to see after the shipment in the interest of Ontario fruit-growers.

AWFUL PRAIRIE FIRES

Four Lives Lost in Southwestern Manitoba.

TREMENDOUS LOSS OF PROPERTY

Flames Sweep Over a Large Section of the Country and Cause Much Loss—Hundreds of Tons of Hay and Many Grain Stacks and Buildings Go Up in Smoke.

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—Prairie fires raged with terrible force in Southern Manitoba yesterday. They started simultaneously in several localities, and driven by a fierce gale, swept all before them. Starting near the Assiniboine River, south of Portage la Prairie, the flames were driven in a few moments to the Southwestern Railway line, where the telegraph poles were burned, so that communication is cut off and particulars are hard to get. It is learned, however, that Mr. Thomas Sohn, section foreman, and an assistant, named Edward Labyan, were burned to death.

At another point nearer the city, Arthur St. Germain perished and his elder brother was fatally burned.

At Headingly, Daniel Tait, who was out shooting, was overtaken and very badly burned.

In Oakville district hundreds of tons of hay and the big meadows were destroyed.

At Baldur, grain stacks and buildings to the amount of $16,000 were burned.

Four lives were lost, and $410,000 of property loss is occasioned by the prairie fires.

Phenomenally large yields of grain have been reported from time to time from various sections of the province, and it has been a matter of doubt which district boasted the largest. The point is now decided by a report from Neepawa of six hundred bushels of wheat from nine acres, on the farm of E. W. Nicholson at Bridge Creek. Another field of sixteen acres on the same farm yielded eight hundred bushels; while the entire crop of 105 acres turned out 4000 bushels.

While this is undobtedly the largest recorded there are numerous cases of forty to fifty bushels to the acre. In very few instances have farmers sufficient room to store their unusually large crops, so they take it to market. This accounts in a measure for the large deliveries of wheat. Despite a determination to hold for higher prices, there have been inducements to sell the past week by offers of fifty cents per bushel.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

Already the Politicians are Beginning to Talk About Candidates.

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—Although the preparation of the provincial voters' lists does not assure a general election immediately after revision, there is a growing feeling that it can not be long delayed. Talk of candidates is already indulged in, but the first to announce himself is Lieut. Windross as an Independent Conservative in Woodland. In Winnipeg it is expected Cameron and McMillan, Cabinet Ministers, will again contest the south and centre divisions. No doubt both will be opposed. Mr. McIntyre, the representative of North Winnipeg, will probably retire at any time. The labor party are sure to have a candidate, there and his success is certain. The temperance men may have a candidate in Centre Winnipeg.

James Watson, C.P.R. engineer, died on Saturday, aged 57. He leaves a wife and four children.

Malcolm Galbraith, aged 25, died today. He came from Paisley, Ont., a year ago.

THE MANITOBA HARVEST.

The Farmers of the North West Will Have Plenty of Money to Spend.

Winnipeg, (Special) Oct. 7.—The prospects of a good year for the Manitoba farmers are now assured, thanks to the abundant harvest. One of the causes for the sickness prevalent last year will now be obviated, as the farmers will have more money to spare for the purchase of the necessities for health. One of the straws which shows which way the wind is blowing is the fact that druggists are ordering the well-known remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, in unusually large quantities. The inhabitants of the province are well aware of the value of the medicine, and only the financial stringency has hitherto prevented its universal use.

Norway Pine Syrup strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs, colds, etc.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says, "Shiloh's Vitaliser saved my life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

NEW G.T.R. MANAGER.

Vice-President Hayes of the Wabash Said to Be the Coming Man.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—Vice-President and General Manager Hayes of the Wabash Railway has resigned his position to accept that of general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—The report that Vice-President Hayes of the Wabash will become general manager of the Grand Trunk, is generally believed here. A despatch to this effect was shown to one of the highest officials of the Grand Trunk this morning, and he said that at the approaching meeting of the shareholders in London, Eng., some important changes might be looked for. Mr. Seargeant's position will be changed, but he will still retain his connection with the company, holding another position, with, however, no loss of prestige.

Being asked as to what truth there was in the appointment of Mr. Hayes to the general management, he thought that it was very likely that such would take place, but until the meeting referred to took place, it was premature to speak positively. Other changes, he understood, were contemplated on the staff, but none of any great importance. Mr. Hayes, according to an official of the C.P.R., is one of the cleverest western railway men who for a long time was an employe of the late Jay Gould; holding important positions on the Northern Pacific and other Gould lines. He has made rapid advancement and is yet a comparatively young man.

Later.—The appointment of Vice-President Hayes of the Wabash to the general managership of the Grand Trunk Railway, is confirmed, and another important announcement is made regarding the future management of the Grand Trunk. When Sir Charles Rivers Wilson became president he was now to railway work, and the other members of the Board were in about the same position. The president felt at once that there should be a man on the directorate possessing a perfect knowledge of the affairs of the Grand Trunk and of the Dominion of Canada as well, and the president went to work upon his arrival in Canada to find such a man.

After looking over the road and taking in the situation, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson offered this highly honorable position to Mr. L. J. Seargeant, who, after due consideration has accepted the well-earned promotion, and will leave Canada within a few months in order to take up his permanent residence in London. The correspondent understands that Mr. Seargeant will be elected to the Board of Directors at the coming annual meeting and from that time will continue to give the president and colleagues the benefit of that ripe experience gained during five years of general managership and 22 years connection with the Grand Trunk in Canada.

Some other changes may also be expected, now that the president of the road has reached London, and it is understood that Mr. Barker of Hamilton will come to Montreal and assume the financial duties connected with the general manager's office, but which all along have been considered too heavy for one official to perform.

THE SHIPBUILDERS' STRIKE.

The Trouble at Belfast Looked Upon as Trades Union Blackmail.

New York, Oct. 14.—Harold Frederic cables from London: Although there has been a good deal of muttering in the past few weeks in the ship-building trade, nobody seems to have believed that there would be serious trouble, and the strike at Belfast is in the nature of a surprise. It is an extremely unwelcome surprise, too, for it threatens a good deal more than a local industrial dislocation. For once there is practically a universal feeling that the strikers are behaving badly. They have been earning excellent wages and were treated irreproachably in other respects, and their demand for an increase of wages, simply because there is a temporary flurry of activity in the ship yards, comes distinctly under the head of trades union blackmail. Unless they come to their senses very soon they will work a lasting injury to Belfast, where the shipbuilding industry has been slowly built up by the energy and courage of employers like Harland, Wolff and a few others, into importance, but a deadlock of a month or two will suffice to hinder the work of years. It is not forgotten that a big and flourishing industry in shipbuilding on the Thames, in East London, was completely smashed by a similar idiotic strike, and there is a not unnatural terror lest a sympathetic movement spread to operatives in the great Clyde and Tyneside yards, which would mean the total paralysis of shipbuilding in these islands. Thus far, opinion in Glasgow and Newcastle leans to the belief that sober counsels will prevail in the unions, but the younger hot heads are eager for a struggle and the danger that they will stampede the unions is still considerable.

The fact that this insensate trouble comes just at a time when England is more deeply involved abroad than it has been for years, and when the English people are anxiously discussing their ability to preserve command of the seas in case of war, makes it all the harder to bear with patience. To cripple the British shipyards at such a nervous juncture as this seems like treason as well as folly, and even if nothing grave comes of it, it will be remembered here in England against the Belfast operatives for a long while. They will hear from it when they next get up Orange riots to show how superior Ulster is to the rest of Ireland.

GENTLEMEN,—Last spring I had a very heavy cold and was threatened with pneumonia. I used two bottles of Norway Pine Syrup and it completely cured me. It is the best preparation for a cough I have ever used. J. K. MACDONALD, Whycocomagh, Cape Breton.

Health and strength carry us through dangers and make us safe in the presence of peril. Disease germs do no harm in a healthy body. A germ is not a big thing, and it is only physical weakness that makes it dangerous. A perfectly strong man with rich, pure blood, has nothing to fear from germs. He may breathe in the bacilli of consumption with impunity. Nature is continually working to throw off any impurities that may come into the body, but if there is a weak spot where the germs may find an entrance to the tissues, then the trouble begins. Disease germs propagate with lightning-like rapidity. Once in the blood, they quickly fill the whole body. The only way to get rid of them is to kill them. This is what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is for. It purifies the blood. That means that it kills the germs, but that is only part of what it does. It assists in the digestion of food and puts the digestive organs in a perfect condition. It stimulates the secretion of digestive fluids, so promoting assimilation and nutrition. It fills the blood full of healthy red corpuscles. It purifies and enriches every drop of blood in the whole body and so supplies the tissues with the food they need. It builds up strong, healthy flesh and puts the whole body into a disease-resisting state.

Nine-tenths of all human ailments come from the same cause—impurity in the blood. Take almost any disease you please and trace the cause of it—you will find it in the blood. Purify and enrich the blood and you remove the cause, and so you cure the disease inevitably and infallibly. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all diseases depending upon poor, impoverished, thin, impure blood.

The death of Mrs. Grace Elliott, relict of the late Benjamin Elliott occured on Saturday evening last at her residence No. 184 Brock street. The deceased was very well known in town, having been janitress of the town buildings for a long term of years. The cause of death was consumption, and the funeral took place this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery.

The Lock Works Question.

A special committee of the town council met the Manufacturers' Committee of the Board of Trade Saturday evening in reference to the Lock Works question. Representatives of the company were in attendance at the meeting, but no definite desision was arrived at regarding the matter, and the council will meet in committee of the whole to-night and thrash the question out.

Guaranteed Cure for Tobacco

The Uncle Sam Tobacco Cure will stop the tobacco habit—that's a certainty. So confident are the manufacturers that it will do all it claims, they will refund the money in every case where the tobacco user has strictly followed directions for 30 days without being cured. Money talks, and merit wins—they mean what they say. The medicine is for sale at Lynch's drug store, Hunter street, where the guarantee is good.

An Elegant Special Number.

The Norwood Register has issued a handsome illustrated edition devoted to making known the industries and capabilities of the village. The edition is illustrated by excellent photogravures of the leading citizens and views of the prin business houses, factories and public buildings and private residences. These views are accompanied with readable descriptive and biographical matter. The Register is to be congratulated upon the elegant special edition which is a credit both to the proprietor and the village.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes, and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendent of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

The Coming Musical Attraction.

Mons. Chas. Le Simple, the great violoncello-virtuoso, whose coming is expected soon in Peterborough, created a great sensation in Quebec at his first appearance. The Quebec Morning Chronicle of the 4th October says:—"M. Le Simple is one of the best violoncellists who ever appeared in this country. He played several very difficult pieces superbly and fairly brought down the house with Popper's Tarantella. Mons. Le Simple is now in Montreal, where he appears at the Windsor on the 11th. All the papers comment upon his successes and in musical circles he is "le lion du jour."

The Mild September.

During the latter days of September a remark was frequently made that "this is the hottest September ever known." The observatory records show, however, that in British Columbia and the north-west the temperature was 2 to 6 below the average, while in Ontario it was only from 1 to 4 above. In Nova Scotia it also went below the average. The lowest temperature of the month is reported at Brandon, where 12 degrees of frost were experienced. In Ontario, Renfrew was the warmest point with Peterborough, Brantford and Toronto close up. The rainfall for the month the Dominion over was below the average.

An Alleged Swindler.

The Globe of Monday says,—Robert Fee, late bookkeeper for the Sadler, Dundas & Flavelle Milling Co., of Lindsay, was locked up in police headquarters on Sunday on a charge of embezzling $800 from his former employers. Fee absconded on Sept. 20th and came to this city, after which he crossed to the other side, and, after wandering from place to place, finally landed in Rochester, where he was arrested by Detectives McDonald and Kavanagh of the Rochester police force. He acknowledged his identity and admitted his guilt and consented to return. Chief Bell, of Lindsay, was notified and left at once, receiving his prisoner on Saturday evening and reaching Toronto with him Sunday afternoon. He took him to Lindsay to-day to stand his trial.

MURPHY ONCE MORE REMANDED.

There is no Evidence Against Him of Carrying a Revolver, the Magistrate Says.

Frank Murphy, the tramp, who was arrested on a charge of carrying a revolver and who is strongly suspected of association with the party from whom Constable Moore had such a narrow escape at the battle of Heap's Run, was again before the magistrate this morning for adjourned hearing.

Mr. Bowman, who has been away, was present and in his evidence stated that the prisoner had used indecent language, but had not threatened him or pulled a revolver. He had seen him with the other two tramps and saw them take him across the C.P.R. bridge.

The prisoner knowing that his connection with the other tramps would be considered most damning, closely cross-examined Mr. Bowman in an endeavour to have him say that the others had not entered the saloon with him, but Mr. Bowman was firm on the point of considering that the trio were chums.

When in the witness box himself, Murphy swore that he had never been in prison in his life, had never carried a revolver and had no knowledge of the other tramps.

County Crown Attorney Wood asked for a remand until the authorities at Walkerton had been heard from, as the prisoner was thought to be mixed up in a highway robbery which had taken place there. His photograph has been sent to Walkerton for identification and he will be held here until some word is received from the Crown Attorney there. The magistrate does not consider there is evidence to show that the prisoner carried a revolver.

SIX MONTHS IN THE CENTRAL.

A Tramp Robs a Small Boy and Secures his Just Deserts.

A very tough looking customer was brought into the police court this morning when John McCamon took his seat in the dock. He was charged with stealing 20 cents from a newsboy and although the amount was small, the magistrate did not estimate this fact as being any palliation of the crime.

The victim of the theft was little Fred McFadden. He ran across the tramp in the arcade on Saturday afternoon and had told him in reply to a query that he had only sold three papers so far. The tramp had taken a paper and refused to return it for some time. Afterwards another lad had told the tramp that if he was looking for work he could easily sell wooden fans if he knew how to make them. McCamon stated that he had no knife and then the boy had told him to feel the outside of young McFadden's pocket to see if he had one. The tramp put his hand inside the pocket and confiscated twenty cents which was there, telling the boy he could well spare it, as he had lots.

McFadden threatened to call the police, but this didn't trouble the tramp, who walked off with the money.

A lad named Pope watched to see where the man went, whilst McFadden went for the police. The Chief answered the call for aid and arrested the tramp, who, however, resisted strongly before he would go over to the cells.

On the evidence adduced the magistrate sentenced McCamon to a term of six months in the Central Prison.

LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY IMPROVEMENTS.

New Buildings to be Erected and Provided With New Duplicate Machinery.

On Saturday about half of the incandescent electric lights south of Brock street ceased to give light on account of a heated bearing at the station. By the time the merchants had provided supplementary lights the bearing cooled and there was light again.

In order to avoid such accidents in the future, the Light and Power Company next spring intend to erect a new building capable of holding all their machinery for electric lighting and electric power. Two large boilers are to be put in and duplicate electric machinery placed in one large building, so that in case of accident to one set of machinery, the other will be available for a constant supply of electricity. This course has been decided upon for some time, and plans for the buildings and machinery are in course of preparation. This is the only safe way of securing light and power at all times, since, as in other things, when dependence is placed upon one individual or set of machinery, both are liable to get out of order, and bring things to a stop. The contemplated improvements will cost in the neighbourhood of $30,000.

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

The Tax Collector's Office Will Have Electric Light.

At a meeting of the Property Committee on Saturday evening, with Chairman Adam Dawson presiding, it was resolved to recommend to the Council that the Police Court building be re-shingled, and that the tax collector's office be furnished with electric light. The subject of providing a door for the stairway leading to the Police Court from the cells was not taken up for discussion, although the Magistrate's letter on the question is in the committee's hands for a report on its feasibility. Most noxious odors pass up the stairway from the cells, and a door would do much to prevent this.

Narrow Escape from Accident.

The Haliburton correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent says: There was a very narrow escape on Friday from a serious accident. Mr. Hart of Peterborough, was here engaged in arranging for the purchase of hides, and standing at the bar in Mr. Kellett's hotel, was writing a letter. Near him stood a young man, a son of Mr. J. Roberts, of Harburn. Roberts was talking to H. Martin, a companion, and telling him how he had just bought a new revolver in Orillia, and putting his hand in his pocket pulled out the revolver. At this moment Mr. Hart raised the letter he was writing at the bar to read it, and —bang!—Roberts' revolver flashed fire, and the bullet passed through the letter in Mr. Hart's hand, smashed the ink bottle, scored the bar and lodged in the water tank. The village constable was present, and at once arrested Roberts. On Saturday Roberts was brought before J. Dover, Esq., J.P., on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. The charge of carrying a revolver in his pocket was fully proved—he was fined $5 and $4 costs. The revolver was confiscated and becomes the property of the municipality, and will probably be placed in charge of the constable. It is to be hoped that in every case where revolvers are carried the same prompt action will be taken by the authorities.

THE ENGINE OFF TO MONTREAL.

It Was Taken Away on Its Own Wheels Yesterday Afternoon.

The locomotive which plunged into the river on Thursday evening at the Locks' bridge, was finally raised from the river on Saturday evening after a great deal of trouble.

The locomotive was raised upon its wheels in the river by means of derricks on the bridge above and dragged up on the bank by the wrecking auxiliary engines. A track was laid down to the water's edge and after once being in position on the rails the rest of the job was easy. The main track was raised and an impromptu switch constructed and the locomotive was soon on its way to the Montreal shops for repairs, being actually taken away on its own wheels.

On Saturday afternoon the official investigation which has been in session for the last few days before Assistant Supt. Webster and Asst. Master Mechanic Harcom, was brought to a close. The evidence was all taken down by a stenographer, and the notes will be submitted to the casualty committee at the head office in Montreal. Engineer Andrews and Archie Jackson, the bridge tender, are both working as usual.

HE'S... STILL MAD.

Notwithstanding what interested parties may say to the contrary, we can supply you with THIS SEASONS MAKE of "Health Brand" Underwear at prices fully 25 per. cent. lower than those heretofore charged by by other merchants, who, in that high and mighty way peculiar to themselves, fancied they had a monopoly of these goods.

We care not what anyone may say as to how we received these goods. We claim that they were bought direct from the manufacturers, and can prove our contention to any one who cares to see the proof. This controversy, however, interests the public only in so far as it enables them to buy from us goods they need at much lower prices than those charged by another firm.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY AT ST. JOHN'S.

The Claims of the Institution to Public Recognition and Encouragement Forcibly Presented From the Pulpit —A Large Congregation.

On Sunday evening, Rev. J. C. Davidson conducted at St. John's the second of a series of services in the interest of deserving local institutions, the subject being the Nicholls Hospital. The church was crowded to the doors, as services of this nature are deservedly attracting attention. The hospital board of management, the medical staff and the staff of nurses were present. In honour of the occasion, the front of the pulpit and lectern and the porch screen were appropriately decorated with the "Red Cross," the symbol of heroic devotion to the nursing of suffering humanity.

After a bright and hearty service the rector took for his text the second and third verses of Psalm CIII,— Bless the Lord, O my soul and forget not all His benefits; who forgiveth all thine injuries; who healeth all thy diseases.

He began by saying that all could see the reasonableness of gratitude to Almighty God for His numberless mercies. All were called upon to pass through the deep shadows of life, and all were called upon to struggle out of these shadows into the sunlight of God's love. Among the shadows was the dread shadow of disease. The connection between the healing of disease and the forgiveness of sins were pointed out. The intimate connection between sin and disease was shown by the physician first enquiring as to the habits of his patient. The connection between the forgiveness of sin, emphasized by the Psalmist and elsewhere in Scripture, and the healing of disease was shown, and in this the offices of the minister of God and the physician created a bond of union. Therefore it was plain that there was much in common among those who were kneeling together that night—the physicians and the nurses on one hand, and the clergy and church workers on the other.

The preacher feared that in the past we had not been appreciative of, and thankful for, the public institutions and benefits we enjoyed in this town. The necessity of change in this respect was urged on the ground of encouraging those who were associated with these public benefits. Those who did work for the public good had a right to expect public recognition and encouragement. If this recognition and encouragement were withheld very long discouragement would ensue and the public interests suffer in proportion. He wished to make an appeal for a change in this regard, not on the high grounds of gratitude to God, but of encouragement to those engaged in the work, and in this respect the occasion of meeting together to consider the munificient gift of the Nicholls Hospital was very fitting.

The financial struggles of other towns to secure a hospital, were contrasted with the free gift of a magnificently equipped hospital, without any public contribution, and it was asked in view of these facts if the people of Peterborough should not be very grateful and appreciative? The Nicholls Hospital was opened ten years ago, and the present building was erected six years ago. The first year 157 patients were treated, and the number had gone on increasing yearly, till last year the admissions were 336, of whom 19 had died. Of this total 175 were patients who were treated without fee or charge. Altogether up to date 1,518 patients had been treated in the hospital. After speaking of the great benefits of hospital treatment, which could not be secured in the majority of homes, reference was made to the idea of the narrow platform upon which the hospital was founded, and the statement was made that this idea was wrong, in evidence of which it was stated that last year ten Roman Catholic patients were treated in the hospital. At the same time it was pointed out that naturally Roman Catholics would prefer an institution where they would meet those in religious sympathy with them, and receive the excellent treatment they can get at St. Joseph's Hospital. In dealing with those who did the work, the generosity of the founder, Mrs. Nicholls, was warmly eulogized, and her example declared to be worthy of imitation. The Board of Management had shown that their hearts were in their duties. The Board wished the public to understand that the hospital was founded for the poor of Peterborough. A stirring tribute was paid to the self-sacrifice of the staff of physicians, who, in the midst of a busy practice, gave each a month of their time to the patients of the hospital. The speaker also eloquently referred to the exacting duties of the nurses skilfully performed, the importance of their ministrations and the spirit of self-sacrifice they practised in risking even life at the call of duty. And there was this danger, for two had died as the results of their devotion to the patients in their charge, and the speaker hoped that the names of Miss Ballantyne and Miss Ross would long be held in honour in the hospital, and would be an incentive to the other nurses to put the utmost earnestness in their work. The speaker made an earnest appeal to the people to take a pride and interest in the noble work of the Nicholls Hospital, to recognise the greatness of the gift and to recognise and encourage the grand work that was being carried on.

The hymns sung with great heartiness during the evening, had special reference to the occasion, the services throughout were animated, and the result must prove beneficial to the important interests sought to be promoted by the service.

THE LATE S. W. PATTERSON.

The Well Known Lacrosse Enthusiast is Dead.

The death of Will Patterson, of Port Hope, occurred on Saturday, and as he was well known in town the following obituary is taken from the Port Hope papers:

"It is with the deepest measure of regret we announce to-day the death of Stanley William Paterson, eldest son of Stanley Paterson, Esq., banker of this town, which took place at the residence of his father at 1.30 p.m. The deceased was one of the most popular young men in Port Hope, his amiable disposition and his sterling character, winning him the affection of all his friends and companions, and the esteem of our citizens. The deceased was born in Port Hope in 1870. He attended our Public School, finishing his education at the High School. He was an apt scholar and on leaving the latter educational institution was well qualified for the requirements of the business career which it was his desire to follow. He became attached to the staff of the Bank of Toronto, and in this position became acquainted with all our leading business men, with whom he soon made himself a favourite. After obtaining much valuable business experience he resigned his appointment in the Bank to assume the local management of the Dominion Express Company's business, under the direction of his father. He was very successful in this capacity and was regarded by all as a young man of fine attainments and with every prospect of a brilliant career. The deceased was from his childhood a lover of athletics, and was the leader of his companions in all their sports. He was especially fond of lacrosse and was regarded as one of the best local players in Canada. He assumed the management of the Ontario Lacrosse Club in 1893 and under his direction they proved invincible. Mr. Patterson enjoyed the most vigourous and robust health until about a year ago when the first symptoms of consumption suddenly developed. Everything that medical science could suggest was done to save him from the ravages of this dreaded disease, but to no avail. He travelled south and for a time seemed to rally, but the improvement was only temporary and at last he thought it wise to return home.

During the last few months the deceased has been in very feeble health, but was able to be driven around within a day or so of his death. The family of the deceased have the heartfelt sympathy of all our citizens, especially the bereaved father and mother, in the loss of a son most worthy of parents' pride, and whose career must always reflect honour upon them."

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age, Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good," of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and do not be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

COUNTY TEACHERS IN CONVENTION.

The County Convention at Norwood —A Good Attendance of Educators— Interesting Papers Presented.

A highly successful convention of the teachers of Peterborough county was held at Norwood on Thursday and Friday. The attendance was good and excellent interest was manifested.

Mr. Percy Udy's paper on drawing, described it as a development of mind and muscle, and of habits of observation—which are essential to good education. The paper gave details of the position of pupil, implement, materials and mode of instruction, which were much to the point.

Mr. Brown, P.S.I., in discussion suggested that drawing enlarges the pupil's vocabulary. Miss Lewis, Mr. Perney, of Norwood, and Mr. Knlewasser, of Havelock, also contributed to the discussion and approved of the use of rulers and compasses for entrance pupils.

At the afternoon session Mr. Brown, P.S.I., gave an admirable paper on arithmetic, how to teach it to the little pupils, giving much practical information that must be of great value to the teachers. He insisted on thoroughness and on making pupils rapid and accurate. Fractions should be introduced after the simple rules.

M. C. Edwards, B.A., read a paper on Literature. He gave an interesting result of experiment to determine the bent of fancy of miscellaneous people, which showed lack of interest in literature, the causes of which were suggested. The remedies were to extend the reading of the pupils and have them use good dictionaries, and procure a small library for the school. Direct the pupils in the reading of newspapers and base compositions on the books read by pupils.

Mr. Brown suggested as excellent works "The Concise Imperial Dictionary" and "Blackie's Encyclopedia," which should be in every school.

SECOND DAY—FRIDAY.

On Friday morning there was even a larger attendance, Mr. Matchett, of Ashburnham, presiding.

Mr. Brown, P.S.I., dealt with the subject of geography, taking the pupil from the entrance to school. Begin with the cardinal points of the compass. Teach pupils local geography. The maps of the world should next be studied. The object of the study of geography was as an aid to study of literature. Make pupils familiar with the continents, and after the continents take countries, capitals and island groups.

Mr. J. Davidson, M.A., LL.B., principal of the Norwood High School, gave an interesting account of a visit to London and Paris. The historic aspects of the sights of these cities were graphically presented. All who heard him were delighted and instructed.

Mr. F. E. Perney read a paper on moral instruction in schools. In this matter moral training should take precedence of instruction. First train the pupil to right habits—which were basis of a strong moral character. Train pupils to habits of regularity, punctuality, neatness, obedience, silence, industry, truthfulness, justice and kindness. Have regular lessons in morality. An interesting discussion followed.

A resolution was adopted declaring the County Association entirely separate from the town of Peterborough.

At the afternoon session Mr. M. W. Matchett, principal of the Ashburnham public school, read an excellent paper on "Physiology and Temperance." It covered the ground very thoroughly, and suggested detailed methods of teaching the subject in the several forms. For Physiology teaching charts of the various organs were to be used, and the text book largely dispensed with. The discussion that followed brought out several interesting points.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

resulted as follows:

President—C. H. Edwards, B.A.
Vice-President—Miss L. Lewis.
Sec.-Treasurer—W. Fitzgerald.
Auditors—E. Porter and J. Beer.
Committee—Misses Hamilton, Lang and Waters, and Messrs. H. Kindred, P. Udy, R. Breckenridge and D. Eason.
Delegates to Provincial Association—Mr. Perney and Miss Brighty.

The convention was a most successful one, and the teachers who had the privilege of hearing the several papers and the consequent discussion, must have been greatly benefitted.

THE WHEEL.

The local racing team will enter a road race at Bowmanville this week. Two teams could easily go down as the fast men of the town are all in good shape just now.

As gently flew the evening dew,
Along the asphalt pavement flew
A lady, young and fair to view
With her "Chawls on a bicycle built or so."
Gee whiz!

Her brow was cold as the chiseled stone,
While her eyes "like sparkling diamonds" shone,
At each turn of the wheel her bell she'd ring,
Ting-a-ling-a-ling, ling-a-ling-ling-ling-ling.
Gee whiz!

Her consort was a downy youth,
Active he was to tell the truth;
He worked his legs like a lively flea,
Or a bob-tailed monkey climbing a tree.
Gee whiz!

"Fly not so fast!" his dudeship said.
"There's an open manhole just ahead!
The scented sewer is deep and wide!"
But she gracefully curved to the other side.
Gee whiz!

"Oh stay!" said his dudeship, "and let me rest
My mellow head on your bloomer breast;"
With a glance like a cold, sharp icicle,
"She said, "Who is running this bicycle?"
Gee whiz!

"Beware the trolley's sudden start!
Beware the baulky horse and cart!"
This was her consort's admonition,
But she went like Satan to perdition.
Gee whiz!

On, on they went through crowded street;
"999 was not so fleet;
But they spilled while crossing a railroad track
And dudey's coat was ripped up the back.
Gee whiz!

I stood for a moment in fiendish glee
And gazed on that awful calamity.
"What was done, what to do," I knew at a glance,
'Twas another job for the ambulance.
Gee whiz!

FRUIT AS FOOD.

An Adjunct, Rather Than a Food by Itself—The Value of the Acids and Pectines.

Eve is said to have seen that fruit was good for food. Every generation since has indorsed her opinion, and now perhaps more than ever before, the world is waking up to see how good a food it really is. Good ripe fruit contains a large amount of sugar in a very easily digestible form. This sugar forms a light nourishment, which, in conjunction with bread, rice, etc., form a food especially suitable for these warm colonies; and when eaten with, say, milk or milk and eggs, the whole forms the most perfect and easily digestible food imaginable. For stomachs capable of digesting it fruit eaten with pastry forms a very perfect nourishment, but I prefer my cooked fruit covered with rice and milk or custard.

I received a book lately written by a medical man advising people to live entirely on fruits and nuts. I am not prepared to go so far—by the way, he allowed some meat to be taken with it—for, although I look upon fruit as an excellent food, yet I look upon it more as a necessary adjunct than as a perfect food of itself. Why for ages have people eaten apple sauce with their roast goose and sucking pig? Simply because the acids and pectines in the fruit assist in digesting the fats so abundant in this kind of food. For the same reason at the end of a heavy dinner we eat our cooked fruits and when we want their digestion even more developed we take them after dinner in their natural, uncooked state as dessert. In the past ages instinct has taught men to do this; to-day science tells them why they did it, and this same science tells us that fruit should be eaten as an aid to digestion of other foods much more than it is now.

Cultivated fruits such as apples, pears, cherries, strawberries, grapes, etc., contain on analysis very similar proportions of the same ingredients, which are about 8 per cent. of grape sugar, 3 per cent of pectones, 1 per cent. of malic and other acids, and 1 per cent. of flesh-forming albuminoids, with over 80 per cent. of water. Digestion depends upon the action of pepsin in the stomach upon the food, which is greatly aided by the acids of the stomach. Fats are digested by these acids and the bile from the liver. Now, acids and pectones in fruit peculiarly assist the acids of the stomach. Only lately even royalty has been taking lemon juice in tea instead of sugar, and lemon juice has been prescribed largely by physicians to help weak digestion.—Popular Science Monthly.

Conversation at the Table.

Talking is one of the best of all recreations, and a woman who understands the art possesses a most useful and enjoyable accomplishment. No dinner-table is well-appointed without talkers; and the basis of interesting conversation is reality. After a course of London dinners, Sir Walter Scott said, "The bishops and the lawyers talked better than the wits," that is, the wits talked for the sake of talking, and the church and the law had something to talk about. Yet specialties and hobbies are not admissible at a dinner table, and a woman who can only talk on her own fad has no business in society. She ought to write a pamphlet, or go to the lecture platform, for any conversation at the dinner table that is a strain on the attention or the patience, soon becomes a bore; indeed, one of the chief elements of pleasant company is a readiness to talk, or to be talked to, on any rational subject.

The most charming talkers let a bright listener see their thought in formation, for talk that has been prepared has a ready-made flatness. It is the aerated thought of the moment that has the sparkle; and a good talker finds the right word by instinct, as a clever horse on a bad road always puts his foot in the right place. This fact makes the good talker also a good listener, because her best conversation will follow brightly and instantly the lead that others give it, and it prevents, likewise, the worst of all conversational faults—monopoly. Dean Swift thought "no one ought to talk at a dinner table longer than a minute at a time," and his rules for such conversation are so admirable that they might be printed on dinner menus:

"Conversation is but carving;
Give no more to every guest
Than he's able to digest.
Give him always of the prime
And but little at a time.
Carve to all but just enough,
Let them neither starve nor stuff.
And that you may have your due,
Let some neighbor carve for you."

However, we must make some allowance for our duller intellects. If we all had Dean Swift's genius we might all make minute speeches.—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE COCKROACH.

A HOUSEHOLD PEST WITH A COMPREHENSIVE APPETITE.

Borax May Keep It Away—A Glutton for Food and Warmth—A Naturalist's Story Showing Its Intelligence.

A very common kitchen pest, hated by the tidy housekeeper, yet rarely to be entirely exterminated, is the Ectobia Germanica, whose family name is Blattidae, which family belongs to the order of Orthopetra.

The croton bug, as his other name denotes, is considered to have been a German importation to this country. A smaller specimen is called Ectobia Laponica, because it is common in Lapland. The largest species of this family is the Blattidae Orientalis, which is the common black cockroach. In other countries it is known as the black beetle.

Under any name these insects are most unpleasant nuisances. The black cockroaches are extremely repulsive objects, and the small, brown "croton bugs" are unpleasant enough to force one to any measures to get rid of them. But it is not true, as some people suppose, that dirt alone attracts these insects, or that careful cleanliness will always keep them at a distance. It is not dirt they love, but dampness and warmth. For this reason they infest our water pipes, sinks and boilers, and for the same reason cockroaches are well-known torments on board ships, and particularly around the boiler and engine rooms.

For the same cause and also on account of its fondness for wheat bread, the "croton bug" is common in bake shops, and bakers who are careful to increase the size of their dough only with legitimate materials must keep a sharp lookout to restrict Mr. Ectobia Germanica to his proper place, which is not in current cake.

Another place where the croton bug is a well-known pest is the library. Here the small, brown creatures attack the starch and sizing in the cloth bindings of books, and often eat the gilt edges of books in their eagerness to secure the albumen used therein. Nor is it old books which attract them. They are frequently found in fresh packages sent from the bindery. And this also proves that it is food and warmth which they seek, and not dirt.

When a family or clan—for they seem to arrive in clans—of croton bugs take possession of a kitchen sink it is very difficult to dislodge them. Their peculiar flat bodies and their compressible skin, enables them to slip easily into the narrowest cracks. They are nocturnal insects, coming out to secure food at night or when the room is deserted. They are swift of foot. At the slightest noise or the suspected approach of an enemy they skip quickly and the twenty or thirty little brown objects disappear as by magic into the nearest crannies.

Eternal vigilance and the continued use of borax will keep them within reasonable bounds. Both are necessary, for too much cleanliness in the preparation and care of food is impossible, and croton bugs are clearly of the opinion that the world owes them a living.

The cockroach was an importation from Asia to Europe, and this country acquired it from the latter place. It has been calculated that the first Asiatic cockroach set foot in England four centuries ago.

They are among the most vivacious and convivial of insects. They are extremely fond of beer, spirits, syrup and all sweet things. If you approach the pantry where there is a large gathering of them you will hear a noise like heavy rain as they scamper away. They show great ability in getting out of sight.

A naturalist of high reputation, Prof. Moseley of the Challenger, observed a considerable degree of intelligence in the cockroach.

While on the ship he was continually annoyed by a huge specimen which visited him at night and sipped the moisture from his face and lips, thereby rendering sleep difficult.

Whenever the man moved the cockroach sped to a book-shelf at the bottom of the bed. There he stood blinking his eyes and shaking his whiskers derisively. When the other reached for a book or missle to throw at the cockroach, he dropped to the floor and disappeared. At last the man of science thought im of the air-gun, and therewith shot his tormentor. The cockroach was unfamiliar with this weapon and did not budge when it was aimed at him.—New York World.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

EYES TO SEE AND SEE NOT.

That is the case with many people. They need spectacles, and the strange part of it is that some folks never know how bad their eyes are until they have them tested. Have been going through life without seeing as much as they ought to see—perhaps suffering from headaches and tired eyes.

If you will call at Sanderson's Jewellery Store, George street, your eyes will be examined free of charge. If you need Glasses they will be supplied at a reasonable price. Do not neglect this matter and so be like those who have EARS TO HEAR AND HEAR NOT.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A MEDICINE

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Admitted at the World's Fair.

IT REQUIRES

Great Care and Watching, the Business of Running a Laundry.

The man who returned a suit of clothes, complaining that there were moths in the coat, and was asked if he expected humming birds for $5.37, received about as much satisfaction as the average individual does nowadays who complains to his up-to-date laundryman that his linen has been rolled to the consistency of tissue paper. The laundryman complacently replies that the linen is at fault.

In former days, the man who could boast of one dozen good linen shirts felt that he was at least spared the expense of laying out any more money in that direction for a long time to come. Nowadays, however, with the patent bleachers and the lightning machinery that irons 100 shirts an hour and carefully folds them up so that the individual pieces will not fall apart until the unfortunate wearer attempts to don the battered garments, a dozen soon lose their pristine glory and become part of the moldy past.

"As long as they let me have a whole bosom," said a dweller in bachelor apartments the other day, "I can get along, but when they rip up the bosom I am helpless." So serious has become the question that many men have their washing done in the old-fashioned way, and then send their shirts to a steam laundry to have them starched and ironed. "There's no gain in that, though," explained an employe in a steam laundry, "for they put all the clothes in the same machine, and do not sort out the ones that are already washed."

It is evident, therefore, that if the shirt is to remain as an important article of wearing apparel, instead of affording rare sport for the laundry employes, it must be treated with a shade more of respect and be returned to the owner in one piece.

The blame for the rough handling of the shirt is shifted entirely on the shoulders of those laundrymen who employ machines to wash and iron the clothes, and without doubt they are responsible for no little share of the blame. Yet there is a way of handling the clothes by machinery which is even less damaging than the old-fashioned method.

In the ironing process three machines are employed—one to iron the bosom of the shirt, the other two for wristbands, collar bands and the body. These machines, in a general way, consist of gas-heated cylinders ,between which the linen is run backward and forward.

Whatever be the merits of the steam laundry as compared with the old-fashioned hand laundry, it is generally agreed that the greatest damage to shirts is done by the bleaching. Chloride of lime is used almost exclusively for the purpose, and, if used in the proper proportions, it will not do great harm. If it is not strained, however, and is allowed to remain in a piece of linen for any length of time, the little particles eat through the fabric and ruin it. This, the steam laundrymen declare, is where they excel, because they keep the clothes constantly in a turmoil in their machines, so that the lime does not have a chance to settle.

The best and most popular substance for a "sour" among laundrymen is sulphuric acid, plain oil of vitrol. Many a good housewife would scarcely believe this, but it is true. It is used in such small quantities, however—about one tablespoonful in a barrel—that it cannot do any harm. The inexperienced Brooklyn laundrymen poured a whole package of chloride of lime in a washing machine, with the result that every vestige of linen was eaten up, and they had to go out of business.

The only danger in using bluing is that one may get too much. That used by laundrymen is so strong that one ounce is first diluted in a gallon of water, and then one ounce of this prepared mixture is used with 25 gallons of water. A laundryman on Sixth avenue not long ago, did not know the combination, and he poured a $5 package of the pure aniline into his washing machine. His whole wash was dyed a brilliant blue, and he has been working ever since to pay his customers and clean his machine.

So it will be seen that to conduct a steam laundry successfully requires great precision in the work, and the lack of that is responsible for much of the havoc among shirts nowadays.

The so-called hand laundries which are so glaringly advertised throughout the city, are for the most part impositions. An authority on the matter said yesterday that there were scarcely 25 genuine hand laundries in the city. All the others have their work done at steam laundries. In order to maintain the imposition they frequently employ persons to iron against time, and where the public see the linen is being done in the "old-fashioned" way; but in most cases they do not take this trouble. Even in the genuine hand laundries some ironing machinery is employed.

American laundrymen say that the Chinamen simply ruin every fabric they take hold of, and they refuse to accept a shirt after a Chinaman has ironed it.

There is an understanding among all manufatcurers of laundry machines that none are to be sold to a Chinaman. The latter have tried and tried again to procure them, but have never been successful.

The Chinese also use a chemical in putting the gloss on linen, and this is said by advocates of the steam method to be absolutely ruinous in its effects.

A Summer Matter.

"Henry," she cooed, "have you ever been engaged before?"

"Why," he asked, surprised; "you don't think this is the first vacation I ever had, do you?"—Puck.

Julia—I don't know. I've only been engaged to him since last evening.—Life.

A New Woman Speaks.

"I have been a 'new woman' on the stage for two years, and have derived so much comfort, so much greater freedom of limb, from my bloomers, that I would give up my Indian clubs or my boxing gloves, or even my wheel rather than have to confine myself in skirts once more. I seem to be a pioneer in this country, but this is a case where, if the world and I are to think alike, the world will have to come to me." So says a pretty English actress, Miss Dorothy Chestle, who recently landed in New York, and here is her portrait.

The Thimble.

A thimble was originally a thumbbell, because it was worn on the thumb, as sailors still wear their thimbles. It is a Dutch invention, and in 1884, in Amsterdam, the bicentennial of the thimble was celebrated with a great deal of formality. This very valuable addition to my lady's work basket was first made by a goldsmith named Nicholas van Benschoten, the ancestor of the American family of Benschotens. And it may further interest colonial dames to know that the first thimble made was presented in 1684 to Anna van Wedy, the second wife of Killaen van Rensselaer, the purchaser of Rensselaerwyck, and the first patroon. Madame van Rensselaer's memory was duly honored in Holland on the occasion of the thimble bicentennial.

In presenting the useful gift Van Benschoten begged Madam van Rensselaer "to accept this new covering for the protection of her diligent fingers as a token of his esteem."

It was not until 1695, just two hundred years ago, that the thimble was introduced into England by a Hollander named John Lofting, who opened a thimble manufactory at Islington. —Harper's Bazar.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from the nine prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

THE ANTIQUITY OF IRELAND

AND THE GREATNESS OF HER PEOPLE.

Early Irish Ethnology—Connection of Irish Blood with European Peoples—Ireland's Early Civilization and Her Precedence in Arts and Letters—The Irish Language—An Article of Interest to Irishmen Especially.

Phenius, son of Gomer, from whom the Gomerites, or Celts, are descended, anciently lived between the Euxine and Caspian seas. He travelled into Babylon with his son, Niul, when that city was in its infancy.

Niul left his father, Phenius, in Babylon, and travelled into Egypt, and there taught the art and the use of letters. He became a famous general in the land of Egypt, and married King Pharaoh's daughter, whose name was Scota, and it was from her that the Irish derived the name of Scots. By that marriage Niul had a son born to him whose name was Gael, or Gadel, and it was from him that the Gaels, or Gadelians, are descended. He was the father of the Gaelic language, and was master of all the known languages of the world in his day.

Miletius, who conquered Spain, and from whom the Miletians were descended, was the twentieth in descent from Gael. Miletius was also called by the emphatic name of Hercules. The Heraclidæ, who conquered the Peloponesus, were the descendants of Hercules. They settled in Greece B.C. 900.

The Miletians arrived in Ireland B. C. 1306, and soon made a complete conquest of that country. When the Miletians arrived in Ireland, the Firbolgs and Tuatha de Dannans were in possession of that country, which was then called Innis Alga, or Noble Island.

The Firbolgs and Tuatha de Dannans were the descendants of the Nevyan colonists, who arrived in Ireland, B. C. 1908. The Nevyans were almost exterminated by Fomorian pirates in a three days' battle which took place on the island of Ard Nevy, now called The Great Island of Ballymore, B.C. 1642.

The Nevyans who survived that battle went to and to Greece, and became what were known in after days as the Firbolgs and Tuatha de Dannans.

The Firbolgs arrived in Ireland B. C. 1498, under the leadership of the three sons of Dela. The river Slaney is called after one of them, whose name was Slaine.

Achy, the last Firbolg king, was defeated by the Tuatha de Dannans in a great battle fought on the plain of Moytury in the county of Mayo, B.C. 1460. Achy fled from the field of battle, but was overtaken and slain in the county of Mayo. A stone cairne still marks his grave, near Ballysedare, in the county of Sligo.

At the time the Milesians arrived in Ireland the Tuatha de Dannans were the rulers of that country. The vast sepulchral mounds of the Tuatha de Dannan kings at Brugh, on the Boyne, are objects of wonder at the present day. The Round Towers of Ireland were built by Tuatha de Dannan kings, and next to the Pyramids of Egypt, are the oldest buildings in existence, and bid defiance to the best historians to tell when they were built. They were many centuries old before the foundations of either Athens or Rome were laid.

The Gomerites or Celts, who settled in Spain, intermarried with the Iberians of that country, and their descendants took the name of Celtiberians. They were a brave and warlike race, and always went armed and were never unprepared to meet a foe.

The city of Brigantium in Spain was founded by the Gadelians. It took its name from Brigond, one of their celebrated leaders. It stood in the province of Gallicia. This province was so called from its ancient Gaelic inhabitants.

Warner English, the historian, says:—"The conquest of Spain, by the Gadeliads, is as any other of such ancient date. The Gaels or Gauls settled in France in very early ages and from them that country took the name of Gaul. The Gaels were the chief branch of the great original stock of the Celts. The time of their settling in Gaul is too remote for history to reach.

In the reign of Honorius, the Franks, a warlike race from Franconia in Germany, settled in that part of Gaul called the Netherlands, and, after conquering the Gauls, they changed the name of Gaul to that of France.

Gaul was anciently divided into three provinces, namely, Aquitania, which was inhabited by Iberian tribes; Gallia Celtica, belonging to the Celtic tribes; and Gallia Belgica, or Belgic Gaul, or the northern part which lay between the Seine and Marne, and the Rhine.

Celtic Gaul embraced the middle and greater part of France, and lay between [illegible] and the Rhine and the Pyrenees from which the Iberians [illegible] and the Celts [illegible] Gaul [illegible] in several particulars. He was succeeded by his son Niul, in teaching the use of letters, and then by his grandsons, Sru, Asaru, Sibor and Onthor. ete.

N'ul, Bliens, Sru, Asaru, Tait and Ogaman were famous Egyptian warriors and filled the world with the fame of their exploits.

The Gadelians extended their conquests into Gaul, Spain, Greece, the Ionian Islands, to Ireland and to some other countries.

Ireland possesses many specimens of her ancient art in gold and silver ornaments.

THE ANCIENT HANDWRITING

of the scribes of Ireland as now seen in the book of Kells, and which may be seen in the Royal Museum of Trinity College, Dublin, excels the writing of the best scribes of the present day.

Coined money in the reign of Eina Derg, who was king of Ireland more than 700 years before the birth of Christ, may be seen in the Royal Museum of Trinity College, Dublin, as well as more than one thousand gold and silver ornaments that give proof of Ireland's ancient greatness.

Ireland had a code of written laws for more than 1,400 years before St. Patrick arrived in Ireland. She had her Gaelic alphabet or Beth-luis-nion, for many centuries before the Roman alphabet was formed. She had also her Ogam or system of shorthand writing—the oldest in the world. The Gaelic alphabet is different from any other in existence; each of its seventeen letters is named after a tree, as "farn" or f, which means the alder tree; "coll" or c, means the holly tree, and so of all the rest.

C in Gaelic is always pronounced like K, as Celt, which is pronounced Kelt. The letter "i" in Gaelic sounds like ee in eel; when short it sounds like "i" in ill. The letter "a" in Gaelic is generally like "a" in haw. In "aher" it sounds like "a" in father. The Gaelic language contains not a borrowed word from any other language; it is copious and expressive, and has no need to borrow a word from any other language, even for words not three centuries old; as Bohar-iarain, (Boher-eeran) a railroad or iron road; Long Gaile, a steam boat. The word gaile is the genetive for steam.

There is but one article in the Gaelic language. An is the definite article, singular number; na is the definite article, plural number. There are no auxiliary verbs in the Gaelic language, and it requires none to form the future tense. It has several prepositional pronouns as oit, on thee; orin, on me; orainn, on us, thus giving it a great besides the advantage it has over the English language in not requiring the use of auxiliary verbs.

As soon as Ireland embraced Christianity education shone forth in that country with great brilliancy.

Students from several countries in Europe flocked to Ireland to receive an education. Alfred the Great, king of England, and Prince Dagobert of Austria, went to Ireland to finish their education. Irishmen founded the Universities of Paris, Pavia and Oxford, and also the principal monastic schools throughout Europe. The grand church of Charlemagne at Aix-la-Chapelle was built by Irish monks from St. Gall. The Church of Battalia, in Portugal, was built by Irishmen. The British Museum was founded by an Irishman, Sir H. Sloane; the English Academy of Arts was founded by two Irishmen named Barrett and Barry; and the British Parliament House was built by Barry, and adorned by an Irish painter named McCliso. Cormac's Chapell, on the Rock of Cashel, in Ireland, is the oldest specimen of the true pointed style of architecture in Europe. Salisbury Cathedral, the first complete English structure in the pointed arch style, was fashioned after Holy Cross Abbey in Limerick. Irishmen not only built the principal ancient cathedrals and colleges throughout Europe, but they also built its principal ancient bridges, and yet such writers as Froude assert that Ireland was without letters until the days of St. Patrick.

Many centuries before St. Patrick's arrival in Ireland she had her public schools, and a great part of the public lands in that country was set apart for their maintenance. She was skilled in music, painting and sculpture; in dyeing and enamelling; in the manufacture of glass, and in the workmanship of gold, silver, brass and iron, and was well acquainted with Greek literature and astronomy when St. Patrick began to preach the Gospel in that country.

The Trojan war was commenced B.C. 1184. After the conclusion of this war Æneas, with a small colony of followers, settled in Italy and laid the foundation of the Roman Empire.

Long ere this event took place in Italy, Irish artists manufactured those gold and silver ornaments now in the Royal Museum of Trinity College, Dublin. These ornaments compare very favourably with those manufactured in the present age, and plainly show that Ireland was a civilized country and well advanced in the arts long before Romulus laid the foundations of the city of Rome.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Football men play in all kinds of weather, and all of Saturday's scheduled championship Union contests were played, with one exception.

Next Saturday Queen's plays Osgoode Hall at Rosedale and Varsity goes up to Hamilton.

Osgoode Hall suggested that the Highlanders abandon the Union match, as there was no probability of making up the 80 points they were behind. The soldiers acquiesced, and there was no senior match in the city on Saturday.

Following is the result of the two matches in the first round:

How Ottawa College and Montreal Fled.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—Ottawa College v. Montreal furnished one of the closest and most exciting games of Rugby football ever witnessed in Ottawa. The result was a draw, each side making five points, and the entire score was made during the first 10 minutes' play. The day was damp and cold, and there were light showers of rain at intervals. When the ball was kicked off, by a nice piece of play the college managed to work it well into their opponents' territory, and secured two rouges in quick succession, and within a couple of minutes added a safety touch, making the score 4 to 0. Montreal then forced the fighting, which was hard and stubborn, and by one of the most brilliant pieces of play Savage scored a goal from the field, making the score 5 to 4 in their favor. Ottawa then got in some magnificent scrimmage work, and managed to add another point by a rouge. This made the score 5 to 5, and it remained at that for the rest of the play. The play varied greatly during the rest of the game. At times it was very open, and again close and stubborn. Ottawa's scrimmage work was superb. Shortly after the second half started Boucher of the college team was sent to the fence for attempting to scrap with an opponent, and, while this seriously weakened their scrimmage, they managed to hold their own until time was out. In cases where there is a tie at the expiration of the time limit is is left to the discretion of the referee whether or not to continue play until either side scores a point. To-day Referee Donahue decided the match a draw, which leaves Montreal and the college equal—a win and a draw each. The teams:

Ottawa College (5)—Morin, back; Shea, Murphy and Gleeson, half-backs; Prudhomme, quarter; McReady, Boucher and Clancy, scrimmage; Lee, Tobin, Quilty, Foley, James, Powers and Lefeur, wings.

Montreal (5)—H. Macdougall, back; Frye, Savage, McDougall, half-backs; Massey, quarter; White, Brown, Redpath, scrimmage; Murphy, Rankin, Armstrong, Brown, Pardee, Maxwell, James, wings.

Referee—W. Donahue, McGill College. Umpire—S. Ferguson, Ottawa.

Lornes Defeat Varsity II.

The intermediate O.R.F.U. second match of the first round between the Lornes and Varsity II. was played on the old Cricket grounds Saturday afternoon. The Lornes won by 16 points to 4. Thus, with their minority of 6 from the week before, the Lornes go into the next round by a majority of 6 points. By clear, open play, the Lornes scored two tries, a safety touch and a rouge in the first half, to the Varsity's single point. In the second half the Lornes secured a touch-down and a rouge to the students' three minors. The teams were:

Varsity II. (4)—Back, Morris; halves, Waldie, Cameron and Williams; quarter, Hobbs; scrimmage, Bradley, A. J. Mackenzie and Burwash; wings, Addison, D. Mackenzie, R. Mullin, J. H. Mullin, Andrews, Scott and Moss.

Lornes (16)—Back, McMaster; halves, Eby, Morrison and Gale; quarter, Bluine; scrimmage, McMurrich, Meek and Wilson; wings, Flood, Eby, Burnside, Winans, Read, Brown and Hoskin.

Referee—J. McG. Young, Osgoode Hall.

Junior Tigers Beaten.

The intermediate match being finished late, there was scarcely sufficient time left to complete the junior championship contest between the Lornes II. and the Junior Tigers from Hamilton. The Lornes had all the best of the first half, scoring 15 points to the visitors' 0. In the second the Tigers got in their work, tallying 8, and keeping the play always near the Lornes' line. In this half only 20 minutes was played, when the referee gave the game to the Lornes, it being too dark to see the ball. Hamilton lodged a protest.

As Hamilton had only a majority of one from the previous week, the Lornes get this round by another half-dozen points, unless the protest is upheld by the committee. The teams:

Lornes II. (15)—Back, Christie; halves, Rolph, McVeittie and Macdonald; quarter, Smith; scrimmage, Duggan, Kent and Sprague; wings, Argles, Lash, Passmore, Caldecott, Jellatt and Jeffrey.

Hamilton (8)—Back, Moore; halves, Husband, McLaren, and Glassco; quarter, Lindsay; scrimmage, Mullin, Hendry and Maxwell; wings, Herring, DuMoulin, Newman, McIlroy, Morrison, Zimmerman and Ballard.

Referee—P. E. Mackenzie, Osgoode Hall.

THE TRIAL OF HOLMES

Eight Witnesses Summoned From Toronto.

NOPE TO PROVE FOUR MURDERS

The Trial Opens Oct. 28, and Evidence as to All Four Murders—Mr. Pitezel Will Identify Her Husband by His Head, Her Children by Their Teeth.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Detective Frank P. Geyer of Philadelphia, the man to whose lot has fallen the task of bringing to justice Hermann Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, the most remarkable criminal of the century, was in Toronto yesterday. Since leaving this city in July last Detective Geyer has travelled thousands of miles, but the extraordinary work he has accomplished has had no effect on either his avoirdupois or spirits. His entire time for nearly a year past has been devoted to following the footsteps of the slayer of Benjamin Pitezel and his three children, as he fled from city to city, in the hope of eluding the pursuit of the frantic wife and mother until he had slaughtered her children and effectually covered up all traces of his crimes.

Cunning though he was in every detail of his work of death, Detective Geyer has traced him over every foot of his blood-stained travels, and disclosed to the world a story of crime without a parallel in criminal annals.

When seen by a World reporter in the corridors of the Rossin Hotel last evening, Geyer expressed the hope that the case would soon be taken from his hands and the multi-murderer meet with justice at the hands of a Philadelphia jury and hangman.

The trial of Holmes, which is to commence at Philadelphia on Oct. 28, for the murder of Benjamin F. Pitezel on Sept. 2, 1894, at 1316 Callowhill-street, Philadelphia, will possess peculiar interest, as it is the intention of the commonwealth to produce evidence to prove not only the murder of Pitezel, but that of his children, Alice, Nellie and Howard.

The bones of Howard, found in the house in Irvington, the pretty little suburb of Indianapolis, where the arch-fiend murdered the boy and cremated him, will be produced. Detective Geyer found the boy's teeth among the soot in the fireplace chimney. They have been skilfully set in wax, and will be identified by Mrs. Pitezel when she goes into the witness box at the trial.

The head has been severed from Pitezel's body, and will be produced in the court, where Mrs. Pitezel will swear to it as being the head of her husband. This means of identification was first suggested by Holmes himself when he was planning for the insurance money, and now the product of his own cupidity will be used to convict him of four murders.

Detective Geyer does not expect the trial to last more than ten days. Thirty witnesses will be called from without the State of Pennsylvania, eight of whom are from Toronto. These are: Mr. T. Ryves, the man who gave the clue that led to the discovery of the bodies of the girls; Mrs. Nudel and her daughter, Mr. J. Arnoldust, Herbert Jones, clerk at the Albion; William McDonald, the boy who found the toy egg; George Dennis, hotel clerk, and Detective Alf. Cuddy.

Holmes still wears the beard, which he has grown since his incarceration in Moyamensing Prison, but since the United States Supreme Court has decided that identification by photography is sufficient for the purposes of justice, the beard will not prove a source of confusion to the witnesses from this city. All whose testimony is considered important and necessary to the establishment of the murder of the girls by Holmes have consented to go. Witnesses will also be called from Detroit, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Burlington, Vt.

Detective Geyer leaves this morning for Burlington, Vt., thence to Boston, New York and Philadelphia. He is confident of Holmes' conviction on the charge of murdering Pitezel. Under the laws of Pennsylvania, the jury have not the option which prevails in many states, of the union returning a verdict of murder in the second or third degree, their finding must either be guilty or not guilty. Under the same laws the only penalty in case of conviction is death by hanging.

Should the Philadelphia jury acquit Holmes, he will be surrendered to the Canadian authorities.

MORE WARLIKE

The Camperdown to Join the British Squadron at Lemnos—Sir Charles Dilke on the Situation.

London, Oct. 14.—The Chronicle to-morrow will say that the British squadron now at the Island of Lemnos, convenient to the Dardanelles, will be augmented by the twin-screw battleship Camperdown, which is now at Malta.

The Chronicle to-morrow gives an interview with Sir Charles Dilke, M. P., on the European situation. Sir Charles declares that he is an optimist as regards peace. He believes that the Franco-Russian alliance has diminished the risks of a general war. He accuses France of a distinct breach of faith in Siam, but he adds that when the British talk of breaches of faith, the French smile an Egyptian smile. He admitted that he was rather alarmed by the Siamese question, but added that Lord Rosebery had taken a very strong line, which Lord Salisbury maintained, and he hoped the question would finally be settled by negotiation.

A despatch from Odessa which The Times will print to-morrow says that an enormous quantity of ammunition has arrived in the Caucasus for the use of the Russian army there. The despatch adds that several regiments have just taken their quarters near the Turkish frontier.

MR. LAURIER'S TOUR.

The Opposition Leader and His Friends Address a Large Meeting at Merrickville.

Merrickville, Ont., Oct. 15.—Four brass bands from adjacent towns accompanied the Hon. Mr. Laurier and his friends to this place, arriving by special train from Smith's Falls at 12.50 p.m. A procession was formed to the drill shed, which was well filled.

On the platform were seated Hon. Mr. Laurier, G. W. Dawson, M.P., Addington; Mr. McMillan, M.P., South Huron; Mr. F. T. Frost, A. Buchanan and the Liberal committee.

The chair was taken by Mr. Heman McCrea, who made a short and very appropriate address, after which he introduced Mr. F. T. Frost, the Liberal candidate for the riding.

Mr. Frost congratulated the committee on the splendid demonstration and concluded a short address by expressing his desire to be a faithful supporter of the Hon. W. Laurier, whom he characterised as one of our ablest statesmen.

Mr. G. W. Dawson, M.P. for Addington, spoke for more than an hour on the trade policy of the Government.

Mr. G. R. Putnam, secretary of the Liberal Association of the north riding of Leeds and Grenville, read an address of welcome to the Hon. W. Laurier.

Mr. Laurier was received with applause from the members of his party. He congratulated the party on the success of the demonstration and hoped that after the next general election he would be able to welcome his friend Mr. Frost to the House of Commons as the member for this riding. Mr. Laurier said that he became a Liberal from the study of English history and the lives of Fox, Cobden, O'Connell, Bright and Gladstone. He then spoke of the tariff, trade, Government scandals and Manitoba school question, giving nothing new. On the school question he said that it was expected that in this riding he should speak at length on this question, and he did not shirk the duty of speaking here in the presence of all creeds and races. Mr. Laurier said that the people of Manitoba had separate schools introduced among them some 30 years ago, which were repealed by the Manitoba School Act of 1890, after being 20 years in operation. He then quoted section 93 of the Confederation Act, going on to show that the minority had a right to appeal to the Dominion Government for redress and if he were a member of the Government he would use moral suasion and conciliatory means instead of remedial legislation. He was in favor of granting separte schools to the minority in Manitoba, providing that it could be brought about in a conciliatory manner. Mr. Laurier then went on to speak of depreciation in value of farm lands in this province, and concluded an address of one and a half hours by expressing a desire that the electors of this riding would return Mr. F. T. Frost at the next general election.

Mr. McMillan, M.P., of South Huron, spoke at considerable length in advocacy of free trade.

The meeting closed with the customary cheers.

Boston Wants Canadian Cattle.

Boston, Oct. 15.—The Chamber of Commerce has adopted resolutions to the effect that the Chamber of Commerce urge every means upon the Department of the Treasury and of Agriculture the importance to the port of Boston of designating Richford, Vermont, as a port of entry for Canadian cattle and the injustice to Boston of longer discriminating against it as a port for cattle shipment.

DRINK AND DEATH.

Fatal Result of a Fight Which Took Place in a Sault Ste. Marie Dance House.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 14.—On Tuesday night a Finlander named Joseph Mackie was shot and instantly killed at the east end of the Portage-road.

Matt Matson, one of the men who was with Mackie, was arrested by Constable McLean, and four others were detained in custody as witnesses.

A coroner's inquest was held, and the evidence showed that the trouble took place in a dance house, nearly all the parties being drunk.

The jury returned this verdict: "That the deceased came to his death by a bullet fired from a revolver in the hand of Matt Matson while fighting with Joe Mackie. Whether accidental or not, from the evidence given we are unable to say."

Fred Filgiano Found Guilty.

Hamilton, Oct. 14.—Fred Filgiano was found guilty of the charge of stealing from the Grand Trunk while in the employ of the company, as cashier. The jury brought in the verdict at 9.30 this evening.

Heavy Shipments of Wheat.

Fort William, Oct. 15.—Five vessels carrying 362,000 bushels of Manitoba No. 1 hard wheat, have left here within the past three days, destined for Ogilvie's eastern mills. This firm expects to ship half a million bushels within the next ten days.

CHATHAM BANK FAILS

A Suspension That Will Be Severely Felt.

THE LIABILITIES NOT NOW KNOWN

Barfoot's Private Bank Forced to Suspend Owing to Depreciation in Values and Heavy Withdrawals—The Proprietor Thinks Dollar for Dollar Will be Paid if Properly Managed.

Chatham, Oct. 14.—The announcement yesterday that Samuel Barefoot postmaster and private banker had suspended payment, created considerable surprise. He had been considered financially solid, and was rated by the commercial agencies a couple of years ago as worth $100,000 to $150,000. He had been in business in Chatham a number of years, and in 1893 was supposed to have a surplus of $30,000, in addition to $40,000 worth of town property and several farms. He did a large business with farmers in Kent from many of whom he had large deposits. The failure is likely to be a bad one, involving many firms in that district.

A Chatham despatch says: Depositors could be seen in a steady stream all day wending their way to the office on Fifth-street, only to be met by a locked door, bearing the following notice:

CLOSED.

as I deem it wise to liquidate.

First: During 1894, deposits were withdrawn to over $30,000, destroying my elasticity.

Second: An underlying feeling of distrust, causing still further loss and no hope of gain.

Third: I am certain if the estate is properly managed there is dollar for dollar for every one and a good surplus over. If, however, I am mistaken in my assets, it would afford the best of all reasons for the course I have taken. Will be pleased to talk with any of you. (Sgd.) S. BARFOOT.

Oct. 13, 1895.

Will call a meeting in a few days.

To those best informed the collapse was not totally unlooked for. It has been known for months past that Mr. Barfoot was seriously encumbered with real estate, and first and second mortgages on the same. It was owing to the depreciation in these values that his credit suffered. This was followed by large withdrawals of deposits, necessitating a more liberal use of his line of credit with the Merchants' Bank, with which he did business.

About six months ago General-Manager Hague demanded additional security, and Mr. Barfoot gave a mortgage for $30,000. This was registered last Saturday and proved the final blow.

Samuel Barfoot, the head of the institution, has been in business here for 25 years, and was universally regarded as one of the Maple City's shrewdest and most public-spirited business men. For the past ten years he has been postmaster.

When interviewed by reporters and creditors, Mr. Barfoot told but one story, viz.: That he would "pay dollar for dollar if given time in which to realize upon his assets, unless times get harder, in which case I pity the whole country."

It is impossible to get even an approximate statement of assets and liabilities, and it is doubtful if anything will be known till a meeting of the creditors is held.

The failure will not affect any other business enterprises here.

MET DEATH BY VIOLENCE.

A Lancaster Manufacturer Killed by a Locomotive—Brakeman Killed at Buffalo.

Brockville, Oct. 15.—William Stafford, aged 65, a Lancaster manufacturer, was struck by a locomotive near that place yesterday and was killed. Almost every bone in his body was broken.

Killed While Rolling Logs.

Parry Sound, Oct. 15.—Paul Courier, of Parry Harbor, a log roller at Argue Bros.' camp, Ferguson Township, was killed by a falling tree, which struck a skid he was carrying, killing him instantly.

A Brakeman Killed.

Buffalo, Oct. 15.—J. H. Webb, of this city was instantly killed at Niagara Falls, N.Y., this morning. Webb was employed as a brakeman on the West Shore Railroad. He attempted to make a coupling, and stumbling, fell in between the cars and was run over. He was horribly mangled and died instantly. He had relatives in Ontario.

Drowned in Puslinch Lake.

Galt, Oct. 15.—Mr. Robert Lamb of Messrs. Caldwell & Lamb, proprietors of the Central Hotel here, was drowned in Puslinch Lake this afternoon while out duck shooting. Mr. Lamb was an enthusiastic sportsman and a member of the Galt Gun Club. He was unmarried.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that.

A preparation which enriches and purifies the blood and assists nature in repairing wasted tissue must have a wide range of usefulness.

Such a preparation is Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. The uses of Scott's Emulsion are not confined to wasting diseases, like consumption, scrofula or anæmia. They embrace nearly all those minor ailments associated with loss of flesh.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1895.

LORD SACKVILLE is a living example of the fate which the Scripture writer wished to befall his foe, when he exclaimed, "O, that mine enemy would write a book." Lord Sackville was not satisfied with putting his foot in it as a diplomat, but he must needs put himself into it body and bones.

THE usual vacillation that marks the Dominion Government is not creditable, but they did right when they gave way on the question of the pay of the volunteers. Clipping the individual rights of our noble volunteers is the very last place at which economy should begin. The volunteer force has too long been the victim of puerile cheeseparing and official indifference, not to say, neglect.

HON. MR. CHAPLEAU has decided not to be a plug to prevent the wind of dissension caressing through the Dominion Cabinet, and so the contemplated shuffle that was to have made the vantose Dr. Montague Minister of Agriculture, will not take place. There is no indication, of course, that the Government has experienced any change of heart in its policy of opposition to a farmer being made Minister of Agriculture. No farmer need apply. Even a sedate religious paper like the Canadian Presbyterian sees eye to eye with all sensible persons that a farmer is the proper man to place over a department that is supposed to be administered in the interests of farmers. It says: "We notice that the political friends of Mr. Wm. Smith, M.P., for South Ontario, are urging his claims for the important position of Dominion Minister of Agriculture. It would be an excellent appointment. Mr. Smith is an intelligent gentleman, a successful farmer, and experienced parliamentarian, and generally well versed in public affairs. The Ottawa Government would materially strengthen its position with the great farming interest of the country in placing the portfolio of Agriculture in the hands of the member for South Ontario."

CHURCHILL-VANDERBILT NUPTIALS

Still Another Chance in the Bride-maids, Best Man and Clergy to Officiate.

New York, Oct. 14—Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and her daughter, Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, who have been staying at the Savoy Hotel, went to the country yesterday to visit friends, but before their departure the important matter of fixing the date of Miss Vanderbilt's wedding with the Duke of Marlborough was settled, the date chosen being Wednesday, Nov. 6, and the church St. Thomas'. The ceremony will take place at noon.

Three distinguished prelates will be within the chancel rails during the ceremony—the Rev. Dr. John Wesley Brown, rector of St. Thomas'; Bishop Littlejohn and the Bishop of the Diocese of New York, the Right Rev. Henry C. Potter, who will perform the marriage ceremony.

The other details of the wedding have not yet been completed. In all probability the young ladies whose names were mentioned a week ago will act as bridesmaids and maids of honor. These are Miss Marie Winthrop, daughter of Mr. Buchanan Winthrop, and Miss Evelyn Burden, daughter of Mr. I. Townsend Burden, both of whom have had two or three seasons in society.

The others are all much younger, and have not yet been introduced. They are Miss Miss Bronson, daughter of Mr. Frederic Bronson; Miss Daisy Post, second daughter of Mr. William Post; Miss May Goelet, daughter of Mr. Ogden Goelet; Miss Katherine Duer, daughter of Mr. William Duer, and Miss Julia Jay, one of the daughters of Colonel William Jay.

The Duke of Marlborough is still in the Blue Grass region, and his attendants have not yet been named, though there have been several conjectures as to ushers and best man.

WOMAN AND HER DISEASES.

Paine's Celery Compound Peculiarly Adapted to Regulate the System and give Her Strength.

A Paragraph of Truth from a Medical Journal.

The following paragraph from a medical journal published on this continent, demands our serious attention. It reads thus: "It is safe to say that more than one-half of the revenues of the physicians of the world is derived from the treatment of females. Not once in the diagnosis correct; not once in fifty is the treatment successful to the patient."

Why is it that the editor makes such a statement in his editorial in regard to the sufferings of women? Because the spirit of the times affects them as much as it does the men—more, for their nervous systems are more delicate and sensitive. There it a cause for every evil, and in the school room we can can usually find the starting point of the headaches, backaches and womanly ills that are growing so alarmingly common. When the great change from childhood to womanhood is in progress, the girl is crowded, pushed, overworked, to keep up with her studies. Add to this the severe anxiety and worry which attend examinations, and when the school life is over her health is seriously deranged.

After school-days what comes? Are not the duties of women as wearing as those of men? Even more. Social, household, often business cares, must be assumed, which all lend a hand in bringing those delicate nerves into an irritated, weakened unstrung condition. Is it to be wondered at that the sensitive organs, covered by a network of nerves, are deranged, and that life becomes one long, dreary road of suffering, without an escape or turn.

Paine's Celery Compound, that great medical discovery, should be used. Soon your nerves will be strong and vigourous, and the nutrition, digestion and specially womanly functions will be natural and regular. Rosy cheeks, sparkling eyes, a beautiful figure, all the freshness and beauty of youth will follow the health-giving influence of Paine's Celery Compound. When you are nervous, weak, tired, cannot sleep, have headaches, or any of the nameless ills which so many women suffer in silence, use Paine's Celery Compound, and it will restore to you the greatest blessing of life—health.

Over Twenty-Five Years Ago

The firm, Oak Hall, was established in Canada. The W. E. Sandford Manufacturing Co. of Hamilton (now the Largest Clothing Manufacturers in the Dominion, and one of the Largest in the World) decided that the people of this country would be better served if they dealt with the manufacturers direct and knew who they were dealing with. This was the ACORN planted for the first Oak Hall.

Since then stores have been opened in all the principal cities of the Dominion. Peterborough is the last to get in line and our reception has been a glorious one; the good people of this town and surrounding country have caught on quickly. They realize that now it is possible to get Style and Quality at a Fair Price in Ready-to-wear Clothing and useless to pay fancy prices for Custom Made Garments.

CANDY
FOR CHILDREN.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. Too much sweet upsets the stomach and spoils the appetite, but candy in moderation if it is not taken before a meal, is food which children crave naturally, and among the purest and most wholesome is that manufactured by

PREFERENTIAL TRADE

As Proposed Between Canada and New Zealand.

ARTICLES WHICH WILL BE FREE

Also Those Which Will Receive Preferential Treatment as to Duties—Latest Concerning the Gold Standards —Gold Watches for Gallant Men.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—It will be remembered that during the past summer Hon. J. G. Ward, Treasurer and Postmaster-General of New Zealand, visited Canada, and on behalf of his Government signed jointly with Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Mr. Foster a memorandum respecting improved commercial relations and reciprocal tariff regulations, as agreed upon in conference, held informally in Ottawa 10th June, 1895, subject to approval of Governments and Legislatures of Canada and New Zealand respectively. It runs thus: The following named articles, when the produce or manufacture of New Zealand, and imported direct therefrom into Canada, and when the produce or manufacture of Canada and imported direct therefrom into New Zealand, to be admitted in both cases free of customs duties, viz.:

Animals (live) excepting hogs, frozen or fresh meats, bacon and hams, fish, hides, milk (condensed or preserved), wool and manufactures composed wholly or in part thereof, viz., blankets, flannels, tweeds and rugs; flax (phormium), barley and oats, wheat and wheat flour, seeds, coal, kerosene oil (petroleum), safes, organs and pianos, tallow; lumber and timber, planks, boards and dimension stuffs, rough or manufactured, including doors, sashes and blinds; binder twine.

The following articles, when imported under like conditions and in like manner, to receive in both countries preferential tariff treatment, as follows, viz.:

Agricultural implements, including also axes, hatchets, scythes, forks, rakes, hoes, shovels and spades, if made dutiable under New Zealand general tariff, to be free; twines of all kinds, ropes and cordage, a rate equal to 2 1-2 per cent. ad valorem less than the general tariff rates current at date of importation; leather, a rate equal to 10 per cent. off the rate current at date of importation; boots and shoes, harness and saddlery, at 17 1-2 per cent. ad valorem, or in case the general tariff rate in both countries be 25 per cent., the preferential rate to be 20 per cent.; furniture at 20 per cent. ad valorem.

The new order-in-Council in reference to grain standards provides that No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat shall consist wholly of wheat grown in Manitoba and the Northwest, of which at least two-thirds red fife, must weigh 60 pounds to the bushel, and no wheat which has been subjected to scouring or brushing, for removal of smut or other fungoid growth, shall be mixed with it. Instructions to inspectors by this order in council are that in inspection of grain they are to be governed in their interpretation of the different classifications by standard samples selected by the board. If, however, they are called upon to grade any wheat, as to weight, which is not equal to the wheat of such standard sample, they are not, if they deem it otherwise equal to standard, to reduce the grade, provided that wheat is equal as to weight to the legal definitions given in the order in council. The inspectors shall not decline to grade any wheat (other than No. 1 hard) because it differs in its constituent parts from standard sample, provided it is in respect to soundness, cleanness and proportion of hard wheat contained therein, and its general milling qualities, equal to the standard placed in the inspectors' hands for their government: nor shall the restrictions mentioned in grade 1, as to scoured or brushed wheat, apply to any other grades fixed by order in council.

Last session the attention of the House was called to the enormous fees being received by the inspector at Fort William. An order in council has been passed, fixing inspection fees for grain at 60 cents per car, when inspected on the rail, and 50 cents per 1000 bushels when inspected on vessels. The inspector is to render monthly accounts of all receipts and expenditures, and, after deducting payment, which he may have made to his deputies and all expenses incurred in connection with his office, he is to remit to the Receiver-General all amounts received by him above the sum of $4000, which will be his maximum salary.

Some time ago the President of the United States awarded gold watches to the captain and first mate of the barge Butcshire, of Hantsport Bank, N.S., and silver medals to four seamen, named respectively Prifert, Wessell, Williams and Swanso, for assistance rendered to the United States schooner F. J. Allan on the 11th of February last. The watches have found their way to the parties for whom they were intended, but as the four seamen cannot now be found, the medals have been returned to the President of the United States.

The High Commissioner in London thinks that there is a prospect of a trade being worked up in the exportation of pigeons from Canada, and has written to the Department of Trade and Commerce for information upon the subject.

Superintending Engineer Rogers has just returned from an inspection of the Illinois Canal. In this canal the United States Government are building a lock of concrete, and it is the intention of the Government to put in a similar lock in the Trent Canal. This will effect a considerable economy over stone, without in any degree impairing the efficiency of the work.

A special term of the Criminal Court for the County of Ottawa opened in Hull to-day. It is the first criminal Court sitting that has been held in the Ottawa judicial district for nearly two years, consequently an unusually large number of cases are down for hearing. The principal case is the Baskatong murder trial, in which Mrs. John Laframboise will stand trial for the murder of Miss Sarah Jones of that place on May 24th last. At 9 o'clock this morning, an hour before the court opened, Mrs. Laframboise was suddenly taken ill in jail, and on account of her ill-health it will probably be a week or more before she will be sufficiently strong to stand her trial.

A farewell meeting was given this evening in the First Baptist Church in honor of a party of seven missionaries who will sail on Wednesday for the Telegu country, in India. The names of the missionaries are Rev. H. E. Stillwell and wife, J. R. Stillwell and wife, Rev. H. C. Priest and wife and Dr. Pearl Smith.

THE MANITOBA HARVEST.

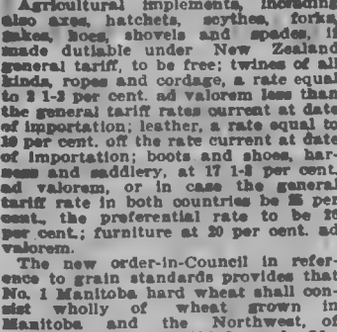
The Farmers of the North West Will Have Plenty of Money to Spend.

Winnipeg, (Special) Oct. 7.—The prospects of a good year for the Manitoba farmers are now assured, thanks to the abundant harvest. One of the causes for the sickness prevalent last year will now be obviated, as the farmers will have more money to spare for the purchase of the necessities for health. One of the straws which shows which way the wind is blowing is the fact that druggists are ordering the well-known remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, in unusually large quantities. The inhabitants of the province are well aware of the value of the medicine, and only the financial stringency has hitherto prevented its universal use.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam cures coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Sores From Bad Blood.

DEAR SIRS,—For quite a long time my blood was very bad, large sores would break out on me from a small scratch. I started to take your B. B. B. which completely cured me. I recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to all suffering from bad blood. OLIVE COLE, Lynedoch, Ont.



SOMETIMES the most careful women are the most careless. When a woman humbles herself up, puts on heavy clothing and wraps and furs to keep out the cold—to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She is allowing a slight disorder to grow, to become worse, to slowly and surely sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She pays no attention to them. By and by they grow a little worse, but she is used to them then and takes them as a matter of course. By and by, they have grown into dragging pains that occasionally keep her in the house—that occasionally put her to bed. Then she knows what is the matter, but she won't go to a doctor because she knows he will insist on "examinations" and "local treatment." She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the same cause. Frequently such symptoms are treated as digestive diseases when the root of the whole matter is the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints," was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies. Its sale now exceeds the combined sales of all other medicines for women. Its effect is perceptible almost immediately. It relieves pain, allays inflammation, checks debilitating drains, and quickly subdues other distressing symptoms. It makes the organs and their surrounding tissues strong and healthy, thereby correcting displacements and invigorating the whole body.

A Break Down on the G. T. R.

Shortly after the Port Hope express left Mariposa station on Saturday morning, one of the steam cylinders broke. It became necessary to make repairs, and the train proceeded to Lindsay with only one of the driving shafts working. When they reached there a new engine was attached to the train, and the disabled one sent to the repair shops. It was after twelve when the train pulled into Lindsay.

Sons of England Band.

The Sons of England band were last evening engaged serenading a number of citizens, choice selections being rendered at the residences of Mr. J. R. Stratton, Mr. W. H. Law, Miss Chamberlen and Mr. Hugh Waddell. The band is improving very noticeably under the able leadership of Mr. Jno. Miller. As in everything else in Peterborough, there will shortly be keen competition between the bands. They expect to have their new uniforms in a few weeks.

Tricks That are Vain.

In vain is the net spread in sight of any bird, and in vain do unscrupulous dealers offer a high price label with a poor wine inside the bottle. The Bordeaux Claret Co., are not concerned about a label. They have put before the public a generous, old, robust wine at a price which has absolutely paralyzed the high priced people. Even those who like well enough to get wine at half price have almost been afraid to believe the good news. The new prices for Clarets and Burgundies are $3 and $4 per dozen quarts. Bottled from the wood imported direct from the Vineyards of France. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

The death is announced this morning of Mr. James G. Wray, 238 Stewart street, son of Mr. Wm. Wray, of Tweed. The young man has been a resident of the town for the past eight years, and was employed in the Canadian General Electric Company's works. He leaves a wife and two children, the former being the daughter of the late Alex. Wray, Lindsay. It is probable that the remains will be taken to Lindsay for burial.

Jehin Prume and Harold Jarvis Concert

At this grand concert, Oct. 29th, the following artists will appear:—Monsieur F. Jehin Prume, violinist to H. M. the King of Belgium; Harold Jarvis, tenor soloist, First Presbyterian Church, Detroit; Miss Agnes Dunlop, Canada's leading contralto; Mrs. Blight, accompanist. The programme presented by the artists will be arranged to suit all tastes. Plan of hall will open at an early date. Concert, Oct. 29th.

Guaranteed Cure for Tobacco

The Uncle Sam Tobacco Cure will stop the tobacco habit—that's a certainty. So confident are the manufacturers that it will do all it claims, they will refund the money in every case where the tobacco user has strictly followed directions for 30 days without being cured. Money talks, and merit wins—they mean what they say. The medicine is for sale at Lynch's drug store, Hunter street, where the guarantee is good.

Sheep Shipments.

Mr. Roseberry, the cattle buyer, has been gathering a large quantity of stock in the neighbourhood of Bobcaygeon. He bought a herd of ten head of cattle from Mr. Wm. Thurston, that were very fine animals and brought $300. He sent away a flock of 100 sheep and lambs last week, and has now 250 on hand that he will take to Bridgenorth by boat, and send into Peterborough, when the market is a little better. They were bought at an average of about $2.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes, and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendent of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

This Morning's Snow Storm.

It was very cold last night from midnight until about 4:45 a.m., when the snow began to fall, and the severity of the temperature abated. It is probable that an inch of snow fell in the five hours during which the feathery flakes descended, but as snow was never known to remain on the ground when the leaves were on the trees, it may be concluded that winter is not upon us just yet. The snow shovel was in requisition this morning, but the demand was not quite general enough, as the sloppiness of the pavements testify.

High Class Tailoring.

Pete Simons & Co. inform the readers of the EXAMINER that he is now settled down to business in his new premises, 408 George street, where he has over four hundred different samples of the finest cloths that the English, French, Scotch, Irish, American and Canadian factories can produce. These goods are tastefully piled on tables in his commodious store, and can be inspected with ease and comfort by customers. Though his work is high class Mr. Simons says his prices will be low, as compared with others doing equal work. Give him a call.

Cottagers Meet.

A meeting, of a number of the owners of cottages on Stony Lake islands, was held on Monday evening for the purpose of taking steps to form all the islands and points used as summer resorts in Stony and Clear Lakes into a separate municipality. Quite a number was present at the meeting. Mr. R. C. Strickland acted in the capacity of chairman and Mr. A. P. Poussette as secretary. A committee, composed of Messrs. A. Hall, E. B. Edwards, E. H. D. Hall and J. R. Stratton, was appointed to take the requisite steps towards securing the necessary legislation. The extravagant assessment by the municipalities of the islands has caused considerable dissatisfaction among the cottagers, and their refusal to expend any of the funds for the benefit of those heavily taxed, is the grievance which is causing action to be taken in the direction of forming a separate municipality.

The Newcombe Pianos.

Mr. W. A. Shaw, representing Messrs. Newcombe & Co., manufacturers of the justly celebrated Newcombe Pianos, has taken up his residence at 300 Rubidge street, where he will permanently reside and watch over the interests of the firm. He will be found at the above number and if any person should wish him to call, a card dropped in the postoffice, will receive prompt attention, and it will well pay any desirous of negotiating for the purchase of a thoroughly first-class piano to put themselves in communication with Mr. Shaw. For twenty-five years Newcome & Co. have been engaged in the manufacture of pianos and by adding the skill of lengthened experience, unsurpassed manufacturing facilities and ample capital to a determination to excel, the firm has been successful in turning out Newcombe Grand, Square and Upright Pianos equal to the productions of the best foreign makers and ahead of any Canadian make. In proof, the Newcombe pianos were awarded a diploma and medal at the World's Exposition in New Orleans in 1884. At the London, England, Exposition, 1886, this success was repeated, with the added honour of a Newcombe piano being selected for the Queen and placed in Windsor Castle. The Newcombe pianos are distinguished for a delicate touch and an exquisite tone of lasting quality, while first-class workmanship guarantees durability and elegance of appearance. A low-grade piano may look and sound well at first—but they don't last. The Newcombe has a staying power in the matter of quality that makes it certain to give satisfaction, and enables the firm to guarantee with confidence every instrument for 5 years. For rich, round, full, pure, lasting tone select the Newcombe.

THE COUNCIL AND THE LOCK WORKS.

No Definite Results of the Conference With the Company.

Last night a committee of the whole Council met at the clerk's office, representatives of the Lock Works Company, to discuss the situation in reference to the request of the latter for some sort of assistance in the direction of new site and buildings and water power. An animated discussion, in which the merits of the matter were pretty fully brought out, took place and no inconsiderable discussion arose over the various propositions submitted by the council and those submitted by the representatives of the company. It is understood that some of the propositions advanced by the company were such as the council could not think of entertaining, and on the other hand the council did not seem to be able to offer anything that the company could regard as meeting their situation. At any rate no arrangement agreed upon, and the matter for which the conference was called remains in statu quo.

A LIQUOR CASE.

William Cardwell Fined Fifty Dollars and Costs—He has Left the Country.

As Wm. Cardwall, of the Victoria Park Hotel, did not appear before County Police Magistrate Edmison, yesterday, in compliance with a summons charging him with selling liquor without a license, the case went on without him, the court finding him guilty of the charge and levying a fine of $50.00. Cardwell is understood to have left the country.

William Martin, of Keene, who was summoned to attend court in this case a week ago and who disobeyed the summons was arrested on Saturday last by County Constable Geo. Cochrane, and was fined $10.00 and costs for drinking in an unlicensed place. A large number of others who were summoned on the same charge were able to disprove the offence and escaped.

Martin was then charged with peddling without a license, and pleading guilty was fined $30.00 and given to November 1st to pay his fine. Martin has in all probability had enough of trying to evade the hand of the law, as the costs in the first charge amounted to $13.20 beside the fine, as the constable had great difficulty in securing his attendance at court, Martin being under the impression that he had to be personally served with the summons before he could be compelled to make an appearance. He out-footed one constable who was after him, but County Constable Cochrane finally cornered him.

THE CATHOLIC LITERARY ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

At a Large and Enthusiastic Meeting Held in the Rooms Last Evening.

After the keenest election in the history of the organization, the members of the Catholic Literary Association elected the following officers last evening:

President—J. Daley.
1st Vice-President—P. Doris.
2nd Vice-President—A. McPherson.
Secretary—L. R. Keogh.
Financial Secretary—T. J. Doris.

The great interest manifested in the elections augurs well for the success which will attend the meetings of the Association this winter. A lot of new blood has been infused into the membership and it is confidently expected that this season will be the most brilliant in the annals of the society. The weekly entertainments which were held last year became most deservedly popular, and the resumption of these is now anxiously looked forward to by the young people.

FIRE OUT AT NASSAU.

Mr. Levi Payne's Residence Burned to the Ground Last Night.

It was currently reported this morning that a house on the Nassau Estate occupied by Levi Payne and family had been consumed during the night together with all the inmates and great consternation was expressed regarding the matter.

This afternoon, however, Mr. Payne and his family drove into Nassau alive and well, having been spending the night with friends in Warsaw.

It appears that they closed up the house at about 7.30 last evening, leaving a small fire in the kitchen from which it is thought a spark must have emanated and caused the conflagration, which entirely consumed the house during the night. Naturally the gruesome rumours concerning the burning of the family alive quickly spread when no trace of them could be found. Mr. Payne knew nothing of the burning of his homestead until he drove into Nassau at 1.30 this afternoon.

ST. JOHN'S Y.P.A.

The Society Re-organizes for the Season—An Enthusiastic Meeting.

The first meeting of the season of St. John's Young People's Association was held in the school house last night and was exceedingly well attended. In the absence of the President, Rev. Carl Smith was called to the chair.

After the usual routine of business had been gone through, a discussion took place as to election of officers, and a committee appointed to nominate the officers for the ensuing year. It was also decided by a unanimous vote to hold a concert early in November, and a committee composed of Miss Perry, Miss Fawcett, Mrs. Ames, Mr. Ames and Mr. W.J. English were appointed to arrange and to report at a special meeting to be held Monday evening, Oct. 21st.

EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In reading over the proceedings at the last council meeting the writer was surprised to find the Board of Trade urging the council to take steps, at all hazard, to induce the Lock Works Company to remain town. I think it rather out of place for the Board of Trade representing themselves as the guardians of Peterborough, in this case, as some members of that Board are financially interested and members of that company. Would it not have been more advisable to call a meeting of the ratepayers to discuss the matter, or have a vote on it? The writer has in the last thirty-four years in business in Peterborough not yet discovered the point whereby the town has reaped such benefits, as the Board of Trade want the ratepayers to believe. I hold that every family moving to Peterborough adds to the prosperity of the town, and it is the greatest absurdity, and nothing short of robbery, to exempt such factories from taxation, leaving many ratepayers too poor and unable to pay taxes, and a good number more in business in a position of not being able to meet their obligations. Is it reasonable to argue that if one place gives a bonus to factories that others should follow suit? And if such factories are a blessing to a town, as the Board of Trade want to prove, then the town has treated the Peter Hamilton and William Hamilton factories unreasonably, and if any of the firms have a claim on the town it is those which never asked for a bonus, and never threatened to leave the town for not getting a bonus. Granted the council would give a company inducements to locate here, exempting them for ten years from taxation, they should not be allowed to threaten the town to leave after the expiration of ten years, but stipulation should have been made that if such a company should intend leaving after ten years' exemption, they should refund taxes for the last five years. Mr. Editor, to give more proof of the prosperity of such factories, hunting for bonuses, when the town got another addition by the Edison Electric Company, the town of St. Catharines bid high for the works, but Peterborough outbid them. What glorious promises we get for the price sacrificed by the town!

The ratepayers were told that this company would engage skilled labourers with families, who all would want houses, which would be taxed, whereby the town would be benefitted. And what has been the result? Houses sprang up like mushrooms. The Edison Company sold out in a short time to the Canadian Company. The skilled labourers left one after another to go back to the Edison Company, and the results are empty houses, which, although they are taxed by the town, are such a loss to the owners that property is not salable for half the original price. Such are the glowing results of such factories; and should such owners of houses not have more claim on the town to be exempted from taxation, as long as their property is not tenanted?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space,

I remain, yours truly,
W. LEECH.

Peterborough, Oct. 14th.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good," of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and do not be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

RETURNED FROM THE MISSION FIELDS.

MISS SYMONDS OF THE BLACKFEET RESERVE.

She is in Town and Talks About the Progress of the Interesting Work—The Staff at the Mission Consists of the Missionary, Assistant Superintendent, Boys' Matron, Girls' Matron and Housekeeper.

Miss Symonds, girls' matron at the Mission School on Bow River, Blackfoot Reserve, in the Northwest Territories, is in Ashburnham spending a well-earned holiday with her brother, Rev. Herbert Symonds, rector of St. Luke's.

Miss Symonds is very much interested in her work amongst the Indians, and though the efforts put forth appear as seed scattered on stony ground, yet those at the mission labour patiently on, hoping to see the reward of their works, when the rising generation attains maturity.

The Indians on the reserve, Miss Symonds states, are a lazy, shiftless lot, who would be in a bad way, indeed, if not under the protecting wing of the Government and twice a week. The bucks spend their time in sleeping in their tents and racing horses, the latter pastime being indulged in chiefly on Sundays and utilized to give the braves the opportunity of giving vent to their mad passion for gambling. Card-playing for money, or in fact for stakes of anything of value the Indian may possess, is also indulged in extensively, the red man having picked up the habit from his civilized, Christian brother, the paleface.

The brave is above work as a rule and in consequence all the drudgery falls on the squaws, who take it as a matter of course and labour for their lordly master without complaint.

In this particular reserve, which is thirty-six miles in length and situated on the Bow River, the Indians scatter out all along the river banks and camp during the summer, but in the winter come into the villages, the two largest of which are the north and south camps, at the former of which the mission buildings are erected. It was at this point, it will be remembered, that culminating in the murder of Mr. Skinner and the retirement of Archbishop Tims from the mission.

In regard to the uprising, Miss Symonds states that she finds many who are under the impression that the mission was closed, but affairs did not grow quite as bad as that, as on the retirement of the Archbishop, to whom the Indians had taken a most unaccountable dislike for some reason, no further hostile demonstrations were made. The children, of whom forty were attending the Mission School were at this juncture home on their holidays, and the Indians promised that if Archbishop Sims retired the little ones could all return. This, however, has not as yet taken place, many of the families having broken faith in this respect, as only about 20 children are now in attendance. It is thought that the death of a child at the mission, over which a great deal of trouble arose, is perhaps the cause of this, but the feeling of mistrust, it is hoped, will die out eventually.

One great trouble with which the missionaries had to contend, and one which, Miss Symonds says, often causes them to lies in the fact that when a girl gets to be of the age of about ten years, she becomes of commercial value in the eyes of her father, and if she has acquired any accomplishments at the Mission her value is rated according to them, and she is sold to a brave in search of another wife, for one, two or three horses, as the father sees fit. She is then of course removed from the influence of the Mission entirely, and the work of several years is thus often undone in a day.

All educational effort is confined entirely to the children, as those who have attained riper years have apparently entirely lost the very scant amount of ambition with which they might have been inspired when young.

A laudable effort is at present being made by the government to induce the Indians to trade off their horses for cattle and go into farming to some extent, but few indeed care to try the experiment, although one noticeable exception is making quite a success in this line, and already supplies the Mission with very passable butter.

THE GREAT DAY

of the year on the reserve is the occasion when the annual distribution of "treaty money" takes place at North Camp. Every man, woman and child is in attendance, and as they bring their entire household with them, the scene is made quite lively by the presence of myriads of children, horses and dogs. For months previous the braves have been training their horses and a grand race meet of several days duration is held and at its conclusion many a redman returns to his tepee with not a cent wherewith to bless himself, nor will he again have any funds until the next pay day a year hence, when he will once more, in all probability, gamble away his substance in exactly the same manner.

The government has laid down some strict regulations regarding the sending of the children to school, and interdicts their marriage with others who have not had the benefits of education, but legislation of this nature affects the Indian not at all, as he goes on selling off his children for the best price obtainable, and cares not how many wives her future spouse already has in his wigwam. But although the braves make no pretence of obeying these regulations, yet at the same time they

and the last batch of them has caused a feeling of unrest to be manifest amongst the redmen, who of late are showing their independence by treating the whites on the reserve rather saucily. The Indian, however, has lost none of his cunning and knows better than to become obnoxiously independent when winter is almost upon him, and when deprivation of the government rations would mean famine. A parade of such a nature in the spring would be regarded with apprehension by the settlers in the vicinity, as the vague feeling of unrest which is so apparent amongst the young bucks, often heralds an outbreak, as at times a desire to do mighty deeds and win renown on the war path animates the battle-loaded redskin, who is just attaining manhood's years; and the strong arm of the mounted police, coupled with the knowledge that being cut off from rations might have unpleasant consequences, if cornered in a portion of the country where raiding was impossible, are the only things which restrain his ardour. But if once the bands were broken no one could foretell the end, as it would be a case of

with the redskins; and knowing that there would be small mercy meted out to them if overtaken, their ravages would be murderous indeed as long as they lasted. This is the fear which continually haunts the missionary and the white settler in the vicinity of the Indian reserves.

Before concluding her most interesting conversation with a reporter, Miss Symonds said a word or two about the Indians, whom it appears are greatly troubled with scrofula and consumption as to make them very susceptible to sicknesses, which quickly carry them off. In order to counteract the evils of weakened constitutions as much as possible, a commodious hospital has just been erected at the Mission, and with a resident doctor on the Reserve, much help may be extended to the ailing redskin, if he chooses to profit by the offer of assistance.

At present an Industrial School is being erected at Calgary, and it is hoped that after taking a course in an institution of such a nature, the young bucks will see the advantages to be derived from living a life of usefulness, rather than one of sloth, and set an example to others by turning to account the knowledge attained at the school. It is in the rising generation that the hope of the missionary lies.

HERE'S ANOTHER MYSTERY.

The Widow of Fred Walker, the Bookmaker, in Trouble at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—At 9.30 o'clock Thursday morning two men dragged Mrs. Annie Walker senseless and unresisting up the stairs of Mrs. Stacey's boarding house at 415 Washington-boulevard, threw her on a bed and disappeared. There she has lain since, with eyes glassy and staring, seeing nothing, moaning, sobbing and sleeping a troubled sleep.

Mrs. Walker is the widow of Fred Walker, a bookmaker of New Orleans, by whose suicide a few weeks since it is said she was nearly crazed. Her former husband was U.S. Senator McIntyre, of Louisiana. He died several years ago.

The police have been able to learn that Mrs. Walker came here from the home of her father-in-law, Hugh Walker, of Guelph, Ont., where she went in a nearly demented condition after the death of her husband. They know that one of the men who brought her to Mrs. Stacey's house was a trained nurse named Elliott, hired by Mr. Walker to make the journey with her and that the other was a cab man. From this point the mystery of the case begins.

Since Thursday Mrs. Walker has murmured at times about being shut up in a cell and seems to be asking someone to release her.

Physicians are keeping her alive by the aid of stomach pumps and electrical treatment.

Statement of Mr. Walker.

Guelph, Ont., Oct. 15.—Mr. Hugh Walker was seen yesterday in reference to the above. Mr. Walker said that their son wrote to his mother regularly and never once mentioned that he was married, nor had any proofs been furnished that he was married. In answer to letters sent to Mrs. McIntyre, who claims she was his wife, she vaguely states that they were married in 1893. She also wrote requesting permission to visit his grave and stated she would stay at an hotel. On her arrival on the third she was met at the station by Mr. Walker and taken to their home. Shortly afterwards it was discovered that she was mentally deranged. Physicians were called in and every care given her, but she got very violent and tried to do herself injury and had to be put in the lock-up for safe keeping.

Mr. Walker, in the meantime, telegraphed and wrote her sister, but received no reply.

She was sent back to her sister's place in Chicago, a Guelph man being engaged to take care of her on the journey. He states that she was quite until within some few hours of their destination, when she got violent and broke the car window and before reaching Chicago relapsed into unconsciousness. On arrival a cab was taken to her sister's place, but the house was locked up. A neighbor advised taking her to Mrs. Stacey's boarding house, which was done, the attendant and Mrs. Stacey putting her in bed.

MOUNT ELGIN MYSTERY.

The Death of Cornelius Wall to be Investigated by the Crown.

Woodstock, Oct. 14.—County Crown Attorney Ball, after consultation with Dr. Lucas of Ingersoll, the coroner who conducted the inquest on the death of Cornelius Wall of Mount Elgin, has decided to make a thorough investigation. Wall died suddenly and the post-mortem revealed strychnine in his stomach.

IT'S HER BABY BOY.

Mrs. Hollernshaw Solves the Port Huron Waif Mystery.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 12.—The mysterious waif, Albert Shaw, who said he had been sent to Port Huron from a Chicago convent school, has been identified as Albert Hollernshaw. His mother, Mrs. Emma Hollernshaw, recently came here from Wallaceburg, Ont., but did not get the Chicago letter in time to meet him.

When her husband died in Chicago six years ago Mrs. Hollernshaw was in destitute circumstances and gave her baby to the Sisters of Charity till she could support him herself. After the lapse of years, neither could recognize the other. The boy has been taken to Wallaceburg.

To Cure Consumption.

New York, Oct. 15.—Dr. Francesco Carlucci, visiting physician to the Italian Hospital, has received a supply of the serum for the cure of incipient consumption discovered three months ago by Prof. Maragliano of the University of Genoa.

Dr. Carlucci is soon to begin treating patients with the remedy at the Italian Hospital.

Wheat Growers Combine.

Duluth, Oct. 15.—It is reported throughout the Northwest that the wheat-growers have, in response to a secret circular, formed an organization for the purpose of advancing the price of wheat to a figure where it will pay them to take the grain to market.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

A NEW COIFFURE.

ARTISTICALLY BUILT UP BY THE USE OF THE "FLOU-FLOU."

How, by Means of a Wave-Maker, Pretty Ribbons, Fine Hair and Skillful Hands, a Beautiful Headdress May be Achieved.

The latest Parisian novelty for dressing the hair is a wave-maker called "Flou-Flou." It consists of a fork between the prongs of which ribbons with loops are attached; these are run through the hair according to the instructions given below and shown in the pictures. A head which is adorned with these ribbons looks coquettish and charming. To do it properly, it is necessary to take the hair in strands of the thickness of about a finger, and moisten it with toilet water; then each one of these strands must be combed from the front towards the back, in the direction which they will occupy after the coiffure is finished; This detail is important. Then the ribbons are placed on the fork as shown in the design, and each end is held in place by means of the loop in the ribbon, which is tied by a little string hidden in the centre of the ribbon by the lining. The strands are then placed one after the other upon the fork, which is held with one hand vertically, the two points up; with the other hand the hair is rolled in between the forks alternately, beginning always with the one in the rear, and it should always be rolled as near as possible to the head. When all on, the ribbon is dropped from the handle by slightly pressing a spring; the two ends are tied loosely, and the fork is then pulled out and a knot tied by pulling the ends closely. Particular attention should be given to always place the hair upon the fork while it is vertical, except for the rear of the head; the left side must be waved by holding the fork in the left hand, while it must be reversed when waving the hair on the right. Fig. 1 shows how the waving must be prepared by strands, and in Figure 2, the waving on the side is explained. Figure 3 shows all the ribbons tied in their places, which if kept in place for a certain time will result in the perfect coiffure shown in Figure 4.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE

The Great Health Restorer of the Century.

Sickness Cannot Cope With It—Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record—Cures at the Nerve Centers, and Thus Cures Permanently.—A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility—Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but by scientific methods he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health, only when the nerve centers are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centers. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centers, from which comes these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and then builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centers are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

WE AND OUR FACES.

SIGNS MAY BE WRITTEN WHICH ARE NOT TRUE INDICATION.

Dr. Louis Robinson Explains Why This is so and Why Actors Retain a Youthful Expression so Long.

One consequence of the full exercise of all the facial muscles, and of the trophic results of varying emotions, is a remarkable interference with the time records which are usually so visible on the human face, writes Dr. Louis Robinson in the Popular Science Monthly for September. In fact, most actors maintain a somewhat boyish aspect until late in life, although the suggestion of callow immaturity is at times rather startlingly contradicted by the expression of the eye. In ladies who adopt the stage as a profession, a true youthful appearance is, as a rule, much better maintained. Until the physiological principles which account for the phenomenon are understood, it must remain a very puzzling fact that an actress's life should be more favorable to the preservation of good looks, and even of girlish freshness, than the life led by women who occupy their natural sphere, and who cultivate (as they think) all physical and moral virtues. A successful actress must work extremely hard, generally by an artificial light, and in a gas-befouled atmosphere. Her hours for work, meals and sleep are all utterly bad from the hygenic point of view; and not infrequently she makes bad worse by falling into those bohemian habits which are an immemorial tradition of her class. Her secret, apart from the laws regulating the expression and nutrition of the face above stated, consists chiefly of avoidance of monotony and petty worries—those arch enemies of feminine good looks and good temper. Her work, if arduous, is generally performed both with earnestness and lightness of heart; and, above all, she gets a sufficiency of bodily exercise of the kind (although not under the conditions) most conducive to health—viz., exercise involving quick and general movements of the muscles, combined with a certain amount of mental excitement.

It is extremely important that we should bear in mind that passion prints on the face are often quite useless in enabling us to form an opinion as to the moral character (as distinct from the moral tendencies) of any individual. For the inhibitory centers of the mental apparatus, upon which depend our powers of self-restraint, do not exercise their veto beyond the frontier line which separates the rational from the organic side of human nature. And, let us recollect, it is the latter region which is governed by the sympathetic system, with its complex emotional and trophic functions. Thus, although a man may feel illicit passion, or unrighteous rage, without deviating in act from the path of rectitude, yet his heart, his skin and other parts under the sympathetic regime, will ignore both the moral code and any voluntary decision to obey it.

Not only may the organic part of a man show every sign of guilt when there is no guilt, but only temptation; but it may even go further in attaching a false and slanderous label to the countenance, owing to the interlocking mechanism of emotion, passion and nutrition, above alluded to.

Doubtless some of my readers have chanced to contract a black eye in a perfectly innocent and unpugnacious manner. Let us suppose, for the sake of argument, that it resulted from a sharp return across the tennis net. Until the last of the dismal tints fade away, such a one bears about with him one of the most generally accepted proofs of a hasty disposition and of a blackguardly encounter. Yet the victim himself—and each of his friends who will believe his statement—knows that not only is he innocent of a breach of the peace, but that, when he received the ugly mark he was engaged in one of the most amiable of recreations.

Now, in like manner, certain popularity-received evidences of a bad moral record may be printed accidentally from within.

Even when certain forms of emotion tend to distort the features if provoked in a natural and direct manner, they fail to react upon the facial muscles when produced artificially, as they may be by a play, a novel, or a strain of music. During the silent perusal of a pathetic story many people confess to a "lump in the throat," but it is very seldom that the corners of the mouth are twitched downward.

These deliberately induced or artificial emotions offer an interesting field to the psychologist. They evidently differ from their elementary prototypes as much as polarized light differs from direct light. They tint what would else be both hideous and prosaic with all the colors of the rainbow, so that we are able to take pleasure in tragedy.

"And with an eager and suspended soul
Woo terror, to delight us."

If we survey the faces of a crowd of people at a concert, we find that they offer scarcely a hint of the emotion evoked by the music. The features of the listeners remain as placid as if they were asleep, and as if the inward excitement which thrills them, and which makes their pulses throb and their flesh "creep," were but the sham excitement of dreamland. As a rule, the same may be said of the ecstatic feelings which accompany devotional exercises. I do not allude to public prayers from the pulpit—where an earthly audience has to be borne in mind—but to the silent communings of private worship, when the soul feels that it has entered the holy of holies, and stands naked before the Eternal Powers.

If it were possible to set apart certain individuals in whom all emotional impulses reacted upon the features via the sympathetic, to the exclusion of the motor nerves, we should expect to find among them many strong points of resemblance in facial expression. Although, happily, no such creatures exist among healthy human beings, it is by no means difficult to indicate whole classes of people whose pursuits or mental habits give the sympathetic system a preponderating influence.

Professional musicians, priests and sensualists, all, as a rule, bear distinct certificates on their countenances that they belong to such a category.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from ... prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.38	4.65	6.98
North American	1.78	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars

MARK STREET CHURCH TEA-MEETING AND CONCERT.

It was a Great Success—Large Number of Most Interesting Addresses.

A tea meeting was held last evening in the Mark street Methodist church in connection with the Anniversary services which were conducted on Sunday last in that edifice. The entertainment was the most successful of its kind ever held under the auspices of the Mark street congregation, the tables being most liberally patronised by representatives from the Methodist churches in town.

Amongst the ladies who were most active in superintending the work at the tables, and seeing that everyone was fully satisfied were Mrs. Wm. Wand, Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Cleeves, Mrs. Agnew, Mrs. Fowler and Misses Smith, Wand, Dawson, Mitchell, Beer and Hooper.

Supper was served from half past five until eight o'clock and the menu was composed of fowl and various kinds of meats and vegetables in such profusion that the great inroads which were made upon it, made so little impression, that a social will be held to-night in order that the good things may not be wasted.

After the tables had been cleared, an adjournment was made to the body of the church, where a concert was held, a most excellent programme of addresses and music having been prepared. The choir opened by the singing of a chorus, after which Rev. J. C. Wilson led in prayer. Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., of the George street church, whose remarks are always listened to with interest, then briefly addressed those present, referring to the advantages to be derived from such entertainments, as tending to bring the members of a congregation more in touch with one another. He remarked on the fact that the gathering was most representative of Peterborough Methodism.

Several vocal solos which were rendered during the evening by Mrs. J. Liddy of Keene, were greatly appreciated, as she is the possessor of a beautifully clear soprano voice. Rev. J. Liddy, the pastor of the Keene circuit, made a pleasing address appropriate to the occasion, and was followed by Mr. Wm. Johnston, Belleville, a well-known Methodist class leader, who made some timely remarks on the necessity of keeping the churches open every night in the week for the benefit of young men who had no homes to which to go in the evenings. If the church was open to these young fellows they would not go to places of sin where they were always welcomed with a smile and a handshake. Although the Salvation Army and Y.M.C.A. were undoubtedly doing a good work, Mr. Johnston never had his attention called to either of them that he did not think the church must have shamefully neglected her work in the past or there would have been no need for such organization.

Rev. A. C. Wilson, of Tweed, and his brother, Rev. J. C. Wilson, of Tyrone, both of whom were at one time pastors of the Mark street church, also delivered remarks in which the keenest interest was manifested concerning the steady growth of the Ashburnham church. The evening was brought to a close by the pronunciation of the benediction by Rev. W. R. Young.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

To Box With Soft Gloves.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 14.—The proposed Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, and the attitude of the authorities, have been the one theme of conversation here. Joe Vendig and W. A. Brady are here, and have been in conference last evening with the local committee. Both seem satisfied. Sheriff Hoopt says he will do his duty and carry out the provisions of the law. At the conference last evening it was decided in order to comply strictly with the requirements of the laws of Arkansas, to change the articles of agreement from a finish contest to one of a limited number of rounds, the referee being vested with the power to stop the exhibition if in his opinion it becomes brutal. The men will box with soft gloves.

Creedon Whips the "Coffee Cooler."

London, Oct. 14.—The match between Dan Creedon, ex-middleweight champion of Australia, and Frank Craig, the Harlem "Coffee-Cooler," for a purse of £400, took place to-night at the National Sporting Club. The men weighed in at 158 pounds. Creedon won the fight in 20 rounds.

Notwithstanding Craig's victories here, Creedon was the favorite in the betting at odds of 5 to 4. Craig was a pound heavier than his antagonist. He indulged in his usual antics. Creedon held his own until the 10th round, when he went in and fairly fought his opponent down.

Plimmer and Donny seconded Creedon, while Callan and Driscoll acted in a similar capacity for Craig.

Rose's Challenge Accepted.

New York, Oct. 14.—The special meeting of the New York Yacht Club, called to take action on the challenge of Charles Day Rose for the America's Cup, was held this evening. The challenge was accepted, and the Cup Committee of 1895 was re-appointed to take charge of the races. The formal reply to Percy Theleuser, secretary of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, was cabled, and international races are now assured for 1896. The challenge of Mr. Rose was read. Its text was the same as was cabled on Sept. 23. It gave the name of the challenging yacht as the Distant Shore, the load water-line 90 feet, and named no conditions whatever. After the challenge had been read, the following was adopted:

"Whereas an unconditional challenge for the America's Cup, stating load-water-line, length of challenging vessel, has been received from the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, in the name of Charles D. Rose:

"Resolved, that the challenge be accepted, and that a committee of seven be appointed by the commodore, with full power to confer with the challenger and arrange the conditions of the match, and, as soon as final arrangements have been completed, that the committee shall report the same to the club."

Commodore Brown then appointed the Cup Committee of 1895 to take charge of the races. Ex-Commodore Smith was re-elected chairman, and A. Cass Garfield, secretary.

Champion MacPherson's Fatal Fall.

A brief telegraph despatch last week told of John D. McPherson's terrible and fatal fall from a lock at the Soo. In his day Macpherson was almost invincible with the shot, and was a clear, all-round professional athlete. He was a Canadian by birth and well-known in Toronto. His greatest feat was performed in this city Nov. 10, '88, when he put the 20-lb. shot, with a 7 ft. 6 in. run, a distance of 40 feet 11¼ in. This was a most marvellous performance, and still stands as a world's record, its nearest approach being George R. Gray's 38 feet 7¼ in. put.

A letter from the Soo describes the most unfortunate fate of Macpherson:

"John D. Macpherson, the noted athlete and champion shot-putter of the world, met with an accident last Friday morning at 9.20 which resulted in his death a few hours later. Macpherson had been employed in painting the gates of the new lock, but Thursday evening commenced drinking, and was not in condition for work Friday morning. During the evening of Thursday he was around town, and entered Fanjoy's photograph gallery, where he said he expected a visit from his two brothers, who live in Canada, in a few days, and the three would come in and have a group picture taken before any accident occurred to prevent it. The next morning he visited the new lock, talked with the men employed there, and crossed the lower gates in safety to the north side. These gates are not completed, and no railings have yet been placed on them. Seeing that he was in no condition for such a hazardous undertaking, the men urged him not to attempt to go back that way, but to go round the lock. He heeded not their warning, however, and started to recross the gates, but as he reached the centre he was seen to stumble, grasp the air, and then shoot down to death below, a distance of 46 feet, striking the plank floor on his head and shoulders. He was picked up unconscious and removed to his boarding house on Ferris-street, and Dr. Harrison summoned, but he was past all human aid, and did not regain consciousness, dying shortly after 1 o'clock."

Bald and Murphy in Front.

Quarter-mile, open, class B—Tom Cooper 1, Earl Kiser 2, Murphy 3. Time .31.

Bowmanville's Road Race.

Bowmanville, Oct. 14.—The most exciting local event to wheelmen came off here this evening between 4 and 5 o'clock, being a 10-mile handicap road race, from the intersection of King and Temperance-streets, here, to the Windsor Hotel corner, Newcastle, and return. The Committee of Arrangements consisted of R. D. Davidson, president of the Bowmanville Bicycle Club, starter; Karl B. Kent, captain; F. Mason, handicapper, and E. M. Byrne, timekeeper; Allan Williams, referee at the Windsor turn. The times in which the competitors finished were as follows:

Albert Couch, 37.03; Manley R. Gryderman, 39.05; Othello Mason, 46.50; Garnett Trewin, 40.55; Norman B. S. James, 48.50; Bob Beith, 38.50; Malcolm Galbraith, 34.00; John Horn, 42.01; George McLellan, 40.14; John Rice, 42.00; Frank Garrett, 41.10; Wesley Cowker, 43.11; William Adams, 40.50; Fred W. Couch, 47.20; Frank Pethick, 36.35; John Hollowlees, 41.25; Fred Osborne, 41.20; J. Howard McMurtry, 39.10; Fred Kydd, 41.15; Norman Plummer, 43.30.

The two special prizes for the best time were won by Malcolm Galbraith and F. C. Pethick. Two of the prize-winners, Otho Mason and Norman James, are only 13 years of age. The roads were not in a very good condition, hence the best time made was only 34 minutes.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equally interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now for instance the minor ailments that afflict us. Why should so many fraudulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless.

GREAT FIRE AT ORILLIA.

Some of the Leading Business Houses of the Town Destroyed—Losses and Insurance.

Orillia, Ont., Oct. 14.—The most disastrous fire here in years was that which burned Mulcahy's Block at 1.30 this morning, and which for some time threatened the entire business section of the town bounded by Mississaga and Peter-streets.

The occupants of the burned buildings were Crawford, Lynch & Co., general merchants; E. C. Simmons, hatter and furrier; W. S. Frost & Co., jewelers. The second and third floors were occupied by Grant & Grant, barristers; W. M. Harvey, dentist, and the halls of the A.O.U.W., I.O.O.F., A.O.F., Home Circle and Sons of England.

The origin of the fire is a my...

The losses: Crawford, Lynch & Co., $20,000, insurance $12,000; E. C. Simmons, unknown, insured; W. S. Frost, stock saved by removal, slight loss; Grant & Grant, $300, no insurance; W. M. Harvey, $500, insured; A.O.U.W., I.O.O.F., A.O.F., Home Circle and Sons of England, small losses, mostly insured. James McKerroll, grocer, and Grafton & Co., clothiers, have put in claims for damage by water.

The loss on the building is not obtainable, Mr. Mulcahy being away in Dakota, but is estimated at about $3000, fully insured.

Little Girl Badly Burned.

Minden, Ont., Oct. 14.—About 5 o'clock Sunday evening the dwelling house of Charles Syres of Minden Township was completely destroyed by fire. Small insurance. A little girl about 3 years old was very badly burned, but will recover.

WINNIPEG CIVIC ELECTIONS.

Lively Times Promised—Another Victim of the Prairie Fires Dies.

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—The approaching civic election promises to be the hottest for many years. The people are thoroughly stirred up to the necessity for reform, though there are no definite proposals for improvement. A correspondent of The Free Press points out that no provision has been made for a sinking fund for the past seven years, so there must be a shortage in this account of over half a million dollars.

Another boy injured in Saturday's prairie fire died to-day, making the fourth death. It is estimated that property to the value of over $50,000 was destroyed. Altogether it was the most disastrous prairie fire in the history of the province.

Rev. Father Burke, from Prince Edward Island, is in the province, and will also visit Eastern Assiniboia, looking for a suitable location for P. E.I. colonists.

His Life Saved by a Tooth.

Guelph, Oct. 14.—Herbert Brown, a colored youth, aged 15, was exhibiting his revolver to William Harvey and Haddo Black, when the weapon suddenly went off. The bullet entered Black's mouth, and had it not struck a tooth the shot would have been fatal.

DO YOU KNOW

That in our New Custom Department, we make to order all the latest styles of Fashionable Clothing now in vogue for fall and winter wear.

Fully represented in our stock of Cloths are the Newest and Most Expensive Suitings and Pantings, such as French Worsteds, English Venetians, West of England Cloths, Serges, Scotch and Canadians Tweeds, as well as the leading lines of OVERCOATINGS, such as Beavers, Meltons, Cheviots, Thibets, &c.

There's nothing missing—not a style of cut, pattern, desirable make or fabric, that the most fastidious Dresser longs for, but what is here—consistent with the popular demands of the season of 1895.

Overcoats $11.50 up.

Suits $12.75 up.

Trousers $2.50 up.

While we can afford to dwell largely on the values we offer, at the above figures we want to impress upon you the fact that we make to order HIGHER GRADE OVERCOATS and SUITS—ranging in price from $15.00 to $18.00—equal in every respect to the garments you have to pay $18.00 and $22.00 in every Merchant Tailoring Store in town, except GOUGH'S.

Our Cutter.

MR. DUNCAN CAMERON, well-known in Peterborough for years, is our Cutter. He is a man of acknowledged ability and taste. Unsolicited testimonial from satisfied customers speak in his favour. The latest and finest Merchant Tailoring Effects have been produced from his hands, and as comparisons cost nothing give us your fall order, and we will satisfy you that what we say is right.

We take great pains in cutting and fitting and employ only the best sewers and finishers. Every suit turned out is guaranteed a perfect fit, and as we do a strictly cash business we are giving value that cannot be got elsewhere.

Small Profits.

We're believers in small profits; the more we sell the less need be the profit on a single article. Why? Because the quantity of clothing we turn out brings the material down to the lowest notch, and the cost of running our establishment down to a minimum.

Besides we're making and selling Clothing alongside of a large trade in fashionable Hats and Caps, Gentlemen's Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, &c.—hence the advantages to be derived in the way of saving money at our two stores are positively unobtainable from other merchant tailors.

THE FRENCH TREATY

Many Questions Being Sent to the Capital.

A BATCH OF RULINGS EXPECTED.

Australian Rifle Men Send an Invitation to the Canadian Bisley Team to Visit the Sister Colony—Sable Island Ravaged by Locusts.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Many questions of interpretation have arisen in connection with the French treaty, and it is expected that in a day or two a batch of rulings will be given. Possibly the most important of those so far rendered has reference to goods of French origin. For instance, the point has been submitted whether or not products of France, if imported, say from the United States, would be admissible under the treaty tariff at the rates contained therein. The decision is that they will be so admissible at a reduced duty, but the importer will have to produce conclusive proof as to the French origin of the goods.

Recently application was made to the patents branch, Department of Agriculture, by a Quebec man for a patent for a new device for signalling at sea in order to avoid collisions by vessels. Application for the patent was refused on the ground that a similar system was already in vogue. The Quebec invention consisted of a code. The points of the compass are numbered and in foggy weather a steamer whistles a certain number of times, according to the points of the compass, indicating the way she was going. Wickman's code of marine fog signals has been in existence for some time, and the only ground upon which the granting of a patent to the Quebec man could be justified would be for a new code, but not for the system.

Col. Bacon, secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, has received a letter from Captain Oldershaw, secretary of the Federal Rifle Association of Australia, inviting the Dominion association to send their Bisley team to England next year by way of the Antipodes, so that the team could take part in the different colonial rifle meetings and arrive in England in June. While the invitation manifests a very fraternal spirit, it is hardly likely that it will be acceded to, as the trip would consume too much time and involve too great an expense. The men would have to leave Vancouver in January and it would cost fully $15,000 to send the team round the world. Col. Bacon will submit the offer to the Council of the D.R.A., but a negative answer is almost certain.

An interesting report was received at the Marine Department to-day from the captain of the steamer Newfield, which has just returned from a visit to Sable Island. The island has been ravaged by locusts to such an extent that hardly any food is left for cattle, horses and wild ponies there. The keeper of the lighthouse station has requisitioned for 50 tons of hay on which to maintain the cattle during the winter.

In the Supreme Court to-day argument in the Canada Atlantic Railway Company v. Hurdman was concluded and judgment reserved.

The case of Wilson v. The Land Security Company, was next taken up. Action in this case was brought by the respondent company for payment of interest under an agreement for sale of land to the appellant.

A citizen's celebration was held here on Dominion Day. In order to induce the Young Capitals, who had scheduled a lacrosse match for that day, to select some other day on which to play, they were guaranteed the difference between the amount of the actual gate and $1000. The deficit was $597. The lacrosse club entered suit against the Mayor for the amount and to-day Mr. Justice Rose gave judgment against his worship for the amount with interest and costs. The city having guaranteed $500 in the event of a deficit, the corporation will now be called upon to pay the amount.

HUGH JOHN AND A PORTFOLIO.

The Ex-Member for Winnipeg Still Disinclined to Re-enter Politics. But Non-Committal—More Fires.

Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—Hugh John MacDonald once again reiterates his disinclination to re-enter politics. He says he has received no proffer of a portfolio from Premier Bowell and does not expect any. Asked if he would refuse a portfolio if offered, he said it was unnecessary and inexpedient to answer one way or the other.

News has just been received in the city of a most destructive prairie fire in the northwestern part of the province. Over a dozen farmers in the Violadale settlement have been burned out, their losses averaging from one thousand to two thousand dollars each. A number of persons were severely injured while fighting the flames. Two boys, names unknown, are probably fatally injured.

WILD MAN NEAR WIARTON.

An Albemarle Farmer Beaten Into Unconsciousness and an Attempt Made to Burn Him.

Wiarton, Oct. 18.—Gustave Herbshot, a German resident of Albemarle, while returning home from this place, about 5 o'clock this evening, when on the 11th concession of Albemarle, was set upon by a large burly-looking man with grizzled hair and beard who came out of the woods, and had apparently lighted several stumps that were burning on the roadside. Herbshot was rendered unconscious in the struggle, and when he recovered, three hours later, the leg of his trousers and the sleeve of his coat were burned. His umbrella had also been burned by his assailant, but his money had not been taken. There is no clue to the man.

LIBERAL LEADERS AT KINGSTON.

Hon. Mr. Laurier Warmly Received in the Limestone City Conservatives Join in Courteous Welcome.

Kingston, Oct. 18.—The Liberals of Kingston are making the most of Mr. Laurier's brief visit to the city, on his way to Sydenham, where he will speak to-morrow. He was met at the outer station this afternoon by the Executive Committees of the Reform Association and the Young Liberal Club.

The Opposition leader was accompanied by Sir Richard Cartwright, J. Israel Tarte, M.P.; Thomas Bain, M. P. for North Wentworth, and Alex. Smith, Liberal organizer.

Mr. Laurier was at once driven to the house of Mr. E. J. B. Pense, whose guest he is during his stay.

This evening the honorable gentleman, at the Hotel Frontenac, received all who desired to call upon him, irrespective of creed or politics.

At 8 o'clock this evening an at home was given and there was a large attendance, including citizens of both political persuasions and many ladies.

After the introduction and handshaking had continued for some time Mr. Laurier was induced to make a few remarks. He merely returned thanks for the exceedingly cordial reception and made the presence of the ladies the occasion of a humorous reference to the prospect of woman suffrage, and said that as both Conservative and Liberals had been invited to meet him he was debarred from making a political speech.

Social intercourse was then resumed and at 9 o'clock the leader retired and was escorted to the house of his host by a torchlight procession of students, headed by the 14th Band.

SAGER LOST HIS SUIT.

Mrs. Bradford Retains the $3000 Gratuitously Paid by Him.

Detroit, Oct. 18.—Judge Hosmer yesterday put an end to the case of William L. Sager of Toronto, against Pleasant Bradford, in a summary manner, directing the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant. Sager had sued for about $4000, claimed to have been paid on a contract at the rate of $300 a year, which she failed to carry out.

Sager's case ended with the testimony of Peter Platz, a putative husband of Mrs. Bradford. A record of the marriage was produced by the plaintiff, showing that Peter Platz, aged 24, a drover, married Pleasant Bradford, aged 36, of Holden, Eng., Aug. 30, 1884. Rev. Richard Turnbull performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Bradford took the stand in her own behalf. She said she married William Bradford at Abington, Eng., in 1863, and lived with him until about 1870, leaving him after two or three years because of his unkindness to her. Sager went to England and she followed him through an arrangement between him and her husband. She returned to Canada with Sager and lived with him until the time of the separation, she running away because he did not provide for her. She followed him to Niagara Falls and made him settle with her, Sager giving her $500 and agreeing to pay her $300 annually if she should return to her husband and live virtuously. She came here, met Platz, the butcher, and went through the form of a marriage with him. She received the money until 1893 when the payments stopped. She sued Sager and got a verdict in the High Court at Toronto and Sager's appeal also resulted in her favor. She lived with Plats and he used the money she received in business and around the house for ten years, knowing whence it came. As soon as the remittances stopped Plats left her.

In deciding the case Judge Hosmer said that while Sager's idea in providing for her and her children was commenable on his part, his remittances at the same time were only gratuitous. The court held that the bond was void as there was no consideration enumerated.

Colonies and Imperial Defence.

Melbourne, Oct. 17.—Lord Brassey, the new Governor of Victoria, in a speech delivered to-day at Albany, said it would be unwise to at present require the colonies to contribute to the expenses of Imperial defence. It would be sufficient for the colonies to defend themselves.

Mormon Saints for Europe.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—The steamer Waveland on Sturday will carry from this port to Liverpool 30 Mormon saints who, under the fostering wing of Elder W. W. Kidle of Salt Lake City, will for the next two years roam at large over England and the Continent in quest of converts.

Killed His Wife and Himself.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 18.—John H. Bowen, aged 35 years, who for several years has been a clerk in the Mercantile Appraiser's office, shot his wife, attempted to shoot his son, and then committed suicide at an early hour this morning at their rooms, 3503 Lancaster-avenue.

APPOINTMENT MADE.

Hon. J. J. Curran is Now Out of the Ministry.

GOSSIP AS TO HIS SUCCESSOR.

Yesterday's Cabinet Meeting Settled the Matter of the Judgeship—Hon. L. P. Pelletier Said to Have a Chance to Join the Federal Cabinet.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—At yesterday's meeting of the Cabniet, Hon. J. J. Curran was appointed a Superior Court judge of the Province of Quebec, thereby creating a vacancy in the Ministry and in the representation of Montreal Centre. During the day a petition was presented to the Premier, signed by a large number of influential Montrealers, protesting against the appointment of any other than an English-speaking Protestant to the position of the Superior Court Bench, rendered vacant by the death of the late Sir Francis Johnson. Mr. V. E. Mitchell, clerk in the office of the law firm of McGibbon & Co., of Montreal, presented the petition to Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

The Premier, while receiving Mr. Mitchell courteously, did not hold out any hopes that the prayer of the petition would be granted.

Judge Curran was here to-day and received many congratulations on his appointment. It may be stated that as a matter of English precedent, the English Attorney and Solicitor-Generals are invariably elevated to the Bench after their term of office.

Several suggestions were afloat with regard to a successor in the Solicitor-Generalship. For instance, the proposal is made to transfer Hon. J. F. Wood to the post and appoint Hon. G. B. Baker to the Controllership; another report has it that Mr. Baker may become Solicitor-General, but nothing definite has been decided.

HON. L. P. PELLETIER.

Asked to Make a Change From Provincial to Federal Politics.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—If the Hon. Lucien P. Pelletier, Provincial Secretary in the Taillon Government, desires it he can be a member of Sir Mackenzie Bowell's Cabinet with 48 hours. This may be a piece of surprising intelligence, but it is true nevertheless. The Hon. Mr. Pelletier came up to Montreal to-day on purpose to consult his friends and there can be little doubt of the fact that Sir Mackenzie, Sir A. P. Caron and the Hon. Mr. Ives are most anxious to have the Provincial Secretary leave local politics immediately and throw in his lot with his Ottawa friends. There were many consultations held at the St. Lawrence Hall between the prospective Federal Minister and leading politicians of the district, and although some advised the eloquent gentleman to wait until the Ottawa Government made some sign in the Manitoba school question, other powerful and sagacious advisers told Mr. Pelletier that it was just as well to accept office at once and help his colleagues to get the best bargain possible for the minority in the prairie province.

"Do you think he will go to Ottawa?" was asked of one of the Provincial Secretary's colleagues, and the reply was: "I think he will."

The Hon. W. B. Ives reached the city this evening and in a short time was closeted with the Hon. Mr. Pelletier, and it is understood that there is every probability of a favorable answer going back to the Canadian Prime Minister. There is no doubt that if the Hon. L. P. Pelletier enters the Ministry he will be a great strength to the Cabinet representation from this Province. His promotion would be looked upon most favorably by both the higher and lower clergy, and the Hon. Mr. Pelletier's liberality toward the English people since he became Minister has contributed more than a little to his prestige amongst that element of Quebec's population.

The Jacques Cartier County Convention, which was to have selected a Conservative candidate to contest that division, was not a great success. There were six aspirants and three retired, so the names of Mr. D. H. Girouard, C. Monk and L. Cousineau went before the convention. The latter was the nominee of the St. Lamrent parish delegates, and their candidate not receiving what they considered fair play, the delegation withdrew from the hall. The next ballot gave 21 to Mr. Girouard, son of the ex-M.P., and 20 to Mr. Monk, but it was thought better in the interest of harmony and the party to adjourn until Monday next.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the month in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realised more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." Mrs. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

FOREIGN LABOUR ON THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

When the discussion upon the Trent Valley Canal was before the House last session and in connection with the Onderdonk contract, in which the contractors being foreigners it was suspected foreign labour might be employed, the assurance was given by the Minister of Railways and Canals, that none but Canadians would be employed, and that a clause to that effect would form one of the conditions of the contract. Therefore, many who were not very thoroughly converted to the utility of the canal, abated their opposition in view of the local benefits that would, under such arrangements, result from the prosecution of the work. Now it is reported on authority, whose reliability we have no reason to doubt, that on the Balsam Lake and Lake Simcoe contract there are employed, to the exclusion of Canadian labourers, over one hundred Danes, Italians and other foreigners. This is a clear breach of a solemn ministerial assurance, and if Sir John Haggart knows of these circumstances, he might be persuaded to remedy them by means of several expensive deputations. And he may easily be ignorant if we remember that he professed ignorance of the extensive stealing that was going on under his very ministerial nose in connection with the construction of the Curran bridges. Or, if Mr. Haggard's attention was called to the facts, his eyes might be easily blinded by a "wad" of election "argument" for use in the coming campaign. It's a poor contract that the Government can't get a pull out of. Government contracts are very Jerseys for the party, in the way of the fat results their milking yields.

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT AND COMMISSIONS.

The Chatham Planet occasionally wobbles in its orbit. A day or two ago it roundly denounced the inferred cowardice of the Ontario Government in referring important questions to commissions and it also deals in the same manner with Mr. Laurier's proposal to refer the Manitoba school question to a commission and concludes its diatribe by remarking that "things have come to a pretty pass with this country if it is to be governed by commission." A commission, properly conducted, is an excellent way of eliciting information and facts upon which to base legislative action; and no one proposes to let any matter rest with the finding of a commission. That is only the starting point for work in earnest. While it was denouncing commissions, why did not the Planet deal with the Prohibition Commission of the Dominion Government, which is at the same time the costliest and most useless commission that ever wasted the money of the country? and why did not the Planet denounce the Trent Valley Canal commission which the Dominion Government issued after it had pledged itself to build the canal? The Planet and the Dominion Government in the Manitoba matter favour the commission of blunders instead of a commission of investigation to dicover facts of which they are supremely in ignorance, and without which no satisfactory or enduring legislative or executive action can take place.

EFFECTS OF MR. LAURIER'S TOUR.

Our good Conservative friends may speak lightly of Mr. Laurier's tour, which is developing more enthusiastic welcome every stage, but it is not without its effects, if we may judge by the result of his visit to British Columbia. Prior to that visit no Liberal candidate could save his deposit in any Coast constituency. Now there are Liberal candidates in every district, and with excellent fighting chances for success. It is said that the Government will lose New Westminster, and in Vancouver Rev. R. Maxwell, a well-known Presbyterian minister, is a candidate, and has a good prospect of carrying the Liberal standard to the front. In Victoria, a Government stronghold, at a convention to nominate a Liberal candidate, there were 800 delegates present. And so on all through the Province. It is considered quite probable that the Government will lose half its constituencies west of Port Arthur. And the reason is not obscure. While the Government is losing ground, the Liberals, under the leadership of Mr Laurier, are gaining ground, and with the Government political candle burning at both ends, the prospects of a bouleversement at the next general election are not dim.

THE discovery just announced by Dr. Bell of a river emptying into James Bay, which is as wide as the Ottawa, at many points wider, and 1,500 miles long, shows little we really know as yet of our own country. Dr. Bell describes a country above the height of land where the climate and soil give every indication of being suitable for settlement. The fertile area seems to be bigger than many of the states south of the line, and quite capable of sustaining in health and prosperity as large a population to the acre as any of them.

MILITARY NEWS AND NOTES.

The Lee-Metford rifle in use in the British army weighs 9 pounds, 4 ounces. The cartridges are loaded with cordite and a bullet, composed of steel, with a covering of an alloy of nickel and copper. The diameter of the bullet is 303-thousands of an inch, having a muzzle velocity when fired of 2,000 feet per second. The rifle has a range of 2,800 yards. The next longest range rifle is the Mannlicher adopted by Austria, which has a range of 2,500 yards, 450 yards longer than any arms in use by European or Asiatic powers except Great Britain. The Lee-Metford is a magazine gun, firing 10 shots without reloading, this being the second largest number of shots. The Vetterli, in use by Italy and Switzerland, fires 12. With the Lee-Metford there is no recoil, and it is also more accurate than any other military rifle. It is understood that the Militia Department has ordered $50,000 worth of these arms, and Canadian Tommy Atkins will soon be armed with the best rifle extant.

The Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry is at present armed with the Martini-Metford. This rifle uses the same cartridge and has the same barrel as the Lee-Metford, with the Martini-Henry breech action, and is only a single shot arm. This breech action is the quickest single shot action yet invented.

Russia has the largest active army of any power in Europe, having 1,556,132 officers, non-commissioned and men, France being next with a strength of 1,128,668. Germany follows with 839,091; Italy, 755,000; Austria-Hungary, 700,744; Turkey has 185,064, and Great Britain, 136,200. Including the field reserve, first reserve and second reserve, the grand totals, including all enlisted men:—Russia, 7,812,792; France, 4,745,000; Germany, 2,977,629; Austria-Hungary, 2,109,731; Turkey, 960,400; Great Britain, 1,179,620. Of course the British navy makes their total strength equal with the other powers, having as many armed vessels as France and Germany combined.

There are twelve vessels in the fisheries protection and marine service of Canada.

The militia force of Canada, including the permanent corps, totals 36,041, including all ranks.

FASTEST BOAT IN THE WORLD

(New York Herald.)

We have now more information as to that latest wonder in marine achievement, the torpedo boat Sokol, built in England for the Russians by Yarrow. She is 190 feet long, by 18 feet 6 inches beam, with twin screws. Less than 4,000 horse power turned these screws at the mean rate of 495.15 times per minute in a three hour run, which put after the Sokol's name a mean speed of 29.762 knots. Aluminum and the alloys of bronze were used in her construction, with no less care and devotion to detail than were bestowed on the building of the Defender. In one mile the Sokol reached a speed of 32 knots, or a little short of 37 land miles per hour, the highest ever obtained from any vessel.

For the moment, supremacy of this sort belongs to Russia, but there are boats with a guarantee of 30 knots building for the British government, in the expectation that, like their predecessors, they will go a knot or so beyond that figure. Perhaps, after the great attention which has been given to the development of this type of boat, we may be already hovering on that mysterious line where the relation of speed and power as we know it suddenly changes, and instead of a little more speed for the addition of great power, a little more power will give us in comparison much more speed.

THE MANITOBA HARVEST.

The Farmers of the North West Will Have Plenty of Money to Spend.

Winnipeg, (Special) Oct. 7.—The prospects of a good year for the Manitoba farmers are now assured, thanks to the abundant harvest. One of the causes for the sickness prevalent last year will now be obviated, as the farmers will have more money to spare for the purchase of the necessities for health. One of the straws which shows which way the wind is blowing is the fact that druggists are ordering the well-known remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, in unusually large quantities. The inhabitants of the province are well aware of the value of the medicine, and only the financial stringency has hitherto prevented its universal use.

Biliousness and Liver Complaint, headache, etc., are cured by Burdock Pills.

The firm, Oak Hall, was established in Canada. The W. E. This was the ACORN planted for the first Oak Hall.

Since then stores have been opened in all the principal cities of the Dominion. Peterborough is the last to get in line and our reception has been a glorious one; the good people of this town and surrounding country have caught on quickly. For Want of Breath.

A man shot through the brain, says Victor Horsley, dies, not through failure of the heart's action, but through the want of breath occasioned by the explosive effect of the bullet passing through the wet brain substance, and consequent injury to the base of the brain. The heart goes on beating, but respiration stops; indeed, the heart is stimulated, not depressed, when a bullet enters the brain, and the proper treatment of a man thus shot is the same as that resorted to in the case of drowned people—one should try to set up artificial respiration.

ABDUCTION OF A BRIDE.

A Former Lover Secures Her Imprisonment for Three Days—Death of a Chinaman.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—A very strange case was before Judge Dugas to-day, when Victor Talloreti was charged with abducting Miss Lefebvre, who was to have been married to-day to a Mr. Martin, also of this city. It appears that the lady was once courted by the prisoner, who became be ide himself with jealousy and rage when learning of his former sweetheart's coming marriage, and put up a job to have her taken to the residence of one E. Mondehard and there kept under lock and key. The bride-elect was invited to the house unknown to her friends and there kept for three days. This morning High Constable Bissonnette entered Mondehard's house and found Miss Lefebvre lying in bed unconscious. She was removed to her home and Talloreti was arrested, with the alleged accomplice, both being liberated on bail.

A Chinaman, supposed to be Wah Lee, who kept a laundry at No. 69 Berthelot-street, died late last evening or early this morning in his place under peculiar circumstances, after having been deserted by all his countrymen, who had been living with him for the past three months. The body was found by Mrs. T. C. Mosey, who resides next door. She notified the police and the body was removed to the morgue. Deceased was said to be worth $15,000.

The Hon. Judge Cross, who was retired from the Court of Appeals in 1892, died this evening aged 74. Deceased is said to have been worth a half million dollars.

$50,000 AT STAKE.

That Was the Self-Confessed Bigamist's Motive for Surrendering.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Hugh Shaw, charged with bigamy, appeared before Judge McDougall again yesterday morning and was remanded on his own bail until time could be had to hear from the first wife in Winnipeg, who was a Miss Hall.

His father, George Shaw, died recently in Brantford, leaving an estate valued between $30,000 and $50,000.

The terms of the will are peculiar and explain the motive which caused Shaw to give himself up. Mr. T. H. Bull, Clerk of the Peace, of York, and Dr. A. Patullo of this city are the executors and the money is to go to the son Hugh if he returned and cleared himself of the charge of bigamy.

Previous to the old gentleman's death a letter was received from the first wife in Winnipeg claiming her rights. The father communicated with the son who, it is said, hastily left the country with wife number two. Unless the son clears himself of the charge or at any rate stands his trial, all his father's estate goes to charity.

Shaw, it is said, has no evidence to show that he believed his first wife to be dead beyond his own sworn statement. He says a brakeman on the C.P.R., whose name he forgets and who was at that time on the Winnipeg run, told him his wife there was dead. As there is nothing to be gained by Shaw's escape his own bail is accepted, as the judge prefers to hear from the other side before giving judgment.

FIVE BIG POTATOES.

They Were All on One Stock and Their Weight Was 12 1-2 Pounds.

Caledon, Oct. 18.—On Wednesday, the 16th, Mr. J. J. Dodds raised five potatoes attached to one stalk which weighed 12 1-2 pounds. The potato field from which the above were taken is on the farm of Mr. Thomas Smith, Lot 15, Centre Road, Caledon. Your correspondent witnessed the potatoes being weighed.

Armenian Prisoners Released.

London, Oct. 18.—A despatch from Constantinople dated yesterday says that the commission appointed by the Porte to inquire into the guilt or innocence of the Armenians who have been arrested since September 30 have caused the release of 47 of the prisoners, who are declared to be innocent of any complicity in the rioting.

The request made by Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, for permission to visit the prisons has been granted, and Secretary Lister and two other delegates of the powers have inspected the prisons.

It is now stated that the number of persons who were killed during the recent troubles at Trebizond was 400. The disorders there were promptly quelled.

JAPAN HUMILIATED.

Arbitratory Course Adopted by Russia and France.

THEY DEMAND INSTANT ACTION.

The Mikado's Government Keeps the Mortifying Truth From the People—The Loaotung Matter Must be Adjusted at Once—Reduction of the Indemnity.

Tokio, Japan, Sept. 27, via San Francisco, Oct. 17.—Russia and France have again imposed their will upon Japan, and again Japan has yielded, feeling that the time for resistance has not come.

The tone adopted by the envoys of those two European powers in demanding an immediate adjustment of the Liaotung business was so arbitrary that Premier Ito and his colleagues saw it would be dangerous to prolong discussion.

The claim for compensation was reduced to thirty million taels, on the payment of which it is agreed that the Manchurian territory shall be immediately evacuated. It was strongly argued by the Japanese that the withdrawal of the troops should be delayed until China carries out the conditions of the Shimonoseki treaty, but to this proposition Russia would not listen.

For the second time Japan has been bitterly humiliated. The effect, when the facts become publicly known, will be to partly reawaken the excitement of last May and to intensify the violence of the parties hostile to the Government.

The usual methods are employed to keep the story secret as long as possible. The press is watched so closely no reference to the transaction can appear in print, and political editors are summarily silenced if they come anywhere near the forbidden theme.

THE ASSASSINS WERE JAPS.

Tai-Won-Kun, the Usurper, Appears to Hold the Whip Hand at Present.

New York, Oct. 18.—A corespondent of The Herald at Seoul, Corea, telegraphs the following: The Crown Prince, who was with the Queen when she was murdered, has secretly sent from the palace a statement, giving a description of the assassins, by which they are identified as Japanese. I have personal assurance from the Japanese Government that every guilty person will be punished.

The plot originated with disgraced Corean officials, who employed Japanese Soshi and corrupted the Japanese troops. I have a statement of the colonel of the palace body guards who says the Japanese assassins entered the Queen's apartment with swords. He afterward saw them burning the body. Proofs are said to exist connecting the Japanese Minister with the plot.

Procurator Kamura and a commission have arrived from Japan to investigate the outbreak. There have been more arrests of Japanese Soshi.

The usurper, Tai Won Kun, issues a proclamation saying he is in the palace to secure peace. The Cabinet is not recognised and is falling to pieces.

New York, Oct. 17.—The Herald's St. Petersburg correspondent says: Russia at the present time is inclined to allow Japan a free hand in Corea in connection with the present outbreaks.

A DEAL FOR $400,000.

Timber Limits on the Kippewa Sold to a New Firm.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The sale of timber limits of the David Moore Lumber Company on the Kippewa was consummated yesterday. The limits are now the property of a new firm, A. A. Buell & Co. This firm is composed of A. A. Buell, Burlington, Vt.; W. G. White, New York, and F. W. Avery and Charles E. Reid of this city. The purchase price is $400,000. The limits are eight in number, each limit covering 50 square miles; consequently the deal means the purchase of a 400-mile timber area.

Catholics Told to Stand Aloof.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—In accordance with instructions from Pope Leo, submitted through Mgr. Satolli, a decree will shortly be issued by the Archbishops of the country informing Catholics that they are not to take part in religious congresses. The letter is looked upon by prominent Catholics as a direct blow at the policy of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland, who not only were most prominent in the Congress of Religions, but who openly urge the holding of such congresses.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. You can see for yourself you are in danger of losing the admiration which is every woman's due. You may not really realize it, but health is the greatest beautifier in the world. Lotions, plasters, creams and cosmetics cannot make as good a complexion as health can. They cannot hide the story of ill-health. They merely emphasize it. Health shows in clearness of eyes and skin, in redness of lips and vivacity of manner and expression. Disease is proved positively by the absence of these things. When a woman sees the indications of ill-health in the face, she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. These things in themselves are in some degree related, and nine-tenths of all the sickness of women come from them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. It rests with herself. If she will take these truly wonderful remedies, and follow a few hygienic measures, she may become perfectly strong and healthy in all ways. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman. All druggists sell Dr. Pierce's medicines, but if you care to know more about them and to know all of the grandest medical truths, send 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and a complete copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Several finely illustrated chapters are devoted to the consideration of diseases of women and their successful home-treatment. Cheese Raises in Price.

Cheesemakers in this section are feeling exuberant over the sudden jump which the price of cheese has taken at Utica. Last week it sold as high as 9¾ and 10 cents, and although no reason can be ascribed for the sudden raise in the figures, the local men are only interested to the extent that there will not be a drop in price before next Saturday.

Guaranteed Cure for Tobacco

The Uncle Sam Tobacco Cure will stop the tobacco habit—that's a certainty. So confident are the manufacturers that it will do all it claims, they will refund the money in every case where the tobacco user has strictly followed directions for 30 days without being cured. Money talks, and merit wins—they mean what they say. The medicine is for sale at Lynch's drug store, Hunter street, where the guarantee is good.

The Longest Concession.

Geo. Embleton and G. Cochrane under the direction of J. L. Aunger, have expended $150 of township, county and government money on the tenth concession of Belmont. The expenditure built one half mile of the two miles, which, when completed, will open out the longest concession in the township. This will be a great advantage to the residents of the back country, as it will shorten the distance to Havelock by six miles.

The Three Graces.

Rosy cheeks, laughing eyes, and teeth of pearly whiteness. Bright smiles with a background of teeth not resplendent of whiteness and purity—impossible. Beauty may be found hidden in a bottle of foaming Ivorine, the newest, best and most fragrant preparation for the teeth. Ivorine is so nice to use—fragrant, refreshing. It purifies the breath, which it renders sweet, and to the teeth it imparts both whiteness and brilliancy.

Will our Board do Likewise?

Madoc Cheese Board closed on Tuesday evening last after a most successful season. After the adjournment, the board tendered the cheese buyers and the president an oyster supper in Mrs. Moon's hotel. The hostess furnished an excellent spread, to which ample justice was paid. About sixty sat down to the festive board. Mr. J. K. McCargar was unanimously appointed chairman, and discharged the duties pertaining to that responsible position with his usual grace and tact. There were politicians, medical men and other invited guests and a number of good speeches were given by different guests around the board. A very pleasant evening was spent by all those present.

The Lumber Kings on the Move.

Lumbering promises to be very active this winter, as a large company of men—many hundreds, in fact—are now employed in the shanties of the various districts, and additional gangs are getting ready to join them. It is understood that the wages paid are an advance over last year. The lumbering business is a great factor in distributing wealth throughout the country, as scores of men find employment in this way, who would remain idle probably the greater part of the winter. It is also a boon to the settlers of the back country, whose only cash revenue, sometimes, is what they derive from the sale of logs they cut and sell to the lumbering companies.

Contrary to Law.

A daughter of Mr. John Benn, manufacturer of dynamite at Tweed, has laid herself and her father open to a very serious offence and are now at the mercy of the Bay of Quinte Ry. Co. It appears that Miss Benn has been making several trips over the railway to Marlbank and each time she carried a black valise. On Friday last she made her last trip and left her valise in the station at Marlbank while she went up town. The agent began to suspect that something was wrong and opened the valise and to his surprise found that it contained dynamite. The authorities of the railway were at once notified and now Mr. and Miss Benn are at their mercy. The penalty for carrying dynamite over the railroad is $500 fine and six months' imprisonment.

Too Long on the Shelf.

A commercial traveller told to-day at the Benson House, says the Lindsay Post, how, a few weeks ago, a Peterborough young man bought a pair of socks containing a note saying the writer was an employee in a Canadian knitting factory and wanted a good husband. She gave her name and requested the buyer, if an unmarried man, to write with a view of matrimony. The young man who found the note considered the matter in all its phases, and decided to write to the girl, and he did. Awaiting the answer with considerable anxiety he was at last rewarded with a curt letter stating that the girl was now the mother of two children and had been married four years, and the letter he had answered had been written over so long ago. It was a "sock" dolager, and the young man hunted for a solution. He found it. The merchant of whom he bought the socks doesn't advertise.

The date of the Jehin Prume and Harold Jarvis Concert in the Opera House, is Oct. 29th.

THE LE SIMPLE CONCERT.

The Distinguished Artist's Magnificent Performance.

A small audience greeted M. Le Simple, the German 'cellist, at the Opera House last night. The music-loving people, however, were there and were aroused to enthusiasm by the exquisite playing of the distinguished artist. His first number was an andante by Golterman. The slow solemn movement was rendered to perfection. Probably nothing so pure and beautiful was ever heard in Peterborough. The melody of Gluck was surpassingly sweet and in the Spanish serenade even the most unpractised ear could respond to the depth of the heart's emotion. His other pieces, Tarantella, the Gavotte and the Spinning Song, were a wonderful blending of tone and execution. To be more specific it may be mentioned that a distinguished feature of Mons. Le Simple's playing is its brilliance. The Cantilena by Goltermann, showed the warmth and breadth of his wonderful tone. His double stopping was showed to marvellous perfection in Popper's Tarantella. His admirable technique was further exhibited in the "Spinning Song," where an executive ability that would do credit to a violin virtuoso was displayed. The whole selection is performed on the first string in the form of a motum perpetuum. With Squires' Gavotte Mons LeSimple simply enraptured his hearers, and he had to repeat a movement or two, but it was in the melody of Gluck that he had his greatest triumph. The intensely sympathetic and soulful expression that the performer infused in the interpretation of this number is simply indescribable—and there was a considerable interval of breathless silence, preceding the inevitable outbreak of applause and an irresistible demand for second hearing. His complete mastery of the instrument enabled him to interpret with absolute fidelity, these delightful numbers. He will return to Peterborough perhaps in November and we hope he may be induced to favour us again.

Dr. and Mrs. Saunders were acceptable in their vocal and instrumental solos. In Gluck's aria Mrs. Saunders was especially pleasing, while Dr. Sanders was at his best in the Fantaisie de Concert.

THE LOCK WORKS AND THE COUNCIL.

Two Propositions Respectfully Submitted.

Mr. Carnegie, president of the Lock Works Company, had an interview with the Finance Committee of the Town Council last night, and on behalf of the Auburn Woollen Company, made the proposition to the town that the Auburn Woollen Company would give the Lock Works Company a free site south of the railway track, on the grounds of the Woolen Company, and erect buildings such as the Lock Works Company required, and furnish free water power, if the town would exempt the Lock Company's new premises and the Auburn Woollen Mills, that is the woollen mills on both sides of the river. This is practically a bonus of $500 per year for ten years.

The proposition of the town is to give the Lock Works the land owned by the town in the South Ward, lying between the two railway tracks and estimated to be worth $6,000, and exempt the property for ten years, the company to put up its own buildings.

A GRIST OF CASES FROM THE POLICE COURT.

Murphy Goes West With a Provincial Constable.

Albert Warren paid $5.00 into the magistrate's coffers this morning for "forestalling" on the market, viz: purchasing goods as a huckster before he had any right so to do.

A drunk named John McCaffray, of Port Hope, was allowed to go on condition that he leave town at once.

Robert Beverley and George Young were apportioned $8.47 and $7.25 respectively by the magistrate in liquidation of their claim for wages against Mr. Alfred McDonald, upon whose timber limits they had been working.

Provincial Constable Heffernan left for Walkerton this afternoon with Murphy, who he is sure is the man wanted there for holding up an Arabian peddler. The constable stated that when he was after the gang they fired upon him, actually coming so close as to cut a branch from his hand. The constable is just returning from Kingston where he was taking a prisoner to the penitentiary.

THE OUTFALL SEWER.

How the Work is Progressing on the two Sections.

There are thirty-five men at work on section No. 3 of the outfall sewer and the excavations have already reached the C. P. R. tracks, which will be tunnelled on Monday.

The water from the surface is all being gathered by the big ditch, making it disagreeable for the pick and shovel men.

Section No. 2 is not completed yet, but should be done by the early part of next week. The rainy weather had kept back the work considerably.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

The Tweed News says: Mr. Tom Wray, who is prospering in Minneapolis, was summoned to Peterborough last week to see his brother, James G., who died on Tuesday morning. Tom spent a day in Tweed last week with his father and sister here and returned again to Peterborough.

The many friends of Rev. Father D. O'Connell in his old time parish of Douro, and in Ennismore and Peterborough, will be much interested in knowing that the reverend gentleman leaves soon, we are informed, on an extended visit to the Old World, his tour including, of course, Ireland and Rome, besides other countries on the continent, and the Holy Land. The hosts of friends of Rev. Father "Dan," as he is familiarly known, will recognise that he has good claims to a holiday. He has been 31 years in the priesthood, having been ordained by Rt. Rev. Bishop Horan, of Kingston, in 1864. He has served under five bishops, and for twenty-three years was the popular and beloved pastor of Douro, as shown by the dutiful and affectionate address presented on his departure, recounting his many kindnesses and his devotion to the work of the church in the parish. In 1889 Rev. Father O'Connell was translated to Ennismore, and now he is about taking an extended European tour, from which his many friends wish him a safe return.

Tricks That are Vain.

In vain is the net spread in sight of any bird, and in vain do unscrupulous dealers offer a high price label with a poor wine inside the bottle. The Bordeaux Claret Co., are not concerned about a label. They have put before the public a generous, old, robust wine at a price which has absolutely paralyzed the high priced people. Even those who like well enough to get wine at half price have almost been afraid to believe the good news. The new prices for Clarets and Burgundies are $3 and $4 per dozen quarts. Bottled from the wood imported direct from the Vineyards of France. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

Costly Warships.

Referring to the cost and size of a war vessel of the Magnificent class which is just approaching completion in the Chatham dockyard, a writer in the Windsor Magazine for September states: "Each of these ships when completed will cost close upon a million pounds. The weight of one of them is 14,900 tons. The fabric itself weighs 6,000 tons; there are 3,000 tons of armor; the engines weigh about 1,300 tons; there will be 900 tons of coal, though the bunkers will be capable of carrying 1 400 tons; and the stores, men and equipment will make another 1,000 tons. Some of the armor plates which skirt certain parts of the ship for protective purposes cost as much as £2,000 a piece; indeed, on each of the battleships £320,000 is being spent for armor plates alone.

To Secure a Desk.

The school management and and property committees of the Kingston School Board met Tuesday night to hear Mr. Newlands, writing master, present reasons why a change in school desks was needed to aid in perfecting the vertical writing system. He said that flat desks were constructed for the Spencerian style of writing, a sideway position being required. With a front position as required in vertical writing the desks were unsuitable. A slant of fifteen degrees was needed to give an easy position. He had experimented and found his views correct; other specialists in New York and Duluth had reached similar conclusions. A sample desk, with slanting top, curved back and hollow seat, the suggestions of Mr. Newlands, was shown and generally admired. The desk is known as "The Natural" and is of local manufacture. The property committee ordered fifty desks to supply a room in Cataraqui school, where new desks were needed, and to fully test the new construction as to its suitability for writing and other purposes.—Kingston Whig.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Its Record in the Examinations a Fine One.

The record of the Collegiate Institute at the recent departmental examinations is one that should be very gratifying to the friends of the school and satisfactory to the ratepayers generally, as showing that what is spent on higher education in Peterborough is well spent and that corresponding results are achieved. For instance, as will be seen by reference to the results of the examinations as published in yesterday's EXAMINER:—

At the Primary examination 53 candidates wrote and 37 were successful, 71 per cent. as contrasted with 40 per cent., the percentage passed in the whole Province. At the Junior Leaving 36 wrote and 15 were successful; 42 per cent. 10 more of these were granted certificates for having passed part I of the Matriculation. At the Senior Leaving 16 candidates wrote and 13 were successful; 75 per cent. At the Matriculation examination 21 candidates wrote, 16 of these were entirely successful and of the 5 remaining only 3 failed outright, as the other two passed Part 1 of the examination.

With regard to matriculation examinations, a rumour to the effect that the Institute passed not candidates, is rendered absurd by the facts presented, and additional excellence is added to the matriculation record by the fact that two candidates won four University scholarships of the value of $520. Of this amount that brilliant youngster, W. J. Spence, won $495—of which only one scholarship, however, of $180, he was, according to regulation, allowed to hold, but the fact remains that he won them.

THE DOURO CATTLE FAIR.

Over $1,500 Realised for St. Joseph's Church, Yesterday.

The famous Douro cattle sale took place yesterday, Mr. John Haggart being the auctioneer, and over $1,500 being realised for the augmentation of the funds of St. Joseph's R. C. Church, in that township.

One hundred and eighteen head of cattle in fine condition were put up for sale and were all knocked down in three hours, Mr. Haggart disposing of them almost at the rate of one a minute.

The attendance of buyers was large, and the bidding for the choice steers the most brisk and snappy in Mr. Haggart's experience.

It will be remembered that in 1892 a large number of the farmers in Douro presented a calf to the church, agreeing to save it to be sold by auction, three years later. The above mentioned sale was the result of this unique but most successful way of raising money for church funds, and Rev. Father Keilty is to be congratulated upon his hard work and devotion being so gratifyingly rewarded and recognised.

ST. PAUL'S CHOIR.

A Pleasant Evening Spent at the Home of the Pastor.

The members of the choir of St. Paul's church assembled last evening at the residance of their pastor, Rev. Dr. Torrance, and spent several hours very enjoyably.

Dr. Torrance is accustomed to invite the singers of his congregation to spend an evening with him periodically, and the event is always looked forward to by the members of the choir with considerable interest.

Last evening after spending some time in social intercourse, a number of anthems were sung, and after refreshments had been served Dr. Torrance read a passage from Scripture, and the exceedingly enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the offering of prayer.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equally interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now for instance the minor ailments that afflict us. Why should so many fradulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless.

Street Railway Convention.

The proceedings of the above convention in Montreal are proving to be of interest. The president of the association, Mr. Joel Hurt, of Atlanta, delivered the annual address, in which he said there are now in operation in the United States 179,300 miles of steam roads, and about 13,500 miles of street railways. The passenger receipts of the steam roads for the past year amounted to $276,081,000. The gross receipts of the street railways were between $125,000,000 and $140,000,000. This makes the street railway passenger receipts about 45 per cent. of the steam road receipts. The total capitalization of bonds, stocks, etc., of the steam roads in the States is about eleven billion dollars, of street railways about $1,200,000,000. The profits of steam roads were $322,000,000, of street railways $43,000,000. These figures show the magnitude of the business. No representative is in attendance from the Peterborough and Ashburnham Electric Railway.

REV. DR. DEWART'S INTERESTING TALK.

HIS TRIP ABROAD IS DESCRIBED.

The Audience is Delighted With the Descriptive Merits of His Most Pleasing Address.

The attendance in the George street church, last evening, to hear Rev. Dr. Dewart deliver an address on his trip abroad, was large and the closest attention was paid to the remarks of this scholarly divine, whose name is so well known in both church and literary circles in Canada. The Doctor looks most hale and hearty, his trip to the Old Country having apparently reinvigorated him to a wonderful extent, lending a new energy to his voice and bearing.

This address took the form of a descriptive talk, and was interesting in the extreme. He stated that if he spoke during the evening of historic facts he could say that Peterborough was to him as historic a place to him as existed. To-day he had been down to the shore of the Little Lake and seen the spot where from the steamer which brought him here years and years ago.

One of the greatest pleasures, he thought, of a voyage to the old land was the pleasure of anticipation. It was the land of which you have heard—the land of which you have read—the land of Milton, of Shakespeare, of great intellects—in fact of the men who in their time had created history. Therefore, anticipation of such a trip was invested with a peculiar interest for him.

The ocean itself was a wondarful thing. Its vastness could never be realized until it was crossed. Our mind were so small that it could not grasp its magnitude, but where you sail on and on, for seven days and seven nights, then, and only then, you feel its vastness thrust upon you. This vastness has a most expanding influence on the mind. One of the points noticeable in crossing is that the common interests of the passengers draw them together in a common unity. The very fact that whatever affects that ship affects all, for weal or woe seems to draw all together, although their other interests may be most diverse.

However grand and beautiful the ocean may be, there are few who are not glad at

THE SIGHT OF LAND.

Those who have been seasick, feel an inexpressible exiliaration of spirit.

After landing at Liverpool the Doctor went down to beautiful, unique, quaint old Chester, with its great walls. The place abounds in historic spots, recalled by a visit to it. Hawarden church had been visited, just outside Chester, in the hopes of seeing the Grand Old Man, but Mr. Gladstone was not present. Wales had also been visited, and the beautiful mountain scenery made a most powerful impression on the speaker. The Duke of Westminster's country residence was grand beyond description, the lavish display of wealth being such as to almost lead to the belief that the place was kept up at the expense of the country.

Manchester, Leeds, Sheffield and a number of other manufacturing centres had been also visited and were described as in the extent to which manufacturing was carried.

It was hard indeed to run across an English or Irish family that had not some relatives in America and consequently the warmest receptions were met with everywhere by the doctor, who was known, of course, to be from Canada.

An American had been Dr. Dewart's travelling companion for some time and the extreme reluctance of the man to admit that anything in England was worthy of admiration, vexed the doctor not a little. Picturesque Derwentwater, however, finally drew from him the remark that even if Heaven were no more beautiful he would be satisfied.

Edinburgh, said he, is one of the most beautiful of cities. A grand situation and historic interest combine to make it an ideal spot to visit. Its grand fortified castle and other spots recall historical facts at every turn. It had a beauty peculiarly its own and could be compared to nothing else. The grand old paintings were particularly admired by the doctor. The English and Scotch people, the doctor claimed, were the most warm-hearted and friendly people on the face of the earth.

BEING FAR AHEAD

of even Canadians in the art of entertaining and extending hospitality.

Mr. Crawford Johnson, brother of Mr. William Johnson, of Belleville, was, in the doctor's opinion, doing the greatest religious work in Ireland, in the city of Belfast, the success attending his efforts being wonderfully blessed.

The alteration in Ireland was hardly perceptible since the doctor left there in his sixth year. In and about his birthplace he could point out where his old friends used to live. Many stories were told of the humour of the Irish, and though some of the stories were certainly exaggerated the humour was to be found on every side.

The rush and roar of the London streets particularly impressed the speaker, fairly fascinating him, and appearing to him as though he was at the centre of the world, and was witnessing the pulsations of its heart, the surging tide of humanity being comparable to nothing else.

Being brought into tangible contact with memories of historic interest generated a feeling of awe, which the speaker found it DIFFICULT TO DESCRIBE.

Visiting the old church in which Milton was buried, Cromwell was married, and Frobisher was laid to rest, brought up the recollection of facts of which only the most misty memories were in the mind, but which hereafter could never be forgotten.

The Swiss scenery was most impressive and stirred the speaker's soul in a manner which made it necessary to voice his admiration until his vocabulary of praise was completely exhausted. In some faint way the scenery was, he felt sure, typical of the glories of the throne of the most High. It was an event of one's life to only take a cursory glance at such scenery. With Keats he could say "A thing of beauty was a joy forever."

Dr. Dewart closed his interesting address by a reference to the kind motherly appearance of the Queen, whom he had the privilege of seeing at a fair in an old castle, where the princess Beatrice conducted one of the stands. In answer to a question concerning the manner of attire worn by the Queen, the doctor stated that none of the fol de rols of fashion emanated from her, as she was most plainly dressed.

On motion of Dr. Fife and Dr. Goldsmith a most enthusiastic vote of thanks was tendered the doctor, to which he replied in a few appropriate words.

During his stay in town both Dr. and Mrs. Dewart are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton.

Grafton's are proving it right along, that they sell the best class of Ready-made Clothing, at the lowest prices.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Lexington, Oct. 16.—Robert J. proved him self the best of the four starters in the free-for-all pace to-day, and vanquished the two star performers, John R. Gentry and Joe Patchen, quite handily. His strongest rival for first honors was the New England gelding Frank Agan, who figured in each of the three heats all the route as a close second, but a break near the wire in the deciding heat caused him to be placed last and Gentry second.

In the auction pools Robert J. and Joe Patchen sold for $50 each, while Agana and Gentry brought $15 as a field.

In the first heat Agana drew the pole, with Robert J. on the outside, and it was a merry clip to the half in 1.01½ against a stiff wind. Patchen and Frank Agan went like a team, with Robert J. two lengths back, and Gentry not in the hunt. Swinging down the home stretch Geers moved up, with Robert J., and outfooted Agan by a small margin. In the next two heats it was Robert all the the route, and the tour pacers were closely bunched, Geers reserving his speed for the last, where Hamlin's great pacer showed he was by large odds the best to-day.

Lynne Bell proved himself a game and reliable race horse in the 2.11 trot. Five of the Transylvania starters were in to-day's event, and Lynne Bell proved the best. Altao won the third heat in 2.11. In the next heat McDowell went away, wit h Altao at a killing clip, making the half in 1.04¾, and was a length in front of Lynne Bell. At the seven furlongs Altao made a stand-still break and dropped out of it. The 2.20 pace proved tiresome before a conclusion was reached. Madge D. won a heat last night, and after one to-day appeared distressed, but revived in the seventh and distanced the two heat winners, Harry Victor and Rusie Clay, in very slow time. The pair of pony trotters, Winnie and Algeria Queen, lowered the world's record of 2.46 to 2.32¾, double, to a bicycle wagon, making a new record for a trotting team under 14½ hands high. They are owned by A. J. Welch of Hartford, Conn. Summaries:

2.20 class, pacing; purse, $500—Madge D. 1, Harry Victor 2, Russie Clay 3. Best time 2.16.

The Hello Girl.

People of a curious turn of mind often think that the telephone girls enjoy wonderful facilities for knowing everyone's affairs, as they listen to the business transactions from 1200 offices and the messages that are sent to and from 300 residences. But all that comes over the telephone literally goes in one ear and out the other. The operator has altogther too many subscribers to attent to to waste any time in listening to what does not concern her, and as soon as she has called up the number wanted she drops her cam and throws herself out of the circuit. But the telephone girls are advantageously situated in another way. They are at any time within speaking range of their friends all over the city. In spite of the insurmountable difficulties in love-making, which distance is said to interpose, the telephone is made use of to carry Cupid's messages, and not long ago there occurred a wedding among the girls at the central office that was the outcome of a romantic courtship. But communications of this nature are decidedly out of order and contrary to rules, and the girl who indulges in them does so at her peril. For the manager, sitting in his office, has only to put his ear to the 'phone on his desk to hear what each operator is hearing, and thereby a message meant for her ears alone might also reach his, and dire results would be sure to follow.—Chicago Chronicle.

The Individual Butter Plate.

Among the ultra-fashionable the individual butter-plate is not used. The new bread-and-butter plates are so made that the ball of butter sinks into a small cavity partially filled with cracked-ice. The most dainty of the new bread-and-butter plates are of pure white china of egg-shell thickness and with a broad rim of gold. The butter knife has a flat gold blade and a beautifully wrought gold and enameled handle. These bread-and-butter plates, with knives to match, sell for $200 a dozen. It is safe to say that for some time yet the ordinary mortal will be content to eat his butter of the old-time individual plate.

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEFLER, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

THE GROUND CHERRY.

With many farmers the ground cherry is classed among the weeds, as it grows wild in many parts of the central and western states. Its value as a fruit has not been generally appreciated and until the past few years it was seldom seen in cultivation. An improved variety is now finding its way in our seedmen's catalogues, and there is no doubt that it will grow in favor. With me the improved ground cherry has proven itself worthy of a place in the garden. The plant is quite hardy, and will thrive on any soil where potatoes will grow. The fruit when the husk has been removed is a handsome yellow cherry of about three-fourths of an inch in diameter. It has something of a strawberry flavor, and is excellent for sauce, pies, or preserves. For winter use the fruit may be canned or dried. Or if kept in a cool place in its husk the cherry will keep plump and sound until December, or later.

In growing ground cherries about the same method is pursued as in growing tomatoes. The seeds are sown in hotbeds and the young plants are not taken to the garden until danger of frost is past. The plants are very branching, most of the branches taking a lateral direction, almost touching the ground. For this reason they should be set not less than four feet apart each way. There is need of extra care in keeping down the weeds during the first half of the season, for later on the plants are in the way of such work. The ground cherry is wonderfully prolific. The first ripe ones are gathered about the first of August. After this the fruit may be picked every two or three days until out off by frost. The fruit drops off as soon as it is ripe, so the most of the picking is done from the ground. On good soil one may expect to get a bushel from 18 to 20 plants, or from 180 to 150 bushels per acre.

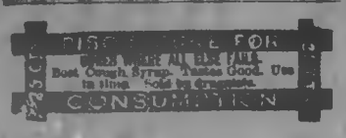
Doing His Best.

A Scotch school journal recently published the following pathetic anecdote, says The Wellspring: The crack batsman of a school cricket team was the only son of a gentleman who for many years had been blind. He had played and loved the game in his boyhood, and when his son was old enough to take a part in it he would be led to the field every time he played, and anxiously follow every stroke through the eyes of his companions. Upon returning home the game was eagerly discussed, and the son advised in every detail. Last summer the father died suddenly. The next week, to the surprise of the school, Tom, who mourned bitterly for his father, asked to take his place in the team. He played with unusual care and brilliancy, and when the game was over went to the umpire.

"How did I play?" he asked anxiously.

"Never better; you outdid yourself," was the reply.

"Because," the boy said as he turned away, "it was the first time my father ever saw me bat."



AFTER THE HUNT.

How the Buffaloes Were Divided Up Among the Indians.

No man was in haste to claim his game the moment it fell, because his arrows had some peculiarity in their decoration by which they could be identified, and later his bullets were marked. The Omahas were expert hunters, and many a man could boast of having sent an arrow clean through one buffalo to lodge in a second beyond.

The flaying and cutting up of the animal takes place upon the field, and the meat and pelts are packed upon the ponies in charge of the boys. The method of skinning and dividing the buffalo, elk and deer is according to fixed rules; there are twelve cuts, four specified ones, with the hide, belonging to the slayer of the animal. The first man who comes to assist in the cutting up of the game is entitled to his choice of two of the remaining pieces, with the exception of "the breast," which is always the property of the last to give his services. This disposition of the pieces gives opportunities to the poor and the luckless to obtain provision for themselves and their families. If a hunter has borrowed a horse or a weapon, half of his share must go to the owner.

Women never go upon the hunting field unless to assist a childless husband in taking care of the game. After the laden ponies have reached the camp, the duties of the women begin in the preservation of the meat. They cut the hindquarters into thin slices, and hang them up on frames to dry; the muscle over the ribs is cut in strips, dried and braided; and when the meat is well cured pemmican is made. The drying or canning of the skins then requires attention: the summer pelts are used for moccasins, clothing and tent covers; for robes and for bedding only the winter skins are used. For the latter purpose the hide of the bull is preferred because of its weight, and the animal is cut and flayed differently from the others.—"Hunting Customs of the Omahas," by Alice C. Fletcher, in September Century.

A PORTABLE ROW OF HENS' NESTS.

Where but fifteen or twenty hens are kept, and no regularly constructed henhouse is at hand, a series of nests so made from light material that they can be readily moved about as desired, will be found a valuable acquisition. The manner of constructing these nests is shown in the illustration. Five or six, or even as many as eight nests may be thus grouped. The next space, z, is one foot wide at the bottom; the front board is six inches wide; the open space between this and the roof board, a, is eight inches wide, the roof board being about fifteen inches in width. An alighting or stepping board, x, is six inches wide, leaving an inch space between that and the front of the nests, for refuse to pass through. The hangers, s, s, may be of any strong material, and hung upon spikes, driven at the proper place and in a slanting direction. The bottom, front, back and cover may be made from well-seasoned half-inch stuff, the divisions being from one inch material, to better hold the nails. The stepping board should be located about one foot from the ground or floor, that the hens may easily jump up to it. This row of nests may be changed from the inside to the outside of a building, or placed where most convenient. Where nests are located singly and some distance apart, the laying hen will occupy the nest with another—especially if both are in the habit of dropping their eggs in that identical nest. By this system of grouping, when they reach the stepping board, or walk, and find one nest occupied, they pass on to another, without molesting the occupant. Another point in favor of portable nests is that they are readily taken down, and every part can be thoroughly cleaned or whitewashed, which is not practicable where the nests are nailed in position, as a part of the building. Those who have tried this plan of grouping nests find it extremely convenient and practical.

"The Common People,"

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Scott's Sarsaparilla

ACUTE Inflammatory Rheumatism is produced by an excess of uric acid in the blood. Paralysis is nearly a dead circulation produced by impure and impoverished blood. So-called neuralgia of the thigh is seldom rheumatism; scrofulitic rheumatism is hereditary; syphilitic results from syphilis; gout is caused by high living; sluggish circulation affects the heart.

"THE KIND THAT CURES"

Thus the whole line of rheumatic diseases owe their being to an affected circulation of impure blood. No person can suffer a rheumatic pain that has a free and equal circulation of pure blood, and this accounts for Scotts Sarsaparilla curing the supposed incurable cases. It eradicates all rheumatic poisons and acids from the blood and equalizes the circulation.

CANDY FOR CHILDREN.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from the ten prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Board of Managers of the Women's Society at the Second Day's Session — Resolutions Regarding Japan Trouble.

The second day's session of the Board of Managers of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society opened at 9.30 o'clock Wednesday morning in Carlton street church, Toronto. Mrs. Jackson, of Caledonia President of the Hamilton Conference branch, assisted by Mrs. Philips, of Mount Pleasant, conducted the devotional exercises.

The report of the joint committee on Japan affairs then came up for discussion, and a motion was proposed by Mrs. Masey, of Wellbridge, endorsing the action of the executive in the matter, which was carried. The following ladies constitute the committee appointed by the W. M. S., which acted in conjunction with a committee of seven men appointed by the

GENERAL BOARD OF MISSIONS:

The President, Mrs. Goodersham, Toronto; Mrs. Strachan, Corresponding Secretary, Hamilton; Mrs. Carman, Belleville; Mrs. Burns, St. Thomas; Mrs. Dickson, London; Mrs. McKay and Mrs. Longford, Toronto. As a result of the report the active relations of Rev. Dr. Eby Rev. F. A. Cassidy and Mrs. Large to the society ceased.

The report is as follows:—

The joint committee of the Executive of the two societies having considered carefully the relation of various agents of the societies in Japan, as shown by the correspondence, beg leave to report (1) that in our opinion in order to restore harmony it is absolutely necessary that several changes be made in the personnel of both missions. We therefore recommend to the Executive of the W.M.S. the withdrawal of Mrs. Large from the Japan work not later than the end of the school year. (2) Rev. Dr. Eby having tendered his resignation as missionary to Japan, we recommend the Executive of the General Society to accept said resignation, to take effect forthwith. (3) We are further of opinion that it is not expedient that Rev. F. A. Cassidy should return to Japan, and we recommend to the Executive of the General Board that he be retained permanently in this country.

The following amendment was moved:—

"Whereas strong and damaging statements have been made with regard to Mrs. Large against which positive testimony has been furnished, and whereas Mrs. Large, as well as our council, has repeatedly asked for an investigation, and whereas, we are persuaded that such an investigation is necessary to secure a righteous and satisfactory conclusion, therefore we most respectfully submit to the joint committee a proposal in place of accepting the report now presented, viz., that the General Superintendent visit Japan and obtain all required information from the workers there, as well as from returned missionaries, in order that no complaint can be justly made of judgment on partial evidence and that peace may be restored on a sure basis."

The report was accepted and to provide for Mrs. Large after her withdrawal from Japan and in order that her health may be fully restored a year's furlough on full salary was voted her.

On motion it was decided to hear all the correspondence read relating to Japan affairs that has come before the Executive since the last board meeting. Among those were a number of communications from Japanese teachers in the school at Tokyo, from Bible women, from missionaries, and one signed by 76 Japanese ladies, all testifying to Mrs. Large's great usefulness in Japan and regretting her removal.

The following extract from a letter written by Rev. Dr. Sutherland to the Executive of W.M.S. will be gratifying to all friends of the missionary cause:—"We all regret unfortunate disturbance in field of great promise, but have, after all, to congratulate ourselves that there have been no complaints concerning the doctrine and teaching of the agents of our society in that country, and not a breath of suspicion as to their moral and religious character. Further, their administration on the whole has been of such as to meet the general approval of the Home Boards. Whatever difficulties have arisen seem to have been mainly of a personal and semi-official kind."

It was resolved that the resolution requiring that candidates for mission work spend some time in the Training Home be changed to read that "Candidate be required to spend some time in a Methodist training home," and that this resolution be inserted in the annual report yearly. It was also resolved that the Executive have power to suspend this rule when in their judgment circumstances require it.

The work in Japan was still under discussion at 6 o'clock, and all the correspondence had not then been read.

At the meeting in the evening the proceedings were opened with devotional exercises, conducted by Mrs. Dixon, of London, after which the reading of the Japan correspondence was continued.

The report of Indian Work from Crosby Girls' Home, was then read. The year's progress was stated to be highly satisfactory. The home had been visited by Sir Mackenzie Bowell and party, who expressed surprise and pleasure at the progress made by the natives. There was prospect of the number in the home being considerably increased this fall. There were at present 22 persons in the home. The receipts during the year were placed at $3,220.07, and the expenditure at $3,094.60, leaving a balance on hand of $594.47.

The report of the Chinese Home, Victoria, B. C., which was also submitted, stated that the superintendent, Mrs. Morrow, was resigning. The number of girls in the Home was placed at seven. The receipts during the year amounted to $1,678.19, covered the expenditure, and the estimated value of the furniture and other contents in the home was $1,200.

The reports were adopted.

A letter from British Columbia stated that Tom Chu, a Chinaman educated at the George street school in Toronto, had married Gertie, one of the Christian Chinese girls in the home in Victoria.

JOHN KING'S BODY RECOVERED.

One of the Africa's Victims Found—One of the Dock Hands Identified.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—A despatch from Stoke's Bay last evening says Capt. John McKay, lighthouse keeper, found yesterday on Loyal Island a man's body with the name of "J. King" tattooed on the arm and from this it is supposed the body is that of John King of Oakville, who was lost in the wreck of the Africa, Oct. 7. The body was perfectly nude, with the exception of a shirt, and was badly bruised. The body is now at Stokes Bay in charge of Captain Silversides of the wrecked Severn. The captain is diligently prosecuting a search for the bodies of the lost crew.

Railroad Sold for a Million.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 17.—The Tennessee Midland Road, running from Memphis 135 miles to Perryville, Tenn., was sold to-day by the receiver for $1,000,000, the upset price. The only bidder was the St. Louis Trust Company, holders of the first mortgage bonds of that amount.

Woolen Mill Burned

Otterville, Oct. 18.—S. B. Lossing's woollen mill and contents were destroyed by fire this morning. It is apposed to be the work of some firebug, as the corner at which the fire was first seen contained no stove or combustible matter. The loss is about $4000, with no insurance.

An Age of Substitution.

Keeness of competition is the characteristic of the age, Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good," of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and do not be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

DO YOU KNOW

That in our New Custom Department, we make to order all the latest styles of Fashionable Clothing now in vogue for fall and winter wear.

Fully represented in our stock of Cloths are the Newest and Most Expensive Suitings and Pantings, such as French Worsteds, English Venetians, West of England Cloths, Serges, Scotch and Canadians Tweeds, as well as the leading lines of OVERCOATINGS, such as Beavers, Meltons, Cheviots, Thibets, &c.

There's nothing missing—not a style of cut, pattern, desirable make or fabric, that the most fastiduous Dresser longs for, but what is here—consistent with the popular demands of the season of 1895.

Overcoats
$11.50 up.

Suits
$12.75 up.

Trousers

While we can afford to dwell largely on the values we offer, at the above figures we want to impress upon you the fact that we make to order HIGHER GRADE OVERCOATS and SUITS—ranging in price from $15.00 to $18.00—equal in every respect to the garments you have to pay $18.00 and $22.00 in every Merchant Tailoring Store in town, except GOUGH'S.

Our Cutter.

MR. DUNCAN CAMERON, well-known in Peterborough for years, is our Cutter. He is a man of acknowledged ability and taste. Unsolicited testimonial from satisfied customers speak in his favour. The latest and finest Merchant Tailoring Effects have been produced from his hands, and as comparisons cost nothing give us your fall order, and we will satisfy you that what we say is right.

We take great pains in cutting and fitting and employ only the best sewers and finishers. Every suit turned out is guaranteed a perfect fit, and as we do a strictly cash business we are giving value that cannot be got elsewhere.

Small Profits.

We're believers in small profits: the more we sell the less need be the profit on a single article. Why? Because the quantity of clothing we turn out brings the material down to the lowest notch, and the cost of running our establishment down to a minimum.

Besides we're making and selling Clothing alongside of a large trade in fashionable Hats and Caps, Gentlemen's Furnishings, Boots and Shoes, &c.—hence the advantages to be derived in the way of saving money at our two stores are positively unobtainable from other merchant tailors.

NEW TROLLEY LINE.

Electric Road From Montreal to Windsor

WITH RADIALS TO OTHER POINTS

An Act of Incorporation Asked For by the Canadian Electric Railway and Power Company—Decorations For Volunteers—The Catch of Seals.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Applications for railway legislation next session are commencing to pour in. Mr. W. B. McMurrich, president of the Nipissing and James Bay Railway, gives notice that his company will seek to amend the bonding powers of the company as may seem advisable, and especially to authorize bonds to be issued upon sections of railway, to extend the time for commencement and completion of any section thereof, to authorize the company to amalgamate with, lease or sell to, or enter into agreements for the operation of the railway by any other company.

Application will be made for an Act to legalise and confirm a lease by the G.T.R. Company to the St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway Company of that portion the G.T.R. between Beauharnois and Valleyfield.

A striking application is that to incorporate the Canadian Electric Railway and Power Co., to build an electric railway from Montreal to Windsor, via Brockville, Kingston, Belleville, Toronto and London, with power to build a branch line from Toronto or other point on the main line to Suspension Bridge, and with power to build branch lines for a radius not exceeding 25 miles from any point or points on the main line, etc.

According to official advices received to-day the total sealing catch for the Canadian fleet this season amounts to 72,500, against 94,474 last year. The falling off was in the catch on the Asiatic side of the Pacific, owing to bad weather in the spring. The take in Behring Sea was 36,750, as against 26,341 last season. This is by far the largest catch in Behring Sea on record. There were 42 Canadian vessels there this year. The Behring Sea catch demonstrates that the report of the Government of Alaska that the sealing schooners were not able to make their usual catches this season is entirely erroneous.

Mr. Coatsworth, M.P., has been strongly pressing upon the Minister of Militia for a final decision on his application for the granting of a medal to those who took part in the Red River expedition of 1870. So far as your correspondent can learn, however, this question is somewhat overshadowed by the larger one of the long service decoration, in which the entire volunteer force has an interest. While using all possible influence to carry out Mr. Coatsworth's recommendation, Mr. Dickey is under the impression that it would not be well to press for a Red River medal until the one of wider interest has been disposed of. In official circles it is confidently believed that this year the long expressed desire of the Canadian volunteers for a long service decoration will be consummerated.

Recently the High Commissioner wrote to the Marine Department stating that he had received a number of applications for assistance from men who had gone from Canada to England in charge of cattle. Sir Charles Tupper asked that representations be made to steamship companies with a view to arranging that cattle men might return to Canada and not be a charge on the Dominion exchequer. Messrs. H. & A. Allan have replied to the department explaining the position of affairs. They state that cattle men prefer money payments in Britain rather than the return ticket provided for in the contracts between the shipping company and cattle exporters. They also seek to dispose of return conveyance in England rather than take ship back again to Canada, evidently the desire being to have money to spend when in England. The Allans and other weekly lines uniformly decline to grant either of these concessions, the men simply getting the return conveyance. In regard to tramp steamers, however, the custom is to give money compensation to discharged cattle men in lieu of return passage, and it is men of this class, the Allans think, that have called upon the High Commissioner for assistance. There does not seem any way in which a remedy can be found.

An order-in-Council has been passed on the report of Hon. Mr. Daly, submitting that for the convenience of settlers in unorganized and unnamed districts of the Northwest Territories, and for postal purposes, the whole of the Territories should be divided into provisional districts, and defining that four districts be established, viz., Ungava, Franklin, Mackenzie and Yukon. Ungava will embrace the territory on the west side of Hudson and James' Bay to the Atlantic; Franklin the portion to the north of Hudson Bay up to the Arctic sea; Mackenzie to the west of the district of Franklin and comprising about 586,600 square miles; and Yukon, embracing 235,000 square miles of territory between the western boundary of Mackenzie and Alaska. The district of Athabaska gets a slight addition of 143,500 square miles, and Keewatin 470,000 square miles more.

Mr. Hall Caine had a conference on the copyright question this afternoon with Sir Mackenzie Bowell. It is stated that in reply to a request from the Colonial Office the Government has expressed by cable its willingness to pay very attention to the representations of the delegate of the English authors and publishers. Mr. Hall Caine's moderate tone has made a decidedly favorable impression here.

The exports for the past month show a decrease of one million and a half, but the increase for the quarter reaches the encouraging total of $818,259. The imports during September increased half a million, although for the quarter there is a decrease of $512,639. The revenue collected from Customs increased $200,000 during the month, and for the quarter it shows the encouraging increase of $536,097.

Lieut. R. W. Brigstocke, a graduate of the Royal Military College, has just completed a topographical survey of the proposed rifle range at Hintonburgh, and is now engaged in surveying the suggested site at Rockliffe.

The Montreal Corn Exchange Association has sent a resolution of thanks to Hon. Mr. Haggart for hastening the completion of the lift lock at the Galops Rapids on the representation of the Marine Association, by which the transportation of grain was greatly facilitated.

According to a statement prepared by the Marine Department there are now 16 vessels owned by the Government employed in the lighthouse and fishery protective service.

Attention has been frequently called during the past summer to the depredations by fishermen living on the north and west coasts of Newfoundland and on the Labrador coast—these settlers being Newfoundland citizens—inflicted upon Canadian vessels which have unfortunately been wrecked in that vicinity. An order-in-Council has been passed reciting the piratical action of the Newfoundland fishermen and asking the Government of the Island to take prompt action towards stopping these practices in future.

Mr. Mills, M.P. for Annapolis, had an interview with Mr. Dickey to-day, and strongly pressed the claims of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., to be placed on the same footing as other universities in connection with the recent order allowing 'Varsity matriculants to enter the Royal Military College as cadets without further examination. The Minister explained that the recent order was only a tentative one, and at a later date he hoped to include Acadia and other institutions.

The railway committee issued an order approving of the drain built by the G.T.R. in the township of Wallfleet, the township to pay $200 towards the cost.

The withdrawals from the postoffice savings banks during August were $10,399 greater than the deposits.

New postoffices were opened in Ontario on October 1, as follows: Alliboro, W. Elgin; Great Desert, Nipissing; Griersford, N. Renfrew; Killaloe Station, S. Renfrew; Shady Nook, N. Renfrew; Union Valley, S. Leeds.

A special sitting of the Exchequer Court will be held at Cornwall on Nov. 5.

TO CONSULT GREENWAY.

Messrs. Haggart and Montague Said to be Going to Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—The Ottawa correspondent of The Tribune reiterates the announcement that two Federal Ministers are coming here to discuss the school question with Provincial Ministers. Hon. Messrs. Montague and Haggart are said to be the prospective delegates. Premier Greenway, however, has not yet been advised of their coming. It is suggested that the Ottawa Ministers may come as guests of Lieut.-Governor Patterson, and informally confer with Mr. Greenway and his colleagues. It is pointed out in this connection that there are various matters affecting the material prosperity of this province which the Federal Government could judiciously entrust to the provincial authorities, and, after all, the Manitobans are not uncompromising on the school question. The great objection to the dual system is its expensiveness. This can be met by concessions in different ways by the Federal authorities to the province.

ROBBERS CAUGHT.

Belgian Police Arrest Three American Crooks Who Were Notorious.

Bruges, Belgium, Oct. 18.—On Sept. 17 last a robbery of jewelry and notes, in all amounting to 100,000 francs, was perpetrated in Ostend, the victims being a well-known firm of jewelers. To-day three Americans named Russell, Killoran and Henry Allen, were arrested here on suspicion of being the men who committed the robbery. A woman, supposed to be Anderson's mistress, was also arrested. It is said that under the name of Anna James she is well known to the English police. The jewelry stolen was contained in boxes, which were, after their contents had been removed, apparently thrown into the sea, as they were subsequently found on the beach, where they had been washed up by the tide. The police refused to state what evidence they have to connect the prisoners with the crime, but claim to know that the men are American crooks.

The trio of postoffice robbers escaped from Ludlow-street Jail on July 4. Seeing over housetops and through alleys when the streets were thronged with holiday crowds. Having failed in their attempts to bribe Head Keeper McCabe, and Fredericks, a cleaner, they decided to escape by holding up their guards.

The three men walked down the stairs leading to their cells, and, according to the story told by Assistant Keeper Schneer, he was surprised by some one rushing up behind him and grabbing the keys, and when he turned around he found himself looking into three revolvers held close to his face by the prisoners. He obeyed with alacrity Killoran's command to hold up his hands, and when Russell calmly told him to keep them up or he would be killed, he made no attempt to lower them.

In the meantime Allen had opened one of the two remaining doors that stood between the prisoners and liberty, and Killoran and Russell lost no time in slamming the door of the cell room upon the two keepers and following him. The second door was also shut upon the keepers, and the outside door was soon opened with the proper key.

MASON VS. TOWN GOES TO SUPREME COURT.

THIS IS WHAT LAST NIGHT'S COUNCIL DECIDED.

The Matter Left in the Town Solicitor's Hands—Counsel for Both Sides Appear—Another Lease of Life to Litigation.

At a special meeting of the town council held last night the following members were present: Mayor Kendry, Councillors Cahill, Best, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Dawson, Sawers, Stone, Mason and Brady.

On a motion the reading of the minutes were dispensed with.

JANITREX PROTEM.

Councillor Stone moved, seconded by Councillor Dawson, that Miss Victoria Elliot, who has been doing the work of cleaning the town buildings for some time be paid for work done and act as janitrex until such time as a new caretaker was appointed. The motion carried.

THE LOCK WORKS.

Mayor Kendry stated that he understood that the special committee appointed to confer with a certain manufacturing industry, had received several proposals but were not ready to report. He thought that it would be a good idea to refer the matter to a committee of the whole council so that they would be able to come to a unanimous decision.

Councillor Phelan said that he had a proposition to submit but favoured having it discussed in committee.

On a motion of Councillor Cahill it was decided to have the matter referred to a committee of the whole council to be called on Tuesday evening next.

THE MASON CASE.

Councillor Cahill presented the following report of the Finance Committee:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Finance Committee to which was referred the question of further appeal in the case of Mason vs. Peterborough, beg leave to report as follows:

At a meeting of the Committee, held last evening, the town solicitor was present and advised that the case be appealed to the Supreme Court on the grounds stated in his letters to the council, and also in Mr. Moss' letter and for the further reason that the law in the matter and consequently in the cases of similiar accidents is left in doubt, as the case now stands and the law would be defined by an appeal to the Supreme Court. The costs of the appeal, the solicitor advises, would not in any event be more than $600.

The committee in considering the case has learned definitely that no offer was at any time made by the plaintiff's solicitors to the solicitor for the town or town council with a view to a settlement of the case.

Your committee, having received the explicit advice of the town solicitor to carry the case to the Supreme Court, reports the matter to the council for their action. All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

After presenting the report, Councillor Cahill stated that, as was seen, there was no recommendation in the report. When Councillor Best stated, at last meeting, that the case ought to be appealed in order to have a ruling on the point, because of the precedent the case would allow, the matter had been referred to the Finance Committee. They had received the views of the town solicitor and his associate, Mr. Moss, Q.C. It was now for the council to take action in the matter. It was rumoured greatly around town that a proposition had been made by the plaintiff early in the case to settle it. As far as the committee learned no such proposition had been received. It was a painful position to be placed in. A corporation fighting a widow. But this ought not to be considered, as it was not a matter of sympathy, but one of looking after the best interests of the ratepayers of the town. During his remarks he thought he had heard a murmer as though some one in the audience doubted his statement in reference to settling the case. He moved that if anyone in the audience knew of such a proposition that he be heard. This was seconded by Councillor Dawson.

There was no response.

Councillor Stone thought the persons who should look for settlement were the defendants, in any case, and in this case it was the town who should do so. At the last meeting of the council he would have voted to let the matter drop, but in view of Mr. Moss' letter and the advice of the town solicitor, he was going to vote for an appeal to the Supreme Court, as there was a probability of that court quashing the judgment. If they did not act upon the advice of their solicitor they would have to dispense with his services, and get another solicitor. It was on these grounds, not upon his own personal opinion, that he voted for appeal.

Councillor Mills did not agree with Councillor Stone's idea that if they discarded the solicitor's advice they would have to dispense with his services. He did not think there was any possibility of getting the decision reversed.

It was moved by Councillor Cahill, seconded by Councillor Stone, that the matter of appealing to the Supreme Court in the case of Mason vs. Peterborough, be left in the Town Solicitor's hands, to take what action he sees fit for the best interests of the town.

Mayor Kendry thought that the council ought to be guided by the solicitor in a case of this kind, and he would vote that way.

Councillor Phelan wanted the matter settled either one way or other that night.

Mr. D. W. Dumble rose at this point and stated that from the remarks passed he had been courted to speak. It was evident that the chance had been given him to do so, but because he had not said anything he did not want a misapprehension to go abroad that he coincided with them.

Councillor Dawson wanted to know why the case could not be settled now.

Councillor Best said if they wanted to settle the case why did they not do so at first? If the town's contentions were right then they were right now, and he voted for an appeal, as it was a bad precedent. The last Court (the Court of Appeal) had not gone into the evidence on the case, but had dismissed it on technical points.

Councillor Stone did not think that the judges would leave themselves open by such actions.

Councillor Mason moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor Sawers, that no further action be taken in the case of Mason vs. Peterborough.

Before putting the motions Mr. Dumble was allowed to address the council on a motion. He said that before either amendment or motion was put to a vote he

SIR HIBBERT TUPPER'S BLUNDER

Sir Charles Tupper-junior is very much junior, in fact, decidedly childish, if we note his foolish question in answer to remarks made by Mr. Laurier as to the partizan liberation of the boodlers, McGreevy & Conolly from Ottawa jail before they had served one-third of the palpably insignificant and lenient sentences imposed as punishment of their crimes. Sir Hibbert's question shows that he has neither the wisdom nor discretion nor a sense of dignity that should characterize a Minister of the Crown. Hon. Mr. Laurier has stated on several occasions during the present tour in discussing the subject, that there were convicts in Montreal and Toronto jails who had just as good reason to regain their liberty on the score of ill health as McGreevy and Connolly. No person could gainsay the correctness of Mr. Laurier's assertion, and the point made by Mr. Laurier has been emphasized by the conduct of Sir Charles Tupper, who, with the flippancy of a "smart-alec" school boy, telegraphed to Mr. Laurier for "names." The top-heavy Minister of Justice received a robust Roland from his imbecile Oliver—Mr. Laurier replied in part on the platform as follows:—

"Their name is legion. If no case has been reported to you, I advise you, as a philanthropist, to enquire into the matter, and you will find that the health of all prisoners is affected by confinement, and they are all entitled to the same tender mercies extended by the Government to McGreevy and Connolly."

The Conservative policy—and as a strategetic position it is a wise one—has been to bury the McGreevy and Connolly robberies in oblivion, but the unsalted young minister has resurrected the matter in such a manner as to give the widest and most effective prominence to its hideousness—in such a manner as to affect thousands of votes. The minister's act is as shameless as silly. No man with the least pretence to moral decency, would for a moment endorse, as Tupper has done, these robberies which he seeks to make the vehicle of a very dull jest. The crimes of McGreevy and Connolly were not light ones. The government well realized their gravity and it was, as Mr. Laurier suggests, a guilty conscience that led them to shorten the sentence of those men who knew so much and who could tell so much that would be damning to the ministers of the day and who were to be conciliated. And Mr. Laurier further suggests that the element of gratitude entered into the clemency of the government—these men had served in its behalf, and doubtless the fact that there were men sitting in the Cabinet and Parliament equally guilty, had its share in muzzling with mercy the mouths of the criminals.

THE public is beginning to ask if Sir Mackenzie Bowell is not departing from Canadian democratic simplicity in promoting a member of his Cabinet to the position of court fool.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD is credited with keeping his ascendency in the Cabinet by selecting as colleagues men of inferior ability to himself. Premier Bowell must have had that policy in mind when he chose his Minister of Justice.

THE Toronto News, referring to Sir Charles Tupper's childishly flippant question to Mr. Laurier, says: "Young Mr. Tupper did not show his father's political sagacity when he asked the question. He will show it though if he remains silent on the answer."

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

George Eliot.

No. 24.

The life of George Eliot assuredly furnishes us with a fitting theme for study and reflection, for it is full of events and circumstances different from those that are common to most women.

How few there are who have gone so thoroughly into scientific study and who have attained such heights in literary efforts as she.

That her great intellectual powers and wonderful genius were often directed into paths that in many cases were not the most advantageous none will dispute, but so many conflicting influences were at work in her career, moulding and governing that we do not wonder she was often in error.

In her religious career she started with that fervid evangelicalism which has made the base of many in this century from Cardinal Newman downwards. Then suddenly she threw it all off and embraced the hard and cruel negative doctrines of the "Westminster Review." These in turn were discarded and we find her throughout her life searching for something whereon to base her faith.

This uncertainty in her religious beliefs, which seems to permeate nearly every work she has produced is considered by many the source of that unsatisfied feeling which one experiences in reading her novels.

There undoubtedly is a tone of despondency running through all her works, with the exception, perhaps, of "Adam Beade," which was written under very different circumstances from her later books.

Critics have been struck chiefly by her extraordinary power of delineating character. She analyses rather than describes, and constantly deals with the dynamical side of her subject, tracing the working of circumstances and events in influencing or modifying the course of conduct.

She writes of her method as "The severe effort of trying to make certain ideas thoroughly incarnate, as if they had revealed themselves first to me, in the flesh, and not in the spirit."

And again in speaking of the different methods of the art, she said: She "began with moods, thoughts, passions, and then invented the story for their sake and fitted it to them."

The tendency to powerful, forcible and scientific thought of necessity had its bad effect upon her works, for in many, yes, very many cases, she allowed the working out in minutiæ of detail and extreme care of expression, to seriously interfere with the beauty and power of her productions. Her manner of writing was to think deeply upon a subject, and then retire to her own room and put her thoughts into form. This, of necessity, led to great elaboration and a necessary lack of buoyancy, which is so essential to successful novel-writing.

A novel is generally read for pleasure and the object of a novelist should be to put his thoughts into such a pleasing form that his readers will be able to accept the truths without too deep thought and study.

George Eliot did not live in the midst of her material, but

ALOOF FROM IT.

This I think is the reason that so many recognize in her style, when comparing it with other writers of her own sex and age, that she is most certainly studied, artificial and mannered.

She lived as it were on her earlier life and on the books, paintings and statues which she studied, instead of going amongst men, women and associations and gleaning from them.

"Adam Bede" must always be looked upon as her greatest work. In it she lived her old life over again. Her characters were depicted with the feeling that she knew all about them. She had them say just what was upon her own mind with the ease and buoyancy which she lost in her later works. Her own sentiment regarding it was,—"Impossible that I should ever write anything so good and true again."

The "Mill on the Floss" will always be admired for the way in which she brings us into touch with her character. Perhaps more in this work than in any other do we see her as a teacher.

SHE FORMULATES BELIEFS

and places them so nicely before us that often we are forced to ask—"Are these our own thoughts?" A very powerful factor in a novelist, no doubt, but likewise a dangerous one if directed along the wrong channel!

By many "Silas Marner" is considered one of her best works, for the reason that it is short and she had not the chance to elaborate so extensively as to take away the life and spirit so necessary to perfect work. It certainly is the one of her novels that can be read with the greatest interest.

Probably her hardest novel, the one upon which she spent most time and labour, was "Romola," "every page of which," as Mr. Oscar Browning puts it, "is replete with learning and weighted with knowledge."

Although very elaborately worked out, although there is much in it that will cause us pleasure, yet we must confess that it is a hard book in which to become interested, on account of its being "too elaborate, too laboured, too erudite."

Her poetry does not commend itself to us as true poetry.

HER STRONGEST EFFORT,

in the poetic line, the "Spanish Gipsy," containing, no doubt, many fine passages and beautifully clothed thoughts, still lacks the ring and rhythm of true poetry. Had it, with its noble scenes and stately lines, been written in prose, it would have been a grand success.

No other writer of fiction has given utterance to so many of those pithy, pungent and epigrammatic sayings which have become part of the current coin of conversation and literature and the source of which is in many cases forgotten.

On almost every page of her stories is to be found some wise thought finely expressed, some beautiful sentiment tenderly clothed, some pointed witticism exquisitely turned or some bit of humour genially exhibited and more easily than is commonly the case, these are capable of being separated without damage from the context.

After all while her poetry does not touch our souls as some does, and while we respect it for that prompted it; while her prose leaves a craving for more illusion, more fancy and enchantment in fiction, which the quality of her mind will not permit, yet the loftiness of her character is indisputed, and will stand the test of biography.

Here was a noble purpose to uplift mankind, to place before him lessons of deliberate kindness, of careful truth, of unwavering endeavour.

"My function," she says, "is that of the aesthetic not the doctrinal teacher, the rousing of the nobler emotions which make mankind desire the social right, not the prescribing of special measures concerning which artistic mind, however strongly moved by social sympathy, is often not the best judge.

Her face was but the reflection of her soul, and having studied carefully her life and works. I can come to no other conclusion than that she was prompted by noble motives, that she was inspired by grand thoughts and intentions, and that she had always in view the elevation of the race, and although there are moral spots and blemishes which cause us sorrow and pain as we think of the hours they certainly did, we must always feel that we have further one who attained a lofty altitude and must always demand our respect and admiration.

THE PEOPLE MARVELLED

AT THE RESCUE OF MR. METCALFE OF HORNING MILLS.

Badly Crippeld With Sciatica and an Intense Sufferer for Years—For Two Years was not able to do any Work—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restores Him to Health.

From the Shelburne Economist.

The completion of the local telephone service between Shelburne and Horning's Mills by Messrs. John Metcalfe and W. H. Marlatt, referred to in these columns recently, was the means of bringing to the notice of a reporter of the Economist the fact of the remarkable restoration to health some time ago of Mr. Metcalfe, the chief promoter of the line. For about twd years Mr. Metcalfe was a terrible sufferer from sciatica, and unable to work. While not altogether bedfast, he was so badly crippled that his bent form, as he occasionally hobbled about the streets of Horning's Mills, excited universal sympathy. The trouble was in one of his hips and he could not stand or walk erect. His familiar attitude, as the residents of Horning's Mills can vouch, was a stooped over position, with one hand on his knee. Mr. Metcalfe says:—"For about two years I was not able to do any work. Local physicians failed to do me any good, and I went to Toronto for treatment, with equally unsatisfactory results. I also tried electrical appliances without avail. I returned home from Toronto discouraged, and said that I would take no more medicine, that it seemed as if I had to die anyway. My system was very much run down and the pains at times were excruciating. I adhered for several months to my determination to take no more medicine, but finally consented to a trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strongly recommended by a friend. Before I had taken them very long I felt a great deal better, my appetite returned, and the pains diminished. After using the pills for some time longer I was able to stand and walk erect and resume my work in the full enjoyment of health and strength. People who knew me marvelled at the change, and on my personal recommendation many have used Pink Pills. This is the first time, however, that I have given the facts for publication."

"Walked in a Stooped Position."

On being asked if the sciatica had ever returned, Mr. Metcalfe stated that once or twice, as the result of unusual exposure, he had experienced slight attacks, but he always kept some of the pills on hand for use on such occasions, and they never failed to fix him up all right. Mr. Metcalfe, who is 52 years of age, is in the flour and provision business, and as proof of his ability to do as good a day's work as he ever did in his life, we may state that the most of the work connected with the erection of his six miles of telephone line was performed by himself. Mr. Metcalfe also mentioned several other instances in which the users of Pink Pills had derived great benefit, among them being that of a lady resident of Horning's Mills. The Economist knows of a number of instances in Shelburne where great good has followed the use of this well-known remedy.

The public are cautioned against imitations and substitutes, said to be "just as good. These are only offered by some unscrupulous dealers because there is a larger profit for them in the imitation. There is no other remedy that can successfully take the place of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and those who are in need of a medicine should insist upon getting the genuine, which are always put up in boxes bearing the words "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." If you cannot obtain them from your dealer, they will be sent post-paid on receipt of 50 cents a box, or $2.50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y.

Important Amendments re Selling Races and Starting.

Cincinnati, Oct. 18.—The annual meeting of the American Turf Congress was held at the St. Nicholas Hotel. The meeting was originally scheduled for St. Louis, but early this week was changed to Cincinnati, by a telegraphic vote, for the reason that most of the influential members are here attending the Latonia races.

The claiming clause in selling races was changed, so that outsiders cannot claim a horse. The new rule allows only those who have an entry and start in the race to put in a claim, the owner of the horse having first claim, while the owners of unplaced horses must draw for the order of their claim. The owner of the second horse can make no claim, thus preventing a collusion between him and the owner of the winner. When a horse is claimed his engagement does not follow, unless transferred by the old to the new owner in writing.

The officers for the ensuing year were then elected, Colonel E. F. Clay, president of the Kentucky Association, being selected as president; W. F. Schulte, president of the New Louisville Jockey Club, vice-president; B. C. Hopper, secretary of the Latonia Jockey Club, secretary, and O. L. Bradley, cashier of the Phoenix National Bank, Lexington, Ky., treasurer, the last two gentlemen being old officials re-elected.

A Committee of Appeals, made up of President Clayton, Ed. Corrigan and Capt. J. H. Reese, was also formed, and their duties, which they assume the first of next January, consist of dealing with rule cases handled by judges where injustice is claimed or new evidence found. They also have immediate duties on deciding on applications for reinstatement made by outlawed turf men, and all such worth consideration will be taken in the fold, but no outlawed horses will be reinstated. The committee, in fact, have power to undo any rulings made by judges, save the decision on bets. An important amendment was made to rule 116, which now provides that in no case shall the starter delay the field on account of a bad acter.

Athletic and General Notes

Hot Springs, Oct. 18.—Corbett arrived and was escorted to this city this morning from his training quarters at Spring Lake, and was met at the depot by Sheriff Houpt. Corbett, Brady and the sheriff entered a carriage and drove to the office of Justice of the Peace Kirk, where the sheriff presented his prisoner to the court.

The attorney for Corbett presented a petition to Hon. Leland Leatherman, judge of the Chancery Court of Garland County, for a writ of habeas corpus. The petition was granted, and the prisoner was arraigned before Judge Leatherman at noon. Before any important testimony was taken Attorney Martin requested the chancellor to allow Corbett to depart for Little Rock, where he has an engagement to show. The chancellor granted the request, but required the sheriff to send a deputy with him to see that he returned to-morrow. The court then adjourned until to-morrow at 1.30 p.m.

It is thought here that the fight cannot possibly now take place Oct. 31, although the citizens here desire it.

Japs Subduing Formosa.

Hong Kong, Oct. 18.—Advices from Formosa state that the Japanese are gradually subduing the tribes which are opposing Japanese occupation of that Island. The natives are making a stubborn resistance to the Japanese, but are steadily being overcome. The Japanese captured the town of Takao on the west coast of Formosa on Oct. 16 and had arranged to bombard Tai Wan Fu, the Chinese capital, to-day, Oct. 18. The capital is occupied by black flags, and it is expected that a sanguinary battle will be fought.

Dyspepsia had a lump in his stomach and too miserable to move. The lump probably two or three ten-minute lunches condensed. They were hurried in, but they were taking their own time about getting out, or even "moving on." This is a great mistake, but as long as there's life there's a chance to rectify mistakes.

The man who "bolts" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met. The "Pellets" may not hurry as much as the man does, but they will do the work for which they are intended—surely—promptly—effectually.

There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart-burn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

They are not disagreeable to take, neither are the effects disagreeable. They are gentle laxatives. They cure permanently. There's no danger of forming a "Pellet habit." Therefore, you don't become a slave to their use.

AN OCTOBER WEDDING.

Celebration of the Mahood-Bick Nuptials.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on Oct. 8th, at the residence of Mr. Thos. Bick, when his second daughter, Miss Magdalene, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Robert Mahood, of Smith. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. Down, of Bobcaygeon, in the presence of about forty of the near relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride was attired with beautiful simplicity in cream serge, trimmed with lace and ribbon. Miss Ruth E. McClelland, cousin of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid.

The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. John Mahood. After a sumptuous dinner, a very pleasant evening was spent, after which the happy couple departed for their home in Peterborough amid a shower of rice and good wishes from their many friends. The wedding gifts were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the young couple were held.

NO BONUS NEEDED.

First Class Company Coming to the Opera House.

Read what the London Advertiser says: "The Music Hall in the Mechanics' Institute building was re-opened under new and vigourous management last night when Mr. J. L. Clark and company began a week's engagement before a large audience. There was standing room only in the balcony. The performance was the melodrama, "Snares of New York," and was produced with elaborate stage accessories and by a competent cast. It gave the greatest satisfaction. Mr. Clark, who assumed the leading role, is no stranger to London audiences, and proved himself the same clever actor as of yore. He has surrounded himself by an excellent company. The leading lady, Miss Ella Cameron, is an emotional actress of marked ability, and in Miss Witting, Mr. Clark has a sprightly soubrette. The other members of the troupe are experienced and talented artists. Among them is Mr. Will Thorne, a well-known local favourite. The boat scene in the third act was a fine piece of stage realism and evoked tumultuous applause. The performance was varied by pleasing song and dance specialties, and made a favourable impression throughout." This company begins a week's engagement at Bradburn's opera House Monday, Oct. 21st.

The Johin Prume and Harold Jarvis Concert.

The great attention which this grand concert on Oct. 29th is attracting is due to the merits of the artists engaged. Additional evidence of the wonderful popularity of Mr. Harold Jarvis, the great tenor of the First Presbyterian church, Detroit, will delight his admirers in Peterborough. A recent issue of the Detroit Journal publishes a portrait of Mr. Jarvis and describes him him as "the man who set the meeting on fire"—referring to a magnificent reception to Mayor Pingree, when Mr. Jarvis sang hne song and so electrified the audience that he was compelled to sing twelve others, being recalled that number of times. As to Mons. Johin Prume, it may be mentioned that while he was in Paris he had for a pupil Henri Marteau, the greatest living French violinist. Prume's name alone will fill the largest music hall in Boston. Concert Tuesday, Oct. 29th. Plan of hall will be at Sailsbury's Bookstore.

THE LOCK WORKS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As your reference to the Lock Works matter in last evening's Review is calculated to place both the Lock Works and Auburn Companies as well as myself in a false position, I shall feel obliged if you will publish in this evening's edition the following letter written yesterday morning by myself to the Chairman of the Special Committee of the council having this matter in charge.

Yours, etc.,
JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, Oct. 19, 1895.

Harry Phelan, Esq., Chairman Special Committee re. Lock Works, Town:

DEAR SIR.—In order to facilitate an early decision, one way or the other, of the Lock Works matter, I beg to submit for the consideration of your committee the following proposition, viz:

That the town council pass a bylaw providing:

(1) That the property of, and the premises bona-fide occupied by the Lock Company in the town of Peterborough, shall be exempt from taxation (other than school taxes) for a period of ten years, from the first day of January next.

(2) That in the event of the Auburn Woollen Co. (Ltd.) furnishing the Lock Co. with:

A suitable site whereon to erect the buildings, &c., required for the carrying on of their business upon terms and conditions satisfactory to them. Said site to be upon the lands at present owned by the Auburn Company on the west side of the River.

In the event of the Lock Company erecting thereon within twelve months from this date the buildings, &c., (of brick and stone) required for the purposes of their business.

In the further event of the Auburn Woollen Co'y furnishing the Lock Co'y, upon terms and under conditions satisfactory to them with power for the operation of the machinery to be placed in said buildings by the Lock Co'y to the extent of at least thirty horsepower.

The property of the Auburn Woollen Company as at present owned by them (excepting the flour mill and premises as present occupied by Messrs. Meldrum & McAllister and A. Kay & Co., and excepting therefrom any portions thereof either now or during the next ten years which is, or may be used, for other than manufacturing purposes) shall be exempt from taxation (other than school taxes) for a period of ten years from the first day of January next.

Provided, however, that in the event of the said Lock Company failing to operate their works, and thereby ceasing to use the power herein bargained for, for a period of three months, then and in such an event, a proportionate reduction shall be made in the exemption hereby granted. And in the event of such a failure to operate such works continuing for a period exceeding twelve months then the right to such exemption shall finally terminate.

In making this proposition, it must be distinctly understood that I make it entirely on my own responsibility, and that in the event of it being accepted and acted upon by the Council, I cannot guarantee that it will be carried out by either the Lock or Auburn Companies. All I can say is that, so far as I am personally concerned, I will do what I can legitimately and without prejudice to the interests of these two companies to bring the whole matter to such an issue as will justify the directors of the Lock Company in remaining where they are rather than going elsewhere.

Yours truly,
JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, Oct 18th, 1895.

Worthy Your Confidence.

The success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in conquering scrofula in whatever way it may manifest itself is vouched for by thousands who were severely afflicted by this prevalent disease, but who now rejoice over a permanent cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Scrofula may appear as a humor, or it may attack the glands of the neck, or break out in dreadful running sores on the body or limbs. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may develop into catarrh or lodging in the lungs lead to consumption. The Williams Piano People Talk.

"Suppose you had opened this store instead of us,"—said Mr. Dies, the local manager for Messrs. R. S. Williams & Son's branch store, 372 Water street—"wouldn't you have made up the best stock you knew how for it? Would'nt you have made the prices as moderate as possible, if for no other reason than mere expediency and self-interest? Would'n you? Well, now, put yourself in our place and take the trouble to look around; you will find that we have done just as you would have done. Instead of getting instruments rejected by others, as somebody must, we have none but the very best from our own factory. Some piano dealers in town can take a piano worth $125 and sell it for $350—that is extortion. The Williams Piano is a piano for a lifetime, not the makeshift instrument for a few years, and in buying from us you deal directly with the manufacturers." Id

THE CLUB'S FAREWELL TO SECRETARY MURRAY.

AN OPEN MEETING OF THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

A Farewell to W. H. Murray—The Secretary of the Club Complimented Handsomely—A Delightful Evening Passed—A Feast of Reason and a Flood of Soul—Music's Charms Combine to Cheer.

Last night an open meeting of the Fortnightly Club, which had a special significance, was held in the rooms of the Oddfellows' Hall, which were filled with an audience representing the best social, literary and musical elements of the town. The special feature of the evening was the farewell to Mr. W. H. Murray, who has been the pains-taking, able and energetic secretary and to whose exertions the success that has attended the Club is very largely due.

The chair was occupied by Mr. C. Fessenden, President of the Club, who presided with the greatest satisfaction.

In connection with the programme, Rev. H. Symonds, M. A., made a few introductory remarks upon the first feature of the programme, the performance on the pianoforte of selections from Schumann. He referred briefly to the compositions of Schumann, which were to be interpreted by a capable artist, Miss Helen Dennistoun, who in her subsequent performance fully justified the eulogium.

The pieces selected to show the musical temperament of the metaphysical musical genius were "Jagdleid," a hunting subject, "Warum"—Why?—an evident musical enquiry of the composer into the deep mysteries of life, "Nachtstuck," a night subject descriptive of miners returning from work, and a musical story, "Novelletten." All of these, as would be seen, would illustrate what was in the mind of Schumann when he wrote them.

THE CHARMS OF MUSIC.

Miss Dennistoun, with a modesty of bearing which harmonised well with her artistic work, performed these selections to the delight of the audience. She not only performed them, but she interpreted them with a fidelity that made their hidden meaning and characteristic motif plain to the most mediocre musical intelligence. Her style is easy and unconstrained, her delicacy of touch, united, when occasion requires, with a well regulated force, and a sympathetic understanding of her subject, combined to invest her playing with the charm that belongs to artistic rendition of the higher grades of musical composition, and showed that her time devoted to study on the continent was well employed. Miss Dennistoun acquitted herself in a most creditable manner, and well deserved the applause she received.

Miss Clark next favoured the audience with a delightfully sung soprano solo "The Sweetest Story ever Told," by Stults. This song was rather a difficult one, but Miss Clark overcame the difficulties with an ease, and sang with a feeling that made it a delight to the audience, who cordially applauded her excellent work.

PLATONIAN PHILOSOPHY.

This was followed by a brief address by Rev. H. Symonds, on Plato, dealing with selections from his works, of which some were adaptations of myths, and others composed by Plato himself. These were the vehicles of Plato's religious and moral teachings, which contained many germs of thought closely related to many Christian ideas, and several selections were read which showed the wonderful moral beauties of Plato's dealing with the question of the nature of the immortal soul, and his guesses at truth that showed a striking analogy to the truths of Revelation. Indeed it seemed that Plato had some dim idea of Revelation, at least he had intense natural perception of moral [illegible] and many of the early Christian [illegible] held this wonderful Grecian philosopher in high veneration for the loftiness of his moral teachings.

ANOTHER MUSICAL TREAT.

Mons. Chas. Le Simple, the celebrated 'cellist, who is in town, had kindly consented to perform a selection on the occasion. His first number was Goltermann's "Cantilena," given with a purity of tone, graceful facility of execution and depth of feeling that impelled the audience to demand a recall. Consequently the artist gave another selection, a dainty gavotte by Squires, which was enchantingly performed, the harmonic passages being exquisitely delicate and graceful. Mons. Le Simple was again a public benefactor by rendering another charming selection, an andante by Gluck, which he did with a melting pathos and velvetty roundness of tone, in answer to a vote of thanks enthusiastically voted him. The success that Mons. LeSimple achieved last night was much assisted by the gracefully judicious and sympathetic accompaniments by Miss Dennistoun.

THE "PIECE DE RESISTANCE."

Sheriff Hall then took the platform and after a few preliminary remarks, moved, seconded by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, the following resolution:

"That in view of the circumstance that Mr. W. H. Murray, one of the founders, and, since its organization one of the most active and able of the members of the Fortnightly Club, is about to remove from town, and necessarily sever his relations with it, therefore be it resolved that the best wishes of the members of the Fortnightly Club be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Murray with the hope that the good qualities of both will be as fully recognized and appreciated in their new home as they are and have been in Peterborough, and be it made further resolved that Mr. Murray be an honorary member of the Fortnightly Club."

In moving the resolution Sheriff Hall said that it not only conveyed the sentiments of the members of the Fortnightly Club, but also, he was sure, of all those who had attended its open meetings as well as all those who had come in contact with Mr. and Mrs. Murray during their stay in town. Mr. Murray, the speaker said, had not been here long but he had borne himself in such a manner as to make himself respected and esteemed in all the public and private associations into which his energy and zeal, in literary and moral work especially, had thrown him. As secretary of the Fortnightly Club, his activity and zeal had very largely contributed to the great success it had achieved, and in its circles and activities, Mr. Murray would indeed be very greatly missed. Mr. Murray's activity had not by any means been confined to Fortnightly Club work. He had been active and earnest in the work of the church, and in the promotion of moral movements. In these respects also he would be greatly missed. It was his (Mr. Hall's) duty on behalf of the club to formally bid Mr. Murray farewell, and in so doing he expressed the hope that in his chosen profession, the church, for which he had forsaken "the dusty purlieus of the law," he would meet that measure of success which his energy and earnestness, known to his friends in Peterborough, would plainly indicate. After a few racy and humourous references Mr. Hall again reiterated in pathetic words his earnest good wishes for Mr. Murray's success, and bade him farewell in the most eloquent words that the English language afforded—"God be with you," "good-bye."

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, in seconding the resolution, bore testimony to the great loss that would be felt in in the legal circle, from which Mr. Murray had withdrawn. But it was in the Fortnightly Club that his loss would be most conspicuously felt. Here his services as Secretary had been of the highest assist- His splendid literary talents had always been at the service of the club. After referring eloquently to the peculiar qualities that Mr. Murray possessed, suggestive of success in the high vocation he had followed. Mr. Dennistoun joined with Sheriff Hall in expressing on behalf of the club its best wishes.

The resolution was put by the chairman and most enthusiastically adopted.

MR. MURRAY'S ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

Mr. Murray on rising to reply to the resolution, was received with very warm applause, and began his remarks by expressing his pleasure at seeing so large a number present, of ladies especially, and he was free to express his regret that, in a moment of weakness, he had voted with the majority for the exclusion of ladies from the meetings of the club. He accepted with all gratitude the kind references that had been made to himself and Mrs. Murray. These he must regard as an outcome of the kindness of the club and not as an obligation due to himself. It caused him much regret to break the agreeable relations that he had formed in Peterborough, and one of his chief regrets was his parting from the members of the legal profession in Peterborough. His association with and whatever he had been able to do in connection with the welfare of the club, had been a pleasure to him and he pointed out the numerous benefits that must accrue to the members of such an organisation. He closed by reiterating his warmest thanks for the kindness that had been shown him and as he took his seat the loud and long-continued applause was an evidence that the function of the evening and the farewell that had been accorded him, were no mere formality, but came from the heart.

Mr. Edwards moved a vote of thanks to those who had made the evening delightful with music, and especially Mons. Le Simple, one of the greatest 'cellists in the world. The resolution was carried with great applause, and Mons. Le Simple responded as previously mentioned, and the delightful evening came to a close.

For the excellent arrangement of the programme that so greatly assisted the success of the gathering, the club is indebted to Mr. Hampden Burnham and Mr. W. H. Hill.

Mr. Murray has every reason to be proud of the evidences he received last night of the high position he holds in the esteem of the people of Peterborough, and if there be any merit in winning success in good wishes, he is certain of a very successful future.

MASON VS. TOWN GOES TO THE SUPREME COURT.

would like to say a few words as a citizen of the town, not as solicitor for the plaintiffs. He was sure that the case was of great interest to every citizen of the town, but he did not think that the council understood the case—

Mayor Kendry took exception to Mr. Dumble's statement. He said the council understood the case perfectly well in all its points.

Mr. Dumble said his last remark had referred to the legal bearings of the case. He then recited the case as it had went from court to court up till the present time. He did not think that Mr. Moss in his letter held out an inducement to the town to appeal. He said that the Town Solicitor was wrong in his contentions and was only working for to get his fees out of it. The town would be wrong in appealing the matter any further after the finding of the several courts. Allow me to explain. In the first place a letter was sent the council claiming damages for the accident in question. The reply was that the matter had been left in the hands of the Town Solicitor. A writ of summons was then issued and in course of time the case came before Judge Falconbridge for trial before a jury. At the close of the plaintiff's case Mr. Edwards moved for a non-suit on the grounds that there was no evidence to go to a jury. This objection was over-ruled and the matter was submitted to the jury who disagreed. Mr. Edwards then appealed to the Full Court, comprised of three judges against the ruling of the court, whereupon the ruling of the judge was sustained and appeal dismissed with costs. The defendant's solicitor next appealed to the Court of Appeal from the judgment of the Full Court, resulting in the judgment of that court being fully sustained, and the appeal again dismissed with costs The case came on for trial again, when at the close of the plaintiff's case, Mr. Edwards again moved before Judge Rose for a non-suit. The judge refused the non-suit, and sent the case to the jury, who once more disagreed. When the case came on for trial again, counsel for both sides requested that Judge Ferguson try the case without a jury, which he agreed to do. At the close of plaintiff's case the Town Solicitor once more moved for a non-suit, which was promptly refused. At this trial, in reviewing the case the case, the Judge held that the sidewalk in question was not in repair, that it was in a dangerous condition, and the defendants were well acquainted with the fact, which rendered them liable for the accident; he accordingly gave judgment for the plaintiff, assessing the damages at $750. Mr. Edwards appeals Judge Ferguson's judgment to the Court of Appeal, at which Mr. Moss, Q.C., and Mr. Edwards argue the case at great length, with no more favourable result than hitherto, however, for the appeal was dismissed with costs. Here are, continued Mr. Dumble, the judgments of three Trial Judges, the Full Court of Common Pleas and the Court of Appeal all against the town (no dissenting judgment was delivered), and yet in the face of these facts you are willing to permit the case to go before the Supreme Court. Why, Mr. Moss in his letter to Mr. Edwards states that "where the findings of facts of a Trial Judge have been confirmed by an Appelate Court the Supreme Court will not interfere with the finding," and this same Supreme Court, in a case almost, similar to this one, (Deroche against Cornwall, where on a second trial a jury gave $700 damages to a person who slipped on ice gathered in a hole on the sidewalk, refused to disturb the verdict. In conclusion Mr. Dumble intimated that common prudence in one's private affairs would demonstrate the impropriety of sending such a case to the Supreme Court, thereby heaping up damages upon damages until that which might have been settled for a comparatively small amount reaches alarming proportions.

Councillor Cahill asked Mr. Dumble if he was a member of the council would he utterly ignore their solicitor's advice, no matter what his individual opinion might be.

Mr. Dumble—In the face of Mr. Moss' letter I would not appeal.

Councillor Cahill—That is not an answer to my question.

Mr. Dumble did not answer any further.

A vote was then taken and it was decided to appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

For appeal—Councillors Cahill, Best, Denne, Phelan, Stone and Dawson—6.

Against appeal—Councillors Sawers, Mills, Mason and Brady—4.

THE ENGINEER'S COMMISSION.

It was decided on a motion of Councillor Best, seconded by Councillor Cahill, to request the town treasurer to issue a cheque to the town engineer, Mr. John Belcher, for $300, on account of his commission on number one contract outfall sewer.

The motion carried.

WELLER STREET SIDEWALK.

Councillor Mills drew the attention of the Street and Bridge Committee to the sidewalk on Weller street, which he said was in a bad condition, and unless repaired would cause endless suits for damages against the town.

Councillor Dawson moved that a new sidewalk be placed on the south side of Weller street. Councillor Mills seconded the motion.

Councillor Phelan said he had been spoken to in reference to the sidewalk and would like it attended to.

Councillor Brady moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor Mason, that it be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

The amendment was lost and the original motion carried, after which the council adjourned.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that.

A GREAT MEDICINE.

Cod-liver Oil is useful beyond any praise it has ever won, and yet few are willing or can take it in its natural state. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not offensive; it is almost palatable.

Children like it. It is Cod-liver Oil made more effectual, and combined with the Hypophosphites its strengthening and flesh-forming powers are largely increased.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

Morris Park, Oct. 17.—An attractive program and favorable weather brought a large attendance to this track to-day. The principal event on the card was the race for the Withers stakes, for 3-year-olds, over the Withers' mile, and it was won by the favorite, Lucania, after a light drive. Where They May Fight.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 17.—It is more apparent than ever that the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight will e pulled off in Juarez, where the bull is now being enlarged to ten times its usual size. Some reports locate the scene of the battle on an island 22 miles down the river, the ownership of which is in dispute between two counties, while others say it will be held at the junction of Mexico, New Mexico and Texas. The management here is not saying anything, but undoubtedly security has been guaranteed by the Mexican Government. The McGuinly Club, a prominent social organization, is making preparations for a grand carnival here at the time of the fight. A bull fight in Juarez is also in prospect.

A muskhonge, weighing 52 pounds, and measuring 4 feet 2 inches in length, was caught last week in the Rideau River, near Kemptville, by James Coade and Dr. Jones.

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

A WHITE WEDDING

Will Be That of the Duke of Marlborough and Miss Vanderbilt.

New York, Oct. 19.—Many of the details of the approaching marriage of Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt to the Duke of Marlborough are now arranged. It is to be a white wedding throughout. Delicate white blossoms will be massed in the chancel of St. Thomas' Church, Wednesday noon, Nov. 6. Big nosegays of orange blossoms, white roses and lilies of the valley, tied with white ribbons to long wands, will be placed in the pews. This will form only part of the elaborate floral decorations.

The bridesmaids are to be arrayed in white satin. The skirts will be in the latest flaring fashion, trimmed with the daintiest frillings of white chiffon. The corsages are to be of the new jacket style, with short, full skirts and large sleeves. With these will be fichus of white chiffon edged with lace. The jackets will be secured with large jeweled buttons.

The evident idea of the wedding is to have it as far as possible of the Louis Seize epoch and the bride's gown will be like those of the bridesmaids of the Marie Antoinette style. This is to be carried out to the minutest particulars in the lace frillings and draperies in the white satin, the style of the sleeves and the cut of the grand trains.

Many of the feminine bridal guests, in compliment to the wish to make this a white wedding throughout will, doubtless, be arrayed in white. The furnishings of the new house at Madison-avenue and 72nd-street are of the Louis Seize period and will accord perfectly with the gowns of the bridal party.

All the members of the British Embassy at Washington have received weddings cards. Sir Julian Ptuncefote and his wife and daughters will be among the guests, and though it is not yet certain, it is expected that Mr. Paget, Lord Westmeath, H. O. Bax-Ironsides and R. T. Wilson, jr., will be of the list of ushers.

THE DUKE ARRESTED.

He Was Coasting in the Park and a Policeman Took Him In.

New York, Oct. 19.—The Duke of Marlborough, the fiancee of Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, was arrested in Central Park this afternoon on the charge of violating a park ordinance.

The Duke was seen by a park policeman coasting rapidly down a hill on his bicycle, with his feet on the handles. This is in violation of a park ordinance made for the safety of persons using the hill. The Duke accompanied the policeman to the station. He said he regretted the occurrence, as he was unaware of the existence of the ordinance which he had broken.

Roundsman Ryan, who was in charge, discharged the Duke, after warning him not to repeat the offence.

The Duke returned to the Plaza Hotel immediately after he was released. The news of his arrest quickly spread among his acquaintances, a score or more of whom called to offer their condolence and to apologize for the police.

The Duke, however, refused to receive anybody, and sent his secretary, Mr. Morris, downstairs to the hotel office to say that His Grace was engaged, and could not be interrupted under any circumstances.

"I know the details of the whole affair," said Mr. Morris, "and it was a gross outrage, and His Grace so considers it. He told me the story when he returned to the hotel. He was very much annoyed over the incident, but he does not contemplate taking any measures against the policeman, who was so rude as to arrest him. His Grace was riding along at an average rate of speed, when a policeman came galloping along, rudely blowing a shrill, annoying whistle. His Grace, of course, did not know what the whistle meant, but continued along until he was halted.

"'You are violating the rules,' said the policeman, 'and will have to go to the station.'

"'I'll go anywhere,' said the Duke, 'for I supposed that anyone who chose to do so could ride in the park.'

"'It's a violation of the park ordinances,' the policeman explained, 'to either coast or ride faster than eight miles an hour.'

"The Duke accompanied the rude policeman to the sub-station at McGowan's Pass, where he made himself known, and was allowed to go. The policeman who made the arrest apologized."

Mr. Morris added that the Duke had been riding only for a few months, and was not an expert. He did not think that the Duke was proficient enough in the use of the wheel to coast. Besides, it was rude.

Quebec, Que., Oct. 19.—Lieutenant-Governor Chapleau's magnificent pair of horses ran away on Grande Allie while his Honor was coming to his office in the Parliament buildings at noon. Tom Cahill, Mr. Chapleau's coachman, was driving. Cahill in trying to master the horses broke one of the reins. The horses dashed down the street, colliding with a grocer's express, and the carriage was upset. Hon. Mr. Chapleau was picked up senseless. A nervous prostration and a certain stiffnes of the neck, due to a blow he received thereon were what he found. Cahill was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital with a broken leg.

Buried Under Falling Walls.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

WHAT GREENWAY SAYS.

He Has Not Been Notified of a Proposed Visit of Federal Ministers.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Premier Greenway returned to the city from his farm this evening and was shown an Ottawa despatch in the evening papaer stating that two Federal Ministers are coming to Winnipeg to revive negotiations for settlement of the school question. "They may be coming," said Mr. Greenway, "but I have not received notification to that effect." The Premier reminded the interviewer that it was positively asserted a few weeks ago that he and Sir Mackenzie Bowell were to have a conference on this question during the latter's visit to the city. Yet there was not the slightest foundation for such a statement, and it might prove the same in this instance.

Russia and Bulgaria.

Sofia, Oct. 17.—The Svoboda, which was the personal organ of the late ex-Prime Minister Stambuloff, announces on authority that Russia's conditions for reconciliation with Bulgaria are the abdication of Prince Ferdinand in favor of his infant son Boris, that the latter become a member of the Church of Russia and that a Russian be nominated as Minister of War of Bulgaria.

The New Trunk Line Agreement

Baltimore, Oct. 17.—The directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have formally ratified the new trunk line agreement, to which eight other trunk lines are parties. CANDY FOR CHILDREN.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. Too much sweet upsets the stomach and spoils the appetite, but candy in moderation if it is not taken before a meal, is food which children crave naturally, and among the purest and most wholesome is that manufactured by

ANOTHER FAREWELL TO HIS LORDSHIP.

THE CHILDREN WISH HIM GOD SPEED.

The Convent Pupils bid Adieu to the Bishop Before he Leaves for the Eternal City.

A loving tribute of affection and reverence was paid His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, last evening, when the sisters and pupils of the Convent De Notre Dame accorded him a farewell reception in the large lecture rooms of that institution, prior to his departure for Rome, the Eternal City.

The pupils were arranged on raised seats one above the other at the east end of the apartment and presented a most attractive and winsome picture, arrayed in white. The hall was crowded to the staircase with those anxious to have one more opportunity of seeing their beloved Bishop and at the same time of hearing what the children had to say.

The musical portion of the programme was opened by the rendition of a song entitled, "Heartfelt wishes for our Beloved Prelate," in which the solo parts were most admirably taken by Miss Annie Dunn, Miss Mary Dineen and Miss Nettie Lewis, who each presented his Lordship with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. This song, as well as the others on the programme, were all composed within the convent walls and recognising this fact from the sentiments which were breathed through the different songs the Bishop and those present were delighted beyond measure by the care and attention which had evidently been exercised in the preparation for this

MOST PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT.

A fancy drill by fifteen little girls, led by Miss Weir and Miss Lawrence, was a most attractive feature of the programme. The first part of the drill consisted in forming letters used in the spelling of the word "Erin," then a pretty flower drill took place, when the children scattered blossoms at the feet of His Lordship. The word "Rome" was then spelled out, after which a drill was performed with wreaths of flowers, in which the evolutions were so graceful and pretty as to call forth a burst of applause.

Selections, entitled "Let Erin Remember the Days of Old," "Meeting of the Waters" and "Fly Not Yet," were then most brilliantly executed on the piano by a sextette composed of the Misses Pollock, Miss N. Lewis, Miss M. Doherty, Miss Staunton and Miss McCabe.

The chorus, "Our Prayer," expressing wishes for a safe journey and quick return of the Bishop, was sung in a harmony so perfect as to call forth special comment.

"A Greeting from His Lordship's Emerald Home Sweet Home," was a most cleverly arranged dialogue amongst the flowers, in which the Shamrock, of course, shone preeminent. The respective flowers were introduced by Miss G. Lawrence, and those participating were:— Rose, Miss Ethel Primeau; Lily, Lila Bell; Violet, Vivian Donoughue; Shamrock, Lavinia Hallihan. Others taking part were May Callihan, Emma Potter, Hettie Overend, Florence Dunn, Jennie Brian, Nellie McCabe, Maggie Collins, Gracey Ball, Irene Davis and Mary Louise Quinlan. At the conclusion of the dialogue, Miss Lawrence presented His Lordship with a most beautiful bouquet of roses, whilst placed in his hands a waxen rose, within the petals of which reposed four five dollar gold pieces—the gift of the little ones.

A grand march was then played on three pianos by Miss Staunton, Miss McCabe, the Misses Pollock, Miss Lewis and Miss Dougherty.

Miss Lilly Jackson's vocal solo "Go Where Glory Waits Thee" was very sweetly rendered, after which Miss Mary Brennan recited a poem, in which were infused the sentiments of the scholars towards His Lordship, and their prayers for his safe return. At the conclusion of this number the Bishop rose and addressed the children. He thanked them sincerely for their lovely flowers and for their more substantial gift. He fully appreciated the beautiful sentiments conveyed in the various songs and in the poem just recieted. They gave him an anticipation of the joys which he would experience in his visit to Ireland and to Rome. He expected to have greetings from many pleasant faces during his trip, and to visit many beautiful spots. Yet no more joyful sight, he felt sure, could be witnessed than the sweet faces which at present were smiling upon him. Though far away from home, and with oceans dividing him from his beloved parishioners, yet forever with him would be the expectancy of the warm welcome which was awaiting him when he turned

HIS FOOTSTEPS HOMEWARD.

The beautiful sentiments expressed in such poetic sentences, replete with eloquent persuasiveness, argued, he thought, that the children in his diocese had no need to journey to Ireland to kiss the Blarney stone, they being already sufficiently endowed with the soft persuasiveness which that operation was supposed to lend to the tongue. He thought he should endeavor to get a chip of this Blarney stone for himself, as at present he was at a loss to express his appreciation of their kind wishes. He expected a welcome by the Shamrock in the land of his birth, and while there intended visiting the beautiful Lakes of Killarney. Though he would see many other interesting sights, he knew that when the appointed time for his return drew nigh he would turn towards Peterborough with pleasure and welcome the thought of being back with his flock.

His Lordship then asked Mr. Wm Cluxton for a few remarks, when that gentleman took occasion to compliment the children on the music which had been rendered during the evening and which he declared reflected the greatest credit on the capable teachers in the convent. After complimenting His Lordship on the love which was so evidently borne him by his flock, and the admirable manner in which he presided over the diocesan affairs, he wished him God speed on his journey.

Just at this juncture, Mayor Kendry, Councillars Cahill and Phelan, ex-Mayor Houldsworth and Mr. Thos. Brooks entered the room and at the same time expressed a wish that although the programme had been concluded, that a portion of it might be repeated for the benefit of the late arrials. The Sisters kindly consented to this arrangement and the audience had the pleasure of again hearing the songs and choruses which were so heartily appreciated on their first rendering.

The Mayor on being called on for a few remarks regretted being late, but explained that the council had been in session and that business had to be attended to before pleasure, though in this case he almost regretted that he had followed this rule, as the entertainment was of so pleasing a character. He then wished the Bishop a pleasant journey, and gave way to ex-Mayor Houldsworth, of Kidderminster, Eng., who also made a few remarks at the request of the Bishop. He was greatly pleased with the entertainment, and congratulated Peterborough on having such fine healthy young faces amongst its little ones. He stated that he himself had been to Rome, and had been privileged in meeting the Pope, and paying to him his respects in the Vatican. As he was returning to England next week he hoped that he would have the Bishop's company across the water.

Mr. Hampden Burnham, on being asked by His Lordship for a few remarks, dilated on the exquisite grandeur of the cathedrals of the Old Land erected by the adherents of the Roman faith, which could not be entered without a feeling of awe for edifices so replete with sacred associations. He envied the Bishop his visit to these magnificent cathedrals in the Eternal City.

Mr. Thos. Cahill made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, in which he expressed his delight and pleasure in witnessing so beautiful a sight as the pretty children engaged in tendering so touching a farewell to the Bishop.

Father Casey also made a few brief remarks, but on account of the nodding heads of the little one, forbore keeping them any longer and the large audience dispersed with the strains of God Save the Queen rising from the pianos.

The hall was most beautifully decoratrd for the occasion with flowers and green boughs. Over the platform where the children were seated was the word "Farewell" in letters of white on a background of scarlet, whilst on either side were the legends "Land of my Birth," and "Rome, the Eternal City," beneath being an Irish harp and the Vatican coat of arms. His Lordship leaves for abroad on the noon train on Monday.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equally interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now for instance the minor ailments that afflict us. Why should so many fradulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless.

WARMLY WELCOMED

Was the Liberal Leader at Markham Village.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM MANIFESTED.

Mounted Horsemen, Bicyclists and Carriages in the Procession—Mr. Laurier Makes a Characteristically Eloquent Speech in Dealing With Public Questions.

Markham, Oct. 19.—The Laurier special train from Toronto was more than half an hour behind time in its arrival at this place to-day, and the unfavorable condition of the weather probably kept many away who would otherwise have swelled the crowd which gathered to do honor to the gifted leader of the Opposition. But the hearty reception accorded Mr. Laurier, the local Liberal candidate, Mr. Frankland, Mr. Tarte and others of the contingent by those who braved the elements and awaited the arrival of the derelict train was of a nature well calculated to impress them with the hospitality of the people of this pretty little village. Cheer after cheer greeted the Liberal leader as he stepped upon the platform, and he was fairly carried by the enthusiastic believers in his political faith to the carriage which was in waiting for him and which was assigned the place of honor in the procession already formed.

Almost immediately after the arrival of the train at this place and the reception tendered Mr. Laurier and his followers, the parade to the Fair grounds was taken up. The procession was marshalled by Mr. John Hardie and headed by the Markham brass band of 20 pieces, the musical efforts of which organization were much appreciated by the onlookers as the parade passed on to its destination.

In the line of march were a number of horsemen and bicyclists in addition to the footmen, who included a goodly number of the Toronto contingent and eight carriages containing about 30 of the prominent members of the Liberal party.

Before the speech-making commenced all the seats in the building had been occupied and the greater portion of the standing room taken up there being noticed among the audience a large number of ladies.

The Liberal Leader's Speech.

When Mr. Laurier arose amid an outburst of cheering, Misses Reva Tefft and Kathleen Reesor, two exceedingly pretty children, stepped forward and presented him with a bouquet, the receipt of which he acknowledged in his usual osculatory fashion. Then in graceful terms the Liberal leader tendered to the men of York his heartfelt thanks for the cordial reception accorded to himself, his friends, and especially to his good friend, Mr. Tarte. (Applause.)

It was more than a pleasure to him that the people of Ontario might have the occasion to know Mr. Tarte as he himself knew him. They were old friends and old opponents as well. On many occasions they had met in severe contest and he had a keen remembrance of the blows received at the hands of Mr. Tarte though he must say that the latter always fought a fair battle and was as fearless then as now. The day, however, came when Mr. Tarte could not continue to associate with a party in whose honesty he no longer believed, and for this reason he was proud to see that gentleman before them. The reception accorded that day by the people of East York was worthy indeed of the reputation of York, which no one could forget was the banner, the premier county in the cause of Canadian freedom. (Cheers.)

"It would be no exaggeration," continued Mr. Laurier, "to say that the soil of York had been hallowed by the struggles of men who, two generations ago, risked everything that makes life dear, and life itself, so that their country might live. This is the place where the father of reform in Canada, W. Lyon McKenzie, the Tarte of the agitation against monopoly and privilege, had fought against the men who would compel the people of Canada to hew wood and draw water for them while they live in affluence and luxury out of the earnings of the people. I cannot forget that great man, Alexander Mackenzie, a true man, if ever there was one, who came to this old country in order to teach the doctrine that freedom was the normal condition of trade, as freedom is the normal condition of civil life, as freedom is the normal condition of religious life, as freedom is the normal condition of man all through life. Still less can I forget, as a Liberal coming from the old Province of Quebec, that shortly after the union of 1841, when Lafontaine, one of the greatest men of his generation, and leader of the Liberal party of that time in Quebec, had been defeated in his own county by methods which at a later period, were practiced under the name of a Franchise Act, and a Gerrymander Act, the Liberals of York opened thir arms to him and carried him triumphantly into the Legislature there to fight the fight of the people.

Although the cause of freedom has been once fought and once won, the struggle has to commence again; for although the battle in which the Liberal party is now engaged may differ in some degree from that fought in the time of Mackenzie and Lafontaine, it is still the battle of emancipation against oppression. Eery page of history records that there has been a constant struggle going on between emancipation, on the one side, and oppression on the other, and this is the battle in which the Liberal party is at present engaged.

Thanks to the efforts in part of the electors of York in former ages our institutions are free, but men there are in this country of ours who are willing to put their neck under the yoke, and to kiss the whipping rod. Though the Government at Ottawa is there by the will of the people they do not govern for the people, but for a few combines and monopolies which have it in their power to dictate to the Government and impose their will. There is in this country the Manufacturers' Association, which not long ago directed the attention of its associates to the large number of changes made in the tariff along the lines it suggested, and that where no changes were suggested none had been made. They were able to report that they had dictated to the Government whatever it had been their pleasure. Who governs Canada at the present time, I want to know? The Government at Ottawa may govern Canada, but the combines and monopolies govern the Government. (Cheers.) Therefore they may well say "We are the Government of Canada."

Let us look at the measure of reform which we were to have had last year. So hostile had the people become to the protective tariff that the Government thought they should do something. They sent the Minister of Finance and the Minister of Trade and Commerce to interview the manufacturers, in secret conclave, however, but when it came to get the views of the farmers they sent two apprentices Mr. Clarke Wallace and Mr. Woods, to interview them. In secret conclave? No, In open meeting, To have the views of the farmers? No, to teach them that they were wealthy through the National Policy. After these interviews, they introduced their bill; but the measure was not passed as brought down. There were changes and amendments, and when it was given to the people it was nothing but a horrible, shapeless mass of deformity.

The secret of it all was that the Manufacturers' Association had dictated all the changes to Mr. Foster and compelled the Government, probably under the threat of stopping supplies, to restore the tariff to what it was before. This association does not fairly and accurately represent the honest manufacturers of the country. And why? Because the iron schedule has been imposed upon the Government by these men. If there is anything injurious and fatal to the manufacturing industries of the country it is that very iron schedule of duty. There is no manufacturer who does not in some shape or other use iron. It is the basis of all industry. The iron duty is so shaped that it means an enormous duty upon the raw material $4 per ton is the duty to-day upon pig iron. Mr. Haggart told us that in March last iron could be laid down in Toronto for $6 a ton. If this is correct, $4 represents a duty of 66 per cent. Is it conceivable that such a duty upon the raw material of all iron manufacturers is in the interests of the manufacturers? The great Massey-Harris Company several times protested against these duties and said the day might come when they would be forced to carry their works to the other side of the line because they could not compete with the market when their raw material was taxed to such an extent. No man who, as a manufacturer uses iron will say he is in favor of these iron duties.

The Liberal party has no quarrel with manufacturers; but their policy is to remove the shackles which weigh not only upon the farmers, but upon the manufacturers as well, and we contend that with a revenue tariff similar in principle to the one we had before, not only the farmers but the manufacturers would be better off. I have stated that the farmers are not a prosperous community and have been taken to task by no less a gentleman than Mr. W. F. Maclean, the present, but, I believe, not the prospective member for this riding. He took me to task for stating that there was not a farm in Canada which had not decreased in value at least 40 per cent.

Mr. Maclean says that whatever may be the qualities of Mr. Laurier in other respects when he attempts to deal with figures his friends ought to take him by the coat tails and make him sit down. Let me here submit to your judgment the man who ventures to criticise me. Here are the words used by Mr. Maclean: "Mr. Laurier is reported by The Globe as saying in his speech at Prescott: 'While the people were said to be wealthy and prosperous, there was not a farm in the Dominion of Canada which could be sold for 40 per cent. of what it was sold for fifteen years ago. This meant that the farmer was 40 per cent. wealthier fifteen years ago than he was to-day.'"

I said something of the kind. I said every word that is there, I know it. "Take the case of the best of farms saleable fifteen years ago at $100 per acre. Mr. Laurier asserts that such a farm could not be sold now for $60."

I said nothing of the kind. I do not agree with the arithmetic of Mr. Maclean. I said that the farm had been decreased 40 per cent., and according to my arithmetic if a farm was worth $100 an acre 15 years ago it is to-day worth $60, but according to the arithmetic of Mr. Maclean it is only worth $40. I would advise Mr. Maclean when he writes about figures to have somebody to take him by his coat tail and tell him to sit down.

He again takes me to task for saying it is true there has been a decrease in the price of land. There is not a farm to-day that is worth 40 per cent. of what it was 50 years ago. Mr. Maclean admits there is a decrease in land, but will not say to what extent. Still, he says as an argument that farms may possibly have been decreased in Canada, which is a protectionist country; but he takes refuge in the statement that land has diminished in value also in England, which is a free trade country. I grant land has decreased in England more than 40 per cent, more than 60 per cent., and I rejoice in it, because the party in England who suffers from diminution of price is not the farmer, but the landlord, who has held land in monopoly for ages and ages. There is nothing to do in this but to adopt the old democratic doctrine of freedom and equal justice to all in the matter of taxation as in every other matter. The motto of the Liberal party is that taxation should be distributed, that farmers and manufacturers should be placed upon an equal footing, and that every man who pays a cent should pay it into the treasury and not into the pockets of a faithful few. This is the policy upon which we stand. This is where I take issue with my friend Mr. Maclean, and upon which I hope the electors of East York will carry my friend Mr. Frankland to Parliament.

Then Mr. Laurier held up a list of properties to be sold in Toronto for years of taxes, and continued:

I am sorry Mr. Maclean is not here. This is an evidence of the prosperity which affects a part of the county of East York. On these four pages are mentioned 1248 properties which are to be sold for taxes in the good and prosperous city of Toronto, made rich and happy by the National Policy. In spite of this, however, the Conservative party and press will go on saying that this is a prosperous country. I leave it for you to decide.

I arraign the National Policy, not only for the example I have given you of what it has not done, but still more for what it has done; because it has been an instrument of corruption in the hands of the Government. The expenditure of the country during the regime of my friend Mr. Mackenzie was no less a sum than 23 1-2 million. This was shocking for the Conservative leaders of that time. They lamented the fate of poor Canada, which was being bled to death by that extravagant man Mackenzie. These angels of purity were horrified, these angels of economy veiled their face not to see the extravagance of that extravagant man Mackenzie. You trusted them. They came to power and you know very well they were not as good as their word. They have increased the expenditure to the extent of 16 million. It was 23 1-2 million, now it is 38 million. They expend that every year and never wince at the amount of the figure. Neither has the country grown so much in the last decade as in the previous one. In the previous one it had grown to the extent of 19 per cent. in population; in the last decade the ratio fell from 19 to 12. But while the rate of increase was only 12, you know that the rate of expenditure increased 60 per cent. There is not a man in the audience who will justify some items of expenditure which I am about to lay before you.

Warmly the Liberal leader drew attention to the fact that in addition to the $16,000 paid in salaries to the law officers of the Government, there is expended every year a sum of $100,000 in extra fees. "This expenditure," he said, "is corrupt and indefensible. It was not so in Mackenzie's time and it will not be so when we have a new Liberal Administration at Ottawa."

In humorous vein Mr. Laurier dealt with the superannuation allowances, in which $200,000 are paid out, more than the amount received from civil servants. He inveighed strongly against the injustice to the people of the corrupt system. He related instances of young and healthy men who are pensioned in order to make room for Government supporters, particular stress being laid upon the case of Mr. Vankoughnet, who, he said, was unwillingly forced to retire.

"I appeal to you," he went on, "as men of common sense. You sweat and toil in the sunshine and in the rain from the first day to the last day of the year, with the object of earning a competence, so that if you fall ill or become old you may have something to fall back upon and you shall not be at the mercy of public charity. If you fall ill or become disabled can you go to Ottawa and knock at the door of the Government to ask for a pension? You cannot; you have to try the best you can. Let us have equal justice and equal rights to all and no favor to anybody. I object that any portion of the taxation of the people should be taken out of their pocket in order to go to the pockets of either civil servants or any other class.

"What about the Senate?" asked an auditor.

"The Liberal party," answered Mr. Laurier, "are pledged to reform the Senate and to bring it more in accordance with the views of the people."

In approaching the school question, Mr. Laurier expressed his surprise that the other party should apply to him for a policy on the question. He was pleased with the compliment which had not been paid to the Minister himself as far as he could see.

"I have told the Government more than once what they should do to solve the question. Why should we have the question? It should be for the people of Manitoba to settle themselves. Section 93 of the British North American Act was introduced to pre-

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. In the British Guiana-Venezuela boundary dispute, Great Britain, it seems, is inclined to consider America's suggestion looking to an amicable settlement of the question, as not unworthy of attention. But any suggestion must be of a civil character and not of the Remedial Order variety. The Lion may be coaxed but nothing but regret can be got out of him by an attempt at kicking.

ELEVEN years ago Toronto contemplated building a court house to cost $400,000; then it was decided to include a city hall in the building, the estimated cost taking periodic leaps up to $1,650,000, and there is a probability that the figures will yet be largely increased. It would have paid Toronto to have got an Ontario Government Commissioner of Public Works to undertake the construction of their public buildings.

THE Ottawa Journal (N.P. Independent) says,—There is a feeling abroad and quite an open one, too, of dissatisfaction among the Conservatives of this part of the country with the steps already taken by the government on the Manitoba school question, and being aware of this, the Liberal leader, as he well knows how, handles the question to the best advantage. Conservatives are not a bit backward in expressing the opinion that the manner of dealing with the school question as proposed by Mr. Laurier is far preferable to the coercive attitude of the federal government."

THE number of students who graduated for the professions in the United States during the year ending September 30 was 25,771. These were divided as follows: Medicine, 4,911; dentistry, 2,868; pharmacy, 3,294; law, 6,776; theology, 7,898. This is at the rate of over three-quarters of a million members for the five professions named during a generation. Probably two-thirds of these will realise before they die that they would have been a good deal better off if they had tilled the and, while a very small percentage will attain any degree of fame and wealth. The plough or the mechanic's bench would be a better place for many college graduates than the struggling positions that are already overcrowded. Success in a "humble sphere" such as these college men would call honest manual labour, brings more comfort and contentments than a beggarly professional practice.

The old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was picked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined?

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then comes the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

Doctors Say It is the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—I recommend Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with pleasure. Last July I took Congestion of the Lungs and was in bed four weeks. Dr. Lawson, of Hamiota, attended me and sent a bottle of Milburn's Emulsion. It is the very best made and soon restored me back to health again. Truly yours, ALF. SMITH, Wheatlands, Man.

Rinadale Union Sunday School held a very successful and entertainment on Tuesday evening last in the town hall.

The supper was served in the school house adjoining the hall. The ladies, in their usual efficient manner, furnished edibles that would satisfy the most fastidious. After tea, all repaired to the town Hall, where a lengthy programme of speeches, instrumental and vocal music was rendered.

Mr. John Brown, the worthy superintendent of the school, acted in the capacity of chairman. In a neat speech he explained the object that the proceeds of the evening was intended to be applied to, the purchasing of an organ for the use of the Sunday school."

Rev. Mr. J. H. Trotter, Peterborough, addressed the audience on the various reasons why people should be thankful to Him, who gives us everything, proving very clearly that every gift is given to the nation and individual in a measure that is necessary for their temporal and spiritual wants. The reverend gentleman is an earnest speaker, and has the power of impressing his hearers with his earnest remarks.

Mr. H. D. Williamson, the popular band master, and Mr. Geo. Fowler gave a violin and cornet duet, accompanied by Miss Smith on the organ, which brought forth a hearty encore.

Rev. J. J. Rae, Peterborough, addressed the meeting for a short time, taking for his subject "Straight up and down men." The reverend gentleman is a good after-dinner orator, judging from his numerous illustrative witticisms. He handled his subject very cleverly, showing to the young people how necessary it was to make a start in life, a determination to do the right being absolutely necessary for success in this life, and to be anything else than an upright man would be sure to end in eternal misery. The wish was frequently expressed that these two reverend gentlemen may again find it convenient to give an address at some future date here. The singing of the Misses Bellegham, Miss Hamilton's humorous reading, the songs of Master Willie Sanderson, and little Pearl Clark's recitation, with others, gave the large audience a delightful entertainment, which was a decided success in every way. The following is a copy of the

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

Hurt by Beer.

The "finest lager beer made anywhere in the world" is the Munich beer of Germany. Even temperance people visiting the city usually throw aside their prejudice and drink the famous beer. But now comes from Dr. Bellinger a very strange statement. It is that there are few adult persons in Munich with sound hearts and kidneys and he attributes it to Munich beer. It overloads the heart and the strain weakens it. It overtaxes the kidneys, and they are injured. Formerly the healthy peasants from the country came into the city in numbers sufficient to keep up the stamina of the citizens, but now the beer is sent into the country and the peasant population have weak hearts and kidneys too.—San Jose Herald.

Over Twenty-Five Years Ago

The firm, Oak Hall, was established in Canada. The W. E. Sandford Manufacturing Co. of Hamilton (now the Largest Clothing Manufacturers in the Dominion, and one of the Largest in the World) decided that the people of this country would be better served if they dealt with the manufacturers direct and knew who they were dealing with. This was the ACORN planted for the first Oak Hall.

Since then stores have been opened in all the principal cities of the Dominion. Peterborough is the last to get in line and our reception has been a glorious one; the good people of this town and surrounding country have caught on quickly. They realize that now it is possible to get Style and Quality at a Fair Price in Ready-to-wear Clothing and useless to pay fancy prices for Custom Made Garments.

vent the minority being trampled upon and the latter have the right of appeal to the Government at Ottawa. What should have been the conduct of the Government at Ottawa? Let us look at the question simply from the point of view of common sense and of our common citizenship as well. Their duty was to ascertain whether or not there had been such a grievance as to warrant the extraordinary remedy of interference with a Local Legislature. This is not a question of law, but of fact. The facts are not commonly known among Protestants. It is asserted by the Roman Catholic minority that the schools are Protestant. If this were true it would be such an outrage that there is not a Protestant in this audience would tolerate it. But the fact is disputed and there is good reason why it should be investigated. There are other considerations which ought to be investigated. Why in the name of common sense did not the Government take the precaution of ascertaining the facts. Instead of this they threaten Manitoba, but when brought face to face with the consequences of their own act they quailed. They did not dare to introduce legislation, but said: "Let us negotiate." It came rater late. Why did they not commence by negotiating instead of attempting to force Manitoba? I pray to heaven they may succeed in negotiating with Manitoba to remove that question from the arena of politics yet I fear it is there to stay and it must be looked in the face before it can be settled. I have taken my course upon the question. I have spoken in favor of an investigation. I have no desire to shelve the question, because I should be unworthy of the position I hold if I were afraid to meet it. I want it investigated, because there are religious prejudices in this country; I want an investigation that we may find a basis broad enough to appeal to the consciences of all in this country. I am anxious as a Catholic that my fellow-countrymen and co-religionists in Manitoba should be granted a privilege which is granted to my fellow-countrymen and co-religionists in Ontario and Quebec. We want those privileges to be restored by appealing to the consciences of all men whatever may be their creed or race. If we cannot dispose of the question by appealing to the consciences of men, I despair of the future of my country. The principle which I have in view is equal justice, equal rights to all and favors to none, and my aim is if possible to remove the prejudices which divide us and bring harmony and peace in this country so that we may make Canada what it was intended to be—a great nation upon this continent of America.

The Much Abused Mr. Tarte.

The demonstration which followed the closing of Mr. Laurier's remarks was deafening, and it was several minutes before the chairman could gain the attention of the audience to announce the next speaker, who was introduced as "the most thoroughly-abused man in all Canada, J. Israel Tarte, M.P. for L'Islet."

Mr. Tarte said it was probably shocking in so bad a man as he to show his face before an intelligent audience in East York. He recalled the fact that during his last visit to Toronto, in 1889, he had been proclaimed by the Conservative press a brilliant speaker, an able writer, an honest man. Now he regretted to note that he was daily denounced in the same papers as an unprincipled politician and a man whose conduct was such that he was no longer fit for the association of honest men, but was inclined to attribute the change in the tone of these printed allusions to him to the fact that he had changed his political faith and was no longer affiliated with the Conservative press in his legislative efforts. He referred to the Bowell Administration as a "nest of dirty birds" and was proud of the fact that he had broken that nest. When he saw that the Conservative party was so thoroughly in the control of a band of thieves that they dare not move, he had resolved to move himself, and he moved into the ranks of the Liberal party, and note the result: "I am branded as a dishonest man, simply because I was honest and had the courage of my convictions."

Mr. Tarte made a passing reference to his endorsement of a note for $1000, his motive for which action has been rather freely commented upon, and closed his somewhat sensational speech with the modest remark: "I knew all that was necessary in my own defence was that you should see me and hear me to know me, and I am satisfied."

Mr. Mulock's Speech.

Mr. William Mulock, M.P., followed the "bad man from Quebec," and explained to the few who had remained after the termination of the principal addresses the circumstances connected with the liberation of McGreevy and Connolly, and took occasion to generally denounce the Conservative party and the present Administration. He was particularly severe in his condemnation of Mr. W. F. Maclean, the present member for East York, by whom he insisted the "Government was sustained in all its infamous acts."

"If there is one man in the Dominion Parliament who should be thrust aside in the interest of good Government, it is William F. Maclean, the most consistent advocate of the National Policy," said the member from North York.

Mr. R. J. Gibson closed the meeting with a few remarks, in which he applauded the statements made by the previous speakers, when the procession was formed and Mr. Laurier escorted to the Tremont House, where, after an informal reception, the gifted gentleman was dined by the Liberals of this district, subsequently returning to Toronto by the regular train, arriving in that city at 9 o'clock.

TORONTO HONORS LAURIER.

Escorted From the Station by a Torchlight Procession—Presented With an Address.

On the arrival of Mr. Laurier and party at the Union Station they were met by the reception committee from the Young Liberals and escorted under the archway of the new station to where the members of the club and a large number of the faithful had assembled. Mr. Laurier's arrival was the signal for generous and hearty cheers and for ten minutes the Liberal leader was kept busy shaking hands with his young supporters. The band of the Queen's Own struck up the "Maple Leaf," and the procession moved into the station yard, where Mr. Stewart Lyon, president of the club, escorted Mr. Laurier to a raised platform and presented him with an address, which was replied to.

When Mr. Laurier concluded his speech there were cries of "Laurier for Premier," and the vociferous cheering was again renewd.

Mr. Laurier spent Sunday in Toronto in the quietest possible manner, taking a much-needed rest. In the morning, with Madame Laurier, he attended service at St. Michael's Cathedral and spent th balance of the day at Mr. Mulock's residence.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—The Royal Canadian Bicycle Club secured a creditable victory Saturday afternoon in the team race for the Dunlop rug over the Kingston-road and Woodbine Park, 20 miles' course. The Torontos came second, 23 points behind, with the Athenæum Club 3rd, 6 points away. A. Hoskr, A.C.C., finished first, in 1 hour 3 min., with J. Crow, Tourists, second, and Young, R.C.B.C., third. The day was fine, but a strong west wind prevailed.

Each club started 10 men, with only five to score. All the winning team finished 13th or better. Thus the first man counted 80, and so on, with the club record as follows:

Royal Canadians	365
Torontos	329
Athenæums	323
Tourists	306
Western Y.M.C.A.	286
Queen City	271
Ramblers	266

Fast Wheeling at Denver

Denver, Oct. 19.—In spite of a rising breeze, C. M. Murphy went against the exhibition record, paced by a quad, and cut it from 1.53 4-5 to 1.52 2-5. He ran away from the quad in the stretch. Murphy knocked another record to-day in the half-mile handicap, class B, race, and established .58 3-5 as the new competition world's record for the distance. Eddie Bald won the mile national championship, paced by the quad. Bald, Cooper and Murphy made a wonderful rush down the stretch, and were only separated by a few inches at the finish. Summaries:

Half-mile, handicap, class B—C. I. Hillstreet, 50 yds., 1; C. S. Hate, 60 yds., 2; J. P. Bliss, 30 yds., 3; C. M. Murphy, scr., 4. Time .57 4-5.

One-mile, national championship (paced by quad)—E. C. Bald 1, T. Cooper 2, C. M. Murphy 3. Time 2.06 2-5.

Two-thirds mile, winners' race, class B—C. M. Murphy 1, E. C. Bald 2, T. Cooper 3. Time 1.29 3-4.

To-Day's Events

New York, Oct. 19.—There was some good racing at Morris Park, and the attendance was the largest of the season at the track. The best race of the day was the fourth, in which five went to the post, with Dorian as an odds-on favorite, while Rey El Santa Anita was lightly thought of, in view of his last race, which was very bad. At the fall of the flag the light-weighted Captain T. shot to the front and kept the lead to the last furlong, when he fell back, beaten, and Bathampton and Santa Anita took up the running. The former had enough of it, and the California horse won easily, with Bathampton second and Captain T. third. Dorian was last, showing none of his alleged speed.

If the management of the Saratoga races this year can obtain a license from the Jockey Club they will begin an 18-day meeting at Baltimore on Nov. 11. Summary:

First race, 5 furlongs—Floretta IV., 95, Hewitt, 5 to 1, 1; Wernberg, 116, Taral, 11 to 5, 2; Gotham, 116, Ballard, 6 to 1, 3. Time 1.06½. Jack of Spades, Preston, Key West, Sirocco, Tom Harding, Illusion, Stonenellie and George Dixon also ran.

Second race, 1 mile, selling—Second Attempt, 94, O'Leary, 11 to 5, 1; Sun Up, 109, Reiff, 9 to 20, 2; Burgundy, 97, Garrigan, 2 to 1, 3. Time 1.42½. Phoebus also ran. Phoebus was second by a length, but disqualified.

Third race, Albany Stakes, 6 furlongs—Ben Brush, 128, Simms, 1 to 8, 1; Merry Prince, 115, Griffin, 2, by six lengths; Cassette, 105, Doggett, 15 to 1, 3. Time 1.14. Intermission also ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles—Rey El Santa Anita, 127, Taral, 5 to 2, 1, by three lengths; Bathampton, 106, Littlefield, 4 to 1, 2, by a length; Captain T., 92, Keefe, 12 to 1, 3. Time 1.48. Dorian and Hermanita also ran.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs—Refugee, 103, Griffin, 8 to 1, 1, by a length; Carib, 105, Littlefield, 8 to 1, 2; Emotional, 100, Keefe, 10 to 1, 3. Time 1.14. Silver 11., Annot Lyle, Roundsman, Alarum, Brisk, Defender and Sebastian also ran.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Maybe it isn't so. Maybe it seems so because consumption is the most frequent of all diseases. Consumption kills more people than wars or Cholera or Yellow Fever. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. And consumption can be cured. Doctors used to say that it was incurable, but the doctors were mostly mistaken. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. Many things were once considered impossible. The ocean steamer, the locomotive, the telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all these were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Consumption is a disease of the blood. It used to be considered a disease by itself. It is not. It is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. Purify the blood and restore the healthy action to the various organs of the body and consumption will be cured. It is by weakness and loss of vitality in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness of the blood—surely, certainly cured. Those who have consumption or any lingering bronchial, throat or lung disease, and those who are on the road to them, have a positive remedy at hand. Any condition of the body that indicates weakness, any indication of impurity in the blood, should be attended to at once. Loss of appetite, loss of flesh, loss of vitality, nervousness, weakness and unnatural weariness, are indications that the body is running down. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the appetite good, the digestion strong. It builds up solid, healthy flesh and vigorous strength. Thousands of people have testified that it has really saved their lives. Some of these testimonials, together with hundreds of things that everybody ought to know about health and sickness and medicine, have been embodied in Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser." This 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and postage only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. A BENSFORT PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

Alexander Galloway Dies of Blood Poisoning.

The death of Mr. Alexander Galloway, of Bensfort, occurred on Friday, Oct. 11th. He was in the 68th year of his age. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mr. Joseph Hicks, of Oshawa, to mourn his demise, which was occasioned by blood poisoning, caused by a scratch on the knee, so slight as to be unnoticed when received.

For 18 years the deceased was the postmaster at Bensfort, and was the proprietor of the general store, consequently he was one of the best known men in that portion of the country, and his many good works caused him to be universally loved and respected. For two years he conducted the services at the Baptist church in Bailieboro when that charge was without a pastor. In later years when this church was closed he joined the Methodist persuasion and remained a devoted adherent until his death.

Mr. Galloway came to Canada first about fifty years ago, and for a couple of years taught school in Hamilton township, Northumberland County, when he returned to Alyth, Perthshire, Scotland, the place of his nativity. In 1872 he once more crossed over to Canada and took up his residence at Bensfort, where he has lived since that time.

The funeral took place on Sunday, Oct. 13th to the Methodist burying ground in South Monaghan, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. McKee.

SUDDEN DEATH IN SMITH.

The Late John Donnelly Drops Dead from His Chair.

On Sunday Mr. John Donnelly, Smith, died very suddenly. He seemed to be in his usual health, and while moving from one chair to another fell suddenly dead. The deceased, who was 86 years of age, was a native of County Cavan, Ireland, and came to Canada about seventy years ago. He first settled in Smith, but being of a roving disposition went to the United States, where he remained at different places for years. He served as a soldier in the Florida war, and in 1892 the United States government granted him a pension for his services. About 1840 he returned to Smith, but soon took another tour, being absent from Canada about thirty years. He recently lived in Smith, making his home chiefly with his nephew, Mr. Jas. D. Donnelly, at whose place he died. The deceased never married. The funeral takes places on Tuesday, Oct. 22, from the residence of his nephew, lot 18 in the 5th concession of Smith, to Ray's Cemetery.

At a meeting of the special committee of the Board of Trade appointed to consider the subject, it was decided to let the matter drop regarding the petitioning of the Government to change the route of the Trent Valley Canal to the extent of causing it to follow the course of the river from Nassau to Peterborough, instead of diverging off into Douro.

An Election in No. 2 Ward.

Mr. Wm. Irwin received nominations to-day at noon for candidates for the chair at the council board left vacant by the resignation of Mr. Clinkscale. As the term of office is short very little interest was manifested in Ward No. 2 regarding the matter. Mr. Joseph Cobb was nominated by Messrs. John Sawers and W. Metherall, and Mr. G. M. MASON VS. PETERBOROUGH.

An Almost Identical Case Before the Supreme Court — The Appeal Dismissed—The Responsibility of Corporations.

This now celebrated action seems to be parallel, point for point, and very similar step by step in the course of litigation, with the case of Deroche vs. Cornwall. The plaintiff was injured by falling on a sidewalk on a street in the town of Cornwall, in consequence, as she alleges, of ice having been allowed to accumulate on the sidewalk, which by alternately freezing and thawing, rendered the surface uneven and slippery. The action was twice tried, the first verdict for the plaintiff for $300 having been set aside by the Divisional Court and a new trial ordered, which resulted in a verdict for plaintiff for $700, which was sustained by the Divisional Court and the Court of Appeal. The case was then appealed to the Supreme Court, which dismissed the appeal with costs.

In giving judgment Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice, says:

I am of opinion that the learned Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench could not have withdrawn the case from the jury. There was evidence to show that the sidewalk was in a defective state; that it had been either improperly constructed or had from age or long use sunk down so as to allow water to accumulate upon it, and in consequence of this the ice which caused the accident was formed. There being this evidence, a non-suit would have been manifestly wrong."

"I do not consider the weather alone caused the formation of the ice on which the respondent (plaintiff) stepped and fell, for without structural defect there would, according to some of the witnesses, whose testimony it was for the jury to consider and weigh, would have been no ice on the spot. * * * The appeal must be dismissed with costs."

Justice Taschereau said: "This is a clear case for a dismissal. The case of Carswell vs. St. Mary's Road Co. (1) seems to be good law; it was then held that if snow collect on a certain spot and by the thawing or freezing the travel upon it becomes specifically dangerous, and if this special difficulty can be conveniently corrected by removing the snow or ice or by other reasonable means, there is the duty on the person or body on whom the care or reparation rests to make the place fit and safe for travel. I agree with chief Justice Haggarty's reasoning." Justices Sedgwick and King also concurred with the Chief Justice, Justice Gwynne alone dissenting.

[If the opinions and judgment of four out of five judges of the Supreme Court represent, as it is to be assumed they do, the law on the subject of the responsibility of corporations in reference to walks, then it behooves the Street and Bridge Committee of the town to keep its eyes open. For instance, the stretch of sidewalk on the chief street of the town (not to speak of numerous other walks), from Fairweather & Co.'s to Oak Hall, with its mountains of obstinate knots and corresponding depressions, presents, it would seem, according to the above ruling, grounds for successful actions for damages wholesale.]

THE BISHOP'S DEPARTURE.

Priests and People Give Him a Hearty Good-bye at the Station.

Vicar General Brown, of Douro, the priests of the Cathedral and several hundred of the parishioners of St. Peter's, assembled at the station to-day at noon to witness the departure of His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor for Rome. There were no addresses or demonstration of any kind everything of that nature having taken place beforehand. A number of those present personally bade His Lordship farewell, and he waved an adieu to the rest as the train bore him away on the first stage of his long journey. He sails by the Germanic of the White Star Line, on Wednesday. He will be absent about three months. Vicar-General Laurent, Lindsay, will administer the Diocese, in his Lordship's absence.

A BIG CONTRACT FULFILLED IN PETERBOROUGH.

A $50,000 Job About to be Executed by Local Manufacturers.

The first three-phase electric light plant ever placed in position in Canada has been contracted for by the Trenton Electric Company. The William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, Peterborough, has secured the contract for putting in the entire water power machinery, and it is understood that the Canadian General Electric Company will furnish the electrical appliances necessary.

The outfit when completed will cost in the neighbourhood of $50,000, all of which sum, with the exception of the wages paid for erecting the plant, will come to Peterborough.

The enterprise is quite a gigantic one as, after Trenton has been supplied with sufficient light and power, lines will be strung to Belleville, and electricity transmitted to that city over an intervening distance of twelve miles. The waste in transmitting is computed to be only sufficient to supply six arc lights, and consequently it is thought that with superior generating power, Trenton can transmit the light to Belleville cheaper than it can be provided in that city.

Two large water wheels are now being constructed on the contract by the William Hamilton Company, which has watched and fostered the scheme from the start. The job is a big one, and it is no small credit to the town to boast of possessing manufactories which can fulfil a contract of such magnitude.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just efficaciously does it aid and strengthen the processes of digestion.

THE CONGREGATION HAS SAID FAREWELL.

AN ADDRESS READ TO THE BISHOP YESTERDAY.

After High Mass Had Been Celebrated the Congregation, Through Mr. Louis M. Hayes, Says Good-bye to His Lordship.

At the conclusion of the celebration of High Mass yesterday morning, in St. Peter's Cathedral, the members of a committee appointed to draft a farewell address to His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, took up a position in the front of the sanctuary, and the following address was read by Mr. Louis M. Hayes, Barrister :—

To the Right Rev. R. A. O'Connor, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough :

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP:

We the parishioners of St. Peter's Cathedral, of Peterborough, beg to approach you, on this the eve of your departure for the Eternal City, to express our devotion to your person and office, our appreciation of your zeal and labour in our midst, and finally to unite our best wishes for a happy and prosperous voyage, and a safe return to Peterborough, the scene of your many labours.

Scarcely seven years have come and gone since the news reached the good people of Barrie, that their beloved pastor, Dean O'Connor, who had cared for their spiritual wants for almost a score of years, was named Bishop-elect of the extensive and rapidly growing diocese of Peterborough. Glancing back o'er the brief space of time which Your Lordship has been among us, we can readily understand with what commingled feelings of sorrow and pride, your parishioners received such news. Proud they must have been at your elevation to the Episcopal dignity, sorry they undoubtedly were to sever their connections with one whom time had taught them to love and revere. Such, too, were our feelings on that occasion when the eminent Doctor Dowling, obedient to the voice of his superiors, bade us farewell. But our feelings of sorrow were assuaged, entirely dispelled, when we recognized in Your Lordship so many distinguishing qualities befitting the true pastor of souls.

Permit us, then, my Lord, to express, in brief, a few of those reasons which render the privileges of addressing you to-day doubly dear. Your Lordship had scarcely set foot in your new field of labour till you began to carry out the projects initiated by your predecessors. A Hospital for the sick and House of Providence for the care of the poor and the aged of the Diocese were placed under construction, and completed ere the first year of your Episcopacy came to a close. Under your fostering care our schools have reached a point of excellency second to none in the Province. The Convent school buildings have been reconstructed and enlarged to double their former size, and are under the able management of the good Sisters of Notre Dame. To better further the interests of education, and to provide more ample means of extending charity to the needy, you have established a second order of Nuns in the Diocese and provided them with a magnificent Mother-House and Novitiate, where aspirants to the Holy sisterhood may be trained to lives of piety and self-sacrifice. To both these excellent Sisterhoods, in many respects the complement of each other, the Catholics of Peterborough owe a deep debt of gratitude, and we thank your Lordship, most cordially, for the efforts you have made to establish them on no unsound basis. To your wise and provident administration, ably seconded by the mature and thoughtful suggestions of the Venerable Archdeacon Casey, we are indebted for the gradual liquidation of our parish debt as well as for the many marked improvements on the Cathedral and the Sacristy. But better than any of these, more worthy of the church to which we belong, and in the government of which your Lordship holds a prominent place, is the pleasing fact that, throughout the length and breadth of your vast diocese, no position is left unattended, no soul uncared for. On the distant Manitoulin Islands, along the rocky shores of Lake Superior, and in the dense forests of the far north, your faithful missionaries are spreading the light of the true Faith, preaching Christ and Him crucified to thousands who till recently never beheld the face of a white man. Nor has Your Lordship been forgetful of the duties you owe to them, nor yet dilitory in their performance, for on more than one occasion, you have visited them in person, bringing comfort, joy and consolation to these poor benighted wanderers of the woods. We will say nothing of your work nearer home. We will say nothing of the schools, the convents, the chapels and the churches, which under your direction and supervision have been erected in the more settled parishes of the diocese. These speak for themselves. They shall stand as visible testimonies to future generations of the lively faith of your people, the unflagging zeal of your priests, and your own assiduous and untiring efforts to promote the spead of our holy religion. But best of all, more enduring than stone or marble, are the memories of their devoted Prelate which shall rest enshrined in the hearts of your people to be transmitted to their children—a legacy forever.

May God, in His mercy, long spare you to watch over our spiritual interests, to direct your clergy in the faithful fulfillment of their priestly functions and to lead us all by word and example to that mansion of peace and happiness where Christ reigneth in power and glory.

And now, my Lord, ere you set out on your voyage to the Eternal City, whither the requirements of your extensive work for the greater glory of God and the salvation of souls call you, we would ask you to be mindful of your people as you kneel before the throne of the Vicar of Christ. Bear to the Holy Father, the great and good Leo XIII, who wields the sceptre of the Prince of the Apostles, our unswerving fidelity to the See of Peter, our love and devotion to His thrice sacred person, and our unchanged and unchangeable admiration for the manner in which he has, guided by the light of the Holy Spirit, ruled and governed the Catholic world.

Say for us, how your people in this distant land of Canada, deplore the indignities which have been heaped upon His Holiness and upon the whole Catholic Church, over which God has called him to rule, by the cruel hand of an ungrateful usurper, how we lament the spoliation which has robbed him of the patrimony of Peter—and how fondly and hopefully we look forward to the day, when the cause of justice, truth and religion shall triumph over the powers of darkness, and over the base and avaricious motives which have stripped him of everything, save his divine right to rule, and the warm and deep rooted affections of his Catholic subjects both at home and abroad. Implore his blessing on the noble work done in our schools and convents, in our hospitals and homes of refuge, that a more gracious time may come when even the most remote portions of your diocese shall know and feel the sweet ministrations of the tender Sisters of Charity, when the education of our children shall be brought to that high degree of Catholic perfection which we know to be the constant aim and most sanguine hope of your Lordship.

May God speed you, then, on your message of love and duty to the Holy Father, and your first visit to the tombs of the Apostles. May your journey to Rome and your stay in the Eternal City—a city sanctified by the blood of martyrs, be happy and prosperous, and may your sojourn in the dear land of your birth, the "Green Isle of the Sea" to which so many of your people owe their ancestry, be one of unmingled joy and consolation. May Ireland receive you as one of her honoured sons with that welcome and rejoicing so characteristic of the warm Irish heart and so indicative of unshaken Catholic faith.

We ask your Lordship to be the bearer of our humble offering of Peter's Pence to His Holiness. It is the offering of faithful hearts whose constant prayer is that Almighty God may in His divine providence free him from his prison and restore to the Church the freedom which is his inheritance.

Signed on behalf of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough,

THOMAS CAHILL,
Chairman.
LOUIS M. HAYES,
Secretary of Com.

October, 21st, 1895.

His Lordship, in replying to the address, stated that he found it impossible to put into words his intense appreciation of the kind wishes expressed. He hoped the God speed which they wished him might meet with the blessing of the Heavenly Father. Concerning the ennumeration of the various works accomplished in the way of the erection of churches and the progress of the church educational institutions during the past seven years, he thought that too much credit had been ascribed to him. He was in the position of the general of an army. When a general was in command of a brave and courageous force he was in a position to wage successful warfare—without such a force his generalship was completely nullified. So it was with him. Surrounded, as he was, by brave and devoted members of the church, and their courageous priests, the task of advancing the cause of religion had been greatly lightened. When he had found so hearty a co-operation on the part of the clergy and laity he had been encouraged to go forward. References had been made to the many institutions of religion and education which had recently been erected in the diocese, and he was pleased to be able to report at Rome that much good was being accomplished, with a promise of even greater advancement along this line. The kind words of his parishioners concerning the progress of the cause of religion in the diocese showed that all were interested in the work, and he knew those present would be encouraged to know that no less than thirty three churches had been built in the last ten years, scattered over the diocese. Many adherents of the faith lived in very remote parts, and as there were probably only a limited number living in the same vicinity it could readily be understood how it was that some of the churches were not as large and handsome as they otherwise would be, still he had felt it his duty to take as great an interest in these scattered parishioners as in those living in the towns and villages. Seven other churches had been repaired and enlarged, and the number of priests in the diocese greatly increased, yet their great and well-known zeal and activity was quite severely taxed on account of the number of appointment which each had to fill. No less than 14 native priests had been ordained since his connection with his present charge. It was the great desire of the church that as many native priests as possible should take orders in the different dioceses, as they would be acquainted with the wants of their people more fully than a stranger and would naturally be more in sympathy with their parishoners. Still, of course, the church did not underestimate the work of the missionaries, and was very grateful to the priests who took upon themselves the duty of giving religion a start in the new territories until such of the natives who saw fit should be prepared for ordination. Were it not for them religion would, he was sure, never have made the progress which it had done. It, however, was the desire that a family here and there in every diocese should set aside a son or daughter for the special service of God: the son to enter holy orders, and the daughter to take upon herself the vows of the Sisterhood. You desire, continued the Bishop, referring to the address, that I convey your sympathies to the Pope in his prison, and I will do so with the feeling that the knowledge of your love and devotion will lighten the burden of his cares and I am sure that he will send you his blessing when he learns of the manner in which your are seconding the efforts of your clergy and all working in unison to promote the promulgation of the faith. In conclusion, after bidding his congregation a most affectionate farewell, he assured them that when at the tomb of the Apostles he would ask God's blessing upon them and their families for generations. He hoped they would remember him as he would them whilst the ocean lay between them and hoped all would carry this memory with them when at their devotions and seek a blessing for him from the Almighty.

The congregation in attendance at the service was very large and a great number passed up to the front of the church before leaving to personally bid farewell to His Lordship.

FINED A FIVER FOR FIGHTING.

Charlie Guy Gets Into Trouble for Being Too Pugnacious.

Edward Cassidy and Charles Guy both appeared before the magistrate this morning, charged with being disorderly on the street last Friday evening. The charge against Cassidy was dismissed, but Guy was fined five dollars.

It appears that there has been hard feeling between these two young men for some time, and on Friday evening Guy passed Cassidy on the street and brushing against him stopped and invited him to settle the matter behind the arcade. Cassidy had no wish to fight, but Guy insisted and seizing him by the collar attempted to drag him away to the Arcade. Cassidy would not submit to this treatment and knocked his opponent down, whereupon a rough and tumble fight ensued in which neither were much hurt before they were separated.

When imposing sentence this morning the magistrate said that although he did not believe in fighting, he did not see what else Cassidy could have done under the circumstances except knock his tormentor down. He accordingly discharged him, and after reading Guy a severe lecture, imposed on him a fine of five dollars.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious?

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases were the muscular force is greatly reduced, the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours. Try it.

THE BACK OF HER DRESS CAUGHT FIRE.

Mrs. Horner Very Severely Burned on Saturday Afternoon.

Mrs. Horner, mother of Mr. T. H. Horner, G. T. R. section foreman, residing at the corner of Donegal and London streets, met with a most painful and at the same time most peculiar accident on Saturday afternoon.

It appears that Mrs. Horner had heard that if one sat with the back to the fire whilst peeling onions that the disagreeable effects which the acrid odor usually has on the eyes could be avoided. She was accordingly seated before the fire trying the experiment when a spark from the stove alighted on her back between the shoulders and smouldering there, sprang into a flame before Mrs. Horner was aware of what had happened. She tried to extinguish the fire with her hands but the spark had located in such an awkward spot that this was impossible. Her cries, however, brought assistance, Mrs. Holland, a neighbour, rushing in to her and smothering the flames just in time to prevent the accident assuming so serious an aspect as to result in a fatality, which it certainly would have in a very few minutes, as the fire had already eaten through Mrs. Horner's clothing and was acting upon her back in a most painful manner.

The services of a physician were secured and upon examination it was found that Mrs. Horner's hands and wrists were very badly burned indeed and that the burns on the back were not quite so serious, as though they covered a large surface, they were not as deep as were those of the hands and arms, which latter were injured through Mrs. Horner endeavouring to put out the fire with them.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says : "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty-five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic dirrahœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

All we ask is a fair show, and you will give Grafton's Clothing the preference.

THE CABINET SHUFFLE

Montreal Conservative Circles in a Great Ferment.

THE PELLETIER STORY CONFIRMED

He Resigns From the Taillon Government to Take a Federal Portfolio—Senatorial and Other Vacancies to be Filled Without Delay - E. A. White to Get His Reward.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—There was more interest manifested here yesterday in Federal politics than for many weeks past. The members of the Conservative party have been greatly relieved at the indication of life at headquarters; fut it must be admitted that the policy of "drift" had exasperated and discouraged the Montreal Ministerialists. This morning, however, Hon. Mr. Ives interviewed Hon. George A. Drummond and those most prominent in party affairs, and it is stated to-night that the near future will see some interesting nominations in this province. The Minister of Trade and Commerce is authority for the statement that Cabinet, Senate and many other important vacancies will be filled within the next ten days.

The statement that Hon. L. P. Pelletier was about to enter the Cabinet in the place of Hon. A. R. Angers is confirmed this afternoon, and it is also learned that the Provincial Secretary has already sent in his resignation as a member of the Taillon Government. The question has been asked regarding a seat for the new Minister, but it is understood that the honorable gentleman will be called to the Senate at once, where he will remain until the present Parliament is dissolved. Hon. L. P. Pelletier's proper place, however, is in the House of Commons, and he will contest and capture Dorchester at the general election—the Federal seat being now held by Mr. Valliancourt, a supporter of Hon. Mr. Laurier.

The new Minister is of French descent, his ancestors being from Bretang. His father was Thomas P. Pelletier, and his mother Caroline Casault. He was born at Trois Pistoles, County of Temiscouata, and received his education at the College of Ste. Anne and at Laval University. He was called to the bar in 1880, was president of the Club Cartier, a Conservative organization, and has been Crown Prosecutor at Quebec since 1882; was appointed to the Legislative Council in 1887, from which he resigned, and was elected to the Assembly by acclamation in 1887. On the formation of the Taillon Government he became Provincial Secretary.

Those who have discussed the situation with Hon. Mr. Ives, say that Mr. Robert White, M.P. for Cardwell, will be Collector of Customs here before ten days have passed away; that Mr. George Baker, M.P. for Missisquoi, will replace Hon. J. J. Curran as Solicitor-General, and that Judge Norton, of Knowlton, will be apointed Senator for the Bedford division. Hon. Gardner Stephens has been dead three years, and the two claimants to the position have been Hon. Mr. Baker, who was Solicitor-General in the Debouchervilie-Angus Government in Quebec, and Judge S. W. Foster, brother of the late Senator Foster. This difficulty has, it appears, been removed and both gentlemen will enter into their rewards.

A few lawyers have been feeling badly over the promotion of the Hon. Mr. Curran to the Superior Court bench, but the Solicitor-General's popularity amongst all classes, his long years of faithful service to Montreal and to the Conservative party, and his splendid integrity and liberality, have to a great extent allayed any feeling that might have been caused by the appointment of any other except an English-speaking Protestant.

BRITAIN'S GULLIBLE ELECTORATE.

Lord Rosebery's Surprise on the Recent Liberal Waterloo.

London, Oct. 19.—Earl Rosebery made his first political appearance since the general elections by opening a new Liberal Club at Scarborough. In his address the ex-Premier said that the principale surprise at the last election was the extreme gullibility of the electorate. The Conservatives had promised to find employment for the unemployed, to give pensions to those who were unwilling to work and to make a pint pot hold a quart. That such promises should have been successful after a quarter of a century of compulsory education in the United Kingdom he regarded as most disappointing. It was the duty of the Liberals, he said, to educate the people to realise the limits of state benevolence. The primary question, however, was that of the present constitution of the House of Lords, which fact the country must realise.

At luncheon he again made a speech, saying he was glad that the Sultan of Turkey had complied with the demands made upon him for reforms in Armenian affairs by the powers. That, his lordship, declared, was one step in the right direction, but the powers had yet to see that the decree was carried into effect.

Cold Storage Rooms.

A gentleman addressed the West New York Horticultural society in the interest of the construction of cold storage rooms for a neighborhood. This system he thought would make the supply for the market throughout the year more equal to its demands. This co-operative principle may be worked as successfully in this direction as in dairying. Speaking from personal experience he said:

"I have a building that I built for the storage of nursery stock and in which I have had apples stored all winter. It is frost proof, built on heavy stone wall 24 inches thick, and three feet high. On this wall were set up 2 by 4 scantling; these were sheathed with inch hemlock, then covered with tarred building paper; then furred out with strips four inches deep and again covered as before, until the wall has three air spaces; the roof is constructed in the same way to protect against frost; light and ventilation come from two rows of windows at the top; the roof is gravel; the outside is covered with novelty siding; the building has double or two sets of doors at each end and a driveway through the center; it is painted inside and out; it is 100 feet long by 40 feet wide; the whole cost was $1,400, and it would afford storage for 10,000 barrels; the atmosphere is the same inside as out only that the building is frost proof and can be run in the winter months with a variation of not over 12 degrees; there is no smell of a cellar whatever, and stock always keeps perfectly. Such a house or a better one in a neighborhood would pay four years out of five at least 50 cents a barrel over all costs of labor for handling, sorting, insurance, etc."

Another member said he had a plan of a house for his private convenience. He was about to build a frame 60 by 30, with a wall of about 18 inches. Shall stud up on the side and have a two-story building, but use a gambrel roof for the second story. Shall board with rough hemlock on the studding, paper that and furr it up. This will give three air chambers and four thicknesses. Double windows and close-fitting shutttters with an air space (double shutters.) He will leave small holes from the wall under the sills on either side and put in cement for the lower floor. He will have the air chambers below the sill in case he wants to scrub the floor or leave them open at night and close up quick. He will have holes through the upper floor for the circulation of air, and two ventilators, through the top. With proper circulation such a house will be frost proof in winter and cool in summer.

The True Story of Two Robins.

"My! Isn't it hot!" exclaimed Robin, as he and Mabel swung in the hammock under the elm tree. "I wish we were as high up in the air as these little robins in their nest. They must be nice and cool."

"How hot it is!" sighed the baby robins. "This old nest is so hot, and the sun scorches right down through the leaves, while there is not a breath of air stirring. It must be nice and cool down there in the grass where the children are. I wish our wings were grown so we could fly down and see."

Just then both children and robins were startled by a loud clap of thunder. The nest was swayed by the wind until the little birds were in danger of being thrown out, and the children ran into the house.

How the wind did blow. Both the children buried their heads in mamma's lap, until mamma told them that the storm was nearly over. Then they ran to the window and looked out to find it raining very gently, while the sun was trying to smile through the raindrops.

But alas for the little robins! Old mother robin appeared to be distressed as she flew from tree to tree calling to her little ones who had been blown from the nest. Very soon a feeble little voice answered her from down among the grasses on the further side of the street. The old robin, greatly excited, flew down beside it, and then ensued a scene both interesting and pathetic.

The old bird would hop a few steps and then wait patiently for the little bird to follow, until at last they reached the street gutter, which was filled with muddy water. Back and forth over the gutter flew the old bird, urging the little one to try its wings, until the tiny bird obeyed her call. But the gutter was too wide for its feeble strength, and when only half way across it dropped down into the water, uttering such piteous cries as it floated helplessly about that Mabel began to cry, while Robin pulled off his shoes and stockings and ran to the rescue.

But the old mother bird was too quick for him. As the baby bird fluttered near the shore she hopped down into the edge of the water, and seizing one of its wings with her bill drew it safely ashore. Then how she fluttered about while the little bird rested! By this time Robin stood by ready to help and the mother bird seemed to know that he was her friend.

Then while the old robin tenderly completed the rescue of the little one, Robin gathered up three other little birds, who were peeping loudly, and put them safely up in the tree, and Mable said, "I am so glad you are a boy instead of a bird, Robin, for it must be dreffut dangerous living in a nest."

Result of a Neglected Cold.

DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEPLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

WINE DRINKERS' MAXIMS.

Sayings of Our Elders and a Contribution From Roosevelt.

Jocose remarks, friendly toasts and cheery greetings rather than profound philosophical truths are to be sought usually among those who continuously find solace in wine drinking. But there is some literature of wine proverbs, so called, in which there is an admixture of wit and sagacity. "A cellar without wine, a home without woman, and a purse without money are three deadly plagues," is one of the oldest and best known of the wine proverbs. "Red wine poisons oysters," is another. "Wine is a turn-coat—first a friend, then an enemy," is a third. "Burgundy," it is an old saying, "is the wine of princes, Sillery of nobles, claret of the gentle born, and beer of the common people." It seems to be a fair inference that those who have gone to the trouble of compiling in various works the apothegms of wine drinkers have chosen them as a good cultivator chooses the best grapes, with much care—and when the author of such remarks was not drinking. "Champagne," it is a wine drinker's saying, "is like criticism—nothing more execrable if bad, nothing more excellent if good." "Love," says another, "stole its purple light from the wine cup." Here is another: "The bottle is of the aristocracy, treated like a gentleman." "Drink your enemy's wine: it's as good as your friend's" is an inhospitable but not unphilosophic saying, and, "Remember," says another, "olives and wine tell what a man is."

One recent saying of a wine drinker does not find a place in the collected maxims heretofore published, but later it may. Theodore Roosevelt, police commissioner, declared at a dinner a few years ago: "There is not one idea in a keg of beer."

He "Tells His Tale."

Everybody remembers the lines in Milton's "Allegro:"

And every shepherd tells his tale
Under the hawthorne in the dale.

What kind of tale do shepherds tell beneath the shade in summer dell? Of love, be sure, the shepherd sings, and lovely ways and lovely things; of maiden coy and wooer shy; of whispered word and speaking eye; of songs and games at Christmastide, when mummers mock and hobbies ride; of maypole mirth and Whitsun ale; of dark December's ghostly tale; and kisses snatched. Love's daring theft—the more you take the more are left; such things the poet saw and heard; such songs, such simple tale, such word; what time the hot sun overhead made welcome all the hawthorne shade, and while the swain in sunny June beguiled the summer afternoon,

I believe the above represents accurately what we understand by those two lines. A friend, however, whom I call the Destroyer, because he takes a fiendish pleasure in shattering these pretty looking visions of fantasy, tells me that Milton meant nothing of the kind. He simply alluded to a custom common in some parts of the country, of driving the flock through a gap in the hedge on the other side of which the shepherd counts his sheep—i.e., "tells his tale." I hope the destroyer is not right, but there is his theory.

Unhealthy Speculation in Cheese.

With the Englishmen offering limits of 86s to 87s for fine June cheese, or about 7 1-2c to 8c, Montreal, the recent advances in the country prices on the article to those on the outside seem hard to understand. The reason is plain, however, being due, to a very large extent, to short sales.

Toward the end of May several of the large exporting houses in Montreal conceived the idea that June cheese was a sale at 86s 6d to 87s. Acting on this belief, they sold short to buyers in Great Britain to a large extent. In fact, some houses are said to be short over 40,000 boxes, so that the aggregate amount must be considerable, possibly 100,000 boxes or so.

Towards the end of the week before last these speculative sellers became frightened, and sent out "best terms" orders to their country agents. In other words, they ordered these agents to buy cheeses no matter what they paid for them, and entirely irrespective of what the shippers had sold for.

The result was a prompt advance in the country price, representatives of Montreal houses in the country putting the cost up on themselves. The strange spectacle, therefore, is witnessed of shippers paying over 8c in the country for cheese which they will have to ship to England at 7 3-4c and 8c, Montreal, or, in other words, at a loss of 1-4c to 1-2c per lb.

Naturally, these tactics have completely unsettled the cheese market, making it difficult for conservative shippers to trade on a legitimate basis.

To Clean Copper and Brass.

Copper tea kettles and other household articles having polished surfaces, should not be allowed to get rusty, as rust will destroy the metal. If the surface be rubbed but a little every day, the labor of keeping them bright will be very light. In case a rust is formed on the surface, apply a solution of oxalic acid, which, well rubbed over tarnished copper or brass will soon remove the tarnish, rendering the metal bright. The acid must be washed off with water, and the surface rubbed with whiting and soft leather. A mixture of muriatic acid and alum dissolved in water, imparts a golden color to brass articles that are steeped in it a few seconds. To give a finer polish, go over the surface of the metal with rotten stone and sweet oil, then rub off with a piece of cotton or flannel, and polish with a leather.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from twelve prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

How to Walk Upstairs.

"There are but few persons who know how to walk upstairs properly," said a well-known physician. "Usually a person will tread on the ball of his foot in taking each step, springing himself up to the next step. This is very tiresome and wearing on the muscles, as it throws the entire weight of the body on the muscles of the legs and feet. You should in walking or climbing stairs seek for the most equal distribution of the body's weight possible. In walking upstairs your feet should be placed squarely down on the step, heel and all, and then the work should be performed slowly and deliberately. In this way there is no strain upon any particular muscle, but each one is doing its duty in a natural manner."

Butter Globules.

Never set milk or cream in a cellar where there is the least smell of mold.

To avoid white specks in butter, keep bits of loppered casein out of the cream.

It is as necessary to have thorough ventilation in the dairy-room, as in the living apartments.

The care of butter does not end with its being packed in tubs or jars. The packages should be kept stored in a cold atmosphere, kept pure by ventilation.

Even if you can "guess" on temperature to within half a degree, always use a thermometer in cream before churning.

Makers who never forget the fact that butter is a conglomeration of delicate fact globules, and who handle it accordingly, are the successful ones.

The creamery that makes butter nowadays without using the Babcock test ought not to receive patronage. This may seem a strong statement, yet without the use of this test the rich milk of a fine breed of cattle, well fed, brings no more than that yielded by scrubs, with a diet of straw.

Never guess at the salt used in salting butter, any more than you guess at the temperature of cream. Weigh it down to the ounce, after you have weighed the butter. Many experienced makers daily "lump" these articles off, because they think experience makes them technical guessers. Such a method is unscientific and dangerous. When you wash butter after the salt has been put in, as some do, uniformity in this line becomes impossible. Work butter continuously to incorporate the salt, and press it firmly into the tubs in packing, not violently pound it in.

An Even Exchange.

There was a little tilt at the club. The millionaire had tackled the artist, and the sparks flew. He had tried to be lordly and patronizing, and the artist had objected.

"Don't patronize me," he said.

"Why not?" asked the millionaire. "You're only a painter anyway."

"It requires brains to be an artist," replied the painter.

"Of course, of course," returned the millionaire in an off-hand way. "I admit it requires brains, and you have to sell them to live."

"But money is your god. You have no other," retorted the painter."

"It's yours, also," said the millionaire. "You sell your brains for it when you take my cash for your pictures."

"Well," replied the painter, "if I give you brains for cash, it's an even thing, anyway, for each gets what he needs most."

THE JAPAN MATTER IS NOW SETTLED.

THE INVESTIGATION RESULTS SATISFACTORILY.

The Lady Missionaries at Present in Canada on Furlough Address the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church on the Difficulty.

At the last session of the Women's Missionary Society for the Methodist church, now in session in Toronto, devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Carman, President of the Bay of Quinte branch, assisted by Mrs. Copeland of Newcastle. After the minutes had been read and confirmed, the Japan mission discussion was resumed. At Wednesday's session all the correspondence was called for, bearing on the work of the W. M. S. in that country, which had been laid before the board of the General Society at its recent meeting in Montreal. The reading of this correspondence was continued, the Corresponding Secretary being relieved at times by Mrs. Carman, the elected Vice-President. This correspondence showed that no reflection was made upon the moral or religious character of any missionary; that Mrs. Large's administration of the affairs of the was such as to commend itself to the judgment of the board; and that the only cause of complaint was was a certain abruptness af speech, and as, perhaps, not sufficiently conciliatory manner towards some of the General Board in that country.

After the correspondence was finished, Mrs. Large was asked if she had a written statement to submit to the Board. She replied that she had not, as she had no charges to make, but was prepared to answer any questions which might be submitted to her. In answer to enquiries she gave an outline of the work during the last four years, in as far as it related to any friction with the missionaries of the General Board. Many points were cleared up to the satisfaction of the delegates, and Mrs. Large said:—"I do not resent a question which has been asked me, but am only to glad to have an opportunity of making these explanations. I feel that I know my sisters better than ever before, and they understand me better. I know that for myself, to me will come from all I have gone through. I have learned lessons which will abide with me throughout life." Mrs. Large was still speaking when the meeting adjourned.

The afternoon proceedings were opened by devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. Stuart, of Sackville, N.B., and Miss Palmer, President of the N. B. and P. E. I. branch. The discussion on Japan affairs was resumed, and eventually was crystalised into the following resolution, moved by Mrs. Ross, president of the Montreal branch, seconded by Mrs. Phelps, of Mount Pleasant:—"Whereas Mrs. Large has been recalled fram Japan on account of the want of harmony existing between the council of the General Board and the council of the W.M.S., and, whereas a thorough investigation into the causes of the said want of harmony has been made by the General Board, both as regards their own workers and also those of the W.M.S., seven of our workers having been present, to testify in reference to the different causes of friction, which, as well as that of Rev. Dr. Cochrane, the Rev. F. A. Cassidy and others, and from official records, proved comparatively small and insignificant, in no way reflecting upon either the character of our workers or their work, although as regards estrangements between individual missionaries, acknowledgment has already been made that the wisest course has not always been pursued; therefore, resolved that this board again expresses its confidence in Mrs. Large and our Mission Council in Japan and its policy, and empowers the Executive to re-appoint Mrs. Large to Japan, where, in the judgment of the Executive, the way to successful work is open." The resolution was heartily carried.

FROM THEIR TESTIMONY

The resignations of four ladies, who had resolved to retire from the work on account of the friction, were then considered. The four ladies were present and addressed the meeting. It was decided that in the case of Miss Nellie Hart, her resignation be accepted on the understanding that if circumstances again call her to the field she will again apply for acceptance. The resignation of Miss Hargrave and Miss Blackmore were not accepted, and these ladies will return to Japan of the Executive. Miss Lizzie Hart's health not being such as to enable her to engage in the work at present, she was given an extension of time until a medical certificate declares her to be again qualified to pursue the work.

At the evening session Mrs. McKay presented a supplemental report for the Treasurer, which covered the period since the closing of the books. The totals of the sums in this report amounted to $421.35, making a grand total for the year of $40,800. The report was adopted.

The following resolution, which was entered on the books as a notice of motion, was not carried: "Whereas, through overwork or change of climate, our missionaries are liable to become permanently laid aside; resolved, that a superannuation fund be formed for their benefit."

A suggestion regarding the formation of a contingent fund for a similar purpose was left over.

It was decided that a special programme for Easter services be printed in sheet form for the use of auxiliaries.

The consideration of the estimates for the home and foreign mission fields resulted

IN THIS PROPORTIONMENT:

Japan, $14,056; China, $7,500; Chinese Rescue Home, Victoria, B. The election of officers resulted as follows:—President, Mrs. Gooderham, Toronto; Vice-President, Mrs. Carman, Belleville: Recording Secretary, Mrs. Kerr, Toronto; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Strachan, Hamilton; Treasurer, Mrs. Thompson, Toronto; Editor of Outlook, Mrs. Gordon Wright, London. The credentials of the following were accepted for the mission field:—Miss Churchill, Miss Hawkins and Miss Morse. Invitations were received for the next board meeting from Brampton and Halifax, and the former place was chosen.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. H. Symonds will lecture at Whitby on Wednesday next.

Mrs. Seward took the solo in the morning anthem in the George street church, yesterday, in a particularly effective manner.

The solo in the anthem "Unanswered" was most acceptably taken in St. Paul's church yesterday morning by Miss Sophia Cameron.

Yesterday being the day of intercession for Sunday schools, special prayers were offered and a children's service held in the afternoon in St. Luke's church.

The Charlotte street choir sang the Te Deum as an anthem last evening, Miss Sherlock and Miss Hall taking the duet, and Mr. John Millar the solo.

Miss Hendren's rendition of a new English arrangement of "Jesu, Lover of My Soul," was very much appreciated last evening in the Charlotte street church.

During the offertory in the Charlotte street church yesterday morning, Mr. John Miller rendered the solo "Come Unto Me" in splendid voice.

The anthem "Hail, King Eternal" was most harmoniously rendered in the Charlotte street church yesterday. Miss Hendren and Miss Martha Stevens took the duet, and Mr. W. J. Squires the solo parts with excellent effect.

At the annual meeting of St. Luke's Young Women's Chapter of the Guild, held last week, there was a large attendance. Miss Maggie Calcutt was unanimously re-elected Head and Miss Armstrong Secretary. Nine new members were elected and thirteen nominated. The prospects for the season are good.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. James Liddy, Ph.B., of Keene, conducted services in the George street church yesterday, both morning and evening. Mr. Liddy is an original thinker and a most able speaker. His two sermons were greatly appreciated by the congregation, and in the evening there was some difficulty in seating all who were in attendance. Mrs. Liddy assisted the choir in the evening and sang a solo in which her beautifully clear soprano voice sounded to great advantage.

Rev. Dr. Torrance in continuing his sermons on the "Isms" last evening, devoted his attention to Confucius, and related some most interesting and instructive facts concerning the man, whose memory is so revered by the Chinese. The religion, however, he proved, which originated with him, could not be compared in its effect with Christianity, as knavery, intrigue, lying, backbiting and every kind of low trickery was prevalent to an alarming extent among the followers of the creed of Confuscius.

WORD FROM KOOTENAY.

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit, both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

Like a Swelling Tide.

is the increasing demand for Osh-k-Osh Tea. This is the best forty cent tea on the Canadian market. This is no idle talk boast. It stays at the head of the head of its class, and is being sold at the low figure of twenty-five cents. Like our thirty-five cent tea, it is a leader; but unlike it in this respect—you can always buy our thirty-five cent tea for thirty-five cents, but shortly you will have to pay forty cents for Osh-k-Osh. Threatened with Pneumonia.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

The Tuesday and Thursday evening classes in gymnastics are just what is needed by young men of sedentary habits.

Members reception on Friday night. No comments needed. There is never anything stilted about our meetings.

Song service on Saturday night, to last forty-five minutes. Good, hearty singing.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Stanley was greeted by a fine turn-out of young men, who listened to his talk on "Life," as seen and experienced by a mechanic, with rapt attention. Mr. Stanley made some strong points. He said that the laws that went to give success were exactly the same in a mechanic's that they were in a Christian's life. Among these he enumerated choice, application, obedience, faithful service, &c. Said the enemies of the two were identical, namely, neglect, carelessness, disobedience, intemperance, the tobacco habit, etc.

Mr. Jno. Moffat, of Oak Hall, speaks next Sunday on the same subject from a business man's standpoint. We bespeak for him a full house.

On Friday night a junior branch of the Association was organized with the following officers:

President—Garnet Bell.
Secretary—Wm. Davidson.
Treasurer—Henry Froud.

The meeting was enthusiastic, and the names of the officers are a guarantee that this department of the work, namely, "Work for boys by boys," will be pushed with energy.

A room for the exclusive use of the juniors is being fitted up, and an effort is being made to secure a suitable hall in which the popular game of basket ball may be practiced.

JEALOUSY AND CRIME

Attempted Murder and Suicide at Caledonia.

A RAZOR THE WEAPON HE USED.

Being Arrested and Locked Up He Tried to Batter His Brains Out Against the Wall of the Lockup—The Woman May Recover and the Man Go Insane.

Caledonia, Oct. 22.—At 11 o'clock Saturday night, Park Pattison, a barber, was shaving a customer, when he suddenly remarked that it was too warm to work.

He put his razor in his pocket and went into his house behind the shop.

He locked the door behind him, and the customers in the shop sat stupefied with wonder at Pattison's strange conduct.

The next they heard was a scream from the house, and they tried unsuccessfully to break in the door.

After a moment Mrs. Pattison unlocked the door and rushed out, with blood streaming from a gash in her throat.

"Save the children," she screamed, and the people, going quickly into the house, found Pattison trying to cut his own throat.

In the struggle, however, the razor had been broken, and Pattison was able only to gash his neck. Doctors dressed the wound, and Pattison was taken to the lock-up, where he tried to beat out his brains on the stone wall.

e managed to cut his head, and 12 stitches were put in the wound.

Mrs. Pattison has a chance to recover, and Pattison may go insane. Jealousy was the cause.

Desperate Affray Near Tweed

Tweed, Oct. 22.—Robert Parker, a hunter near Tweed, clubbed a neighbor named Johnston in a fight over a load of earth. After trying to shoot him, Parker was seriously hurt, and Johnston is guarding his house, and threatens to kill anyone who dares arrest him.

WERE TREATED VERY CRUELLY.

An American Citizen Fatally Wounded by a French Officer.

Greenock, Oct. 21.—Thomas Bradley, who has been employed as a fireman in the service of the Congo Free State, has just returned to this place, and in an interview relates some of his experiences in that country. He had for comrades there, he said, the overseers of his work, a number of black navvies and one American. "We were all treated very badly," he continued, "and when we asked for our wages, Captain Lithaire, who was in command of the station, informed us that payments would be made at Boma. Captain Lithaire accompanied us to Boma, where two Norwegians, the American and myself were quartered in a hut. We awoke in the middle of the night and found the hut on fire and ourselves surrounded by flames, the work of Captain Lithaire and four black policemen. We made our escape from the hut, and the American accosted him, asking: 'Is this our thanks?' Lithaire drew his sword and struck the American on the back with it, and the black policemen, by Lithaire's orders, bound him to a tree with leather thongs. The American being fastened securely, Lithaire walked up to him and slashed him with his sword, wounding him terribly.

"The Norwegians and I were afraid to interfere, for we were in the presence of 200 natives, but as soon as possible, after an opportunity came, we cut the thongs which bound the wounded man and carried him to the outskirts of Boma, where he lingered two days and died. After the American died the Norwegians and I succeeded in stealing a Government canoe under the cover of night and made our escape down the river. Both of the Norwegians were killed while making the journey in the canoe."

Bradley added that Bishop Taylor, the American missionary at Stanley Pool, told him the real cause of Lithaire's hanging of the British trader Stokes was that Lithaire was jealous of Stokes' superior abilities in dealing with the natives. The Bishop said that Stokes told him that Lithaire was his enemy because he would not bribe him as the other traders did.

RAN A STAMP LAUNDRY.

Two Men Charged With Cleaning Used Stamps.

Toronto, Oct 22.—George Brown, 155 Howland-avenue, and Richard Saddler, 41 Manning-avenue, were locked up in No. 2 Police Station last evening, with the charge of cleaning and disposing of postage stamps registered against them. Their arrest was the result of a clever piece of work by Detective Harrison and P.C. Ross of the second precinct.

Information came to Ross yesterday afternoon which led him to believe that Saddler was engaged in the business of selling revivified stamps to a Yonge-street dealer. He communicated his suspicions to his superior officer and Detective Harrison was detailed to capture Saddler. The officers concealed themselves, with the knowledge of the dealer, in the latter's store, and on Saddler's entrance and offering stamps for sale, arrested him. He had with him a number of stamps that had been cleaned.

At the Police Station he gave his proper address, but would say nothing as to how he came into possession of the stamps. Harrison and Ross visited the address given, and learned that Saddler was only a roomer. Fortunately for the officers, Brown was found in Saddler's room, awaiting his return. Brown could give no satisfactory explanation of his connection with Saddler, and was placed under arrest. Nothing of an incriminating nature was disclosed by the search of Saddler's room.

Brown was greatly surprised when informed that he was a prisoner. His capture proved the key to the whole story. The officers visited his house, where their suspicions that he was the principal in the swindle were amply verified. More than $500 worth of stamps were discovered in a large valise in one of the bedrooms. The greater part of them were Canadian, but many of English and American issue were there also. They ranged in denomination from the lowest to the highest, with two's and three's prevailing.

It is estimated that $300 worth of the stamps were cleaned and ready for sale. Nothing was discovered to indicate the process by which they were renewed.

The work of cleaning has been cleverly done, those that have been put through the process having every appearance of genuineness except when closely examined. The first difference aparent between them and new stamps is their faded appearance. When held to the light and minutely examined traces of the cancellation stamp can be discerned.

The source of supply which enabled the men to obtain so many stamps of all denominations is still a mystery to the officers. It is thought that the work has been going on for some time, during which hundreds of dollars' worth of stamps have been disposed of.

Saddler gave his occupation as a laborer, but he has had no work of late, it is said, other than his share in this scheme. Brown is a married man, 45 years of age, with no occupation, although he lived in a comfortably-furnished home. The prisoners will be arraigned in the Police Court this morning, and a remand asked, pending further investigations by Detective Harrison.

GIVE US TEN LEAGUES OR FIGHT.

Alaskans Greatly Agitated Over the Prospect of Canada Securing the Best of the Boundary Dispute.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 22.—The citizens of Alaska are greatly exercised over the boundary question, and propose to take steps in the matter without delay. They do not want to see what they term the richest portion of the United States annexed to British Columbia, and they say they will fight before they will see it taken.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed at Juneau and other camps over the dilatory action of the Government on this question. The news was brought to the city by the steamer City of Topeka yesterday. The paramount reason of renewed activity in the bondary line matter is the brilliant outlook of the mining properties along the Yukon and in the vicinity of Juneau. Prospectors are arriving in Juneau almost hourly with news of rich finds. Every one is happy, and all unite in saying that Alaska is the richest country on the face of the globe, and for this reason they desire to arouse sentiment on the boundary line question. The officers of the steamer say it is not uncommon to hear the expression: "Give us ten leagues or we will fight." They argue that England knows full well the vast richness of the country and will leave no stone unturned to accomplish her desire.

CANADIAN COPYRIGHT.

Herbert Spencer Writes to The Thunderer Criticising Sir Charles Tupper and Mr Goldwin Smith.

London, Oct. 21.—The Times will to-morrow publish a letter from Herbert Spencer criticising recently-expressed opinions on Canadian Copyright by Prof. Goldwin Smith and Sir Charles Tupper. The former contended that no amendment to the Canadian Act would be satisfactory unless the clause requiring that a book be printed in the Dominion before copyright, would be granted to it, was exercised. Sir Charles Tupper replied that he had the authority of British authors to support a contrary opinion, and he quoted in proof from a document signed by 50 British authors, including himself. Mr. Spencer denies that the passage bears the meaning that Sir Charles supposes it does, and proceeds to point out an important issue that is entirely ignored. He says that the requirement that to obtain a copyright in the United States a book must be manufactured there, prevents the writing of many books that would otherwise be written, especially works of instruction. It does not kill them, but prevents them from being born.

The Times, commenting on Mr. Spencer's letter, and the general Canadian Copyright Act, will ask Canada whether it is either wise or just to push her pretensions to the utmost. It will say that if Canada has a separate Copyright law every British colony may claim the same power, and that this literary particularism, however it may benefit local publishers and printers, can only be injurious, indeed, as Mr. Spencer contends, ruinous, to the real producers of the books.

A MINISTER DROPS DEAD

Succumbs to Neuralgia of the Heart While Sitting at His Tea Table—He Was a Huron Man.

Lanark, Oct. 22.—Rev. J. A. McConnell, Presbyterian minister at Watson's Corners, Lanark County, dropped dead of neuralgia of the heart on Saturday evening whilst sitting at tea. His body will be removed to Varna, his former home, in the County of Huron, and interred in the Bayfield Cemetery on Wednesday, Oct. 23, at 1 o'clock.

Choked to Death While Dining

Wodstock, Oct. 21.—Thomas Bennett, of Trimble's Corners, was seized with a choking fit while dining at Bailiff Virtue's house, and died shortly afterwards of heart disease. He leaves a wife and ten children.

CARDWELL'S MEMBER

Not Yet Appointed to the Montreal Collectorship.

WILL HOLD HIS SEAT YET AWHILE

Mr. Baker of Missisquoi to be Made Solicitor-General Before Many Days—Mr. John Lowe Shelved and Mr. Scarth Rewarded—Canadian Horses Attacked

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Hon. G. B. Baker, M.P. for Missisquoi, arrived here at noon to-day and a report was current that at to-day's meeting of the Cabinet he would be appointed Solicitor-General in succession to Justice Curran. I learn to-night that while the appointment has not actually been made, it will be before many days pass.

Another tit-bit of gossip to-day was that the long-vacant position of collector of customs at Montreal would be filled to-day by the appointment thereto of R. S. White. It turns out, however, that the appointment will not be made for some time and "Bob" will retain his seat for Cardwell next session.

At to-day's Cabinet meeting, Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, was placed on the superannuation list from November 1st, and Mr. W. B. Scarth was appointed his successor in the Deputy Ministership. General regret will be felt in the service at Mr. Lowe's retirement. He has had an honorable career in the service of the Government for over 25 years. Previous to that as one of the proprietors of The Montreal Gazette, he did grand work for the Liberal-Conservative party. There are few men in the party to-day who are so cognizant as he of the copyright, quarantine and cattle questions, and it will be difficult indeed, to replace him. His successor, Mr. Scarth, has had an extended business career and by a close study of the ramifications of the department should be able to creditably perform the duties of Deputy Minister.

Protection to the English farmer seems to be the watchword in the Mother Country. Recently the charge that spurious Canadian cheese was being sent to England was promptly exploded, and now a leading London newspaper, The Morning Post, comes out with an attack upon Canadian horses; says they are displacing the English horses, and yet are entirely unfit for work in the streets in England. As soon as Sir Charles Tupper saw this, he communicated with the veterinary surgeon in London who is retained by the Department of Agriculture. Dr. Hunting states that there is not a shadow of foundation for the charge made by The Morning Post. He has had experience of hundreds of Canadian horses in London during the last few years and says there are none better. In manner, constitution, feet and legs they are all that can be desired. No better "vanners" can be found in London than Canadians. If five-year-old horses are sent over they will continue to command a good price. It is useless, however, to send horses younger than five years.

The High Commissioner has called the attention of the Department of Agriculture to the great increase of late years in consumption of cider in the United Kingdom, a consumption which, he says, is quite beyond the power of supply of the local cider-making industry. Imports of this commodity from the United States to Great Britain have assumed considerable proportions and the High Commissioner is of opinion that no reason exists why Canadian cider should not find a large market with equal ease. The attention of fruit growers' associations and leading manufacturers of cider in this country is called to this fact. A number of copies of a pamphlet called "Cider," published in London, have been transmitted to the Department of Agriculture and will be distributed among such parties as take an interest in the suggested new branch of export trade.

In the Supreme Court to-day the case of Adamson v. Rogers was argued by Laidlaw, Q.C., for the appellant and Robinson, Q.C., and Macdonald, Q.C., for the respondent. The appellant was lessee of a water lot on Toronto Bay, with an agreement for renewal or payment by the lessor for buildings and erections, and the main question argued was whether or not the work of filling up the water lot with earth, stone and piling, which appellant claimed was done to make a foundation for a coal warehouse, one being afterwards erected on it, was a building or erection under the lease. Respondent argued that the work was only done to fill up the water lot and make an addition to the land. There was also a question about the land coming within the description in the lease. The County Court judge to whom the action was referred for trial decided both points against the appellant. The Division Court reversed his decision, but it was restored by the Court of Appeal. Judgment was reserved.

Isbester v. Ray will be taken up to-morrow morning.

The concession granted last year permitting the herring fishery to be continued in the inland waters of Canada during November proved such a boon to the fishermen that Mr. Costigan has decided not to enforce the close season against lake herring this year. Fishermen, however, must take care to observe the close season regarding whitefish. Representations having been made to the Fisheries Department that some of the St. Lawrence fishermen possessing licenses to fish for sturgeon with hooks are using live bait, the department rules that the use of live bait is a contravention of the conditions of the license and the practice must therefore be stopped.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1895.

THE crush at Mr. Laurier's receptions continues, and there is also plenty of jam for the Tarte, too.

MR. TARTE'S revelations in the McGreevy-Connolly affair sent several prominent Conservatives into private life, but there are left some ministers of the crown who hate Tarte enough to go to his funeral with pleasure.

THE Duke of Marlborough was arrested in New York for coasting on a bicycle. A policeman made the arrest; so it would appear that American heiresses haven't a monopoly of duke-hunting—Policeman Ryan caught his duke as easily as the golden Consuelo Vanderbilt.

IF the Mail and Empire should send in a bill at fifteen cents a line for the extensive advertising it is giving Hon. Mr. Laurier in his present tour, the bill should receive attention and an effort be made to pay it. Mr. Laurier's name is, through the strabismus gibing of the Mail, being made known with a great deal of prominence in political circles, which Liberal journals do not generally reach.

THERE'S quite a difference. Conservative journals meet Mr. Laurier's indisputable statement that under the N. P. farm values have decreased 40 per cent., by the statement that farm values have also decreased in free trade England. But here's the difference. In Canada the decrease affects the farmer—the hard working practical man who lives by his farm directly. In England the decrease strikes the landlord, who can stand it and in the vast majority of cases deserves to stand it.

IN referring to Mr. Laurier's speech in York, the Globe says: The local allusions made by Mr. Laurier in his speech at the great gathering in Markham were peculiarly happy. They were not lugged in as mere compliments to the audience; they formed the keynote of a magnificent exposition of the principles of freedom, justice, equality, the spirit of a common nationality. The County of York was the home of William Lyon Mackenzie, the rugged and uncompromising champion of freedom in the day of privilege and tyranny; it gave a seat in Parliament to Lafontaine and thus gave evidence of that liberality and emancipation from prejudices of race and religion which to-day has been exemplified in the presence of Mr. Laurier at the head of the Liberal party, and in the enthusiastic welcome given to him and to Mr. Tarte on Saturday; and finally East York sent as its representative to Parliament to the day of his death, Alexander Mackenzie, the sturdy champion of commercial and industrial freedom, the man whose ideas of statesmanship have become through the stern logic of facts the ideas of the vast majority of the Canadian people.

Loss to Toronto Men.

Muskoka Wharf, Oct. 21.—On Saturday evening the cottage on Laura Island, Lake Joseph, Muskoka, owned by Mr. Caldecott of Toronto and occupied by Mr. J. Edwards of Toronto, was burned with all the contents, including three very valuable dogs. A defective chimney was the cause. Mr. Caldecott's loss on house about $1000; insured for full amount; J. Edwards' loss on contents between $2000 and $3,000; no insurance.

Prairie Fires in Kansas.

Akron, Col., Oct. 21.—Eastern Colorado and Western Kansas have been visited during the past four days by destructive prairie fires. The fire which has caused the most damage started in the western part of Finney County, Kansas, on Thursday. Under a strong wind it swept almost barren a strip of territory for four miles. Greenley County suffered severely, over 2000 acres in that county alone being burned over. A great deal of broom corn, grain and forage was destroyed with barns, hay in the stack and outbuildings. In Wichita County four houses were destroyed.

Mr. S. Allen, of Warriston, visited his many friends in Methuen, and delivered two able sermons on Sunday.

Rev. C. Lord held a special harvest home service in St. Paul's on Oct. 13th. The church was tastefully decorated with the fruits of the harvest. The church presents quite a neat and cosy appearance since it was fixed.

A BATCH OF BEAR STORIES.

Manitoulin Island Expositor: A. Lillico was almost eaten up by a bear last week. Mr. Becks had wounded a big bear and he and Mr. Lillico followed him. They found him in a thick bush and Mr. Lillico came upon him so suddenly that the bear attacked him, fought for some time, and it is only due to the dog that Mr. Lillico is alive to-day. The bear left Lillico to chase the dog and this gave him time to gain his feet, wipe the blood out of his eyes and get his rifle. He just got it in time to meet brute, which he did with a shot through the head. Mr. Lillico was frightfully bitten, but is now able to be out again.

The tug Maggie May went over to the Whitefish Tuesday. Just as she was passing through the Wasbano channel and headed down for Wells' Island, Captain Casselman saw a big bear cross a narrow channel between two islands. The captain then checked down and ran into Mosquito Bay. The lifeboat was lowered and J. R. Wells, Geo. McKenzie and two strangers, armed with a musket, an ax and two heavy oars, started out in search of brute. They for a time lost track of him, when he put in his appearance around a point on the island. As soon as the bear saw them he ran and succeeded in swimming the narrow channel and getting away, much to the annoyance of his pursuers.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

There is a little better inquiry for cheese. The Liverpool cable was advanced yesterday to 48s for September make. Previous to that cheese was quoted by the public cable at 37s 6d to 38s in that market. It looks as if the market was beginning to assume a more satisfactory condition. When the old country buyers begin to fully appreciate the state of the situation in this country they may be more eager to buy our cheese. Exporters are buying more cheese. In the past ten days it is stated that exporters have bought or contracted for $600,000 worth of Canadian cheese for export, a large portion of which was bought on English account. The total shipments from the United States and Canada so far this season amount to 1,600,000 boxes, against 2,056,000 boxes for the same time last year. This represents a big shortage, compared with the purchases by the English dealers last year up to this date. The prices are now considerably higher than they were a month ago, the markets being about two cents per pound better.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty-five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic dirrahœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

The firm, Oak Hall, was established in Canada. The W. E. This was the ACORN planted for the first Oak Hall.

Peterborough is the last to get in line and our reception has been a glorious one; the good people of this town and surrounding country have caught on quickly. Variable Autumn Weather Often Seals the Fate of Rheumatic Sufferers.

Victims of Rheumatism find a Cure in Paine's Celery Compound.

Nothing Like it for Banishing the Awful Disease.

Old and Chronic Sufferers are Made Hale and Hearty.

Mr. William McWilliams, of Brantford, Ont., writes as follows about his case:

"Unsolicited, I forward this testimonial as to the value of Paine's Celery Compound. I am well up in years and was sorely afflicted with rheumatism. I purchased and used six bottles of your medicine, and am now perfectly well. I have no rheumatism left."

The above is just an ordinary sample of the proof that cured people furnish every week.

Let us utter a few words of warning to all who feel the pangs of a disease that makes life a misery and burden.

The most dangerous season of the year is now with us; there is no necessity to enlarge upon this fact. Chilling winds, damp weather and heavy impure atmosphere, aggregate every condition of rheumatism and brings many a sufferer to the grave.

Take courage all victims of rheumatism. If you have failed with doctors and the ordinary medicines of the day, remember, you have not yet given Paine's Celery Compound a trial. This marvellous medicine has made new men and women of thousands who were pronounced incurable by physicians. It can and will, do the same good work for you, if you fairly and honestly use it for a time. Mr. McWilliams' case was one that baffled all other medicines but Paine's Celery Compound, which proved victorious at every point, gave him a new and better life. Go thou and follow his example.

Sydney, N.S.W., Oct. 22.—The British steamer Indrani came into collision yesterday with the American ship Alameda, just arrived here from Vancouver, at the entrance to this harbor. The stem of the Indrani was badly twisted and she was docked for repairs. The Alameda was cut down several feet below the water line and she was run aground to prevent her sinking.

Caused Great Rejoicing.

ADVICE TO UNCLE SAM

He Had Better Join John Bull in Regard to Venezuela.

AND TEACH A BLOODLESS LESSON.

How York Papers May Talk About What They Will Do With the Lion's Tail, But to No Purpose—The Monroe Doctrine Cuts No Figure in the Dispute.

London, Oct. 22.—The St. James' Gazette in an article on the solution of the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela, says: The United States Government has serious grievances of its own against Venezuela, and it would best become its position as a great civilised power to join in bringing these Spanish-Indian barbarians to order. A good lesson given to Venezuela would be equally profitable to both the United States and England. The co-operation of the United States would also be humane, since it would have a tendency to make the lesson bloodless in convincing the Venezuelans of the folly of resistance.

The Westminster Gazette says: Venezuela, like Nicaragua, after much fuss will probably prove to be small beer. No doubt the less scrupulous of the New York papers will talk big about what they are going to do with the lion's tail, but Great Britain and the United States are not going to be set by the ears by a pack of Venezuelans.

The Globe says: Even if the Monroe doctrine was an axiom of international law, it could have no bearing upon our dispute with Venezuela. Its widest application can only be held to insist that no European power shall effect a fresh lodgment in America, so it does not affect the decision of England not to allow Venezuela to occupy part of the colony of British Guiana.

The Globe publishes an authorized note saying that as the British ultimatum to Venezuela has not yet reached its destination, it is not considered desirable to disclose any of its details. It is proper to state, however, that the document is worded in terms of fairness and force. The communication, The Globe says, was not transmitted through any representative of Venezuela in England, diplomatic relations between the two countries having been broken off some years ago. The note further says that the ultimatum informe the Government of Venezuela that the Government of Great Britain will notpermit any overstepping by Venezuela of the boundaries marked by the course of the Cuyani and Uracura Rivers. Great Britain, however, expresses willingness to submit to arbitration the question of other territories in dispute beyond that limit.

The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that the ultimatum will be presented through Senor Rodriguez, Venezuelan Consul in London.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that should it be decided by the Government to take naval action against Venezuela, the movement would be confided to Vice-Admiral James Elphinstone Esskine, in command of the North American and West Indian Squadron. The disposition of the vessels of his fleet at the time of his last communication with the Admiralty Navy Department in Whitehall was as follows: Crescent at Halifax, Canada at Barbadoes, Magicienne, Tartar and Rambler at the Bermudas, Mohawk and Tourmaline at Jamaica, Partridge at the Bahamas, and Cleopatra, Pelican and Bussard in Newfoundland waters.

A French Opinion.

Paris, Oct. 22.—The Figaro, alluding to the Venezuelan dispute, expresses the opinion that the system of issuing ultimatums, which is now becoming a habit with Great Britain, may be greatly prejudicial to the general peace.

The Talk at Washington.

New York, Oct. 21.—The Herald's Washington special says: Great Britain's ultimatum to Venezuela continues to be the main feature of the boundary line dispute discussed in official and diplomatic circles here. It seems to be generally agreed that this action will bring the matter to a crisis.

Venesuelans here are firm in their conviction that their Government will never comply with Britain's terms. There is no denying the fact that the situation is viewed with considerable concern by all the members of the administration, and no one will venture to say what the outcome will be.

Sensational rumors continue to be sent out about military preparations on the part of the United States to prevent Great Britain from using force to cary out her demands upon Venesuela. There is no foundation for these reports. Secretary Herbert has displayed considerable interest during the past few months in the direction of expediting the completion of new ships, and while this may have been done with the view of possible emergencies growing out of the Venesuelan boundary line dispute, officials disclaim any such intentions. Secretary Herbert's ambition is to make the navy as efficient as possible during his administration, and to have new ships ready for any contingency that may arise.

The counsel of older women is of inestimable value. A mistaken idea of modesty prevents many girls from learning the things that they ought to know before they assume the duties of matrimony and maternity. Women generally take their most important steps in their lives, without knowing in any degree what they mean, or what responsibilities and trials they bring. The highest and best thing that any woman can do is to bear and rear healthy, intelligent children. The accomplishment of this end depends almost entirely upon her health and particularly upon the health and strength of the organs distinctly feminine. The state of the children, both intellectual and physical depends on the mother. If she doesn't care enough for her own comfort and happiness to take the proper care of herself, she certainly ought to do it for the sake of her children. To a very large extent, the destiny and achievement of a man is decided in the months before his birth. During that time is determined whether or not he is to be of robust health and strong intellect. During that time, his mind and body are started on the path that they will follow through life. Circumstances may influence him, but he cannot get away from the effects of pre-natal influences. One of the principal uses of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the preparation of prospective mothers for the time of trial and danger that comes when a child is born. The "Prescription" is strengthening and invigorating and lessens pain and danger. It insures the perfect well-being and the perfect health of both mother and child. Every woman should know these things before she really needs to know them. There are many things in Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser," that every woman ought to know. This celebrated work has reached a sale of 680,000 copies at $1.50 each. The expense of production having thus been covered, 500,000 copies are now being given away. Last Night's Play.

Hundreds and hundreds of ladies were present last night at the presentation of the drama "Snares of New York," by the Ella Cameron and J. L. Clarke Dramatic Company, who have just opened a week's engagement here. Miss Ella Cameron was the leading lady and the play afforded her a number of opportunities for proving her ability as an emotional actress far above the average. The caste is a strong one and the play, abounding as it did in thrilling situations, was greatly appreciated. Besides a charming soubrette the company possesses a personnel which ably supports Miss Cameron.

A PRETTY WEDDING AT BELLEVUE TO-DAY.

Celebration of the Nelson-Dixon Nuptials by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

A very quiet but very pretty wedding took place this afternoon at half past two at "Bellevue," the pretty residence of Mrs. L. J. Dixon, Park street, when her daughter, Miss Lillie, was wedded to Mr. W. F. Nelson, of the Ontario Bank.

The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church, in the presence of only a few of the immediate relatives of both families.

The bride was most becomingly attired in a costume of white silk, with pearl trimmings, and looked most winsome. Her two bridesmaids were Miss Nelson of Uxbridge, sister of the groom and her own sister, Miss Fannie Dixon; both were most becomingly gowned in blue crepon.

The groom was assisted by Mr. W. D. Parker and Mr. W. J. Montgomery, also of the Ontario Bank.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a most recherche dejeuner was served to the invited guests, when hearty congratulations were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, who are both most popular in their large circle of friends.

The newly married couple have taken up their residence for the present at Bellevue, the family residence.

A LIVELY LOCAL FIGHTER.

A Poor Invalid Pensioner Poses as a Pugilistic Expert.

Charles Guy was arraigned before the police magistrate yesterday and fined $5 for fighting. The proceedings of the court were reported in the usual manner, the facts as brought out in evidence being used. But Mr. Guy, according to a morning contemporary, objects to such a report, and to emphasize his dissent, asserts his ability to wipe the earth with any number of reporters. This is remarkable language, coming from a weak, enfeebled young man, who, on account of ill health, is receiving a pension from the Dominion Government. Last session of the Dominion Parliament the EXAMINER called attention to the abuse of the pension system in paying moneys to persons in the enjoyment of good health, and who not only were healthy, but had a reputation as bruisers. Guy was the person indicated, and his last escapade only emphasizes the absurdity of the system that gives a pension to a person who is in good health enough not only to earn his living, but also to distinguish himself as a shoulder hitter and publicly challenge a host to pitched battle. Charley had better be careful and prudent. So long as the Dominion Government is foolish enough to pay him 20 cents per day for the enjoyment of good health, he had better hang on to it. If he gets sick he is liable to lose his pension.

Guaranteed Cure for Tobacco

The Uncle Sam Tobacco Cure will stop the tobacco habit—that's a certainty. So confident are the manufacturers that it will do all it claims, they will refund the money in every case where the tobacco user has strictly followed directions for 30 days without being cured. Money talks, and merit wins—they mean what they say. The medicine is for sale at Lynch's drug store, Hunter street, where the guarantee is good.

A New Windmill.

Messrs. McWilliams & Daly, the new firm of pump, fanningmill and windmill makers, have just completed a mill at Janetville, with connections for not only pumping, but also for chopping feed, grinding grain and sawing wood. Faster Train Service

It is said that Mr. Charles M. Hayes, the new Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, will, during December, make a complete tour of the system so as to familiarize himself with its working. Mr. Hayes insists upon the observance of the strictest punctuality in the running of trains, and one of his hobbies is the making of fast time between important points. It is thought that under his regime the time occupied in the journey between Toronto and Montreal will be decreased two hours. As the time occupied by the fast trains in running the 332 miles is at present 12h. 10m., it would seem that there is ample room for improvement.

A Pretty Wedding.

Warsaw was in a flutter excitement over one of those happy and interesting events—a wedding—on Wednesday, Oct. 2nd. On that day one of Warsaw's fairest and most accomplished young ladies, Miss Alice Edwards, became the wife of Mr George Garbutt, a progressive young farmer of Douro. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Samuel Edwards, at 6.30 o'clock in the evening, and was witnessed by about fifty invited guests, Rev. R. Hyde, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The bride looked charming in a dress of cream silk with the usual veil and orange blossoms. Her assistants were her sister, Miss Charlotte Edwards and Miss Ada Galvin, and both were neatly attired. Little Laura Edwards was the pretty maid of honour. Mr. Joseph S. Madill of Madill Bros., dry goods merchants, Lakefield, acted as groomsman. The wedding march was played by Miss Mabel Edwards on the entrance of the bride and groom. The young couple were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and expensive presents.

MASON VS. PETERBOROUGH.

Correspondence re Settlement Between Solicitors.

The following correspondence, which explains itself, has passed between the town solicitor and the solicitor for the plaintiff, in the above case:

D. W. Dumble, Barrister:

MASON VS. PETERBOROUGH.

DEAR SIR,—As you are aware I have been instructed by the council to appeal to the Supreme Court—that being the practical meaning, as I take it, of the resolution passed by the council last evening—I will serve notice of appeal the beginning of next week.

There has been a good deal of talk about supposed offers of settlement or the possibility of settlement of this case, and so, late last evening, you stated to the council in my presence that you had expected that any offer of settlement should come from the town. It has also, as I understand, been urged as a reason why the town should not exercise the undoubted right of appealing to a higher court, that it would be ruinous to Mrs. Mason, who has been spoken of as a "poor widow," if the decision in the Supreme Court should go against her. It therefore has occurred to me before serving the notice of appeal to write to you to know if the plaintiffs are open to any proposals of settlement, or whether having secured a verdict they insist on their "pound of flesh." I have no instructions to make any offer, but if the plaintiffs would now consider an offer to pay the taxed costs to date, I would as Town solicitor, recommend such payment, as a means of putting an end to this prolonged litigation. If this proposal be not entertained—a proposal by which Mrs. Mason would be relieved of paying costs, even if she did not gain anything—then it may be assumed, I take it, that her object is to gain money from the town by way of damages, and not merely to be saved from possible loss in the way of having to pay heavy costs

The Council has from the beginning taken the position that it should not be held answerable for damages on account of a board being fifteen-sixteenths of an inch out of the true level and I do not think it will now willingly take any other position.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

Peterborough, Oct. 19th.

Below is

MR. DUMBLE'S REPLY.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, Barrister, Town:

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 19th inst. suggesting that with a view to "putting an end to this prolonged litigation," you would recommend the Council to pay Mrs. Mason if she would consent to drop her claim to a verdict of $750, awarded to her by the court and accept from the town in settlement of all claims, simply her taxed costs.

You are well aware that the payment of taxed costs only would leave Mrs. Mason largely out of pocket. If you had made an offer of a sum equal to a fraction of the costs before they were incurred, it would have been accepted, and it would have done Mrs. Mason some good. Your present offer to deprive her of a judgment given to her by the Equity Judge, who tried the case, and confirmed to her by the Court of Appeal, and compel her to pay a very considerable amount of attorney and client costs, is hardly one that a successful plaintiff could accept from the defeated party. Your mention of Mrs. Mason's desire of holding her "pound of flesh" is resented by her especially from a party whose persistency has dragged her through so much expensive litigation to secure what ordinary discretion would have granted her without resource to the courts.

You are perfectly right in assuming that this action was instigated with a view to gain money from the town"—actions are usually brought with that object—but we assure you that the use of a little ordinary prudence would have saved the town very many times the amount that would have satisfied Mrs. Mason, and would have secured to the ratepayers lower rates of taxation.

I am Sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. W. DUMBLE.

MR. EDWARDS' REPLY.

D. W. Dumble, Esq., Barrister, Peterborough:

MASON VS. PETERBOROUGH.

DEAR SIR,—I must most strongly take exception to the position which you have taken; that you, the solicitor for the other side, are entitled to appear before my clients and advise them as to what course they should take as to appealing or otherwise. And I very strongly take exception to the language which you appear, from the report in THE EXAMINER, to have used, that I had got a letter from Mr. Mose to bamboozle the council. I do not think that the fact that you happen to be a ratepayer and a citizen gives you any right to do as you have done. Referring to my letter of Saturday you will understand that I wrote entirely on my own responsibility and not from any instructions from the Council.

Yours very truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

THE PETERBOROUGH GOLF CLUB ORGANIZES.

The Links to be on Armour's Hill or in Jackson Park.

Peterborough has decided to play golf and a meeting was called the other evening for the purpose of electing officers and effecting organization.

After discussing the merits of various points whereon to locate the links, it was finally decided that either Armour's Hill or Jackson Park would be chosen, the object being to select a spot where as many obstacles as possible exist.

The following officers were elected:
President—Dr. Boucher.
Vice-Pres.—R. M. Dennistoun.
Sec.-Treas.—J. H. Hudson.
Committee of Management—W. D. Parker, Dr. Burnham, Peter Campbell, Miss Dennistoun and Miss Lundy.

The game is an interesting one in which both ladies and gentlemen can participate and as clubs exist in a number of towns in the district some friendly matches will naturally result. In pronouncing the word "golf" the promoters of the local club proclaim the ban of their displeasure upon anyone sounding the "l." It's just "golf" not "golf" or "golluff."

BENSFORT BRIDGE OPENING.

How to Get There—The City of Peterborough Will Make the Trip.

To-morrow, at 2.30 o'clock, the new bridge across the Otonabee, between South Monaghan and Otonabee townships will be formally opened with suitable ceremonies, including addresses by the local parliamentary representatives and representatives of the town and county councils of Northumberland, Durham and Peterborough. To enable those from the town who are to take part in the ceremony to reach the site of the bridge, the steamer City of Peterborough will leave the Wolfe street wharf at one o'clock sharp. Members and officers of the town and county councils, members of the Board of Trade and subscribers to the bridge fund will be provided with tickets. Any others who may wish to go down may obtain return tickets for 25 cents.

A Heavy Draw.

At the drawing contest held at the Lakefield exhibition, this fall, Mr. G. J. Galvin's team was successful, drawing the sleigh load of stones 89 feet 3 inches. The load of stones was not weighed until this week, when Mr. Galvin drew them down to Mr. S. Nelson's scales, and found that they weighed 6,100 pounds. Mr. Galvin is the possessor of a fine team, and there are few in this section who can come up to them in drawing.

Rheumatism Runs Riot

When there is lactic acid in the blood. Liniments and lotions will be of no permanent benefit. A cure can be accomplished only by neutralising this acid and for this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently in the public eye.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and effectively on the liver and bowels. 25c.

A Horse Drowned.

One day last week a man named Kidd, who lives near Rice Lake, hired a horse at Brown's livery stable, Cobourg, to drive to Coldsprings. The man turned up in Port Hope about ten o'clock in an intoxicated condition and evidently started for Cobourg, but missed the turn and drove along Mill street to the wharf, passed the storehouse and finally ended its career by plunging into the harbor just at the steps by the lighthouse. Mr. Miller, the lighthouse keeper, ran out and succeeded in rescuing Mr. Kidd, who was badly frightened. The horse, however, was drowned, although the citizens, who were soon on the scene, endeavoured to save it. The buggy and harness were recovered. The horse is said to have been a fine animal, and the mishap will be an expensive one to Mr. Brown, the proprietor of the livery stable.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just efficaciously does it aid and strengthen the processes of digestion.

THE NON-JURY SITTINGS OF THE HIGH COURT.

Four Cases for Justice McMahon to Consider at This Assize.

The non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice opened at noon to-day, before Justice McMahon, who arrived on the 11:25 C.P.R. express and proceeded direct to the Court House. There were four cases for the consideration of the judge, viz:

Curtis v. Smith.—D. J. Lynch, Campbellford, for the plaintiff; A. L. Colville, Campbellford, for defendant. This is an action brought by Sarah Curtis, of Norham, Northumberland county, against Adam Henry Smith, Geo. Cryderman and Wm. Rankin, executors of the alleged will of the late Mary Jane Langford. The plaintiff prays that the alleged will of Mary Jane Langford, her sister, be set aside and declared to be null and void. (2) That it may be declared that at the time of the making of the will of the late Mary Jane Langford was not of sound and disposing mind and memory and of sufficient capacity to enable her to make her will. 3 That it be declared that the said will was procured to be made by the undue influence of the defendants. 4. That it may be declared that the late Mary Jane Langford had not the necessary and proper advice and direction to enable her to make the said will and that the same was made by and under pressure and collusion. 5. That Geo. Cryderman and Wm. Rankin be restrained and enjoined from acting under said will. 6. That Adam Henry Smith be restrained from receiving or using any portion of the said estate. 7. That the estate be administered under the direction of this High Court. 8. That the defendants be ordered to pay the costs of the action.

Campbell vs. Campbell—Dumble & Johnston for plaintiff; Hall & Hayes for defendant. An action by Mary Campbell, of Douro, against her son, James Campbell, of Manvers. The plaintiff claims to be entitled to a judgment setting aside as fraudulent and void so much of an instrument of 16th of August, 1890, as purports to assign to the defendant $50 a year issuing out of a lot in 10th concession in North Monaghan. She further claims the payment of another $50 should be secured to her by declaring the same charged on the defendant's said farm in Manvers. This is the outcome of certain provisions of the will of the late Wm. Campbell.

Groves vs. Groves.—Stratton & Hall for pltf.; R. M. Ruddy for deft. Action of Margaret Groves against her husband, George Groves, of Emily, for alimony.

Staples vs. Gillespie.—Stratton & Hall for pltf.; John Burnham, Q. C., for the executor, deft.; Hall & Hayes for occupant, deft. Action of Mary Jane Staples, of Manvers, against John Gillespie, et al., the executors of the will of the late John Staples. The plaintiff also asks for the sum of $500, her legacy under the will, and for the construction of the will.

When the court opened at noon the following counsel were in attendance:—Geo. A. Watson, Q. C., and W. R. Riddle of Toronto; D. J. Lynch and A. L. Colville, of Campbellford; Mr. Smith, of Millbrook; John Burnham, Q. C., L. M. Hayes, R. E. Wood and E. B. Edwards of town.

The first case taken up was that of Curtis vs. Smith, in which Mr. Geo. H. Watson, Q. C., appeared as counsel for pltf., and Mr. W. R. Riddle for deft.

THE RANGERS NOW BEING INSPECTED BY THE D.A.G.

Companies "C" and "D" Put Through Their Facings.

Col. Cotton, D.A.G., and his aide-de-camp, Lieut. Cockburn, arrived in town from Kingston yesterday afternoon, and in the evening the Colonel began the inspection of the local battalion by watching Companies "C" and "D" put through their facings. Capt. Hill took Company "C" and Lieut. McGill Company "D," as Captain Loch of the latter company, was unable to attend drill. Lieut. McGill has just completed a course at Stanley Barracks and has had little or no drill with his men, yet he is said by the staff officers to have acquitted himself most creditably.

The D. A. G. afterwards had Sergt. Distin, of Company "D" and Sergt. Gaskin, of Company "C" put the men through their exercises.

During the evening the members of the Battalion staff were all present and the company roll books were produced for inspection, as well as the stores book and and the books of the section-commanders of each company.

This evening Companies "E" and "F" will be inspected, and on Wednesday Col. Cotton returns to Kingston to be present at the unveiling of the statue of Sir John A. McDonald. On Thursday evening Companies "A" and "B" will be inspected and on Friday afternoon the entire battalion turns out for parade.

It Strikes the Spot.

It does the work. It reaches the right spot. It quickens the sluggish vitality; it makes new blood, it gives new hope; it makes weak men and women stronger. This is the function of Wilson's famous Invalids' Port, which is now recommended by medical men as a most invaluable tonic. Intrinsically, it is a fine old port wine, which constitutes a pleasant and stimulating beverage, but it is as well an appetizing tonic, which gives back a relish for food, which it aids in the work of assimilation. A fine tonic taken at any time accomplishing wonders in the formation of blood and muscle in the case of weak, pale and debilitated people. Well or ill, it is a stimulating and grateful drink. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00, or 75c. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

PETERBOROUGH PRIME CHEESE.

The Warsaw and Ida Deals to be Investigated—5,920 Boxes Boarded.

At the meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board this afternoon, the following buyers were in attendance, namely, Messrs. W. H. Wrighton, Wm. Cook, Madden, Hodgson, Fitzgerald and Jones.

Before the bidding was opened Mr. Hodgson asked Mr. Drummond to name a committee to investigate the sale to him of cheese by the Ida factory. Mr. Cook asked the same committee to inquire into the Warsaw factory's sale to him of cheese which, he claimed, was handed over to another party after being bid in by him at the Board. The committee will be composed of Messrs. Middleton, Sanderson, Edwards, Stewart and Drummond.

Mr. Blezard brought up the matter of the shrinkage of cheese. He thought the matter should be settled before the cheese was sold. There was considerable trouble in the last shipment of 1894.

Mr. Drummond wanted to know if the usual half pound of beam weight would hold good under the circumstances.

Mr. Cook—Yes, if the cheese is cured.

Mr. Hodgson stated that so much green cheese was made in October that before January the shrinkage would amount to about 3 pounds per box.

On motion of Mr. Honey it was decided to take a pound per box off the invoice of the weight of the make of the last half of October.

The factories boarded their cheese as follows:

PRAISES OUR SYSTEM.

President of the Bell Telephone Co. Praises our Service.

Mr. C. F. Sise, President of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, says the Victoria News-Advertiser, is at present staying at the Hotel Vancouver, and leaves shortly on a business visit to San Francisco. Mr. Sise has frequently visited British Columbia, being out to the Coast as early as '53. The Bell Telephone Company's system extends all over Canada from Calgary and Lethbridge in the North West Territories east. It has 450 offices, about 35,000 telephones and the wires between towns cover 13,000 miles. No great extensions, Mr. Sise says, have been made recently, but the system is always increasing. A heavy line is being constructed from Quebec to Detroit, which will enable persons so desirous to carry on a conversation between those cities. The headquarters of the company are situated in Montreal, where they have also a manufacturing department, in which all kinds of electrical apparatus is constructed. The capacity of this workshop for producing telephones is, considering the demand, unlimited.

All we ask is a fair show, and you will give Grafton's Clothing the preference.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST

The Turks are Furious Over the Arrangement Concluded.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR WARNED

Young Turks Said to Be Scheming to Get Him Killed - Britain Said to Contemplate Landing Troops on Turkish Territory—Views of a Russian Newspaper

Constantinople, Oct. 20.—Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, has received from an Armenian source a warning that the Young Turkey Party will probably induce some Armenian miscreant to attempt his life, in order to disgrace the Armenian people.

The reforms granted are not, properly speaking, the granting of fresh privileges so much as recapitulating and providing for the regular administration of already existing codes, affecting the well-being of Moslems as well as Christians. The Armenians consider that the concessions are illusory.

Turkish officials admit that the granting of reforms were wrung from the Porte under violent presure. The Turks are furious and many competent observers do not hesitate to credit a crisis leading to revolt and bloodshed, compared with which the Armenian troubles would be insignificant. The Sultan would employ his troops to repress any Moslem movement with the utmost severity.

England May Land Troops.

London, Oct. 20.—The Rome correspondent of The Chronicle says that he has been assured in official circles that England intends to land troops in some part of the Turkish territory, if the Armenian reforms are not honorably executed.

At a meeting held on Wednesday night of the six ambassadors of the Powers at Constantinople, relative to the recent rioting, it was decided to send a collective address to the Armenian Patriarch asking him to use his influence to stop the agitation that is being carried on among the Armenians.

Nothing Has Been Settled.

New York, Oct 20.—Harold Frederic cables from London.

It is really playing with words to call the diplomatic arrangement which has been arrived at in Constantinople a settlement. Nothing has been settled. England has been forced to choose between open rupture with her ostensible colleagues or, accepting their plan for letting the Sultan down easily, and very reluctantly has taken the latter course. Accordingly, the Sultan has signed a document which concedes about a tenth part of what Rosebery originally claimed, and ignores altogether Salisbury's later and and magnified demands. There is to be a reform on paper of the Local Government in six eastern villages of Asia Minor, a portion of the offices are to be held by Christians and the Moslem Governors are to have Christian secretaries. Pledges, on paper, also, are given about amnesty for the Armenians now under arrest and about reform in prisons and management of the police. This seems to be all that, after these five months of negotiation, backed by imposing musters of war fleets, has been exacted from the Sultan.

A Covert Threat From Russia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20.—The Official Messenger says: "The united action of Great Britain, Russia and France on the Armenian question has achieved its purpose. The Armenians will now obtain what was provided for their benefit in the Berlin Treaty of 1878. Everything appears to indicate that the gravity of the situation brought about by the dilatoriness of the Turkish Government is now recognized in leading Ottoman circles. Should the facts justify the charges levelled against the old Turkish party, of offering a systematic opposition to the demands of Great Britain, Russia and France, by following counsels separately tendered by other powers, influential adherents of that party will incur great responsibility for any convulsions to which Turkey may till be exposed."

The old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was picked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined?

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then comes the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

THE FIGHT DECLARED OFF.

Fitzsimmons' Manager Would Not Name in the Hippodrome and Refused to Accede to a Postponement.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 21.—At a conference between the Florida Athletic Club officials and the managers of Corbett and Fitzsimmons, to-day, the club asked for a postponement of the contest to Nov. 11. Brady agreed to this, but Julian steadfastly refused to concur. There was a wordy wrangle, and finally the club declared the fight off. Brady then announced that Corbett was prepared to fight any man in the world on Nov. 11. Robert Fitzsimmons preferred, the man to be named with n 24 hours.

Vendig announced that he would match Peter Maher against Corbett for $5000.

The negotiations were brief and not in the best temper. Each side charged the other with an attempt either to get the better of the bargain or to kill the fight altogether. At the conclusion of the talk Martin Julian, Fitzsimmons' manager, said:

"I did all I could to make a satisfactory arrangement, but the Corbett people would not listen to reason. I offered to let Fitzsimmons fight Corbett in private for the side bet, but they would not agree to it. They wanted a postponement to Nov. 11, which was merely another way of saying that they did not want to fight at all. Of course, I declined to listen to the proposition. Vendig and his crowd tried their best to job us, but we would not have it."

Brady returned to Corbett's training quarters at Spring Lake to-night. Before leaving he made this statement:

"Our final position is this: Unless Fitzsimmons has $10,000 stake money up by noon to-morrow, and the Florida A.C. is still willing to hang up its $41,000 purse, we will regard the contest, so far as that club is concerned, as irrevocably off. But if Fitzsimmons is anxious to fight before the 11th, we will be willing to forego possible legislative or Executive action by fighting him next Thursday, or any day thereafter, inside of a week, for the gate receipts."

Barry Won in Four Rounds.

Maspeth, L.I., Oct. 21.—About 1500 were present at the Empire A.C. to-night. The main attraction was the 20-round bout between Jimmy Barry of Chicago and Jack Madden of Brooklyn. The contest practically decided the 105-pound championship of America, as the lads are champions in their class in the west and east, respectively. The opening bout at catch-weights was between Jimmy Handler of Newark and Harry Fischer of Brooklyn, who boxed 10 rounds. The contest was declared a draw, as both men were fighting gamely at the end.

Barry easily had the best of it, and won in four rounds. In the fourth he got to work with a right on the stomach, followed up with a right and left on the head, which dazed Madden. He repeated a little later, and the Brooklynite was evidently getting the worst of it. Another right on the jaw sent him to the ropes and almost out of the ring. Madden came back only to receive another smash on the jaw which sent him to earth again. The referee, seeing he had no chance to win, stopped the bout, and declared Barry the winner. One minute and 3 seconds of the round had elapsed.

Dunraven Wants to Race Again.

London, Oct 21.—Mr. Dixon Kemp, the well-known yachting authority, and editor of The Yacht Racing Calender and Review, has given the substance of a second interview had by him with Lord Dunraven. His Lordship expressed himself as being still strong in the belief that the Valkyrie III. is the superior of the Defender in sailing to the windward in moderate breezes, and very much faster than the American boat in running dead before the wind. He admitted, however, that the Defender was the faster boat in reaching.

"What I should particularly like," said Lord Dunraven, "would be to have the Defender fight it out with the Valkyrie in the Mediterranean."

If this could be arranged, he added, he would then have the Valkyrie prepared to meet the American boat. He thought that the two yachts would have a fair trial in the Mediterranean regattas, but the Valkyrie would doubtless be greatly handicapped by the French rigging rules, which include measurements of beam and girth, besides sail area. If the Defender should proceed to the Mediterranean it would settle once and for all the question whether the American boat is built under-rigged sufficiently strong to cross the Atlantic on her own bottom. Lord Dunraven expressed his belief that a decision to bring the Defender over to the Mediterranean lies entirely with Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, who owns eight-tenths of the boat, while Messrs. Iselin and Morgan each own one-tenth.

The prizes in the coming Mediterranean regatta are much more valuable than ever before, and Lord Dunraven is convinced that grand races could be sailed with the Britannia, Allea, Satinita, Valkyrie III. and Defender.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Doan's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without nothing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

MR. HALL CAINE

Replies to a Toronto Newspaper's Criticism.

Opinion of the Commissioner of Fisheries as to the British Columbia Salmon Sent to London—Good Market in France for Canadian Cheese.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Mr. Hall Caine, the English author, leaves for Toronto to-morrow morning. He expects to return to this city towards the end of November, in the meantime making a trip to New York. Before leaving Mr. Caine's attention was drawn to an editorial article in The Toronto Mail and Empire, sharply reflecting upon his conduct since he arrived on this continent. In this article he is attacked for not having come to Ottawa at once and laid the case of his clients before the Government as soon as possible. It is stated that instead of doing this Mr. Hall Caine went to New York and to Boston and spent several days in consultation with American publishers before he came to Canada at all.

Of this Mr. Caine says it is not only incorrect, but the exact reverse of the truth. The fact is that after landing in New York he was taken ill and was not well during the period of his stay there. He did not consult either in New York or Boston with American publishers. He was frequently asked to do so, but he constantly declined, alleging that he was a British subject and had a mission to Canada which he must fulfil first.

He is further charged with having threatened that in case the Canadian Copyright Act was adopted the angry authors might combine together for dismemberment of the Empire, and drive us into annexation to the United States. Mr. Caine says that this charge is founded upon a misconception. The statement put in his mouth by The Montreal Witness was not correct. What he stated was that in case, through legislation, the American copyright privileges were withdrawn, he and other British authors who were upon the press in England, and who were warm friends of Canada, would lose large sums of money, and it might happen that their enthusiasm on behalf of this country would cool. This is, it will be seen, a different thing from threatening to assist in the dismemberment of the Empire.

Mr. Caine added finally that he had nothing but the warmest praise and the sincerest gratitude for the fair, liberal and conciliatory spirit in which he had been received by the Premier, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, the Minister of Justice and other Ministers. They had shown the attitude of public officials who desired nothing better than to grasp every aspect of the case under consideration and to welcome every suggestion that promised a solution of the much vexed question There was every hope that there might perhaps be fresh legislation next session.

During his stay in Toronto he hoped to discuss the copyright question frankly and fully with the Copyright Association. He expects to visit Hamilton on Wednesday, as the guest of the Canadian Club of that city.

The statement of the chartered banks for September shows the increased amount of bank notes in circulation over August statement to be $2,036,220. The increase in 1894, Sept. over Aug., was $3,084,780. The total amount in circulation on 30th Sept. stands $22,774,441; same date 1894, $23,255,154, over half a million more than has been demanded for the movement this year. However, the statement promises well for a still further increase during the current month, which must necessarily follow if not impeded by the farmers holding back for higher prices. An increase in noticeable in capital by the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, and an addition to reserve is shown by the Molsons' Bank. Balances due to the Dominion Government increased $1,204,511; balaces due to Provincial Governments show a decline; public deposits increased in all $1,306,268; and now stand $184,409, as follows: Demand deposits, $67,774,818; deposits payable after notice, $116,634,486. Total liabilities increased $3,332,484, of which bank notes in circulation and deposits by the public form the greater portion. In the assets side an increase is shown under 16 headings, out of 23 dealt with something unusual. Specie and Dominion notes increased $969,567; notes and cheques on other banks increased $1,682,663. Balances due from American banks and branches increased $124,460; from British banks and branches, $34,-618. Colonial securities show an increase of $97,166. Railway securities, $785,245. Call loans increased $320,378, and current loans $203,049. Overdue debts increased $217,906, real estate property of the banks other than bank premises, increased $108,695. Total assets increased $4,446,336, and are now $21,881,711; directors liabilities increased $253,641, and although a greater activity may have been looked and hoped for, yet we are assured by the figures given on a steady if not rapid advancement upon a good round commercial basis.

Mr. Bodard, who is acting as emigration agent for the Interior Department in France, has written the High Commissioner stating that there is a good opening for the sale of Canadian cheese in the French Republic. Gruyere and other varieties are realizing 15 cents per pound. At the same time, when the cheese market in England is glutted there ought to be a good sale for Canadian cheese in France.

Mr. R. G. McConnell of the Government Geological Survey has returned to the city after spending the summer in the Kootenay district. Mr. McConnell states that the mining industry is making very satisfactory progress, and gives promise of a rich yield. British and American capitalists, especially the latter, are commencing to invest, and the past season has been one of activity. Several of the towns are making satisfactory progress, and the future is bright with promise.

For the information of those whom it may concern, a special rule of the Senate regarding private bill legislation is promulgated. It is to the effect that when a bill is to operate in more than one province, territiry or district, requisite notices shall be published in The Canada Gazette, and in a leading newspaper published in each province, territory or district in which the bill is to operate.

Two hundred and fifty members of the American Street Railway Convention came up from Montreal on Saturday on a flying trip to Ottawa. They were conveyed up town on a train of electric cars and conducted to the Senate Chamber, where Sir Mackenzie Bowell welcomed them to the capital. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire responded for the visitors. Subsequently a luncheon was tendered to the visitors at the Russell House.

The War Office has shipped to Canada a consignment of Lee-Metford rifles and carbines.

Carborundum Works opened

Niagara Falls, Oct. 20.—The second of the largest industries to use Niagara's power—the Carborundum Works—was formally started at noon Saturday. The current from the Niagara power house is conveyed to the transformer room at the Carborundum Works, and there the pressure is reduced by the largest transformer in the world. Carborundum is the hardest substance known, with the exception of the diamond, and that for this reason its value as an abrasive is great.

WORD FROM KOOTENAY.

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit, both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

A Clergyman Favors Sunday Saloons.

New York, Oct. 22.—"The privilege of Sunday opening should be accorded to such saloons as provide some facilities for families resorting to them. Let the saloons be open that will provide music."

Such was the declaration made by Rev. Dr. Heber Newton in All Souls' Church yesterday. His subject was "The Sunday Saloon—Shall It Be Suppressed or Converted?" Throughout the discourse the doctor came out strongly for the "German Sunday."

Robber-Proof Mail Trains

New York, Oct. 21.—The first of the new robber-proof fast mail trains built in the shops of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, for the new service which the Postoffice Department has established between this city and St. Louis, left Jersey City yesterday morning at 7.30 o'clock. The new mail cars are believed to be impregnable to the most expert train robbers.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious?

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases were the muscular force is greatly reduced, the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours. Try it.

Signs of Worms are variable appetite, itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from [illegible] prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,250 Dollars
Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years.....774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars
More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The faculty of Ottawa College has ordered the discontinuance of football by the students of that institution. The direct cause of this decision on the part of the faculty is the accident to young Morin, which it is feared will result fatally.

A FANTASIA OF FOOTBALL.

The football boy is in the field;
Oh, here's to his ropy hair!
He has gritted his teeth and he's out on the heath
With blood to spill and spare.
He has pads on his legs and mufs on his ears,
And a shield across his nose,
And he dives in the game with an eye of flame,
And massacres his foes!

Oh, hurrah for the lad with the lusty legs
And the glad vociferous shout;
Football he can play in the orthodox way,
And kick your front teeth out.

The football boy is out for blood;
Oh, here's to his leathery jaw!
He can smash all his bones, break his face on the stones,
And then sing out for more,
He can knock you dead with a butt of his head
And frolic on just the same,

Oh, hurrah for the lad with the iron chest
And the hayrick of shaggy hair!
May he trample and pound all his foes to the ground,
And make merry at their despair.

The football boy's again on deck;
Oh, here's to his ardor hot!
He would crack all your ribs would his festive nibs,
Yes, just as soon as not!
Your chest he will crush with one soulful thump
Of his fairy foot, you bet!
And won't give a—rap if your whole diaphragm
He shatters without regret.

Oh, hurrah for the lad of the livid jowl,
Who's out for grime and gore!
May he kill all his foes with a kick in the nose,
For that's what we're living for.

THE WHEEL.

C. J. Iven, of Rochester, lowered the Buffalo-Rochester road record with the assistance of a strong wind from 3.18.10 to 3.09.15.

FISHING AND SHOOTING.

English sportsmen are particular as to what that they shoot at. It stays at the head of the head of its class, and is being sold at the low figure of twenty-five cents. Like our thirty-five cent tea, it is a leader; but unlike it in this respect—you can always buy our thirty-five cent tea for thirty-five cents, but shortly you will have to pay forty cents for Oah-k-Oah. THE SWIFT ACTION

This action is obtained through the capillaries and nerve centres; the pellets are hardly dissolved upon the tongue before the cure commences.

RHEUMATISM.

Next to the soured Dyspeptic may be classed the crabbed Rheumatic, who suffers from every change in the weather.

It was, indeed, fortunate for sufferers from Rheumatism when Dr. Humphreys discovered his Specific No. 15. It acts upon the Liver and Kidneys, eliminating the Uric Acid from the blood; the cure follows swiftly and surely.

MEDICAL BOOK.

Dr. Humphreys puts up a Specific for every disease. They are described in his Manual which is sent free on request.

TORIES' TROUBLES.

Cardwell Opened by the Resignation of its Member.

MR. WHITE TIRED OF THE DELAYS

A Genuine Sensation in Government Circles at the Capital—Overwhelming Defeat of the Conservative Candidate in Montreal Centre for the Provincial House.

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—There was a veritable sensation here to-day. Your correspondent learns on the authority of the gentleman who is most interested that the constituency of Cardwell is without a representative in Parliament, in other words, that Mr. R. S. White has resigned his seat. On being asked for the cause of this action on his part Mr. White declined to say anything except that his reasons would be forthcoming at the proper time. It is not difficult, however, to arrive at a proper understanding of Mr. White's action. More than two years ago he was offered the position of Collector of Customs at the port of Montreal, but for reasons which are well known the appointment up to the present has not been made, and as intimated yesterday, it is not likely to be made for some time. Mr. White feels that inasmuch as he had accepted a position, and one which everybody knew he was to get, he is no longer a free agent; in other words, he does not feel that he can fairly represent his constituents in Parliament, considering the peculiar position which he now occupies towards the Government. The member for Cardwell sets up a lofty ideal of the relationships which should exist between a member of Parliament and his constituents, and in a young country like this it is somewhat satisfactory to find a man who feels that from principle alone he must retire from Parliamentary life.

The Journal has an editorial upon the situation, in which it states that it has often given reasons for the opinion, "That the appointment of outsiders to high positions in the civil service is an injury to the public welfare; but if ever there were a case in which the principle of opposition to such appointments might be permitted in a moment of weakness, it seems to us to be in the case of Mr. White. He has done splendid public service, not only to his party, but to his country. The Montreal Gazette under his control has been so conspicuously fair, so moderate in its party tone, has handled public questions with such ability and such evident aim to do justice, that it has certainly been a powerful journalistic influence for the general good. This, with capable service in Parliament and a high standard of political integrity, constitutes Mr. White's claim to public regard, while personally he is the esteemd friend of every man who knows him. His father gave more to Canada than he ever got from it and Mr. R. S. White will likely do the same in the Customs office in Montreal if he gets there, although he can hardly make up there for the public loss which his removal from The Gazette will be."

The question may naturally be asked: "But why did not Mr. White take this action sooner?"

The answer is a simple one. Under the strongest pressure he was induced to retain his seat last session and the previous one, and, now that it would appear he must sit for another term, he feels that he must resign rather than occupy what he considers an anomalous position. Possibly Mr. White may be induced to withdraw his resignation. If he does not, there will shortly be election music in two Ontario constituencies, Cardwell and West Huron.

A CONSERVATIVE REVERSE.

Montreal Centre Elects the Liberal Candidate by a Large Majority.

Montreal, Oct. 23.—The Conservative party got badly smashed in Montreal Centre to-day, where Dr. Guerin, the Opposition candidate, was elected by an overwhelming majority; and had not Mr. McDonnell, the unsuccessful candidate, had a well organized army of willing workers, the defeat would have been still more complete. Mr. McDonnell is a first-rate young man, and under ordinary circumstances he woud have made a very strong candidate, bnt from the first everything worked against him. The Taillon loan, the taxes, and finally the terrible error committed by the Ottawa Government in appointing Hon. Mr. Curran to the bench whilst he contest in full swing, thus alienating a large section of the Protstant and English speaking people that claimed the position for one of themselves. Had Judge Curran been appointed, say, tomorrow. Mr. McDonnell would not have been elected, but there would not have been such a revolution as was witnessed. At the general elections in 1892, the Liberal candidate was defeated in the Centre Ward by 113, and to-day they carried the same ward by 252. At the same election they lost the west ward by 487 and to-day the same electors voted for Dr. Guerin to the tune of 123 majority. The other part of the division that voted to-day is St. Ann's ward, where the Liberal nominee scored a majority of 855, making a total of 1254 votes ahead of the Ministerial candidatae.

The gravest part of the business is that the same three wards that spoke so emphatically to-day will soon be called upon to elect a gentleman to replace Judge Curran. It was made plain enough to the powers that be at Ottawa and their strongest supporters here and if they would throw their support with Mr. McDonald, and should that gentleman be elected, it would be quite easy work when the fight for the Commons was called. A Cabinet Minister came to the city and looked over the ground and it was quite understood that Ottawa would help in the fight. To the surprise, however, of all the workers, no effort whatever was made to save Mr. McDonnell, and the result is that at the present time the old stronghold of Montreal Centre is in the hands of the enemy, and if the Dominion Government do not wish to be defeated in the same division, and by a still larger majority, they will not issue the writ before the general elections.

The following are the correct returns, by wards:

	McDonnell.	Guerin.
Centre.....	209	455
West..	370	493
St. Ann's....	1059	1944
	1638	2892

Dr. Guerin's majority, 1254.

Lord Brassey at Adelaide.

Adelaide, South Australia, Oct. 22.—Lord Brassey, the new Governor of Victoria, arrived here from England to-day, on his way to Melbourne.

MR. LAURIER AT GALT.

Two Immense Meetings Held, at Both of Which the Liberal Leader Delivered Speeches.

Galt, Ont., Oct. 22.—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier arrived here last evening about 4 o'clock and was met at the station by a large number of citizens and visitors.

A reception was held in the Town Hall and later on two meetings were held. Even with two halls many were unable to obtain admission, and were disappointed in not securing an opportunity to hear the Liberal leader.

Besides Mr. Laurier's, addresses were delivered by Mr. J. I. Tarte, M.P., Montreal; William Paterson, M.P., Thomas Baine, M.P., Hon. James Young, the chairman, James Sutherland, M.P., John I. Flatt, M.L.A., John D. Moore, M.P., and William Gibson, M.P.

The greeting to Mr. Laurier was most cordial and enthusiastic, as were also the marks of appreciation of himself and his policy evinced by the different places through which he passed on his way from Toronto to this town during the afternoon. At Brampton and Guelph the demonstrations were very flattering. At both these points addresses were delivered by the Liberal chief and Mr. Tarte.

FRANCE AND HER NAVY.

The Proposal for a Supplementary Credit Not Approved of.

Paris, Oct. 23.—Premier Ribot and Vice-Admiral Bessard, Minister of Marine, were summoned to attend a meeting of the Budget Committee of the Chamber of Deputies last evening. M. Ribot supported Admiral Bassard's urgent demand for a supplementary credit of 7,500,000 francs for the construction of new ships and naval works. Admiral Bessard contended that it was imperative that France should preserve her position in the Mediterranean and the north, and place new vessels upon the distant naval stations.

After the departure of the Ministers, M. Camille Pelletan, reporter of the committee, proposed that four million francs be appropriated on account of the new naval construction program. This proposal was rejected by the committeee, which also rejected all other proposals for credits for new vessels.

M. Pelletan thereupon resigned, but his resignation has not yet been accepted.

When the Chambers meet it is expected that the Government will be able to withstand the attacks upon its policy which a number of deputies have announced their intention to make in the form of interpellations. The opposition newspapers declare that the Government will meet the Chamber of Deputies in the same manner in which a bankrupt would encounter his creditors.

England Will Hold Trinidad

New York, Oct. 23.—The Herald's special from Buenos Ayres says: Rio Janeiro despatches state that the British Minister in that place has informed the Brazilian Government that England intends to keep the Island of Trinidad.

Chicago Short of Coal

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Chicago is threatened with a coal famine. The docks and yards do not now contain nearly enough coal to supply the usual demand. The close of navigation is at hand and the chances for replenishing the depleted stock are small.

A Bicyclist Killed.

Boston, Oct. 22.—On the Jamaica Parkway yesterday afternoon, while the drive was thronged with fashionable equipages, James J. Powers and Thomas O'Connell of Salem, mounted on a racing tandem, were pushing along at a good rate when the tandem met a single wheel with tremendous force. Powers, the forward rider on the tandem, was thrown violently and in falling struck squarely on the skull. He died on the way to the hospital. The rider on the other wheel hurried away, and his name was not learned.

DEATH AT A FIRE.

One Life Lost and Six Others Narrowly Escape.

HOTEL DESTROYED IN HAMILTON.

The Proprietor, in an Effort to Rescue His Children, Suffocated by the Smoke—Three Little Ones and a Servant Saved by Means of a Ladder

Hamilton, Oct. 22.—Anthony Koch, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, at the corner of Stuart and Bay-streets, was smothered to death last night while bravely attempting to rescue his three children from the burning hotel. The fire broke out at 11.45 and when the firemen arrived shortly after that time the hotel, which is a two-storey frame building of recent construction, was a mass of flames.

Mr. Koch was awakened by the smell of burning and left his room to ascertain the cause. When he reached the stairs he found the hotel burning freely. He rushed back to his bedroom and succeeded in conveying his wife and child-in-arms to a place of safety.

In the meantime the firemen had arrived and in their presence Koch darted back into the burning house calling out that his three children and the servant girl were still to be rescued. This was the last seen of the unfortunate man alive.

By great exertions they succeeded in rescuing the three children, Burnie, Tony, and Ettie, and Miss Andrews, the servant girl.

TRUE BILL AGAINST KURSCHINSKI.

The Trial of the Alleged Murderer Set for This Morning—A Plea of Not Guilty.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 23.—Contrary to general expectation the Kurschinski murder trial was not commenced this afternoon. The grand jury returned a true bill against Kurschinski, who was brought into court and the indictment read to him. He stood on the prisoner's box as straight as a soldier and not the slightest nervousness could be noticed. When asked if he was guilty or not guilty he replied, "Not guilty," in a firm, loud voice, which never wavered.

As the prisoner stepped from the dock he smiled faintly, but did not in any way wear a bravado air. His trial has been set by Judge Robertson for Wednesday morning at 9.30.

There is a great deal of interest manifested in the case. It is likely the defence will put up a stubborn fight.

FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

John W. Scott on Trial at Lockport Charged With Killing Samuel Coulter of the Cibola.

Lockport N.Y., Oct. 3.—John W. Scott of Lewiston was placed on trial in the Court of Sessions this afternoon for manslaughter. Judge Signor of Albion, presided; Hon. Richard Crowley attorney for defendant.

On June 6, Samuel Coulter of Toronto, a waiter of the steamer Cibola, plying between Lewiston and Toronto, was struck on the head by the defendant, it is alleged, at Lewiston. His skull was fractured and he died at Toronto on June 13.

William H. Freeth of Toronto, cook of the Cibola, testified that Coulter, John W. Freeman and himself left the boat on the night of June 6, made a tour of the hotels in the place, drinking some at each, but none got drunk. Shortly after 11, as they left the Angler's Retreat on the bluff above the boat landing, Coulter picked up a stone, throwing it at a dog. A man, who proved to be Alex. Scott, brother of the defendant, rebuked Coulter and the latter swore at him. The dog belonged to Frank Scott. The defendant stepped up and Coulter offered to fight him. Witness saw John Scott strike Coulter with his fist back of the ear. Coulter fell, moaning, to the ground. Freeman went for a doctor, but could not find one until 2 o'clock.

John W. Freeman of the Cibola did not see Scott strike Coulter, but saw Coulter fall and defendant walk away.

Clifford Roberts, the steward, found Coulter in his bunk at 4 a.m., June 7. Thinking he was drunk, he pulled him out of the bunk, Coulter resisting and screaming. When he discovered his condition he had him attended to.

The case was adjourned until to-morrow at 10. Scott's wife and little girl are with him.

Shortis Acted Sensibly.

Beauharnois, Que., Oct. 22.—In Shortis' trial yesterday R. F. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Valleyfield Cotton Mill, testified that the prisoner always acted sensibly when in his presence. John Lowe, cashier of the mill, gave similar evidence. No new facts were brought out.

Detroit, Oct. 22.—A young man named Andrew Scott, who said he was from Guelph, Ont., was dragged from the river here at 1 a.m. yesterday by Patrolman Campbell. He said a negro struck and stunned him, and took $16 and his return ticket to Guelph from him.

COMPLIMENTS FOR CANADIANS.

Canadians can not only hold their own in agricultural, dairying and manufacturing competition, but if they have a fair field can generally get the start of foreign competition. In cheese, Canadians have distanced the world, and in other branches is well up to the front, and if our people were relieved from the burdensome taxation that benumbs the energies of our farming population, especially, the record of Canadians would be one which could be regarded with pride. Even under unfavourable conditions, the Canadians are making such a stand as to challenge the admiration of even our closest competitors, our American cousins.

Attention is called by the Toronto Mail and Empire to the testimony borne by American Consuls in Great Britain to the high position held in the British market by the Canadian export trade. A number of consular reports on the subject of American trade in Britain has been published by the United States department of agriculture; and they incidentally contain, as was inevitable, many frank confessions of the superiority of Canadian products. Our cheese, our apples, our oatmeal, our bacon, all rank higher than the American article. The consul at Bradford, for instance, says on the cheese question, that "the United States factories have much to learn from their Canadian neighbours, the cheese coming from the United States being uniformly of lower standard quality" than the Canadian. One of the Consuls, the Mail and Empire tells us, "explains that the Americans overcome the disadvantage as regards quality in their cheese by coolly marking it 'Old Cheshire,' thus fetching a better price." The testimony of the Consul at Southampton as to the superiority of Canadian bacon and hams is crushing enough. He writes:

American hams and bacon are cheaper than similar products of other countries finding their way into the market, and some years ago were almost exclusively used; but now the Canadian pea-fed pork products have almost entirely driven them from the market. American sides sell here for $7.20, and Canadian bacon sides fetch $2.52 more. Notwithstanding this great difference in price, Canadian pea-fed bacon is preferred by local consumers, being considered vastly superior in quality. Consumers complain that American hogs are allowed to run wild, and feed on acorns, swill, etc., and that the bacon is consequently too soft and fat. Canadian hogs are kept enclosed and are fed exclusively on peas, and the bacon and hams are firmer and much nicer in appearance than those of American production."

This, it should not be forgotten, is not the report of our own High Commissioner; but the statement of an American official written for the American Government. It has all the force of an unfeigned compliment from a rival. Our people, remarks the Montreal Star, have secured the upper side of the hill in the contest for the world market of Britain—partly by the merit of their products and partly by the honest way they are put to on the market; and it behooves them to keep this advantage by these same means. As to the second reason—that based upon honest trading—the United States Consuls are once more the witnesses on our side. The Cardiff Consul reports that many good brands of American ham are retailed as "home-cured," and that American bacon is sold as "home fed" and "Canadian pea-fed.' Then American apples are said not to be the same size all through the barrel, while cheese is not always cheese. It is surely folly to cheat one whom you would make a permanent customer. Canadians can well afford to lose a sale now and then by such means, if by so doing they maintain a reputation for delivering what they sell.

All we ask is a fair show, and you will give Grafton's Clothing the preference

A DUMMER BEAR STORY.

Bruin "Tuckered-out" With a Slug From a Shot Gun—A 206 lb. She Bear.

Mr. George Tucker while out hunting partridge near the fifth concession the other day, came in contact with a huge bear in her den. He having only a shot gun and half a bullet in his pouch took deliberate aim and shot the bear below the eye. The bullet passed through her brain and in a delirious condition she came out of her den. Mr. Tucker seeing its condition put the contents of the other barrel in its left eye, and Bruin fell to the ground. Mr. J. J. Howden secured the meat, while Mr. Tucker is getting the hide tanned for a rube. Don't forget that Bruin tiped the scales at 206 pounds. Well done for George.—COM.

An unusually heavy fall of snow, being about six inches Many farmers in this section have not yet saved the roots and apples.

John Sheridan, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, at one time chief constable, was seized with apoplexy about a.m. Dr. J. N. Thompson rendered all the medical aid possible, but without avail. He had reached the age of 62 and was apparently a strong man. His friends have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church here next Sunday, the 27th, promise to attract a large congregation. Rev. Mr. MacWilliams, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, will conduct the services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., and Rev. Mr. McMillan, of St. Andrew's church, Lindsay, will conduct the services at 3 p.m. There will be no Monday festival this year.

There has been a few cases of diphtheria at Downeyville, but the disease appears to have disappeared.

There has been one of the Evans hand fire engines shipped to Coldwater village, after that place had been visited with a serious fire.

The Rev. Newton Hill preached a temperance sermon here on Sunday night last.

The several Young People's Christian Endeavour Societies organised by the Rev. J. A. Tanner, Presbyterian minister, at Fowler's Corners, Mount Pleasant and Omemee, are making rapid progress.

A number from here will attend the festival and concert at Mount Pleasant on Hallowe'en. Miss Lily Jackson, Peterborough's vocalist, will be the chief musica attraction.

There was a large number attended Hon. Mr. Laurier's gathering at Lindsay on Monday, besides those from the adjoining townships of Smith, Cavan and Manvers, Millbrook and Port Hope. There were about 5,000 present, and judging from the attention and good order, listening to such a straightforward treatment of public matters, without bitterness, by an orator like Mr. Laurier, was a delight to the hearers. There is no doubt that many farmers of both Victorias, and among them many Conservatives, are anxious for a change.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Galway fall show was held in the village of Kinmount last Wednesday. The Secretary, Mr. J. Kingsboro, and the directors put forth every effort to make it a success, but the rain, which began to fall about nine o'clock and lasted throughout the whole day had the effect of putting a damper on it to a certain extent. The exhibit in the hall in spite of the inclemency of the weather) was as good as could be expected and not very far behind (in quality) the Industrial at Toronto. But the live stock exhibit was not up to the usual standard, which was, of course, owing to the downpour of rain. Only a few really good animals were brought out. Among them was a fine short horn bull, two years old, owned by Mr. H. Smith, which was awarded first prize; also a beautiful thoroughbred Shropshire ram lamb, the property of Mr. A. Morrison. A very good flock of Cotswolds was shown by Mr. T. White. Very few, indeed, ventured out in the rain to show their horses.

Mr. F. Dettman, who has been out threshing during the last three weeks, had the misfortune to get the end taken off his little finger. He was in the act of lifting at the cleaner with a crow bar, when the latter slipped and his finger struck the hook on the feed board, taking the nail off entirely, and the top of the finger as far as the first joint. The wound is doing very well under the treatment of Dr. Frost.

Mrs. J. Kennedy, who was afflicted with partial paralysis about three months ago, is able to be around again.

The farmers in this vicinity are busily engaged in doing their fall ploughing.

KINMOUNT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We had a chance of ministers in two churches on Sunday. Mr. Knight, of Irondale, preached for Mr. Mearing. A large number was out to hear him. Mr. Knight is a fluent speaker. In the afternoon, Mr. Tucker, the Methodist minister of Coboconk, preached for Mr. Miller of the Presbyterian church here and preached a beautiful sermon on Christians being liberal minded and asked his hearers to be careful not to make the same mistake Elijah made in thinking he was the only one in Israel who served the Lord, when the Lord told him there were several hundreds who had not bowed the knee to Baal. He believed there were more Christians in the world to-day than we thought there were. In the evening, Rev. Mr. Munt, of the Baptist church, preached a very plain and forcible sermon to the members of the Epworth League and Christian Endeavour Societies, after which there was a prayer meeting and each member felt very much profited by the discourse.

The old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined?

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then comes the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

Over Twenty-Five Years Ago

The firm, Oak Hall, was established in Canada. The W. E. Sandford Manufacturing Co. of Hamilton (now the Largest Clothing Manufacturers in the Dominion, and one of the Largest in the World) decided that the people of this country would be better served if they dealt with the manufacturers direct and knew who they were dealing with. This was the ACORN planted for the first Oak Hall.

Since then stores have been opened in all the principal cities of the Dominion. Peterborough is the last to get in line and our reception has been a glorious one; the good people of this town and surrounding country have caught on quickly. They realize that now it is possible to get Style and Quality at a Fair Price in Ready-to-wear Clothing and useless to pay fancy prices for Custom Made Garments.

The confidence we are gaining with the public will never be misplaced on our part. We would be pleased to have you call and see our stock of Climate of Manitoba Tried in Vain.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Ten Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills —Follows the Advice of Her Little Child.

Special to the EXAMINER.

Neepawa, Man., Oct. 23—The startling appearance on the streets here of a woman who for many months had been reported a hopeless invalid and slowly dying, and by many believed to be already dead, has created the greatest excitement and subject of talk that has ever before stirred the nerves of this quiet village.

To see a woman walking the street in seeming perfect health who had been believed dead or dying was a sensation for persons not given to superstition. The subject of all this wonder—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, but residing here for the last four years—in a statement of her case said: "Residing for many years at Listowel, Ont., after suffering six years I was given up by the doctors and advised as a last resort to try the effect of Manitoba climate. I came out here about four years ago. Disappointed in my expectation of benefit from the change and receiving no help from any of the many remedies tried, but sinking lower from year to year, I had at last given up in despair. One day my little boy, after reading in a paper of a wonderful cure wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills, turned to me and said, 'Mother, I believe these pills will cure you.' They were sent for, and from the first dose I began to feel better. After taking four and a half boxes I say it with heartfelt gratitude I am perfectly cured of what the doctors pronounced Bright's disease of the kidneys and incurable."

No other remedy in the world has ever been known to cure Bright's diseases except Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SHOT THROUGH THE LUNG.

A Mimico Man Dies From an Accidental Gunshot Wound.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—James Principal died at Mimico yesterday morning, his death being the result of shot-gun wound received while camping with a party of friends at Laggan's Rock, Muskoka.

Young Principal had loaded his gun in the tent, intending to go out for snipe. While rising to reach for his cartridge bag he asked a companion named Waitman to hold the weapon. Waitman had just come into camp and did not see Principal load the gun. While holding the gun he made a remark about the weight of the pull of the trigger as compared with his own gun. The next instant there was a report and Principal fell unconscious.

He was brought to his home at Mimico, where he lingered several days with a portion of the charge in his left lung. Several medical men examined the unfortunate young man, but could do nothing to save his life.

Curran to be Tried for Arson.

SOME TART COMMENTS

Plain Talk to the United States Government.

THE ST. JAMES' GAZETTE'S ADVICE

An Intimation That Advice to Britain Will Come With Better Grace After the Sealers Claims Have Been Settled. The Alabama Indemnity Referred To.

London, Oct. 23.—The St. James' Gazette, in a leading editorial on the Venezuelan situation, says that the case is not one for arbitration, and adds: "The good offices of the United States would be tendered with great authority and better grace if the Government paid the indemnity it is required to pay by the Behring Sea award. We were absurdly overtaxed by the Alabama decision."

The Gazette says the statement in absolutely untrue that the peremptory despatch, or ultimatum, to Venezuela was delivered to Senor Rodriguez, Venezuelan Consul here. As the German Government has consented to temporarily take charge of the interests of British subjects in Venezuela, the Gazette says, the despatch to President Crespo will naturally be transmitted through the Foreign Office in Berlin.

The ultimatum, it is asserted, makes no reference to the boundary question, which England declines to regard as unsettled, but simply deals with the matter of the arrest of the British Inspectors, Barnes and Baker, in regard to which Lord Salisbury informed the Venezuelan Government that if proper reparation should not be given within a specified time, Great Britain would hold herself at liberty to seek it by other means.

The measures taken will probably resemble those pursued in the Nicaraguan affair, and the British Admiral in those waters will doubtless receive instructions to seize the Venezuelan ports and collect the customs duties.

GREAT IS TAI WON KUN.

The Old Man Keeps His Son in Subjection, Though the Latter is King of the Domain.

New York, Oct. 23.—A special to The Herald from Seoul, Corea, says: The Tai Won Kun, the King's father, who is wielding the supreme power, is still imprisoning those whom he believes to be his enemies.

The King, whose authority is completely overshadowed, is in fear of his life, and the representatives here of foreign powers have been asked to unite in affording him protection.

A despatch from Tokio says the Japanese have gained victories in Formosa, and the Black Flags are expected to surrender at an early date.

It was decided yesterday at Pekin that China shall pay thirty million taels to Japan for the recession of the Liao Tung promontory. This arrangement has been concluded with the assent of the powers.

St, Petersburg, Oct. 22.—It is officially announced that the Russian Minister in Corea has taken no official action whatever in relation to the situation there, although he does not recognise or approve of the illegal state of affairs existing in Corea.

Hong Kong, Oct. 22.—Advices from Formosa say that the chief of the Black Flags, who has been holding Tai Wan Fu, has fled from the place. In consequence of his departure it is expected that the Black Flags will now lay down their arms.

MISS HUDON SOLD HER HAIR.

Also Talked About Gentlemen and Otherwise Violated Convent Rules.

Montreal, Oct. 23.—Some time since The World told how Miss Hudon had been sent away from the convent of the Sisters of Mercy, which action was followed by a suit brought against the order by the reverend lady. The ladies of the order have produced a plea which is of more than ordinary interest. They claim the right to send away any sister from the order after five years of trial, if such person is found to be unfit for the calling. They allege that Miss Hudon did not obey the rules of the order, and that she did not keep her vows. She it apears, used to talk of the gentlemen before other novices, and gave contrary orders to those given her by the superiors. She would only get up in the morning when called, and last, but not least, she sold her hair to a city dealer, which was a cause of scandal to the community. The plea also states that the Superior did not refuse the novice a certificate of good moral character when she left the convent. The case promises to be an interesting one.

Cold in the Head

And Headache cured in 5 minutes. Catarrh cured in a week by using Dr. Hunt's Magic Snuff, 25 cents a box. For sale by J. D. Tully and H. S. McDonald and all druggists

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George Street.

Just spend his Four Quarters for a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters as all sensible people do; because it cures Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Bad Blood, and all Diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sore.

Centuries ago, people used to fear what they called the pestilence. "Black Death" was the most terrible thing in the world to them. They feared it as people now fear the Cholera and Yellow Fever. And yet there is a more terrible thing than any of these. There is a thing that causes more misery and more deaths than any of these. It is the commonest trouble that human beings suffer from. It is so common that nine-tenths of all the sickness in the world is traceable to it. It is merely that simple, common thing—constipation. There is no telling what it may lead to, but it is sure to lead to something bad. Its immediate effects are unpleasant in the extreme. It makes people listless, gives them headaches, makes the digestion poor, causes dizziness, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath and distress after eating. All this merely because Nature has been imposed upon, and has been refused the little help she needed.

This little help is furnished by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One pill is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. There are two remarkable things about the "Pellets." One is that they never gripe; the other that they cure permanently. There is no other medicine that does cure permanently. You can take any other medicine you like, as long as you like, and if you stop, your trouble will come back quickly, and the chances are the trouble will be worse than it was before. This isn't true of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. You take them until you get yourself into perfect working order, and then you stop. You don't have to take any more "Pellets" unless after a while you do something that deranges your digestive system again. We are not guessing about these facts, and we don't ask you to take our unsupported word for it. Thousands of people have found that they are true, and have testified to them. Let the druggist who says that something else is "just as good" sell that something else to somebody else. Don't let him trifle with your health for the sake of a little more profit to himself.

Throwing Stones at the Cars.

Stone throwing at the trains as they pass through the south end of the town has become such a nuisance and so dangerous to the train hands and passengers that the Grand Trunk has a detective here gathering evidence against the offenders. He stated that more complaints come from Peterborough that any other five towns on the line, but if stringent action will put a stop to it there will soon be no cause for complaint.

The Bottom Falls Out of a Sensation.

A sensational paragraph appearing in a morning contemporary concerning the narrow escape from asphixiation of the family of Mr. Johnston, of Otonabee, is totally incorrect and Mr. Johnston is justly incensed over the statement. A new coal stove had been purchased and gave off a small quantity of gas during the night, which was noticed in the morning by the family. No one fell into any stupor, no physician was sent for, and the well being of the family is proven by the fact that in the afternoon they drove out to Mr. John Donnelly's funeral at Lakefield.

Rheumatism Runs Riot

When there is lactic acid in the blood, liniments and lotions will be of no permanent benefit. A cure can be accomplished only by neutralizing this acid and for this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently in the public eye.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and effectively, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

MR. MARK SPENCELY'S "PLUM."

He and his Brothers and Sisters Fall Heirs to $100,000

Mr. Mark Spencely, a hard working honest citizen of the town, has, figuratively landed on his feet. A few days ago he received notification from the executors of the will of a maternal aunt in Yorkshire, England, that she had in her will left Mr. Spencley and his brother and sisters the large sum of $100,000.

The matter was placed in the hands of Messrs. Edmison & Dixon, who will take the necessary steps to secure for Mark his share of the windfall which is expected to amount to over $20,000. The solicitors state that there is no doubt of the bequest.

Mr. Spencley's mother's name was Hotchkin and the wealth of the family, which was considerable, finally descended to Jane Hotchkin, who has bequeathed it to the Spencely family, represented by the children of her sister, Mrs. Spencely, which consists of Mark, William Spencely, Auburn; Mr. Elizabeth Chapman, Reid street; Mrs. Jane Barry, Edinburgh street, and a Mrs. Valeck of New York.

It appears that this bequest has not been unexpected, in case of the death of the aunt. Previous efforts, it seems have been made to secure it but ineffectually. There may even be considerable trouble in securing the bequest of 20,000 pounds left by the aunt's will through technicalities, law's delays etc.)

"Mark's" many friends will congratulate him on his sudden good fortune which, since he joined the Salvation Army several years ago, he has well deserved. He has worked hard all his life and if everything turns out as expected, he will be able to enjoy an old age of comfort, and it is pretty certain that the Salvation Army, of which he is one of the most devoted soldiers, will lose nothing by his sudden accession to wealth.

ST. JOHN'S WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

Complimentary References to the Late Secretary.

Yesterday afternoon (Tuesday) the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's held their monthly meeting in the school room. There was an unusually large attendance. Miss Symonds, a missionary from the Blackfoot Home, gave an interesting description of her work.

General regret was expressed that the Society would no longer have the kindly services of the late Parochial Secretary, Mrs. S. White, now Mrs. J. H. Holden of New York. Mrs. Holden has been one of the most efficient workers in the Society, and the members expressed their warm congratulations in the following brief motion:

"Moved by Mrs. Clark, seconded by Mrs. Weller, that hearty congratulations be sent to Mrs. S. White on the occasion of her marriage with Mr. J. H. Holden of New York, coupled with great regret at losing her from the Society, of which she has been an invaluable member since its commencement."

The fire brigade was summoned to the pump factory of McWilliams & Daly at about ten o'clock this morning, but although the hose were strung the water was not turned on, owing to the fact that the flames were extinguished by the prompt action of Mr. Jas. Haggart, who was at work in the next building. The fire originated in a pile of shavings behind the stove and the flames were running up the wall when it was discovered. The damage is very slight.

Last Night at the Opera House.

A large audience greeted the second night's engagement of the J. L. Clarke Company at the Opera House, when the comedy drama "Eagle's Nest" was presented. The principal parts were taken by Miss Ella Cameron and Messrs. J. L. Clarke, George Heath and Harry Bronridge and the portrayal of their respective parts was done in a most praiseworthy manner. A couple of songs by E. B. Booth and some stories in dialect by him were greatly enjoyed.

Last night's play is one of the few western dramas that is free from the war dance of the festive Indian, scouts, etc., nevertheless it is full of thrilling situations, and replete with bright comedy lines. The story is strong with human interest and sympathetic concords, the thread of the plot never being lost, but holds the audience riveted in their attention from first to last. Miss Cameron again proved her ability as an actress of the first order, showing all through the play a true knowledge of the passions, and the tenner feelings which the parts of Rose Milford called for. Mr. Clark, as the western lawyer, was very natural and played his part in so quaint a manner as to convulse his hearers with laughter. Mr. Heath was a manly lover and gave excellent support. Space forbids further personal mention, but the company is strong, and no one will regret a visit to the Opera House this week.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL DEBT.

The Grand Work Which the Congregation is Doing.

In order that a clear understanding may exist regarding the debt of St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. Father Scollard expressed the wish this morning that the statement published regarding the debt of St. Peter's, be amended in such a manner as to show that last year the debt on the church amounted to $3,062, but through the silver offerings of the congregation every Sunday, the debt was entirely wiped out with the exception of some eighty one dollars, and at the same time a number of improvements have been made in the way of providing furnaces for the palace and hospital, which have been paid for.

The Priests' House, the Bishop's palace and the Cathedral are therefore entirely free of debt, with the exception of the aforementioned eighty-one dollars. There remains a debt, however, incurred by enlarging the Convent and Lake street school, besides the debt of $10,000 carried on St. Joseph's Hospital.

Hereafter the silver offerings will be devoted each Sunday to the liquidation of school debt and will afterwards be applied on the amount outstanding for the construction of the hospital.

His Lordship, during the recital of High Mass on Sunday morning last, took occasion to thank the members of the congregation for their liberal silver offering each Sunday and took occasion to point out to them that while the small amounts contributed were hardly missed by the subscriber, yet the collection always aggregated a considerable sum. He hoped that in the course of three years the $10,000 debt would be lifted from the hospital.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES.

Those Won at the Fall Rifle Matches to be Presented on Friday.

"E" Company, under Capt. Miller, and "F" Company, under Capt. Hayes, were inspected by Col. Cotton, D.A.G. last evening. Both companies did exceptionally well, and Co. "E" came in for special praise for neatness and for the quickness of its non-commissioned officers.

Major Howard, of Hastings, paymaster of the Battalion, was in attendance, and was busily engaged in arranging the accounts so that there would be no delay in signing the checks when Paymaster Strange, of this military district, arrives on the scene to-day. The books of the captains of companies were also examined by the D.A.G. last evening.

Col. Cotton left for Kingston this morning, but will return to-morrow, when companies "A" and "B" will be inspected.

The Battalion inspection will take place Friday afternoon at three o'clock at either Burnham's Point or Riverside Park, and upon the return of the men to the drill shed, the prizes won at the fall rifle matches will be presented.

A YOUNG SHOPLIFTER.

After Spending a Night in the Cells he is Discharged on Suspended Sentence.

Fred Haws, a young lad residing in the south end, was found guilty this morning in the police court of stealing a pack of playing cards from the Peterborough Bookstore. He was discharged on suspended sentence with a warning to the effect that his next appearance in the court would be disastrous for him. The lad was caught in the very act of pocketing the cards, and as Mr. Stratton has been greatly annoyed by these youthful shoplifters lately it deemed it the wisest course to make an example of one of them in order that prospective offenders would know what fate would overtake them if caught stealing. If more of the merchants in town would prosecute in such cases the crime of shoplifting which is becoming altogether too prevalent in the cities would not be known in Peterborough.

A SMART TRAMP.

He Breaks Witnesses Down in Cross-Examination.

Detective Cockburn, of the Grand Trunk is in town and states that at the trial of Sinclair, the tramp, who was so well provided with revolvers when the constables had the free fight down the railway track, with the knights of the road, he boasted of his exploits on that occasion and stated that he was firing around Constable Moore's ears just to frighten him. How well he succeeded is too well-know for comment.

The detective says this tramp was a wonder in the cross-examination line and so puzzled some of the witnesses as to completely denude their evidence of any weight whatever. He cited the Railway Act, the Scriptures and everything else that bore on the case, but it was of no avail as he was sent down for 9 months. Before leaving the Court Room he gave the judge quite a "setting out."

THE LOCK WORKS OFFER.

The Town's Proposition of a Free Site Under Consideration.

Last night the committee of the whole council met Messrs. Carnegie and Brooks, representing the Lock Works Company, to confer with reference to propositions looking to assisting the company with a view of having the works remain in Peterborough.

The committee on behalf of the town submitted an offer of a free site of about an acre of land owned by the town, lying in the vicinity of the C.P.R. and G.T.R. tracks, together with exemption for ten years, the conditions being that the Lock Company should put up buildings to the value of $10,000.

The representatives of the company, while preferring that the offer of the company should be accepted by the town, asked time to consider the offer of the latter.

If buying for spot cash can save you 25 to 35 per cent. on all your purchases of Dry Goods of every description, why buy on credit; have you never figured it up? WE CAN PROVE to anyone that we can save you that much on the same quality goods. We sell you Plaid Dress Goods at 20c, that every other house will charge you 25c for. We sell you Plaid Dress Goods at 25c, that no house in the trade can give you better value at 40c. Are not these unmistakable proofs. Yet some people think so much of a month's credit.

BUT CASH IS KING

And cash buyers will save money this week by buying from this Cash Store.

Live Stock Markets.

The past fortnight has been a lively one on the Peterborough market. Over 2,000 sheep and lambs have been delivered at good prices for shipment from Peterborough to England. Mr. H. P. Kennedy, town, an energetic live stock dealer, has handled these shipments, and expects another small shipment this season, but the prices may not be so favourable. Peterborough is keeping up its reputation for being the best market for all kinds of produce in the market.

The Outfall Sewer.

Contractors Grant and Winch are rushing their contract through on Section 3 of the sewer in a most praiseworthy manner. The C.P.R. track has been tunnelled and strong joists support the ties where the sewer runs beneath. By this evening the brick work beneath the track will be completed, and if the weather permits, this portion will be filled in by to-morrow. The excavating is not difficult along here, as the soil has been "made." Forty-five men are now at work, seven of them being bricklayers.

Obituary.

A large circle of friends and acquaintances, says the Lindsay Post, will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Michael Sawey, which took place on Monday morning last at the residence of his uncle, Mr. Bernard McClory, Mill street. The deceased was a native of County Down, Ireland, and came to this country when a boy, spending most of his life in Lindsay, where he has been engaged in business of different kinds, principally butchering. He had been employed in Peterborough for the past six months, and not being in good health, thought a rest and visit among his friends would be beneficial, but it was not to be, as death overtook him six days after arriving in town.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

The Business at the Non-Jury Sittings —The Court Adjourns.

Yesterday the time of the court up to six o'clock was taken up with hearing evidence in the case of

CURTIS v. SMITH.—D. J. Lynch, Campbellford, for the plaintiff; A. L. Colville, Campbellford, for defendant. This is an action brought by Sarah Curtis, of Norham, Northumberland county, against Adam Henry Smith, Geo. Cryderman and Wm. Rankin, executors of the alleged will of the late Mary Jane Langford. The plaintiff prays that the alleged will of Mary Jane Langford, her sister, be set aside and declared to be null and void. (2) That it may be declared that at the time of the making of the will of the late Mary Jane Langford was not of sound and disposing mind and memory and of sufficient capacity to enable her to make her will. 3 That it be declared that the said will was procured to be made by the undue influence of the defendants. 4. That it may be declared that the late Mary Jane Langford had not the necessary and proper advice and direction to enable her to make the said will and that the same was made by and under pressure and collusion. 5. That Geo. Cryderman and Wm. Rankin be restrained and enjoined from acting under said will. 6. That Adam Henry Smith be restrained from receiving or using any portion of the said estate. 7. That the estate be administered under the direction of this High Court. 8. That the defendants be ordered to pay the costs of the action.

The case was settled between the parties.

CAMPBELL vs. CAMPBELL—Dumble & Johnston for plaintiff; Hall & Hayes for defendant. An action by Mary Campbell, of Douro, against her son, James Campbell, of Manvers. The plaintiff claims to be entitled to a judgment setting aside as fraudulent and void so much of an instrument of 16th of August, 1890, as purports to assign to the defendant $50 a year issuing out of a lot in 10th concession in North Monaghan. She further claims the payment of another $50 should be secured to her by declaring the same charged on the defendant's said farm in Manvers. This is the outcome of certain provisions of the will of the late Wm. Campbell.

In consequence of an order made by Judge Weller, postponing the hearing, this case did not come on. It was traversed to the next assizes, or will possibly come up for a hearing in January.

STAPLES vs. GILLESPIE.—Stratton & Hall for pltf.; John Burnham, Q. C., for the executor, deft.; Hall & Hayes for occupant, deft. Action of Mary Jane Staples, of Manvers, against John Gillespie, et al., the executors of the will of the late John Staples. The plaintiff also asks for the sum of $500, her legacy under the will, and for the construction of the will. The argument was heard this morning and judgment was reserved.

GROVES vs. GROVES.—Stratton & Hall for pltf.; R. M. Ruddy for deft. Action of Margaret Groves against her husband, George Groves, of Emily, for alimony. Before this case was called the plaintiff's counsel stated that an amicable modus vivendi had been arranged between the parties and that a settlement had been effected.

Most of it dropped into the new cellars, though a considerable portion fell inwards. The back half of the wall fell out clean from the foundation to the roof. Part of the roof also collapsed. A quantity of tinware on the shelves was destroyed. It seems almost a miracle that although men had been working near the wall but a few minutes before, at the time of the collapse there was no one near either side of the wall. The necessary repairs have been made.

CANADA COPYRIGHT.

Extracts From Contemporary Criticisms, With Occasional Comments.

Canadian copyright ought to be a simple question to settle; and so it would be if its opponents would confine themselves to facts. Nor is it a very flattering commentary on current criticism to find the Canadian case misstated and misrepresented, and that by writers who ought to know better. Not only do these misstatements and misrepresentations come from United States sources, but British authors, publishers and newspapers—with here and there an honorable exception—have pursued a similar course.

Sir Walter Besant, in the last number of The Author, writes in the following conciliatory (?) spirit: "These Canadians are pressing on a measure with no excuse but (1) the alleged right to make their own copyright laws, and (2) the undoubted intention of the Toronto printers—there are no publishers to speak of—to pour their cheap and pirated stuff into the American market."

Unfortunately for Sir Walter, it is not an alleged right that Canadians are pressing for but an absolute right. As to his solicitude for the American (United States ?) market, it would be laughable if it were not that he ought to be ashamed of himself for repeating this slur on Canadian publishers. The United States Copyright and Tariff Acts are against such a supposition. The United States copyright owners have their laws, and the machinery of the vast army of the customs and postal officials of the United States to enforce those laws, and the laws will be enforced, Sir Walter's belief to the contrary, notwithstanding.

The Law Journal of London, under date of Sept. 28, attempts to rival The New York Tribune in misrepresenting Canada's case. This veracious English journal says that the Canadian bill of 1889 proposes to enact that unless the author registers the book at Ottawa on its first publication and reprints it in Canada within one month, he forfeits his property in the product of his brain. If this had been written with reference to the United States Act, it would be near the truth, but it is a gross libel on the Canadian Act. The Canadian Government has repeatedly expressed its intention to safeguard the rights of the author. The author in the first place is given the right to secure copyright. Should he refuse or neglect to do so, the Government may issue licenses under which the book may be printed. These licenses are to be issued under regulations to be approved by the Governor-General-in-Council, and when the proper time comes it is not unreasonable to suppose that these regulations will be made full and complete so as to amply protect the interests of the author. The United States Act contains no such regulations, as the author who fails to print in the United States loses absolutely all rights, and any publisher is at liberty to print the book there without payment.

Why, then, is the editor of The Law Journal so bitter against the Canadian Act, which is so fair in its treatment of authors, and yet has no word of condemnation for the United States Act, which is so grossly unfair to authors? Canada is a part of the British Empire. Canadians surely have the right to expect fair and honorable treatment at the hands of British editors.

The Law Journal talks of the United States being obviously within its right in denouncing the copyright agreement with Great Britain. The writer of that article knows well, or should know that Canada was never a party to any agreement on copyright between the United States and Great Britain. Canada was not even consulted as to any such agreement. So that if there is such an agreement, in which Canada was included without her consent, Canada will never recognize the agreement.

So with the Berne Convention. Canada and the United States of America were invited in 1886 to enter that convention. Canada promised to do so, as it was thought the United States would also enter. Preliminary steps had already been taken in 1883, looking to a Tripartite Copyright Convention between Great Britain, the United States and Canada. Canada moreover recognized that the effect of the Berne Convention would practically be to give copyrights taken in Canada protection throughout the civilized world. But to the surprise of the civilised world, the United States of America politely but absolutely refused to joint the convention. An intimation was given that it might join later, but instead of doing so it adopted, in 1891, the still more drastic policy of refusing copyrights to authors unless the book was produced from type set in the United States. It was predicted in Canada that if the United States would not join the convention, an enormous advantage would be secured to United States publishers at the expense of Canadian publishers, more particularly on account of the geographical position of Canada, side by side with the United States. This prediction has been more than fulfilled. To protect itself the Canadian Parliament refused to ratify its promise to join the convention, and promptly gave notice of withdrawal, under article xx. of the convention. The Law Journal is again bitterly unfair on this point. It says that Canada was given twelve months within which to notify a wish not to be a party to the convention. This of itself is not a fact, as the editor will find by searching the official records. But when that fact is stated, why suppress the other fact that Canada had a right to withdraw on giving one year's notice. The Imperial Government has been twice memorialized by the Canadian Government to denounce the convention in accordance with the agreement, but has not done so as yet. This action on the part of the Imperial Government will not be forgotten by Canadians.

The Law Journal then goes on to state that the constitutional arguments for the Canadian bill hardly require a moment's consideration. The editor, in his self-complacency, is quite satisfied that the Colonial Laws Validity Act of 1865 settles that point. But men whose opinions Canadians respect have advanced arguments that prove conclusively that the constitutional arguments are sound. The Law Journal should read the opinions of such legal lights as Sir John Thompson, Mr. J. D. Edgar, M.P., Mr. O. A. Howland, M.P.P., and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, and he will begin to appreciate why Canadians insist so strongly on the constitutional point.

It is a most disagreeable duty to have to expose misrepresentations from both British and United States sources. We might expect that United States newspapers would not be any too anxious to state our case fairly, as they too often have to pander to an element which makes no secret of its deadly hostility to anything and everything British or Canadian. It is matter for deep regret, therefore, that British newspapers should, unwittingly perhaps, take the same stand against Canada as is taken by the United States newspapers. Canada is the bulwark on the North American Continent against the intensely anti-British feeling which is unhappily too prevalent in the United States. It may be accepted as a fact that British papers are making a mistake when they echo the opinions of [illegible] in which Canada is concerned. The United States newspapers are for the United States first, last and all the time. The mere fact that United States newspapers and United States publishers are unanimous in denouncing Canada's right to legislate on copyright will make Canadians the more earnest in insisting on that right, and British sympathy ought to be with Canada instead of against us.

"A Canadian Author" writes to The London Times, protesting against the new Canadian Act, and rather makes a mess of his case in the following sentence: "Publishing, as the Canadian author of any important work other than local must, not in Canada, but in England or the United States." There is the case in a nutshell. Under the present unjust arrangements, Canadian authors are compelled to print in the United States in order to secure copyright there. Many of them do so, and thus are obliged to pass over Canadian printers and publishers. Let the United States come into a true international copyright convention, in which Canada will willingly enter, and then the Canadian author will not be compelled to publish his work abroad, and the Canadian printers and publishers will not suffer as they are doing now. But the United States have steadfastly refused to enter into a true international copyright convention. That great and glorious country, whose newspapers prate so glibly against the so-called Canadian "piracy" absolutely refuses to recognize an author's right to protection in any shape or form, unless the author prints his book in the United States.

The Chicago Chronicle, under date of Oct. 6, has an editorial on copyright which, strangely enough, denounces the proposed Canadian Copyright Act as "piracy," although the act does not admit of piracy at all; while it has no word of condemnation for the United States Act, which admits of open piracy of any book that is not printed in the United States. The editorial concludes as follows:

"If copyright laws are founded in justice they should be protected from evasion by either colonial or state legislation. It is said that an author with the unique name of Hall Caine has been sent from London as a literary emissary to plead with the Canadian Parliament for the repeal or modification of the anti-copyright act. It is very probable that Mr. Caine's mission is undertaken merely as an advertisement to give him and his books a meretricious notoriety. But whether that is the case or not, his arguments are on the side of common justice and common honesty."

The New York Mail and Express, under date of Oct. 12, says:

"The literary journals and the literary people of Great Britain continue to show much interest in the visit of Hall Caine to this country. The famous author of "The Manxman" has spent the past ten days with Mr. W. W. Appleton, of his American publishing firm, at Buzzard's Bay, where Mr. Appleton's country place adjoins the President's summer home. Mr. Caine will explore Boston and Cambridge within the next few days, and then will go to Ottawa to take part in a conference regarding Canadian copyright, which is the object of his coming to America. I am enabled to state authoritatively that unless his present plans undergo sudden and unexpected change, Mr. Caine will not appear publicly to lecture or to read from his works during his present visit to our country, although, naturally, he has had many pressing offers to so do. He will spend several days in New York after returning from Ottawa, and before sailing for London. It is not improbable, however, that he will be given at least one reception by the literary men of New York."

The Montreal Gazette, under date of Sept. 26, says:

"Mr. Hall Caine has arrived in New York, and after spending some days there and in Boston, will come to Canada to discuss the copyright question. Boston and New York are two centres of the United States book-making business. It looks as if Mr. Caine might arrive in the Dominion with a very firm conviction as to what is good for the United States."

The New York Tribune is determined to baulk Canada's legislation on copyright or to die in the attempt. Not content with Mr. Isaac N. Ford's lengthy cables and letters from London, and editorial comments thereon, it has secured the assistance of the London partner of a great continental publishing house. Notice particularly that this foreign publisher is, of course, bitterly opposed to the Canadian publisher having any rights. Had that gentleman taken the trouble of writing to Canadian instead of United States sources, he would have found that what he evidently considers most powerful arguments have no foundation in fact. But The Tribune surpasses itself in its editorial comments on the letter of this foreign publisher. After painting an absurdly gloomy word picture of the ruin that will be wrought to international copyright through the adoption of the new Canadian act, it says: "To expect the United States, or indeed any other country, to stand by a convention thus riddled and flouted, and to go on in the ways of peaceful commerce, constantly surrounded and assaulted by pirates, without firing a shot in self-defence, is to expect something far more than end-of-the-nineteenth-century human nature is likely to grant."

Why, the old-time spread-eagle orator "wasn't in it" with this modern Tribune editor. But to appreciate the fallacy of his argument it need only be explained that the United States positively refused to join the Berne convention, although formally invited to do so. That convention has been riddled and flouted by the United States, and yet this Tribune editor talks of expecting the United States to stand by it. "Consistency, thou art a [illegible] Tribune editor seems to have lost this jewel, if he ever possessed it.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAR-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

LINCOLN'S HESITANCY TO MARRY

Appropensive That the Pathway Was Not One of Flowers and Sunlight.

Letters from Lincoln to his closest friend, Joshua Fry Speed, subsequent to the latter's marriage, betray an anxious and impatient desire to learn if marriage is a pathway of roses and sunlight, and not of darkness and pain, the two had morbidly feared it to be. John Gilmer Speed presents these hitherto unpublished letters bearing upon "Lincoln's Hesitancy to Marry," in the October Ladies' Home Journal. In one Lincoln says:

"It cannot be told how it thrills me with joy to hear you say you are 'far happier than you ever expected to be.' That much I know is enough. I know you too well to suppose your expectations were no, at least sometimes, extravagant, and if the reality exceeds them all, I say, enough, dear Lord. I am not going beyond the truth when I tell you that the short space it took me to read your last letter gave me more pleasure than the sum total of all I have enjoyed since the fatal first of January, 1841. Since then, it seems to me, I should have been entirely happy but for the never-absent idea that there is one (referring to Miss Mary Todd) who is still unhappy, whom I have contributed to make so. That still kills my soul. I cannot but reproach myself for even wishing to be happy while she is otherwise. She accompanied a large party in the railroad cars to Jacksonville last Monday, and on her return poke so that I heard of it, of having enjoyed the trip exceedingly. God be praised for that. One thing I can tell you which I know you will be glad to hear, and that is that I have seen Mary and scrutinized her feelings as well as I could, and am fully convinced she is far happier now than she has been for the last fifteen months past.'

Eight months after Speed had married Mr. Lincoln wrote him:

"But I want to ask a close question: 'Are you now in feeling as well as judgment glad that you are married as you are?' From anybody but me this would be an impudent question not to be tolerated; but I know you will pardon it in me. Please answer it quickly, as I am impatient to know."

Mr. Lincoln's object in asking this "close question" is manifest. Mr. Speed made the answer quickly and satisfactorily, and on the fourth of November (1842), one month exactly after the question had been submitted, Mr. Lincoln was married.

The Value of Weather Forecasts.

Any one can see the farmer has very broad interests in the weather. He wishes to foresee, not only high winds but also the rainfall and snow, the temperature changes and sometimes the cloudiness.

Of these the most important is the rainfall in the crop season, when even a small amount may be of great importance. The amount, the time of beginning, the duration and the character of fall (whether heavy or light), are all of importance to him. Hence arises the great interest to the farmer of local storms. The navigator wants timely warning of even general storms; the farmer of the local storms of the warm season. These are thunderstorms, squalls, hailstorms, tornadoes, cloudbursts and similar phenomena when intense, common showers when mild. They are at most only a few miles in diameter and of a few hours' duration. They are so local in character that they may wet a neighbor's field but not his own; may wet his hayfield but not his cornfield. They often begin and end suddenly and give warning in the clouds only a short time before they come on. In general the more intense they are the smaller their size and shorter their duration. Their origin and mechanism is very obscure. On the other hand, general storms are hundreds of miles in diameter and last for several days; they come on and pass over slowly; their structure and mechanism are well known, especially at the earth's surface; and the more intense they are the longer is their life, the more definite their path and the more regular their motion. Forecasts for good strong general storms are incomparably easier to make than those for local storms. For the former a verification of predictions of 95 per cent. can be attained with comparative ease, and for some of the great storms of the last few years the record of verification has approximated close to 100 per cent. For local storms, on the other hand, definite forecasts for the next day are, with our present knowledge, impracticable; only the general atmospheric conditions favorable to their formation can be predicted (except as mentioned later,) and this can be done only for a large area—the quarter, for instance, of a state like Illinois or Mississippi.

False Criticism.

In this age there appears to be a tendency on the part of critics to overlook the serious defects of aspirants to poetic laurels.

Any metrical structure which is fairly melodious receives the seal of approval, and is held up to the public gaze as a specimen of poetic art—often as the highest form of art. Metrical perfection may be, and is, often attained without revealing the slightest trace of true poetic talent; and so long as the first requisite of good verse—inspiration—is ignored by those whose judgment helps to make or mar the poet, writers will continue to produce laborious exhibitions of poetic form utterly regardless of substance.

Verse, however, which will stand the search-light of time; which is destined to live beyond the passing hour, must, underneath an elegance of form, betray the distinct feeling and working of the poet's mind.

It is not even enough for a composition to be melodious, for unless the evidence of thought moves with and is part of the melody, it will lose its charm after a first reading.

A Commonplace Life.

The trouble is with you, my dear girl, that you count little things as of no worth. Where we have one great renunciation to make we have a thousand little ones, and life, which you are inclined to call commonplace, is not so, for every day can be made rich in beautiful deeds. God, who is just, is merciful, and when temptation comes to you, even if you fail, He remembers that you tried to do what was right, and so is tender in His thought of you. There is not one of us who achieves even for one day, what we long to. But, my dear, we can always try for it. We can be ready for the trouble that is before us and equip ourselves by prayer and good thoughts so that we can meet it bravely, and, possibly, overcome it. Of course, that is what we wish to do, and yet if we are not strong enough, if we fall by the way side, we must get up and try again, and keep on trying. That, in itself, will give us strength. And as the years go on and youth belongs to the past, it will always, because of this trying, be easier to do that which is right and merit "that peace which passeth all understanding."

The Scots Way.

The Rev. John Brown of Haddington, the author of the "Self-Interpreting Bible" was a man of singular bashfulness. His courtship lasted seven years. Six and a half years had passed away, and the reverend gentleman had got no further than he had been in the first six days. A step in advance must be made, and Mr. Brown summoned all his courage for the deed. "Janet," said he one day, as they sat in solemn silence, "We've been acquainted now six years and mair, and I've ne'er gotten a kiss yet. D'ye think I might take one, my bonnie lass?" "Just as you like, John; only be becoming and proper wi' it" "Surely, Janet; we'll ask a blessing." The blessing was asked, the kiss was taken, and the worthy divine, overpowered with the blissful sensation, most rapturously exclaimed: "Heigh, lass, but it is gude! We'll return thanks!" Six months later the pious couple were made one flesh.

Rust on the Wires of a Piano.

The appearance of rust on the tuning-pins and the steel wires of a piano is a sure indication that the piano has been exposed to moisture or dampness. The time of year or the age or quality of the piano has nothing to do with it, as rust may appear in a night. The fact that the room is heated by a stove just outside of it will probably account for the rust, as the chances are that after the usual cooling of a fire over night its heating in the morning would be likely to cause condensation on the metal, and rust would immediately appear. Do not use oil or any greasy substance to remove it. It will probably not do any harm unless it causes the strings to break, in which case they will have to be replaced. Most pianos require tuning twice a year. The only important care to be given a piano is to keep it in an even, dry temperature.

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit, both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.39	4.65	6.98

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

FROM THE INFORMATION COMMITTEE.

Ontario statistics—There are 1652 societies in the province, with 48,558 active members and 28,731 associate, 14 denominations are represented; chief among these are the Methodists with 711 societies; Presbyterian, 523; Baptist, 93; congregational, 54; Church of England, 35; Disciples, 30; Christian, 13; Friends, 9; Union Societies, 135. There are 251 junior societies, with a membership of 10,661.

A temperance writer commenting on the name "Horn of Plenty," given by a large distillery company to a brand of their whiskey, says that the name is wisely chosen, for out of the thing designated shall come:

"Plenty of poverty, plenty of pain,
Plenty of sorrow, plenty of shame,
Plenty of broken hearts, hopes doomed and sealed,
Plenty of graves in the potter's field,"

The Wine and Spirit Gazette says that "hostility to the liquour trade is at the basis of the structure of the Christian Endeavour Society, and that in Christian Endeavour the trade will soon recognize one of its most active opponents.

Battleboro, Mass.—Thirty juniors have earned twenty dollars during the last six months by investing in various ways five cents given to each by the Missionary Committee. Mite-boxes distributed at almost the same time were opened at the close of the six months and were found to contain thirteen dollars. The former is to be devoted to foreign missions, the latter to home mission work.

Decatur, Ill.—The regular Sunday evening service in the First Presbyterian Church was given over to special installation exercises for the new officers of the Christian Endeavour Society recently. This society has sixteen active committees, every member serving on some one of them.

KEENE.

Instead of taking up the topic in the usual manner last Tuesday evening we held a conference on "Committee Work," short papers on the needs of the different committees were read by the following members: Miss Kirby, Lookout; Miss A. Eason, Prayer Meeting; Mrs. Harrison, Missionary; Miss J. Nelson, Music, and Miss McCamus, Social. Many helpful hints were brought out in the discussion, and we were particularly impressed with the needs of prayer in all departments of the Master's work; and when when we know that "He changeth not," surely "We may come boldly to a throne of grace and make our requests known unto Him."

Come my soul thy suit prepare,
Jesus loves to answer prayer.
He himself has bid the pray,
Therefore will not say thee nay.

ST. PAUL'S.

Instead of the regular topic for the evening, this society took up the subject of "Africa as a Mission Field." Interesting papers were read by the Misses Sharpe, Jordan, Cromie and Brown, and Messrs. Martin and Johnston. These papers brought out the great need of Africa, the "Light of Gospel Truth," to make bright the darkness of paganism. Miss Quinn read some interesting letters from a missionary in Africa, and also letters from African mission children to one of their teachers, who was home in Canada on a visit. Miss Beckett, the convenor of the Missionary Committee, took charge of the meeting.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Held their regular meeting on Monday night. There was a large attendance. Rev. A. MacWilliams occupied the chair. After the opening exercises, the topic, "Loyalty to Christ, and what it Involves," was ably taken by Miss Anderson, after which the meeting was open, and a number took part, which made the meeting very interesting. There was one active member received into the Society. This is something we are glad to report. Mrs. Jones also contributed a well-rendered solo entitled "God is Love," after which the meeting was brought to a close.

MARK STREET SOCIETY.

On Monday evening, October 21st, the regular meeting of this society was held. We are glad to report that two new members were added to our list. The following is a list of our officers and committees for the present six months:

BETHEL—KEENE CIRCUIT.

Nothwithstanding the bad roads our Wednesday night meeting was well attended. Mr. John Fife in speaking on the topic "How may our Society do better work?" as active, weak or standing. Active Christians should help the other two classes by praying for them and conversing with them, thus showing their interest in helping a wandering, struggling soul heavenward, giving courage and joyousness to weak and standing Christians. He said that each committee should meet together to take counsel together, and pray for the special work of the committee. After a brief but spirited prayer meeting, each one went away thinking how they might do better work.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious?

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases were the muscular force is greatly reduced, the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours. Try it.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just efficaciously does it aid and strengthen the processes of digestion.

THE GOLDEN LION.

As I Predicted

My Heavy-weight Blankets are having a rapid sale. The last two weeks has made a big hole in the stock. But that need'nt deter the Ladies from coming after more: for although, the price of wool has gone up, we can repeat our orders at the same old price. Our Blankets live up to the latest promise, in size, weight and price.

When we sell our best Blankets for $3.29, $3.75, $4.25, $4.75, it means a very considerable saving on the price you have to pay anywhere else.

There is a lesson here for the ladies. The extra price you pay elsewhere has to be put on for extra store expenses. If you are not buying Blankets you are buying Dress Goods or something else. The same holds true—money is saved in price here. We run our store with economy; that's why we can sell at smaller profits. Plain as day. Light.

DON'T OVERLOOK THE UNDERWEAR.

We have something that undersells the undermost in Underwear. What do you think of 35c for a price. All 50s we can give you extra value. There's nothing that will please a husband, brother, sister or daughter we haven't got.

FREE:—All Mantles and Dress Goods bought here, costing 50c per yard and upwards, will be cut and fitted free of charge.

KINGSTON MEMORIAL

To the Late Chieftain, Sir John Macdonald.

7000 PEOPLE SEE IT UNVEILED.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Pulled the Cord Which Dropped the Veil—Speeches by Ottawa Ministers and the Lieut.-Governor — Eloquent Tribute of Hon. G. W. Ross.

Kingston, Oct. 23.—About 7000 attended the unveiling ceremonies in the city park this afternoon. The air was chilly and not suitable for creating enthusiasm, but nevertheless the occasion was full of interest.

When Sir Mackenzie Bowell unveiled the statue A Battery fired a salute of 18 guns and the Union Jack was run up to the top of a flagpole adjacent to the statue. Great applause was aroused as the draped flag was drawn from about the familiar figure.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell's address was eulogistic of the great leader.

Hon. Dr. Montague made an eloquent speech, paying the warmest tributes to the memory of the dead chieftain. He recounted the many public acts which would be recorded in Canadian history which were due to the late Sir John Macdonald, and concluded with the following words: Canada, constituted and situated as it is, will ever have its difficulties, but if the example of its most illustrious son be followed, these difficulties will but serve to cement in bonds of closer union and more endearing affection its provinces, its nationalities and its creeds.

In the presence of that statue, sir, upon which the artist has chiselled so well the features of him we loved, at a spot so near to that hallowed spot where his ashes rest in peace, let us, affiliated with whatever party, coming from whatever section of the Dominion, worshipnig at whatever shrine, write upon our hearts here to-day these words that were the watchwords of his life: "Canada and the Empire."

Lt.-Gov. Kirkpatrick spoke of Sir John's early career as a parliamentarian and the affection felt for him by all classes in Kingston.

Hon. G. E. Foster created enthusiasm as he pictured the patriotism of the statesman, his loyalty to the British Empire, and his grasp of the needs of the country. He pictured in vivid language the Canada of the future, still abiding under British sovereignty.

Hon. G. W. Ross of Toronto was heard with delight, as with charming language and inspiring voice he reviewed Sir John in the light of history. He had taken part in the settlement of many troublous questions, and his geniality, his love of paternalism and his appropriation of sentimentalism were all generously treated. Thunders of applause were created as he declared that Sir John was not a lover of British connection because of the rewards received, but instinct and judgment were the inspirations that made him a loyal, devoted and unswerving supporter of British connection.

Senator Sullivan was brief and witty.

Then came the transferal of the statue from the committee to the city, and its acceptance by the Mayor, and at 5 o'clock the gathering dispersed.

WITH MOUNTED HORSEMEN

And a Band of Music and Enthusiasm Was Mr. Laurier Received at Elmira Yesterday

Elmira, Ont., Oct. 23.—The Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and party, accompanied by a large number of Liberals of Berlin and Waterloo, arrived here from Galt on the noon train. They were met at the station by a large crowd of both Liberals and Conservatives, including the village council. As soon as M. Laurier stepped on the station platform, Mr. A. H. Erb, reeve, presented him with an address from the council. A procession was then formed, riders on horseback taking the lead, followed by the Elmira band, then the village council, followed by Mr. Laurier and party in carriages, to the O'Donnell House, where a reception and banquet were given.

At 2.30, the hall being well filled, Dr. Hilleyet, vice-president of the North Waterloo Reform Association, took the chair and called on Mr. I. E. Bowman, M.P., who spoke very briefly.

Then Mr. E. W. B. Snider, the Reform candidate was called on to speak and on rising two little girls, Gracie Erb and Viola Luckhardt, presented him with a beautiful bouquet. The same little girls also presented a bouquet, and Mr. A. Warner of Elmira, read an address to Mr. Laurier, who delivered an eloquent address.

Mr. Tarte, M.P.; Mr. James Greeves, M.P.; Andrew Semple, M.P., and Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., and Mr. other speakers The addresses were listened to with the greatest attention and enthusiasm. A large number of ladies were seated on the platform. The meeting closed with three cheers for the Queen and three for Mr. Laurier.

NEWFOUNDLAND SCANDALS.

Breach in the Government Ranks Widening A New Scramble.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 23.—In the first of the smuggling cases to be called, Mr. Morine, counsel for the defence, obtained a writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court restraining the magistrate before whom the case was brought from dealing with it until the legal points raised by Mr. Morine, to the effect that the proceedings were invalidated by defects in the law, shall have ben decided.

The breach in the Government ranks is widening. The Board of Revenue insists upon being permitted to dispose of the smuggling cases. The Telegram, the Government organ, admits that attempts have been made to quash the procedings and prevent the law from taking its course, but threatens that public opinion will compel the Crown officers to discharge their obligations.

Another scandal has arisen from the creation by the Government of another new office, that of Inspector of Lumber Mills, for one of their members, in direct opposition to the retrenchment policy.

PARLIAMENT TO MEET JAN. 8

And Remedial Legislation to Be Introduced—So Said Hon. Mr. Ouimet in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—Hon. J. A. Ouimet made rather an important speech here this evening in which he intimated that the Dominion Parliament would be called together the 8th of January, and that Remedial Legislation would be introduced. He opposed an investigation, saying that the Canadian Parliament had no power to enlarge or diminish the rights of the minority as accorded by the constitution.

FELL FROM THE TENTH STORY.

Workmen at Buffalo Quarrel and Fight on a High Building One Tumbled and Yet Lives

Buffalo, Oct. 23.—Two iron workers employed on the Ellicott-square building quarrelled over the ownership of some tools, while at work on the 10th story of the building, and engaged in a fist battle on the frame work, where it is difficult to stand without support. One of the men missed his footing, tottered a moment and dropped into space. Below him were three stories before there was a bit of tiling. Iron rafters jutted in every direction with sharp edges. To escape from such a horrible death would be nothing less than miraculous. As he plunged forward, he fell sprawling. Over and over he went, and those above could catch a glimpse of the ghastly face in the fall. He passed the beam on the eighth floor, hitting it with his groin. He bounded again into the air like a ball, with a shriek. This changed the course of the falling man, and he made towards the shafting where a rope dangled at the side. Past the eighth floor he went like a shot, turning over and over. Between the seventh and eighth floors, the elevator rope has a loop. In some way or other he grabbed it. With a last effort of nervous force he threw his leg into the loophole and hung. A moment more and a dozen men had rushed to his rescue. He was taken down faint and sick from the fall. He could not walk. It was found he had suffered a bad contusion on the leg, and a small cut on the head. These injuries and the terrible shock caused by the fall were the only injuries, but it will be some time before he is able to go to work. It was a miraculous and a dramatic situation.

Peterboro, Oct. 24.—John Donnelly, an old resident of Smith, was moving a chair to sit down and thought he had it in a safe position when he sat down, but he fell to the floor and never rose alive.

MR. WHITE'S REASONS

For Throwing Up His Seat in the Commons.

COULD NOT WITH DIGNITY HOLD IT

Had Made a Promise to His Constituents on the Manitoba School Question That Made Things Awkward—Montrealers Endorse the Course Taken.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The interest in the resignation of Mr. Robert S. White from the representation of Cardwell has been transferred from the political to the commercial metropolis, and there is not a single man, be he Liberal or Conservative, who does not sympathize with the ex-member and endorse the line of conduct he has been fit to pursue.

"Is there anything that can be said regarding the situation?" asked your correspondent, who called upon the editor of The Gazette.

"No, only it is quite true I have resigned."

"Is that all?"

"Yes, just now," replied Mr. White, "but I will have a statement to make within a few days."

There can be no doubt that the Collectorship of the Port of Montreal belonged to Mr. White, both by promise from the Government and by the universal approbation of all classes in this city, and if the most important post has been left vacant for three years and more, it is simply because the Government di dnot see fit to open Cardwell.

It is not perhaps generally known that Mr. White was to have been gazetted the Saturday following Joe Martin's election in Winnipeg, but that the then unexpected turn of events caused another long delay. Mr. White was fully prepared to accommodate the Government right up to the present time, but he could not preserve his dignity and go through another session for the following reasons: He gave a pledge to the electors of Cardwell to vote against intervention in the Manitoba school matter, and having been assured that the Ministry fully intended introducing Remedial Legislation at the coming session, the member for Cardwell found himself obliged either to vote against the Administration or to violate his pledges to the electoral division he has so well represented in the House of Commons. Mr. White believed that the one honorable way out of the difficulty was to throw up the seat, which of course he did not intend to hold any longer than the expiration of the present Parliament.

The correspondent also learns from a member of Parliament, who is in the confidence of the Government, is the confidence of the Premier, that although Hon. N. Clarke Wallace assures the members of the Government that Cardwell will send a straight Conservative member, they fear that should an election take place in the county a man might be returned sharing the advanced views of the Comptroller of Customs on the Manitoba school question, and that such a result would be more or less objectionable to Sir Mackenzie Bowell. It only remains to be said that if Mr. White is not immediately appointed to the Collectorship, which is his undoubted right, since the position has been vacant for three years, and he is now no longer a member of Parliament, the outcry here will be even more widespread than that which followed Judge Curran's appointment, and which contributed in no small degree to the overwhelming defeat of yesterday.

McCARTHY READY FOR THE FRAY.

Has a Candidate in the Field and is Prepared to Make Things Hot

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The resignation of R. S. White, M.P., continues the political sensation of the hour. The Journal says "That the recommendation of the appointment of Mr. White to the Montreal collectorship was sent by Hon. Clarke Wallace to the Cabinet meeting on Monday, endorsed by Hon. Mr. Ives, the English-speaking Minister from Quebec. This was the foundation for the report on Monday that Mr. White was appointed. It is very rare that any question arises about an appointment recommended by the head of a department, and so Mr. White's nomination was considered in inside circles to be consummated. But for some reason or other the Cabinet did not take action. Some say that Mr. Haggart, for some reason, blocked the matter. Mr. White, it is known, had been assured the appointment time and time again, and had come to guide his plans by the assurance. Although the reverse of an office-seeker, and a man to whom at the outset it would have made no difference what was done with the office, friends of Mr. White claim that his pride was roused by the Government's shilly-shallying and this last straw finished the mischief. It is known that Mr. White did not give any member of the Government any intimation of his intention to resign, and those of the members who were in town yesterday were thunderstruck. Affairs in Montreal are considered bad enough from a Conservative point of view without this blow added, while as to Cardwell, Mr. White's constituency, the Government is even less prepared for a fight there. The riding is strongly Orange, and Mr. Dalton McCarthy has a candidate ready in the field and is prepared to make things hot on the Manitoba school question. Mr. McCarthy arrived here last night, and in a talk with The Journal said that he was ready for the fray, and was confident that Cardwell would return a representative to back him in Parliament."

The Citizen says: "No one is further entitled to have his services recognized, as the custom is, by being placed in a good public position; and there is none whose appointment would be received with more general satisfaction."

Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1895.

THE Kingston News is alarmed at the muddle made in our finances and is looking out for the coming elections. It views with alarm the inevitable rush for public works for the purpose of influencing votes, and says pathetically: "Let there be some amelioration of the pressure upon the Government for fresh public works."

THE Montreal Gazette, in referring to the new Liberal campaign song, inquires if the Opposition has been looking to Washington for its "music as well as its policy?" That is flat impertinence. Where did the Conservative party go for its policy? Not to glorious old free-trade England, but to the United States. It slavishly followed the Washington trade policy, but it has not followed the United States in its awakening to sense and reforming its tariff. Conservative loyalty to British institutions is mere wind.

THE Canadian Presbyterian says,—The Pope has sent a very sensible letter to the Catholics in Belgium in view of the great disturbances there over the Socialistic movement and education. He urges them to be willing to waive personal opinions and preferences, and endeavour to labour solely and zealously for what seems to truly tend to the public welfare. To this end they should antagonize the socialistic Propaganda, endeavouring to keep the kingdom free from sedition, improve the schools, and secure general accord in the duties of a religious life. Above all, he urged them to unite "against the wickedness of socialism, which evidently threatens to bring about great injury and evil, and ceases not from turbulently promoting its designs against religion and society; striving continually to confound all rights human and divine.

AT this time of the year when the various charitable and temperance societies are holding their annual meetings, telling of work done during the past year and preparing for a winter's campaign of well-doing, one cannot but feel the force of the claim that the world owes a lot of its betterment to Christian philanthropy. Confucius, centuries before Christ, taught a golden rule than ran, "Do not unto others as you would they should not do unto you." When Christ came he took a step ahead of Confucius and taught "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you." In the difference between the negative of the teaching of Confucius and the golden rule of Christ lies the great secret of Christian activity and usefulness to-day. To follow the teaching of Confucius means a life of passive morality; that of Christ active usefulness.

AT Lindsay, where in spite of the deterrent weather, he was enthusiastically received and greeted with a large audience, Hon. Wilfred Laurier in referring to a former visit to Lindsay with Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, said: "Let me say that I recall the day with great pleasure, and I recall with pleasure also that I was a disciple of that great and good man. We were then in the throes of a great commercial depression, which affected not only Canada, but all the world. Mr. Mackenzie was advised by some of his friends to adopt a policy of protection—he was told that even good might result from that evil. Mr. Mackenzie was not a man of that stamp; he did not believe that good could come from any evil policy. Perhaps if he had adopted the policy which was afterwards adopted by his opponents he might have kept power, he might have been a more successful man, but he would not have been the man he was. He would not do so, and I never felt prouder of being a disciple of Mr. Mackenzie than I do to-day. In the face of 18 years' experience which we have had since, no one can say that the judgment of Mr. Mackenzie was not correct. We have had the experience of the National Policy for 18 years, and the result has not been what was expected. I have travelled through most of the provinces of Ontario, as well as my own province, I have been to far Manitoba, and everywhere I have heard the same tale, and it is to say that the National Policy has been a disappointment and a fallacy.

The cellars for the new Roxburgh block are being excavated. Last Friday afternoon part of the brick wall of R. J. Stuart's store fell. Most of it dropped into the new cellars, though a considerable portion fell inwards. The back half of the wall fell out clean from the foundation to the roof. Part of the roof also collapsed. A quantity of tinware on the shelves was destroyed. It seems almost a miracle that although men had been working near the wall but a few minutes before, at the time of the collapse there was no one near either side of the wall. The necessary repairs have been made.

The death of Kenneth R. Hampton, son of Mr. Wallace Hampton, occurred on Thursday, Oct. 17. Deceased was 9 years and 9 months old. A sad death occurred in Asphodel on Monday in the demise of Mrs. Coleman Elliott at the early age of 24 years. God Save the Queen.

The old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined?

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then comes the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

Physicians

prescribe Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites because they find their patients can tolerate it for a long time, as it does not upset the stomach nor derange the digestion like the plain oil.

Scott's Emulsion is as much easier to digest than the plain oil as milk is easier to digest than butter. Besides, the fish-fat taste is taken out of the oil, and it is almost palatable. The way sickly children, emaciated, anæmic and consumptive adults, gain flesh on Scott's Emulsion is very remarkable.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

THE SEIZED SEALERS.

Conference to Be Held Next Week in Washington.

THE PREMIER AND SIR H. TUPPER

Will Look After the Interests of Canada—The Copyright Discussion Gathering Additional Interest—Hudson's Bay Expedition—Bought a Gold Mine.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—From present appearances the conference to arrange in details of the proposed arbitration to asses the Behring Sea seizure damages will meet in Washington next week. Although the matter has not been definitely settled yet, it is expected that Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Charles H. Tupper will constitute the Canadian representatives at the conference. As stated some time ago, the proposal is that there should be only two arbitrators, one for Great Britain and the other for the United States, and it is expected that a British Columbia judge will be recommended to the Home Government as the British representative. The two Ministers will probably leave for Washington on Saturday.

It is practically settled that the Government will send an exploratory expedition to Hudson Bay next summer. It will be under the joint auspices of the Fisheries, Interior and Customs Departments. The idea is to obtain as full a report as it is possible to procure during the summer months on the resources of the Bay and the country immediately adjacent to it. If the Government steamer Stanley can be spared from the fisheries services for the work, it is felt that she will be the best boat that could be utilized. Failing her, an offer has ben made by an English firm for a steel-clad vessel accustomed to the ice of the Baltic sea, which could be secured for the Hudson Bay expedition for a reasonable sum. Mr. Hugh Sutherland, president of the Hudson Bay Railway, had a long interview to-day with Mr. Costigan in regard to the proposed expedition.

The importance of the present discussion in regard to the Canadian Copyright Act may well be realized by the fact that the Governments of the United States, France and Belgium have asked their representatives in this country to report on the probable effect of the Act on the copyright privileges of authors of those countries.

If, as is reported, Mr. F. R. Daldy, secretary of the British Copyright Association, and admitedly the greatest authority on copyright in the Mother Country, is on his way to Canada to assist Mr. Hall Caine in his negotiations with the Government and the Candian publishers, the hope is expressed in official circles that he will act with a little more discretion than he did on the occasion of his former visit to Ottawa. His lofty tone of superiority and lack of diplomacy gave great offense to the Canadian publishers at that time, so much so that Dan. A. Rose of Toronto felt it necessary to call Mr. Daldy down, which, report says, he did in a most effective manner.

In the Supreme Court to-day the case of the C.P.R. v Township of Chatham was taken up and not concluded at 4 o'clock when the court rose. In this case the facts were that the township wished to construct a drain through the property of the railway, and agreed in writing to pay for a culvert to be built by the company, and the action was by the company for payment of the cost of the culvert. The action was defended on the grounds that the agreement was ultra vires the corporation, that the work should not have cost as much as was claimed, and that the corporation had no means of paying for it. The action was dismissed by the courts below on the ground that the council had no authority, under the drainage clauses of the municipal act, to enter into the said agreement. The argument will be concluded to-morrow morning. Moss, Q.C., and MacMurchy appeared for appellants; Wilson, Q.C., and Pegley, Q.C., for the respondents.

Delap v. Charlebois, which will be argued on Nov. 5, is the only case left on the Ontario list. The Maritime list will be taken up as soon as the case now before the court is concluded.

An Ottawa gold mining syndicate has just purchased a half-interest in what promises to be a valuable deposit on the north shore of Lake Superior. It is in close proximity to the celebrated McKellar lode, part of which it is claimed will yield $30,000 a ton in some portions of the lode, other parts running from $8 a ton upwards. The claim just secured is adjacent to the C.P.R. main line near Jackfish, and is alongside a powerful stream suitable for hydraulic purposes. The lode or ledge, which can be seen for half a mile in length, contains free gold, silver, copper and galena in very marked quantities. Members of the syndicate are quite enthusiastic over the deal.

Capt. H. H. Gray of the Department of Railways and Canals and Miss White, daughter of Lieut.-Col. White, Deputy Postmaster-General, were married this morning at St. John's Church. The wedding was a quite one, Rev. H Pollard officiating at the ceremony, the bride being given away by her father. After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Gray, together with a number of friends, partook of the wedding breakfast at the residence of Lieut.-Col. White. This evening the happy couple went west on their honeymoon trip.

Prof. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, was asked for an expression of opinion on the recent statement of the Fishmongers Company of London, England, that the frozen salmon from British Columbia which recently reached the Mother Country, was bull trout as is alleged by the governing body of the English fish trade. The Commissioner is most emphatic in his declaration that the salmon which we sent in a frozen state to England are genuine, and consist of two of the seven kinds of salmon to be found in British Columbia waters, viz., Sockeye, and Steel Head. There are five species of trout which have been recognized in British Columbia waters, and the salmon, the sale of which has just been prohibited in London, are not identical with any of these. They are strictly migratory salmon which frequent fresh water for spawning purposes, and can neither be classed as lake trout, bull trout, or any other kind of fresh water trout.

Grain Men are Satisfied

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—The intimation from Ottawa that the wheat inspection fees will be reduced to forty cents per carload entirely meets the wishes of grain men here, who petitioned for the reduction. By this step Comptroller Wood will have removed the only well-founded complaints against his department in connection with the grain trade.

HUNTING FOR FIREBUGS.

Hamilton Fire Believed to Have Been Caused by an Incendiary.

Hamilton, Oct. 24.—The detectives have concluded that the Queen's Hotel was fired last night, and they are working on a clue which may lead to the arrest of the firebugs. It is alleged that on Tuesday night a man who had spent considerable time about the hotel and was paying attentions to Mrs. Koch, got into an altercation with Anthony Koch, the deceased, who, it is said, threatened the man for entering his wife's room. The fire originated in the cellar, where there was a large quantity of shingles. An inquest was opened at the City Hospital this morning, and the jury inspected the premises. Mrs. Koch and Mrs. Andrews are conscious, but still dazed, while two of the children who were rescued from the burning building are in a precarious condition, and cannot recover if pneumonia sets in.

This morning William Turk, a T.,H. & B. laborer, was killed while working in the tunnel. He was coupling a cable used for pulling buckets from the bottom of the tunnel to a bucket, when another loaded bucket slipped off, crushing him beneath the two. The injured man was taken to the City Hospital, where he died a few minutes later. Deceased was 60 years old, and leaves a wife and family.

William Dundan, an engineer on the Grand Trunk Railway, while undressing himself for bed, dropped dead about 12 o'clock last night. Deceased was a driver on one of the trains running between Toronto and Hamilton, and last Saturday was on duty. He was about 55 years old, and has been in the employ of the Grand Trunk about 40 years.

"I Am Finished; Tell My Wife."

Montreal, Oct. 23.—A terrible accident tok place to-day in a manufacturing establishment on St. Catherine-street. A workman named Albert Vautier was engaged polishing a piece of iron, when a large emery wheel, making two thousand revolutions a minute, burst into a thousand pieces, striking the unfortunate man to the floor. Vautier's head was terribly crushed, but he gained consciousness and said, "I am finished; go and tell my poor wife." The poor fellow was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital, where he died during the evening. He leaves a widow and three children.

Rescued by the Chief.

Hamilton, Oct. 21.—About 4 o'clock this morning the firemen extinguished a blaze at Briggs Bros., King-street west. The building had ben fired in two separate places and the detectives are endeavoring to discover the origin of the fire. The damage will be slight. Mrs. Briggs, who resided over the store was unable to get out till the firemen came, and Chief Atchison carried her down on a ladder. The building and contents were insured.

Do You Want White Teeth?

Use Ivorine. Are signs of decay present? Ivorine retards decay and renders it impossible if used regularly. Is the breath heavy? Ivorine purifies and sweetens. Just spend his Four Quarters for a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters as all sensible people do; because it cures Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Bad Blood, and all Diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sore.

A man's health carries him through the world. He depends on it for enjoyment, for happiness, for success, for the achievement of anything he has in hand. Americans take big chances. They risk everything in business. They have confidence in their brains and their ability. The American business man is active, flexible, elastic. Knock him down with failure and he is up again in a minute. As long as he keeps his health, failure doesn't mean anything to him. He has lost a little time, but that is all. If he can keep his health, he will go on to success. He feels sure of that, and yet his health is the very thing he neglects more than anything else. His health is the rope by which he climbs to success. It behooves him to keep the rope in good condition, and not to neglect broken strands. When the rope of health breaks even a little bit, it should be mended at once. It is easier to keep health than it is to regain it. When a man feels himself running down, when he realizes a loss of vitality and energy, he must call a halt. He is on a down grade. The strands of his rope are parting rapidly.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped thousands of men in just this condition. It makes health, it makes pure, rich blood, it forces out impurities and kills germs. It doesn't make any difference what name you call your trouble by—dyspepsia—kidney disease—rheumatism—consumption—skin disease, the "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure it absolutely. None of these diseases can retain hold on the body when it is full of rich, pure blood.

Every man who cares to keep his health should have Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—a finely illustrated book of 1008 pages. Sent to any address on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Catarrh in the Head

Is due to impure blood and cannot be cured with local applications. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured hundreds of catarrh because it purifies the blood and in this way removes the cause of the disease. It also builds up the system and prevents attacks of pneumonia, diphtheria and typhoid fever.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them. 25c.

Typhoid Fever Epidemic.

From nearly every district of Ontario comes news of drying up of wells, low level of lake and river water marks, and typhoid fever. Localities which have hitherto have had no thought of any scarcity of water are now compelled to consider the question of improved supplies. Contemporaneous with this scarcity of water the typhoid fever cases show a considerable increase on the numbers of the past few years. The approach of frost will, it is believed, help to reduce the fever cases to a minimum.

Obituary.

The death of Mr. John W. McKibbin, aged 29, occurred last evening at the residence of his father, Mr. James McKibbin of Smith. The deceased was one of the most promising of the younger generation of Smith, and was very popular with all who knew him. He has been a sufferer for some time from brain trouble and was being treated for congestion. Some time ago he was taken to a specialist in Montreal, who discovered a growth on the brain at so advanced a stage as to render an operation impossible. Since that time the deceased has been steadily sinking until, to the great sorrow of his relatives and friends, he passed away last evening. The funeral will take place at one o'clock Friday afternoon, and proceed from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery. Rev. G. R. Clare, of Bridgenorth, will conduct the funeral services.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. W. A. Morrow.

The numerous friends of Mrs. W. A. Morrow will learn with very deep regret of her death which took place at the family residence, 34 Weller street, at an early hour this morning. The sad event was not unexpected, deceased having been in serious ill health for several months. Mrs. Morrow, who was a daughter of the late Daniel Hopkins, and a sister of Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, was born at Thorold, Welland County, fifty seven years ago, and removed to Peterborough with the family in her childhood. In 1867 she was united in marriage to the late Mr. W. A. Morrow, who died in August, 1887. For several years after the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow lived in Cavan, removing to Peterborough about twenty years ago. To this marriage were born a son, Mr. W. G. Morrow, and two daughters, who survive a fond and affectionate mother. Mrs. Morrow has been a devoted member of the Methodist church for about forty years. She worshipped of late years at the Charlotte street church, was a faithful attendant at its services, and a diligent worker for its welfare. In private life she was greatly beloved and esteemed for her many estimable qualities of character, and she will be held, by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances, in reverent remembrance. The funeral takes place from the family residence on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

LOGS BLOCKING THE RIVER.

The North Star Has to Break a Boom to Get Through.

On the return trip last evening from the Benefort Bridge the North Star experienced great difficulty in getting through a boom of logs which lay across the channel of the Little Lake and completely blocked navigation. The men in charge of the drive had been told of the return of the steamer, and if they were put to any inconvenience by the breaking of the boom to let the North Star through they have none to blame but themselves. Owners of steamers and steam yachts complain loudly of the treatment they receive at the hands of the river drivers, who at times positively decline to open their booms and force the steam yachts to return to the harbour and land their disappointed load of pleasure seekers. As a number of the principal business men of the town suffered from the inconvenience last night it is probable that some action will be taken to prevent a repetition of the trouble.

WEDDED AT ST. JOHN'S.

Nuptials of Mr. John R. Christie and Miss May Reynolds.

Last night at 9.30 a quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated at St. John's, when Rev. J. C. Davidson, the Rector, performed the ceremony that united in marriage Mr. John R. Christie, assistant C. P. R. up-town agent, and Miss May Reynolds, daughter of the late Wm. Reynolds. Only a few of the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride was attired in cream brocade, with white satin trimmings and carried cream roses. Miss May Macfarlane, bridesmaid, was gowned in pale green and carried pink roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. J. A. Bell, agent at Ontario Junction of the C.P.R. Both Mr. and Mrs. Christie are well known in town, and are in every way deserving of the high esteem in which they are held. They have taken up residence at 71 Bolivar street, where Mrs. Christie will be at home after November 5th.

Last Evening at the Opera House.

The J. L. Clarke Company, which has engaged the opera house for the week, excelled itself last evening in the presentation of "Our Strategists," an intensely funny comedy, in which Mr. J. L. Clarke took the part of Major Howard and kept his audience in roars of laughter during the entire evening. Miss Ella Cameron as Nellie Howard acquitted herself to perfection, as did George Heath as Jack Rutledge. The company is indeed deserving of a large patronage.

HOCKEY.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings of an athletic nature was that held last evening in the Palace Restaurant parlours for the purpose of organizing the former Peterborough hockey club for the season of 1895—6.

Mr. G. S. Greenwood took the chair and Mr. J. P. Hurley, secretary-treasurer, read a financial statement showing the club not to be in as prosperous condition as such an organization should be, being, as it is, so successful in the field of athletics.

Mr. Montgomery opened the general discussion by urging the club to put two teams on the ice this year and go in to win both the senior and junior championship. Such action, he thought, would give the junior players more chance and keep up their interest in the game. It was rumoured that the Executive Committee of the Ontario Hockey Association would bar Peterborough from entering the junior series this year, considering them too good for the minor league. He thought, therefore, that two teams could be entered, and if the senior team was so palpably outplayed in their first match as to show that they would stand no chance with senior clubs, then the players could be thrown back in the junior series, one match with seniors not disqualifying them from playing in junior matches afterwards if they saw fit.

Mr. Hurley approved of Mr. Montgomery's idea.

Mr. Stocker was anxious to have the club stay in a league where it was more sure of winning.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner argued strongly in favour of the club remaining in the Junior League. The contests by which it won last year were very close, and though ambition was a good thing, the club when in Kingston and Toronto last year only won its matches by one goal in each case and were not in such form as seniors would have to be. If the junior cup was won again this year it would be Peterborough's to hold for all time. He thought the cup should be made sure this year, and then the club could put a team in the Seniors next year. The Executive could not put Peterborough in the Senior League when it had only won its semi-final and final matches by one goal. It would have been different if there had been any walk-over.

Mr. Walter Phelan was in favour of Mr. Kenner's idea.

Mr. Lefevre advocated having the club entered in the Senior League.

After considerable discussion on this point, Messrs. Montgomery and Lefevre moved that the club enter a team in both the Senior and Junior Leagues, and in amendment Messrs. Kenner and Stocker moved that one team be entered in the Junior series, but that the representative member to the meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association be instructed to enter the Peterboroughs in the Senior League if they were barred from the Junior and at the same time to enter the Peterborough II team in the Juniors in this event. The amendment was carried almost unanimously and the following officers were then elected by acclamation to act for the year:

Hon.-Pres.—G. W. Hatton.
President—G. S. Greenwood, C.E.
Vice-President—H. R. H. Kenner.
Manager and Treasurer—J. P. Hurley.
Secretary—George A. Horkins.
Captain—W. J. Montgomery.
Committee of Management—G. W. Hatton, G. S. Greenwood, H. R. H. Kenner, J. P. Hurley, Geo. A. Horkins, W. J. Montgomery and Walter Phelan.

Mr. Greenwood, who had the presidency last year, sought to retire to allow others a chance to occupy the position, but no refusal would be heard of. Mr. Hurley also sought to retire from holding office, but it being represented to him that the success of the club was dependant upon his acceptance of the managership, he gave in and took the combined offices of manager and treasurer.

Mr. Montgomery was anxious to retire from the captaincy, which he has held so successfully for the past four years, but having piloted the boys to victory again and again, his declination of office was not listened to for a minute, and it being clearly a case of the office seeking the man, Monty had to give in, and despite the fact that, as he put it, he was getting old, the team will once more listen to his sage counsels and sound advice as delivered from the position of back.

The question of dressing-rooms at the rink aroused quite a lively discussion, as the former rooms have been assumed by the bicycle club and curlers conjointly. Those present were greatly in favour of building a new hockey rink more suited to the requirements of the club, but the matter was left for settlement in the hands of the management committee who will interview the Rink Company to see what can be done in the matter.

THE TURF.

Nettie Wood, owned by F. Jones, of Peterborough, has the best record of any horse that has been campaigning this year. She has started in twenty-one races, won seven firsts and twelve seconds. She was raised here and was sired by old Speculum and is undoubtedly the best representative of that grand old horse on the turf to-day. —Cobourg Post. The Post has got things slightly twisted, as the horse won 12 firsts and 7 seconds.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Mal ine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just efficaciously does it aid and strengthen the processes of digestion.

OUR ULTIMATUM!

The following correspondence will be of interest just now, especially to the Ladies of Peterborough, who are concerned in the breaking up of a monopoly of high prices for the Celebrated "Health" Brand Underwear:—

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS COMPANY, Ltd.,
MANUFACTURERS OF HEALTH BRAND UNDERWEAR.

MONTREAL, 22nd October, 1895.

Messrs. Kells & Co., Peterborough, Ont.:

GENTLEMEN,—Our attention has again been drawn to your advertisement in the DAILY EXAMINER of Oct. the 16th. We are at a loss to know where you are getting our goods from, but you are certainly doing that which you have no right to do. Firstly, you are advertising that you are getting our goods direct from us, or conveying such an impression in your ads, and secondly you are making a statement reflecting upon our customer in your town, in regard to their putting up the prices over our printed retail price list on account of their having a monopoly of the article.

We have not laboured for years to make the best Underwear in the market for the purpose of having our Brand or ourselves used as a sort of stepladder, to gain, for any firm, some notoriety for selling cheaply, and we scarcely think you appreciate the position you place yourself in by acting in this manner.

We have entered into a bona fide contract with the firm you are trying to injure and do not propose to have it interfered with any further. We await your ultimatum on this matter. Yours truly,

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., (Limited,) Henry St. Joseph, Mgr.

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 24th, 1895.

The Montreal Silk Mills Co., Limited:

GENTLEMEN:—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of 22nd October. Before discussing same we wish to recall to your recollection that the gentlemen whom you advertise as your sole agents, Herman H. Wolff Co., Montreal, sold to us in good faith direct, a bill of your "Health Brand" goods.

About 4 months after the order was given and accepted, your sole agent Messrs. Wolff & Co., refused to deliver the goods, not on the ground that it was impossible to carry out the contract, but because you deemed it profitable to break an honorable contract entered into in perfect good faith. You had not even the common decency to first inform us of your intentions and ask us to meet same or withdraw.

As we had promised our customers that we had purchased your goods, we were under the necessity of carrying out our words and we now inform you that we are selling your "Health Brand" goods, purchased direct from yourselves, and we believe that we are selling your goods below all competition, and we believe that we can sell your goods at the same price as our competitors pay you and then make a profit.

We thoroughly appreciate the position we now have you in and the public can appreciate your high standard of business honor. It is well for you that your goods are better than your morals.

Yours etc., R. H. KELLS & CO.

R. H. Kells & Co., have just received direct from the Manufacturers, another and a larger shipment of "Health" Brand Underwear. Ample selection in Ladies', Misses' and Children's Sizes at even LOWER quotations than our former Reduced Prize List.

LOCAL LEGAL.

A Case in Which Some Peterborough Citizens were Interested.

ELMHIRST VS WOODCOCK.

Yesterday the above case was tried at the Chancery sittings of the High Court at Belleville. The action was to set aside certain assignments of a mortgage originally held by Jos. Woodcock and afterwards assigned to the wife of Mr. W. P. McMahon, barrister, Belleville. The plaintiffs contended that the assignments were fraudulent, that no money passed between either of the parties and that the deed was void as against creditors.

On the other hand the creditors contended that they were innocent purchasers for a claim without notice.

The case was settled before trial by defendants paying plaintiff $450. Stratton & Hall appeared for plaintiff and E. B. Porter for defendants. The local witnesses in the case were Messrs. Alex. Elliott, R. S. Davidson and Ed. Brown.

BENSFORT BRIDGE OPENED WEDNESDAY.

SOUTH MONAGHAN IS NOW "WITH US."

The New Steel Bridge Opened With Suitable Ceremonies—Members of Parliament and Municipal Representatives Assist—A New Tie Between South Monaghan and Town.

The long-desired Bensfort Bridge is now an accomplished fact and the farmers of the township of South Monaghan have the distance between their homes and Peterborough—the best market in the Province—shortened by many miles. Since the destruction by fire of the old bridge, in the vicinity, the need has been felt of such a structure as that splendid new steel bridge that now spans the Otonabee, known as the Bensfort Bridge. There were many obstacles in the way but the people of that portion of South Monaghan permitted no rest to their energy till the undertaking had been accomplished. The financial problem was the chief one for solution and it was made difficult by the feeling of divided responsibility, experienced by the several parties that at last were brought into a contributive mood. The Ontario Government, the Dominion Government, the township of South Monaghan and the town of Peterborough, as well as large-hearted and public-spirited private individuals, all contributed in their degree to the financial sinews of war; and all concerned have abundant reason to rejoice that an undertoking that has cost so much effort has been successfully accomplished.

The opening of the bridge at four o'clock in the afternoon was attended with considerable eclat and rejoicing. Several scores of Peterboroughians were present as well as representatives from nearly all the families in South Monaghan, whom the bridge will benefit, and if the weather had been more propitious there is no doubt that many more would have been in attendance. The City of Peterborough being down the river was not available to carry the citizens from town down to the bridge, but Mr. B. A. Jackson kindly placed the North Star at the disposal of those who wished to go. Amongst those who took advantage of his kindness were Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., B. Shortly, president of the Board of Trade, Councillor Cahill, Councillor Phelan, John Carnegie, W. H. Law, W. H. Meldrum, R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, J. H. Knapman, E. B. Edwards, John Belcher, County Engineer, R. M. Roy, F. D. Kerr, R. B. Hamilton, E. C. Davies, C. B. McAllister, W. J. Martin, Walter Stocker, Wm. Nesbitt, J. Hill, S. Belcher and W. A. Kindred.

Considerable trouble was experienced in getting through several blocks of logs, but when the last bend of the sinuous Otonabee was rounded, and and big crowd were visible at the site of the bridge, all minor discomforts were forgotten.

The bridge is just completed, and all that now remains to be done is the painting and the construction of the approaches. The substructure consists of two abutments, two piers and a pivot pier for the swing. They are of cut lime stone, rock-faced, having the beds and joints worked square, and the corners neatly chisel drafted. The piers are set on caissons of cribwork, filled to a certain point with small stone and Portland cemet. The caissons were sunk in their proper positions and on these the masonry was constructed. The abutment on the South Monaghan side is built on a solid gravel bottom, but it was found necessary to drive piles on the Otonabee side, where the ground was found to be of a soft blue clay to a depth of eight or ten feet, with a gravel bottom, into which the piles were driven. On the piles a platform was constructed of heavy timbers on which the stone abutment was erected. The contract for this portion of the work was awarded to Mr. John Hayes, who has evidently carried out his work most faithfully. The entire work was carried forward on plans and specifications furnished by Mr. John Belcher, C. E.

The length of the bridge is 300 feet, not including the approaches, and it is 16 feet in width. The superstructure which was manufactured at the Central Bridge Works is a credit indeed to the company operating that industry. The trusses are of steel, as, in fact, is the entire superstructure. There are two spans of 117 feet and a swing of 90 feet, with a clear navigable passage of 50 feet when the swing is open. The trusses are neatly constructed and have a light but endurable appearance. The swing but as it is only twelve feet wide it will be equal to its work as it cannot be too heavily loaded at one time. It's mechanism is so neatly constructed that it can be almost turned with the finger.

The new structure is about three-quarters of a mile west of the old Rosa's bridge and is just a quarter of a mile off the main road. It is six and a half miles from Peterborough by the road and fifteen by the river. The South Monaghan farmers, it will be seen, will thus save about nine miles by being able to cross the river at this point.

The commission which has worked so energetically, indefatigably and faithfully for the accomplishment of the Benafort bridge project is composed as follows: John Riddel, chairman; J. W. Hall, treasurer; John Buckham, secretary; John Moncrief, Jos. Wood, Chas. Stenton, Jas. Perrin, Thos. Wood and Andrew Fanning jr.

The following members of the South Monaghan council were in attendance: Reeve R. Fisher and Councillors H. Perrin, Wm. McAllister, W. H. Hutchinson and J. W. Dawson.

Otonabee township was represented by Councillor Deyell and Weir and John Drummond.

After the bridge had been inspected and pronounced by all to be a most complete and satisfactory work, the ladies spread a luncheon, which was greatly appreciated by those from town, who but for this kindly forethought would have been hungry indeed after their trip on the water.

EVERYTHING TO TEMPT

the appetite was there and the inroads which were made into the liberal supply of wild ducks, partridges and other fowl was such as to show the good people of South Monaghan that their kindness was indeed fully appreciated.

After the bridge had been formally opened by Mrs. W. H. Law, wife of the manager of the Central Bridge Works, those assembled were called to order by Mr. John Riddel, who, as chairman reminded all that they were present to celebrate the opening of the Bensfort bridge. This was an event of great importance to South Monaghan. Since the destruction of the old bridge twenty three years ago, a new one had been badly needed and the agitation for it had grown and gathered strength until it had culminated in the accomplished fact. It had been no small task to do this, and nearly all the active work had been done within the past year. At first a voluntary committee had undertaken to carry the work forward, and afterwards the council of South Monaghan had taken a hand in the proceedings, and a "Royal Commission" had been issued appointing a committee of ten to carry out the wishes of the people and take charge of the work. In due time the tenders for the work had been solicited, and the contract was awarded last June for $8,400. The bridge, however, would cost considerably more than this, as a number of "extras" had yet to be paid for. The work, he could confidently say, had been well and truly done. It was due, perhaps, to those interested that a statement of the moneys collected should be made. The contributions to the fund were as follows:

Township of South Monaghan	$2,000
Dominion Government	2,500
Ontario Government	2,500
Council of Peterborough	750
Private subscriptions in Peterborough	450
" " S Monaghan	1,100
Profits on excursion	60
	$9,360

He was happy to be able to state that after the extras had been paid there would just about be a balance. In conclusion Mr. Riddel on behalf of the township of South Monaghan, cordially thanked all subscribers to the funds.

OTHER ADDRESSES.

Mr. James Stevenson, M. P., was then introduced. He congratulated South Monaghan on the splendid bridge which had been built. He thought it was superior to the one at Wallace Point and was glad to hear that the balance sheet was all right. South Monaghan had heretofore dealt largely with the towns along the front, but Peterborough possessed a far better market than either Port Hope or Cobourg and consequently a bridge became a necessity. Both Mr. J. R. Stratton and himself had worked hard to secure grants towards the work from the Ontario and Dominion Governments respectively. How they had succeeded was well known but he had good news in reserve. The Government at Ottawa, as well as giving a $3,500 grant, had consented, on his representations, to erect two glance piers east of the bridge at a cost of another $2,500. He would like to see South Monaghan draw away from the county of Northumberland, which had refused aid to build the bridge, and join the county of Peterborough.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., was the next speaker, and in opening his address expressed his great pleasure at being present to join in the celebration incidental to the opening of the bridge. The erection of such a structure had been contemplated for the last 23 years,

BUT ACTIVE MEASURES

had only been adopted since 1887. Together with Mr. Stevenson he had urged South Monaghan to action years before the grants had been received from the two governments, and had personally urged that highways be built by the townships concerned to the proposed site of the bridge, as it was merely a matter of time before it would be built. He was deeply gratified to find that his prognostications had come true, and that Otonabee and South Monaghan were connected. He was glad to know that even if Mr. Stevenson was not in favour of commercial union in a political sense, he saw the advantage of it when applied locally. Mr. Stratton was desirous of seeing South Monaghan do as much trading as possible in Peterborough, and was sure that the construction of the bridge must be most gratifying to the old settlers, who, although they could not use it long themselves, would in it leave behind them a monument testifying to their energy, and one for which their children and their children's children would be thankful. He hoped the counties would be made to maintain the bridge, and the committee should see that an Act of Parliament was put through arranging for this. If he could be of any assistance in putting through such an act he would be only too happy to do it. He hoped that the people concerned would be subjected to no further expense after the approaches were completed. Of course it would be very nice to have South Monaghan connected with Peterborough County, but he would like Northumberland and Durham to be placed in such a position as to have to assist in maintaining the bridge. He had reason to believe that these counties could yet be induced to give a grant towards

THE BRIDGE FUND.

South Monaghan had every reason to be thankful for the help and interest it had received from both governments. Evidently there had been nothing left undone to make the bridge a good one. The masonry and the superstructure looked well and on Thursday the Provincial Government Engineer would be down to pass the bridge, after which the check for the grant made would be received.

In introducing Mr. Cahill, of the Peterborough council, Mr. Riddel took occasion to thank him for his uniform kindness to the Commissioners and for the valuable advice and encouragement he had given them at all times. Mr. Cahill expressed the regret of Mayor Kendry at being unable to be present and stated that he, himself, was pleased indeed to be present on such an auspicious occasion as the opening of the Bensfort Bridge. He had always been ready and willing to do what he could to help along the bridge as he felt the necessity of it. South Monaghan and Peterborough owed a debt of gratitude to the gentlemen who had worked so hard for what looked like a forlorn hope. By good luck, however, and the assistance of the governments, but above all by their own indomitable energy, this magnificent structure had been erected. The Peterborough council had given its grant towards the bridge believing it was for the material advantage of the town and township to trade together.

Mr. Thos. Blezard, M. P. P., who was one of those present, was then invited to speak and stated that he had always given his assistance to forward the bridge project. He had done much of the work in connection with getting the grants from the Government, and considered that South Monaghan citizens were a favoured people, indeed, as Governments did not in works of this nature. He was glad to hear of the expense of the glance piers being defrayed by the Government, and told those in attendance that they could not thank the Bridge Commissioners too much for the grit and energy which they had evidenced in pushing the work along. As a ratepayer, he thought the township of Otonabee should assume the roadway leading from the main thoroughfare to the bridge, and would urge such action upon the township council.

Mr. Harry Phelan arose at this juncture and moved a cordial vote of thanks to the ladies who had with such kindly forethought provided refreshments for the visitors. He assured them that their kindness had been more than appreciated.

Mr. E. B. Edwards made a few very brief remarks in which he stated that if any people should be proud of a committee which they had appointed to carry out a certain work, those people were residents of South Monaghan. He heartily congratulated them on the success which had attended their efforts.

Three cheers were given for the Commissioners, three for the citizens of Peterborough and three more for the citizens of South Monaghan, after which, in response to the loud summons from the North Star, the Peterborough contingent boarded the trim little steamer which slowly moved out from the shore as the passengers sang "For they are jolly good Fellows" with gusto.

The home trip was accomplished quickly notwithstanding the fact that that the logs were floating thickly down the river and a boom had to be jumped to get through.

NOTES.

After the opening of the bridge its staunchness was put to a practical test. A "fat man's" race was arranged and half a dozen or more of solid citizens entered. The course was 100 yards straight away—the length of the bridge, and though the other contestants made gallant efforts, West Peterborough won by a large majority.

The "North Star" is not a ward politician, but it did considerable log-rolling last night.

The town solicitor is somewhat of a pedestrian. He pitted himself against a steamboat in a walking contest and struck Peterborough an hour in advance of the steamboat party.

The Town Solicitor by taking this course, precluded the idea of putting upon him any responsibility in connection with the loss the County Engineer sustained, which took away the good spirits of the passengers for the remainder of the trip.

There is every probability that the approaches of the bridge will be completed this week, and that South Monaghan farmers will come to Peterborough market by way of the Bensfort Bridge next Saturday and, it is hoped, for many a Saturday and Wednesday thereafter.

WORLD OF SPORTS.

Marco Won the Cambridgeshire.

London, Oct. 23.—At the Newmarket Houghton meeting to-day, the Cambridgeshire Stakes of 25 sovereigns each, with 300 sovereigns added, one mile and 240 yards, was won by Mr. F. Lascombes's Marco, 5, 107; Mr. Wallace Johnstone's Best Man, 5, 120, second, and Col. Lloyd's Count Schomberg, 3, 80, third. Tokio II., None the Wiser, Portmarnock, Le Justicier, Rock Dove, Telescope, Harfleur II., Bloodthirsty, La Sagesse, Greenlawn, Amphidamas, Hebron, Euclid, Marble and Kibris also started. Time 1.57.

The betting: 9 to 1 against Marco, 8 to 1 against Best Man, 5 to 1 Count Schomberg, 5 to 1 Tokio II., 6 to 1 None the Wiser, 8 to 1 Portmarnock, 17 to 1 Le Justicier, 20 to 1, Rock Dove 25 to 1, Telescope and Harfleur II., 24 to 1 Bloodthirsty and La Sagesse, 50 to 1 Hebron and Euclid, 100 to 1, Marble, and 200 to 1 against Kibris.

The field got away to a good start, Bloodthirsty, in the centre, making the running at a strong pace, closely followed by Tokio II., Count Schomberg, Marco and Amphidamas, with Kibris and La Sagesse, in the rear. This order was maintained until the horses neared the bushes, where Marco drew up to a level with bloodthirsty. This pair were followed by Amphidamas, Hebron, Count Schomberg, Best Man and Rock Dove, with Tokio II., None the Wiser and Le Justicier next, and Kibris tailing off. Descending the Bushes Hill, Count Schomberg took the lead, followed by Marco and Amphidams, in front of Hebron and Best Man. Making the descent to the dip, Count Schomberg swerved over to the left, and Marco, taking a clear lead, won easily by three lengths. Best Man finished a head before Count Schomberg, and Hebron was fourth.

No Prize Fighting for Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 23.—The Supreme Court has quashed the proceedings in the Corbett habeas corpus case, and decided that Chancellor Leatherman of Hot Springs overstepped his jurisdiction in hearing the proceedings in the Corbett case; that it should have gone before a justice of the peace, to be tried, and appealed from there, etc. The court also declared the law of 1801 against prize fighting in this state to be valid and operative. This law makes prize fighting a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine of from $1000 to $2500. Corbett will be re-arrested and forced to give a peace bond. The Governor says he will await the next move of the prize fighters and their contingent before making any further preparations.

A despatch from Hot Springs says the "mill" is as far off as it has been at any time since the original articles were signed. Corbett says he will quit the ring.

SHIPMENT BY COLD STORAGE.

Experiments Will be Continued Next Year—Mining in British Columbia—Increase in Cattle Shipments

Ottaw, Oct. 23.—Mr Ouimet, acting Minister of Agriculture, on representations made to him by the fruit growers, has thought it advisable to continue next year the experiments as respects shipments of fruit by cold storage. With that object in view, he will ask his colleagues to submit to Parliament the including of this interest in any vote which may be taken for a further trial of cold storage of dairy products.

With reference to the statement published regarding the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, it appears that Mr. Lowe, the present incumbent of the office, who has now very nearly completed his 72nd year, has asked to be allowed to retire in accordance with the provisions of the Superannuation Act. His retirement will take effect from Dec. 1 next, or a month later than was stated, and it is gratifying to learn that he is to retain the position of technical referee of the department as respects some questions to which he has devoted long and particular study.

Mr. Leo Norman, who was in Ottawa a few weeks ago on his way to British Columbia as representative of the Anglo-Western Pioneer Syndicate, has ust reached Victoria from a visit to the Kootenay mining district. He reports that the mineral resources of the country exceed his most sanguine expectations, and he is gratified to find the great development which is going on. He expects that his principals will invest a considerable amount of capital in that district. A despatch from Victoria this evening states that the Hudson Bay Company's manager from Fort Simpson has just come down with samples of gold quartz from the Skeena River district, which have aroused great expectations for that section of British Columbia also.

At the last session of Parliament a company was incorporated at the instigation of ex-Mayor McLeod Stewart of this city, called the Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal Co. Mr. Stewart has just got out his prospectus of the proposed enterprise, the capital stock of which is placed at $25,000,000, and the issue spread over five years. Mr. Stewart furnishes some exceedingly valuable engineering opinions as to the feasibility of the route, and gives facts and figures to demonstrate its practicability and its advantages over existing water routes.

Collector Harrington at Halifax today queried the Department of Customs as to whether or not the provisions of the French treaty applied to goods in warehouse prior to the 14th inst., and was answered in the affirmative. With reference to proving the country of origin as regards entries under treaty, collectors are informed that a consular certificate, or equally conclusive proof, must be furnished by the party making entry.

The Marine Department has received a statement of the shipments of cattle from Montreal this year to date, as compared with last season. When navigation closes next month there will likely be a large increase in exports noticeable. The figures up to last Saturday were as follows: Sheep, 151,679, as against 139,730 last year; cattle, 84,923, as against 56,355 last year; horses, 11,021, as against 5623 last year.

The steamer Scotsman, which sailed from Montreal last week, took the largest cargo of live stock ever shipped from a Canadian and possibly from any other port. It consisted of 798 cattle, 5346 and 10 horses.

The Fisheries Department has upheld the seizure of 67 cases of lobsters, the property of Hon. D. Davis of Charlottetown. The department does not recognize the contention that because the lobsters were caught more than three miles from shore, that therefore they were beyond the jurisdiction of the Dominion. It is held that the waters of Northumberland straits are strictly territorial waters. The department intends to enforce the law respecting the close season for lobsters to the fullest extent.

The case of Isbester v. Ray was before the Supreme Court all to-day. The respondents in this case were bankers who held notes made by the firm of M. Isbester & Co., in favor of Adam Isbester & Bro., and indorsed by the appellant. They sued the two firms as makers and the appellant as endorser, and obtained judgment against the former by default; but the appellant defended the action successfully. Plaintiffs then brought an action to have it declared that the appellant was liable an the default judgment as a member of the two firms, which was contested on the ground that the former suit in effect held that he was not a partner; also that plaintiffs having ranked on the bankrupt estate of the two firms under an assignment in which Malcolm Isbester described himself as sole surviving member, they had elected to look to other parties and could not afterwards look to the appellant for payment. The courts below decided against the appellant on both grounds. Judgment was reserved. McCarthy, Q.C., and Code for the appellant; Aylesworth, Q.C., and Cameron for respondent.

C.P.R. v. Chatham will be taken up to-morrow morning.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

WORLD OF SPORTS.

New York, Oct. 22.—The proposed conditions for the international races next summer between the Distant Shore and the American boat for the America's Cup, which are mailed to Percy Thellusson, secretary of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, through which Charles Day Rose, the owner of the Distant Shore, has challenged, reached the other side to-night. The conditions are slightly changed from those for the Defender-Valkyrie races, and are, of course, subject to the approval and suggestions of Mr. Rose and the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. The only marked change in the conditions is in the time limit, which has been reduced from six to five and a half hours. The Cup Committee gives as the reason for the reduction the speed of modern racing yachts. There is also a provision for postponement if, in the opinion of the Regatta Committee, the space around the starting line is not sufficiently clear. The date suggested for the first race is July 23, which is 10 months from the receipt of the challenge. The races will be sailed off Sandy Hook the best three out of five to decide, and one day, not counting Sunday, to intervene between the races, unless changed by agreement. The first race will be to windward or leeward and return, the second over a triangular course, the third the same as the first, etc. The course is to be 30 nautical miles.

There is also a clause providing that in case of serious accident to either vessel prior to the preparatory signal the boat shall have sufficient time to provide for repairs before being required to start, or, if such accident should happen during the race, before being required to start in the next race. The America's Cup Committee closing the letter by expressing its appreciation of the spirit of the challenge and of the confidence shown by the challenger in the committee.

The letter is signed by ex-Commodore James D. Smith, chairman, and A. Cass Canfield, secretary, on behalf of the America's Cup Committee.

Turf Events.

Morris Park, Oct. 22.—Perfect racing weather prevailed to-day, and as a consequence the crowd here this afternoon was very large. The two big events decided to-day were the races for the Hunter Stakes, for 3-year-olds, and the Welter handicap, for all ages. The former event was won by the favorite, Helmar, who succeeded in defeating Emma C. after a desperate struggle, by a neck. The race for the Welter handicap was captured by Kennebunk a 4 to 1 shot. The talent were much chagrined over the defeat of Ramapo in this race, and they declared that the long delay at the post and reckless riding prevented the best horse from winning. The Jockey Club has declined to award any more dates to the Queen City Jockey Club. This means that the racing season in this state will close on Nov. 5 at this track. Summaries:

Fitz Will Demand the Forfeit.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 22.—There may be two or three fights pulled off at this resort within the next two or three weeks, provided that the decision from the Supreme Court is favorable, and that the Governor does not further interfere, but there is less prospect of Corbett and Fitzsimmons meeting in the ring than there was 24 hours ago. Corbett came to town from his training quarters this evening for the express purpose of meeting Martin Julian, the manager of Fitzsimmons, and as the result of a stormy interview, in which Julian rejected every proposition made by the champion, the latter left the conference room with the announcement that he would go out of training at once. President Dan Stuart, who goes to Dallas in the morning, said to-night that the club had still under their consideration the matching of Corbett with another man, and the pulling off of the two remaining fights. Julian also leaves in the morning for Corpus Christi. His final announcement is this: "I will have Fitzsimmons here on the 31st and ready to fight, as provided by the articles of agreement. If the Florida A.C. is no longer connected with the affair, and there is no purse in sight, then we will be willing to fight in private, in a place to be selected by a Chicago man now here, for the side bet of $10,000 each. If Corbett will not consent to this, then we will demand the forfeit of $2500, and, as the people identified with the Florida A.C. are supposed to be all honorable men, we assume they will pay over promptly."

Registration of Horses Under the New Act.

Yesterday a deputation, consisting of Messrs. Robert Beith, M.P. for West Durham, president of the Hackney Association; Mr. Robert Davies, president of the Clydesdale Horse Association; Capt. David McCrae, president of the Polled Angus Cattle Association; Mr. Robert Graham of Claremont, Dr. Smith, V.S., and Mr. Henry Wade, secretary of the Agriculture and Arts Association, waited upon Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture. An act was passed during the last session of the Provincial Parliament doing away with the Agriculture and Arts Association, whose functions will henceforth be performed by the above and other societies. The object of the deputation was to settle the fees to be charged horsemen for recording pedigrees under the new arrangement. The matter will be definitely settled at a future interview. Mr. H. Wade will act as registration secretary under the new regime and the Government is having an office made ready for him on the upper flat of the Parliament buildings.

WORD FROM KOOTENAY.

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit, both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

CANDY FOR CHILDREN.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. Too much sweet upsets the stomach and spoils the appetite, but candy in moderation if it is not taken before a meal, is food which children crave naturally, and among the purest and most wholesome is that manufactured by

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Lockport, N.Y., Oct. 24.—The Scott manslaughter case was resumed this morning, with Dr. Richard Barrington Nevitt of Toronto on the stand. He attended Coulter when he reached the hospital at Toronto. At the post-mortem he found two fractures at the base of the skull, each an inch long, and about four inches apart.

James W. H. Kelly, Lewiston, saw the three Canadians quarrelling with Alexander Scott over a dog, and heard some one call the defendant. John Scott came out of the hotel and witness went in. Coming out later he saw Coulter falling and defendant walk away.

The defendant then testified that when he heard his name called he went out of the hotel. He saw the three Canadians surrounding his brother Alexander, making hostile demonstrations. Coulter came toward witness and struck at him. Witness slapped him over the mouth, one of Coulter's teeth catching on his hand. Coulter fell to the ground, and he did not stop to pick him up.

Freeman and Frech were called in rebuttal, swearing that Coulter did not strike at Scott.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the second degree. Scott was sentenced to one year in the Erie County Penitentiary.

WINNIPEG EDITOR AT WAR.

The Tribune Man After a Free Press Writer for Libel.

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—R. L. Richardson, editor of The Tribune, has instituted an action for criminal libel against D. J. Beaton, editorial writer on The Free Press, but lately the occupant of a similar position on The Nor'Wester. The cause of the action was an article in The Nor'Wester a few weeks ago.

SPAIN WILL FIGHT

If Any American Government Recognizes the Cuban Insurgents as Belligerents—Warlike Preparations.

London, Oct. 24.—A despatch from Madrid says that the Government has decided upon the arming of several of the Spanish Trans-Atlantic Company's steamers and the conversion of the old cruisers Romancia and Victoria into modern warships. The steamers will be armed with 14-centimetre guns by the beginning of December and will be sent to Cuba. This action on the part of the Government is generally regarded as a preparatory measure against the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents by any American Government. It is accepted as a certainty that Spain would regard such recognition on the part of any Government as a violation of international law, and would immediately place the nation upon a war footing and authorize Spanish vessels to capture upon the seas merchantmen belonging to the nation so recognizing the insurgents.

MORE TROUBLE BREWING.

A Canadian Dam Causing Ruin to People on the American Side.

Rosseau, Minn., Oct. 24.—The building of the great power dam at the outlet of the Lake of the Woods at Portage, Canada, is progressing rapidly. It is said by experts that this dam will raise the water in the lake to an additional height of 4 feet. The matter has been reported to the Government. The raising of the water will cause an overflow into what is known as Great Swamp, overflowing immense timber, hay and agricultural tracts of land in Beltrami and Rosseau counties. It is estimated that not less than 70,000 acres would be ruined utterly. Already many thousands of acres of valuable land have been rendered unfit for cultivation.

Agents of the United States are on the way to make investigations, and it is possible the dam will have to be torn out or international complications will follow. The dam has already cost $300,000.

MURDER IN LAND.

A Mystery About a Pair of Trousers Causes a Postponement.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 24.—Such a jam as is rarely seen in this town was there in the hal of the Court House yesterday. It was expected that the Kurschinski murder case would be called, and every one who could possibly get there sought admittance. It was a disappointed gathering, however, as constables guarded all the stairways and allowed no one admittance but those directly interested.

After a small civil case had been settled, Judge Robertson called for the murder case, and asked the attorneys if they were prepared to proceed.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, Crown Prosecutor, replied that he was ready, but Mr. Osler, prisoner's counsel, asked for a postponement until the next Assizes. His reasons, he said, were that only yesterday morning he had heard that the Crown had in its possession a pair of trousers supposed to have been worn by the prisoner when he is alleged to have committed the crime, and on these pants were stains supposed to be blood.

Mr. Osler said that as the defence had never been notified that the pants were in the Crown's possession, and had no opportunity to have the alleged blood spots analyzed by a chemical expert, it would not be fair to the prisoner to proceed with the case.

The defence brought a pair of trousers into court with stains on them, which were shown to the judge, but Mr. Osler said the stains on these pants were there before the pants were made by his wife, and it could not be proved if they were the ones worn by the prisoner on the fatal Sunday.

The judge said everything would be done to give the prisoner a fair trial, and allowed the case to stand until to-morrow morning.

It cannot be said to-night whether or no the Kurschinski murder case will be called to-morrow morning. This afternoon Mr. Osler read a number of affidavits from prisoner's counsel, Mr. Mowat, the prisoner's son and the prisoner himself, all to substantiate the statements of the defence that the trousers prisoner wore on the fatal day, and which are supposed to contain blood stains, could not be procured in time for the defence to have an analysis of the alleged blood stains made.

Mr. Johnston, on behalf of the Crown, read sworn statements from Detective Greer, Detective Klippert and Menno Banneck, all saying that the prisoner's family knew the pants were in the possession of the Crown over a month ago, and that if they had not informed Messrs. Osler and Mowat, prisoner's counsel, it was their oversight, and the defence therefore had no excuse to ask for a postponement.

The judge let the case stand until to-morrow morning. A witness whom the defence claims to be of material value was only found to-day. His name is William Powlinski of Galt, and it is from him Kurschinski purchased the cloth with which his wife made the grey trousers produced in court bearing blood stains, which are supposed to have been worn by the prisoner while committing the crime.

As the defence allege the grey trousers worn by the prisoner contain spots identical with others found on the original piece of cloth, Powlinski's identification of the cloth will be important.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious?

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases were the muscular force is greatly reduced, the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours. Try it.

ATTACKS ON CHRISTIANS.

Constantinople, Oct. 22.—Reports have reached here that the Mussulmans at Ismid, a town in Asia Minor, 56 miles southeast of this city, are continuing their attacks upon Christians. It is charged that a Turkish soldier at that place made an assault on a young Armenian girl and threatened her with death. This charge is denied by the authorities at Ismid, but troops have nevertheless been hastily despatched to the scene. The public prosecutor at Ismid has started for Akhissar to begin an inquiry into the recent massacres there.

According to advices received from Adana and Aleppo, a revolutionary porpaganda of serious proportions is in operation in those sections. Agents of the propaganda are enrolling young Armenians under their standard, and arms, ammunition and dynamite are reported to have been secretly imported into that vicinity.

As I Predicted

My Heavy-weight Blankets are having a rapid sale. The last two weeks has made a big hole in the stock. But that need'nt deter the Ladies from coming after more; for, although, the price of wool has gone up we can repeat orders at the same old price. Our Blankets live up to the label promise, in size, weight and price.

When we sell our best Blankets for $3.29, $3.76, $4.26, $4.76, it means a very considerable saving on the price you have to pay anywhere else.

There is a lesson here for the ladies. The extra price you pay elsewhere has to be put on for extra store expenses. If you are not buying Blankets you are buying Dress Goods or something else. The same holds true money is saved in price here. We run our store with economy; that's why we can sell at smaller profits. Plain, isn't it.

Don't Overlook the Underwear.

We have something that undersells the undermost in Underwear. What do you think of 50c for a price. At 50c we can give you extra value. There's nothing that will please a husband, brother, sister or daughter we have'nt got.

FREE.—All Mantles and Dress Goods bought here, costing 50c per yard and upwards, will be cut and fitted free of charge.

THREE DEAD TO DATE.

As a Result of the Hamilton Hotel Fire.

THREE OTHERS IN DANGER YET.

Mrs. Koch and Her Baby Well Enough to Leave the Hospital—The Bereaved Woman Tells Her Awful Experience—Death of Rev. Dr. Laidlaw.

Hamilton, Oct. 24.—About noon today two of the Koch children, who were rescued from the Queen's Hotel on Tuesday night, when it was on fire, died from the effects of inhaling the smoke and fire, and Hattie, the 10-year-old girl, is not expected to survive. The death of the two boys today, Tony and Bernie, makes three deaths from the fire. Mrs. Koch and her baby have recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital, but Mrs. Andrews and Miss Cronan are still confined, and have good chances to recover if pneumonia does not set in. In that case, the doctors say, Mrs. Andrews' chances for recovery are slight, as she was exposed to the cold for a long time after she was taken from the burning building.

In an interview to-day Mrs. Koch said she and her husband had gone to their rooms when there was a knock at the front door. He responded, but found no one there. Then he retired, and in a few minutes Mrs. Koch noticed the baby choking. Then she smelt smoke, aroused her husband and with her baby in her arms ran to the bath room and escaped to the roof of an adjoining building, whence she was rescued. Mr. Koch immediately ran to the doors of the boarders and help, yelling fire. Then he ran down stairs and gave the alarm, and returned to rescue Mrs Andrews and the children, but in the act of doing so he fell.

Detective Doyle is still working on the case. Street Car Conductor George Nicholson says he took a stranger from the corner of King and James-streets on Tuesday night and left him at the Queen's shortly before 2 o'clock. He was probably the man who rapped at the door and then disappeared, and some think he may have done this as a warning to the inmates of the hotel. The actions of a young man, who was ordered out of the hotel late on Tuesday night lays him open to suspicion. He boarded at the hotel some weeks ago, and went back on Monday night. He had no money and the proprietor gave him lodging and breakfast, but told him Tuesday night he could keep him no longer without money, and the young man, a stranger, left the hotel vowing vengeance. He said he was going to Montreal.

This morning Rev. Dr. Laidlaw, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, after a long illness, died near Georgetown, where he has for some time resided with his brother-in-law, Angus McColl. He was 55 years old. Deceased was highly esteemed in this city, where he has been a pastor for 17 years. He leaves three sons, Hugh, Campbell and Robert. The remains will be brought to the city and on Saturday afternoon the service will be held in St. Paul's Church, after which the remains will be sent to Georgetown, where the funeral will take place.

MONTREAL COLLECTORSHIP.

Excitement Continues in the Ranks of the Conservatives There.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The interest in the Montreal collectorship has become intensified and The World's leading article on the question yesterday was most favorably commented on in the city to-day. Someone has asked if there is a string to the resignation, and if it was simply made to be withdrawn at the proper time. Your correspondent is authorized to give a complete denial to such a theory, and no one who knows Mr. White would for a moment believe that the ex-member for Cardwell did not mean business when he sent in his resignation to the Speaker of the House of Commons. Some of the best men of the commercial ma polls cannot believe the leaders of the party will much longer delay the apointment of Mr. White as collector of the port of Montreal. It is pretty well understood, however, that Mr. White does not expect to get the appointment.

A good many friends have blamed Hon. Mr. Ouimet for the delay, but the Minister of Public Works says that the Ontario Ministers are wholly responsible.

The fact of the matter is, there is very strong feeling here over this customs trouble. Bob White has a host of friends, not only in Montreal, but in the townships, and tremendous pressure is being brought to bear upon the Hon. Mr. Ives to see that justice is done. It is said here that if the editor of The Gazette is not appointed collector before Saturday evening next there is a possibility that the portfolio of Trade and Commerce will be at the disposal of Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

TO RECLAIM SWAMP LAND.

The Manitoba Government Has Let a Big Contract—Grain and Cheese Shipments—Civic Reform.

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—The Provincial Government has let the contract to Whitehead & Co. of Brandon for draining St. Andrew's marsh. The contract calls for 850,000 cubic yards of ditching, by which 104,000 acres of swamp land will be reclaimed. Of this quantity 55,000 acres belong to the Manitoba Government. The cost of reclamation will be between 75 and 80 cents per acre.

The C.P.R. traffic department is going in for record-breaking in grain carrying this fall. The highest figures of former years have been exceeded several times, but yesterday's record of 413 cars is not likely to be exceeded this season.

Manitoba cheese shipments are beginning to assume large proportions, as well as grain and live stock exports. One city firm in the past ten days has shipped 18,000 pounds to Montreal for export to England.

The Winnipeg committee of citizens for devising a scheme of civic reform, have come to the conclusion that a paid executive would be most satisfactory. The details of the scheme will be formulated later on.

The civic health authorities have been devoting attention to the citizens' milk supply lately, and as a result some 300 cows have been isolated or destroyed.

The bank clearings in this city for the past week were $1,925,803, which is nearly half a million more than in the same week a year ago.

KURCHINSKI'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

Mr Osler Asks for Time to Have an Investigation as to the Spots on the Grey Trousers.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 25.—As many expected, the Kurchinski murder case has been postponed until the Spring Assizes.

As soon as court was called to order, Mr. Osler arose and read two affidavits, one from Caroline Spring and another from Mrs. Powlinski, wife of the witness found yesterday in reference to those notorious gre trousers supposed to have been worn by the prisoner while committing the dreadful crime. The affidavits said the original cloth from which the pants were made contained spots made by scorching while being pressed in the mill. The Spring girl said she made the trousers for the prisoner at his home in the fall of 1894, and that when she cut them the spots were so numerous that she could hardly cut the pants from clean cloth, and they then contained no small spots whatever.

Mrs. Powlinski's affidavit said that the trousers had burned spots on when sold to Kurchinski in September, 1894.

Mr. Osler said he had to follow this cloth up and have the stains analyzed, and unless a postponment of the case was made he could not have time to do this and the prisoner would not have a fair trial. Mr. Johnston in turn put in an affidavit from John Powlinski himself in reference to the stains, about the same as that of his wife. Mr. Johnston said he thought the defence's reasons for demanding a postponement were not sufficient.

Justice Robertson said he was loth to put off the trial. The Crown witnesses had been brought at a large expense, and everything was in readiness; nevertheless, lest an innocent man should be found guilty, he would give the defence the benefit of the doubt and grant the postponement.

Mr. Osler and Detective Greer left for Toronto on the 5 o'clock train.

MRS. KELLAR'S TRIAL.

The Defence Will be Emotional Insanity—No Evidence of a Struggle.

Oswego, Oct. 25.—The trial of Mrs. Harriet Kellar for the murder of Albert Kempthorn, in August last, attracts large crowds to the court house in this city. Emotional insanity will be the defence. At the time Kempthorn visited Mrs. Kellar and succeeded in overpowering her she was unwell and her condition will be pleaded as an excuse for her aleged excitable condition.

Witnesses will testify that Kempthorn was in the habit of calling upon Mrs. Kellar, and others will swear that there was no evidence of a struggle in her bedroom immediately after the crime. Kempthorn entered through a small window.

RUSSIAN AUDACITY.

A Treaty Said to Have Been Signed With China Which Would Give Russia Predominance in the East.

London, Oct. 25.—The Times publishes a despatch from its Hong Kong correspondent, who says that he learns from thoroughly trustworthy authority that a treat was recently concluded between China and Russia, by the provisions of which Russia obtains the right of anchorage for her fleet at Port Arthur, the right to construct and work under Russian management the Nortchineck and Tsitsihar, Vladivostock and Tsitsihar and Port Arthur Railways, and other commercial advantages to which the "Most favored nation" clause in other treaties is not applicable. China, however, reserves the right to purchase the railways after 20 years, at a price to be settled upon.

The Times remarks editorially upon the startling character of the despatch and says it expects an official denial will be made, but hints that such a denial may be ignored. Russia, it adds, cannot possibly imagine that the other great powers will view with indefference an enterprise which would constitute the destruction of the existing balance of power, and which is almost unparalleled in its audacity. Russia is well aware that the magnitude of the changes in the movement now reported are such that she could not carry them out unless she had definitely resolved to abandon the pacific policy of the last reign and plunge into vast and dangerous activities.

Talk of a Transfer of the Pope's Seat

Rome, Oct. 24.—Rumors of the contemplated transfer of the seat of the Papacy to Avignon, France, have been revived, but are not credited here.

IN THE GERMAN TOWN

Mr. Laurier Met With the Usual Hearty Greeting.

A DRIVE AND ALSO A RECEPTION.

An Immense Meeting in the Evening at Which the Eloquent Leader Takes the Government to Task—The Prosperity of Berlin Due to the Energy of the People.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—Mr. Laurier and party spent Wednesday at Waterloo, and yesterday made their appearance in Berlin. They were driven about town in cabs and Mr. Laurier was given an ample opportunity of seeing for himself what a substantial and thriving town Berlin is.

After the drive around town the party returned to the Walper House, where they held a reception and many a good citizen of both shades of politics grasped the hand of the eloquent Frenchman.

The meeting in the rink was very largely attended.

The reception of Mr. Laurier and his friends at the rink in the evening was most enthusiastic. The building was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. The chairman was Mr. John Motz, editor of The Journal, who opened the meeting in a happy little speech, in which he said he was delighted at seeing such a gathering.

Mr. I. E. Bowman introduced the gentlemen to the platform, and Mr. Robertson, M.L.A. for North Waterloo followed. Mr. Charles Hyman of London eulogized Mr. Laurier, who, he said, had received more kind words than any one in Canada.

Mr. Innis of The Guelph Mercury only had a few words to say, after which Mr. Laurier was announced amid tremendous applause.

Mr. Laurier said he was gratified at the grand reception and said that it was one of the largest and most intelligent audiences which it was his pleasure to address during this campaign. He acknowledged the great stride Berlin had made and was making, but attributed it, not to the benefits ing from the N. P., but to the thrift, energy and industry of the people. The advocates of the N.P., said he in 1878 promised increase of markets with increase of population, and instead of a boon to the country it has been a bane and a curse. He said all we require was a tariff for revenue only, which will favor the masses of the nation, not the classes. He would not disturb the tariff, however, violently. He also proposed to diminish the expenditure of the country. The franchise act received his severest condemnation, and it would be the Reform Administration, first victim when they would sever the political heads of the 213 revising officers. He said with much warmth, "It is a blot on the calendar of Canadian history." He elaborated on the corrupt and extravagant expenditure for the administration of justice, pension or superannuation acts, and said these would be their next victims. Equal rights, even justice for all, said he, is the policy of the Liberal party on all questions.

In speaking of the Manitoba school question, he said he was glad and proud to tell his audience on which grounds he and the Liberal party stood. He maintained the Government acted hastily and not wisely. His policy would have been first to ascertain what the real grievances were, then with kindness and patience require the majority to do justice to the minority. He even now advocates a full investigation into this vexed question, and not to figuratively take the Province of Manitoba by the throat and compel them to establish the system of which the minority have been deprived.

Sir Richard followed, dealing with the tariff and other questions. The meeting broke up with three cheers for the Queen, Mr. Lourier and others.

TWO FIRES AT HAMILTON.

A Wholesale Merchant's Residence Scorched—Benzine Blaze at a Foundry.

Hamilton, Oct. 25.—Fire broke out last night in the stone residence of W. H. Gillard, Aberdeen-avenue, about 8.30, and threatened to consume the building and contents, but was got under control by the fire department after $600 damage had been done. The fire originated in a frame addition to the and spread along the window. main building, destroying all the shutters, blinds and curtains. While the firemen were attending this there was another call call from Burrow, Stewart & Milne's foundry, where a benzine tank had taken fire. Two reserve companies extinguished the blaze.

An Ohio Town Fire Swept.

Gibsonburg, O., Oct. 24.—Fire broke out early this morning and all the business houses on the north side of Madison-street were laid in ruins. The total loss is $250,000, with insurance less than one-half.

Fire Near the Ranges

There was a big fire a few miles west of the city about 11 o'clock last night. Enquiries at Mimico Asylum and the Industrial School failed to locate the blaze, but both institutions thought it to be barns near the rifle range at Long Branch.

Fast Mail Train Wrecked.

St. Louis, Oct. 24.—The fast mail passenger train on the Vandalia line here at 1.20 was wrecked east of Indianapolis to-night. The cars are burning. No further particulars are obtainable at present.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 76 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1895.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

Our Dominion Government is getting into deeper water every day and everything seems to be converging to the general election cataclysm that shall shake the present Premier and his colleagues out of their shoes—no difficult matter, for the shoes of their predecessors which several ministers are trying to fill, are several sizes too large for them. The triumphant tour of Mr. Laurier and the extremely hearty receptions accorded him show the government that their gifted opponent is forcing the running with excellent chances of reaching the goal far in advance. The recent overwhelming Conservative reverse in Montreal Centre, in which a Conservative majority of about 400 was reduced to a Liberal majority of 1200 is a very dreary augury for the success of the Government candidate in the Dominion bye-election that must result from the appointment of the late representative, Solicitor General Curran to the bench. This appointment, which a government organ calls a "terrible error," since it aroused the enmity of English speaking Conservatives in Montreal who were not consulted, will in itself make the travelling hard for the government candidate who aspires to fill Mr. Curran's late seat. Cardwell and its late representative, Mr. Robert S. White, is another thorn in the government's side. Mr. White, who represented Cardwell, in succession to his father, Hon. Thos. White, was promised two years ago the collectorship of the Port of Montreal, which has been vacant for about three years. Mr. White has waited patiently for the government to fulfill its promise. But the government had a sufficient excuse — Mr. White's appointment would necessarily render Cardwell vacant, and there was too much danger in bringing on a bye-election, so the Government dilly-dallied, as is their wont, till Mr. White forced their hand by sending his resignation to the Speaker of the House. Now the Government will have to appoint Mr. White, as a Conservative journal states that he has had his appointment in his pocket for over a year. Though, in justice to Mr. White it is said that the feeling that he could not honourably fill a seat in Parliament with such a position assured him, was the chief element that influenced his resignation. When the Government's staunch supporter, disgusted with its delay, shows his opinion of its political cowardice, by forcing its hand and compelling it to take action, which it has not courage to initiate itself, what can we expect from the rank and file who have only high taxes, instead of fat appointments to keep their party loyalty warm? The Dominion Government is getting rapidly cornered, and the general elections will give the coup de grace.

STANDING FROM UNDER.

It is generally believed that rats desert a ship that is about to sink, and there is abundant evidence that many supporters of the Dominion Government expect that the Conservative ship will sink at the next general elections, and are preparing for such an event by making their calling (to office) more sure than their election if they again offer themselves as candidate. Mr. R. S. White, M.P., Cardwell, is one of those that has made a bold stroke by demanding his appointment as collector of the Port of Montreal before the elections. And others with less decision of character are sueing for their reward before the next day of reckoning comes. Mr. A. W Ross, M.P., Lisgar, Man., threatens resignation unless he is made collector of customs at Winnipeg. The member for London is more clamourous for an office than for nomination as a candidate. Mr Metcalfe, of Kingston, had much rather be warden of Kingston Penitentiary than a defeated Government candidate, and our own member for West Peterborough would much prefer the slumberous safety of the Senate to the risk of facing an electorate, whom the malodorous record of the Government has made "mighty onsartin."

THE following Dominion constituencies are vacant, or practically so, and call for bye-elections: West Huron, Montreal Centre, Jaques Cartier, Missisquoi and Cardwell.

THE many personal friends in town of Mr. R. S. White of Montreal, will hope that he gets the collectorship of Montreal, as a sequel to his resignation of his seat. This is a warm snug berth, while there are indications of a drop in the political thermometer in Cardwell, which will make it mighty cold for a Government candidate.

VENEZUELA WILL RESIST

In Case the Spanish Government Attempts a Display of "Unjust Aggression"

New York, Oct. 25.—A corespondent at Caracas, Venezuela, telegraphs as follows: I asked President Crespo yesterday afternoon to outline the position of Venezuela in regard to the demand of Great Britain that reparation be made for the arrest of British subjects, and that a settlement of the boundary question between the two countries be arranged. While the President maintained a certain degree of diplomatic reserve, I am able to say, on the highest authority, that the Government, as well as public opinion, disbelieves in any attmpt at unjust aggression on the part of England, and confides in the Monroe doctrine. Should, however, such aggression occur, Venezuela will resist heroically.

The Venezuelan Government, I am informed, is still officially uninformed in relation to England's ultimatum.

A special from Lima, Peru, says: A leading article in The Comercio declares that if the United States is to retain its prestige it must make its influence impressive in the question at issue between Great Britain and Venezuela. If the United States remains inactive and suffers a blockade of Venezuela, England may not yet be triumphant. The result would possibly be nothing more than that England would retain of the Guiana coast only so much as the guns of her ships could cover.

Mr. Stead Has a Word to Say.

London, Oct. 25.—Mr. William T. Stead, formerly editor of The Pall Mall Gazette, publishes an article in The Westminster Gazette, in which he says that England ought not to belittle the significance of the outburst of American sentiment over the Venezuelan question. The Americans, he said, have built up a navy which they have some reason to be proud of, and the Monroe doctrine is now one of national faith.

"When the twentieth century dawns upon us," he continues, "we will have to recognize the United States as a naval power of the first class. Nevertheless," he concludes, "our case is so strong that we need not fear to refer the question to an honest arbitration, but first reparation must be made for violation of our territory."

A Crack at American Papers.

London, Oct. 25.—The News in its issue to-morrow will say in connection with the Anglo-Venesuelan dispute: "If it pays American journalists to circulate lying accounts of interviews that have never taken place doubtless they will continue to do so, but it is unfortunate for their attempt to create ill-feeling against this country that Mr. Olney is at the head of the American State Department. He is not only an able lawyer, but a broad-minded man of the world. There is no fear of any lack of courtesy between him and Lord Salisbury or Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador."

The Territory is Britain's.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Dr. Spaight, Vice-Consul of the United States at Georgetown, British Guiana, now in the city, to a reporter made an emphatic denial of the newspaper reports that he was summoned here for a conference with State Department officials in regard to Venezuelan affairs. Dr. Spaight characterized the report as an "entire fabrication without a shadow of foundation."

Dr. Spaight has one of the maps showing the boundary between Guiana and Venezuela, proposed before the year 1800. This map is rare, only a few copies being in existence. Dr Spaight is quoted as saying that this map proves the territory where gold has been found to be English soil and he is further quoted as saying that Venezuela never claimed it until gold was discovered and that the United States Government will make a mistake if it endeavors to assert the Monroe doctrine.

The old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined?

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then comes the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

Lying Despatch Sent Out From Winnipeg

ABOUT THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Archbishop of St. Boniface Said to Have Approached the Government—Mr. R. S. White May Withdraw His Resignation—News From the Capital.

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—Both the evening papers contain a despatch from New York, which states that a special from Winnipeg intimates that Archbishop Langevin, head of the Roman Catholic Church in that province, has submitted a proposition to Premier Greenway and the Manitoba Government, it is reported, for a compromise on the school question, and the compromise is to be accepted. The terms are understood to be these:

"Catholic schools may be established, but will receive no financial aid from the Government. The Catholics, however, are not to be taxed for the support of the Protestant Public schools. The Catholic School Board will be supplied with machinery to impose taxes on all Catholics for parochial schools, except where a Catholic parent prefers to send his children to the Public schools. This compromise will satisfy both Catholics and Protestants, and end the struggle."

The foregoing, emanating from the source whence it did, looked very fishy, and enquiry in the Manitoba capital elicited the information that the Winnipeg liar has been getting in his fine work. A private despatch from that city states "Rev. Father Belliveau, private secretary to Archbishop Langevin, officially authorizes the statement that no advances have been made to Premier Greenway looking to a compromise on the school question."

The following gentlemen have been chosen as the Board of Visitors for the Royal Military College for the ensuing year: Col. Pawell, Adjutant General; Col. Duchesnay, D.A.G., Quebec; Col. E. Smith, D.A.G., London; Mr. Sanford Fleming C.M.G., Chancellor of Queen's University; Mr. D. McPherson, who was one of the first batch of graduates from the Royal Military College, and has always manifested a lively interest in the progress of the institution. He has been chosen by Mr. Dicke as the representative of the Graduates' Association on Visiting the Board.

Mr. D. Pottinger, General Manager of the Intercolonial Railway, is in the city. He states that traffic on the road is picking up fairly well and is quite equal to last year.

Representations continue to reach both the Departments of Public Works and Marine in reference to the proposed extension of Government telegraph lines to Belle Isle. That action cannot longer be delayed is evidenced by the announcement of the underwriters, that unless the telegraph system is extended, there will have to be a general increase in rates. The past season has been very disastrous to insurance companies. One concern has entirely withdrawn from Canadian business and another has shut down temporarily.

Mr. W. Cook, of Lincolnshire, England, one of the tenant farmer delegates who visited Canada in 1893, is in the city. He was so delighted with his experiences in the Dominion two years ago, that he determined to come out to Canada to see more of the country. During the next two or three weeks Mr. Cook will visit different points in Ontario, after which he will proceed to the Northwest. The report which Mr. Cook furnished to the Government in 1893 was one of the most interesting of the batch sent in that year.

The Department of Trade and Commerce has received the annual report of the International Bureau for publication of customs tariffs. This bureau has its headquarters at Brussels and Canada is a subscribing member to it. The last report urges all the different Governments to transmit the customs documents necessary to enable it to issue the various tariffs which remain to be published and to keep to date those which have already appeared. During the past year 35 tariffs and 69 supplements were published.

The plan adopted early in the year of sending to England militia officers for a period of training with imperial troops has worked so satisfactorily that it is fully expected another batch will proceed to England in the near future.

Information was received here to-day from Winnipeg of the somewhat sudden death of Mr. J. C. Nelson, surveyor of the Indian Department. His home was at Aylmer, near this city. Mr. Nelson was a most efficient officer.

General Gascoigne has made an important recommendation to Mr. Dickey with regard to the new issue of the establishment list. It is to the effect that the full number of sergeants be restored to the different corps. Mr. Dickey promptly consented to the change, which will doubtless be appreciated by those who take an interest in the welfare of the militia.

Mr. Grant, representing the London Smokeless Powder Company, had an interview with Mr. Dickey to-day. The Minister cabled Captain Gaudet, superintendent of the Quebec cartridge factory, who is now in England, to visit the smokeless powder company's establishment and report upon their product.

The Duke Will Meet Business Men.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Duke of Marlborough has not as yet had an opportunity of meeting representative, substantial business men of New York. He will, ree, a few, at least, to-night, at the dinner to be given in his honor by H.L. Holton, the well-known banker. The dinner will be given at the Union League Club and will be a fine affair. As it is given by a private individual simply for a social purpose, there will be no speech-making or special formality. There will be between 40 and 50 guests, including some of the bank presidents, and those of trust, insurance and other companies, as well as distinguished lawyers. Among others who will be present are the Messrs. Joseph H. Shoate, Brayton Ives, Geo. Gould and E. J. Berwin.

Mrs. Stanford Will Visit Canada.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Leland Stanford, who has been in Washington for the past ten days, will leave for New York on Tuesday of next week. After a brief stay in that city she will visit her old home at Albany. She will then make a short trip to the principal cities of Canada, returning to Washington about the 1st of December, where she proposes remaining some time, unless recalled to California by her private interests.

The man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. A man who spends two-thirds of his time in business, and one-third of his time being sick, cannot be expected to accomplish more than two-thirds as much as the man who attends to business all the time. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. It isn't considered sickness by most people, but it is just the same. It is serious sickness, because it causes almost all of the ill-health of mankind. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are perfectly simple—perfectly safe. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure permanently. You don't have to keep on taking them. You don't acquire a "pellet habit." Take them regularly for a while, and you are cured permanently. After that, take them only when you find yourself suffering from indigestion. There are many medicines offered for the same purpose on which druggists make a bigger profit. For this reason, some druggists would rather sell the other things. If your own health is of more importance to you than the druggist's prosperity, you will insist on having what you ask for.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT.

Mrs. Charles Jenkins, of Petrolea, Passes Away at Buffalo.

Intelligence was received yesterday of the unexpected death of Mrs. Charles Jenkins, of Petrolia. The deceased lady (Miss Annie Kirkpatrick) eldest sister of Mrs. Jas. F. Her death, which was quite unexpected, is indeed a sad shock to her relatives here, who will have the cordial sympathy of their numerous friends. The death took place in Buffalo and no particulars in reference to the sad event are to hand. Mrs. Dennistoun and Miss Kirkpatrick went to Petrolea yesterday, and Mr. R. M. Duck Hunting.

The recent cold snap has driven the ducks inshore, where they are "bunching" preparatory to their southern flight. For some days past many town sports have been on hand at their favourite resorts, and the ducks are being banged at right and left, and as fast as they group their ranks are raked fore and aft. This will continue until the ice forms. Black, Mallards, Grey, Redheads, and a few Wood Ducks are the kinds that are being bagged.

Guaranteed Cure for Tobacco

The Uncle Sam Tobacco Cure will stop the tobacco habit—that's a certainty. So confident are the manufacturers that it will do all it claims, they will refund the money in every case where the tobacco user has strictly followed directions for 30 days without being cured. Money talks, and merit wins—they mean what they say. The medicine is for sale at Lynch's drug store, Hunter street, where the guarantee is good.

CLEGG'S, 427 George street.

A Typo on the Stage.

Mr. Geo. Heath, of Rochester, N.Y., and a former resident of this place, says the Lakefield News, paid the village a visit on Thursday, to see his old friends here, after an absence of sixteen years. Mr. Heath is an old typo, having learned to handle the stick in the old News office, but leaving that trade he went into the theatrical profession, and is with the John L. Clark Co., which is now playing in Peterborough, and is making his mark in the profession. Mr. Heath was accompanied by Mr. John Spalding, of Rochester, N.Y., who is also an old typo and in the same Company, and Mr. W. Brine of Peterborough.

Presentation of the Shaughraun.

That great Irish comedy drama the Shaughraun, which age seems as with wine to improve, was presented by the Clarke Company last night at the opera house to an audience which appeared to fully appreciate all the fine points in the play. Mr. Clarke took the part of Con, the Shaughraun, and showed conclusively that he had a most perfect conception of the part and the ability to portray the character of the happy-go lucky young Irishman, in a manner most pleasing to the audience. Miss Ella Cameron, as Claire Folliott, the heroine, delighted all by her clever acting, lending new life to the play. George Heath makes a capital Captain Molineau and in fact the entire Company did exceedingly well last night.

A Peterborough Cheesemaker's Success.

The Chilliwhack, British Columbia, Progress, has the following paragraph, referring to Mr. R. C. Abbott, formerly of Douro: "Mr. R. C. Abbott, manager of the Union cheese factory of this valley, captured the two first prizes on best factory cheese at Victoria fair and Mission City. The patrons of the Union cheese factory have reason to be proud of the cheese that has been manufactured this year by their able and efficient manager, Mr. R. C. Abbott, who came here from the East last spring. In examing this season's output we find: Flavour, good; body, close; texture, good; colour, uniform; appearance and finish, neat; altogether a nice lot of cheese. The factory is clean and tidy. Mr. Abbott, as also the patrons, naturally feel proud at taking two first prizes for their cheese at the Victoria exhibition this year."

PUMPKIN PIE SOCIAL.

St. Paul's Young People Have a Merry Evening.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour in connection with St. Paul's church held an entertainment last evening in the Sunday school room under the auspices of the Social Committee of the society.

A cordial invitation had been issued to the young people of the church to be present and to bring their friends and the attendance was most gratifying to those in charge of the entertainment, the room being well filled with young people.

The affair took the form of a pumpkin pie social and the room was profusely decorated with huge pumpkins placed in conspicuous positions. Across the end of the apartment, arranged so as to meet the eyes of the guests on entering the door was a banner with the word "Welcome" inscribed thereon in pumpkin seeds.

Mr. Harry Martin, the popular president of the society, was the moving spirit during the evening and was ably assisted by the members of the social committee. The programme was an entirely impromptu one. The Misses Courtney rendered a brilliant duet and Mr. Crane contributed a sparkling instrumental which was executed with great ability. During the evening Miss Montgomery sang several solos which were greatly appreciated.

A card was handed each guest on entering the room. On some of these cards were conundrums and upon others the answers to them. During the evening much amusement was furnished the young people in looking up the one who held the missing half of their riddle. The main feature of the refreshments, which were served later on in the evening, was a large number of delicious pumpkin pies.

The evening throughout was a most enjoyable one and the young people of the church are eagerly anticipating a repetition of the entertainment.

A BICYCLE ACCIDENT.

Mrs. M. A. Jamieson Run Down and Seriously Hurt.

Bicycle scorching on the business streets of the town is becoming altogether too prevalent, especially after dark, and a number of narrow escapes from collisions have been recorded.

Last night an accident occurred, which may have the effect of the passage of a bylaw in the Council for the regulating of the speed at which bicycles shall be ridden. Mrs. M. A. Jamieson, wife of the proprietor of the Little Windsor Hotel, was crossing George street at the junction of Hunter, when a wheelman came scorching along and ran her down before she had time to escape.

Mrs. Jamieson fell across the street railway track, and as a car was only a short distance away, her position for a moment was a perilous one, as she was so stunned by the suddeness of the shock that she was incapable of rising and no one was close enough to offer assistance. To the horror of the spectators the car approached within six inches of Mrs. Jamieson's head before it could be brought to a dead stop. By this time some of those nearest the scene of the accident had reached her and raising her from the track assisted her to the hotel.

In the meantime the bicyclist who had been thrown from his wheel had picked himself up, and without even an inquiry, had sped away into the darkness.

Mrs. Jamieson is confined to her room through the effects of the accident, her shoulder and one of her legs being badly wrenched.

MR. JOHN J. HALL SERIOUSLY INJURED.

He Falls Down the Staircase and Sustains a Fracture of the Jaw.

Mr. John J. Hall, local Collector of Inland Revenue, met with a serious accident Wednesday evening at his residence, on the corner of Simcoe and Hunter streets.

Mr. Hall, it appears, was ascending the stairs to his sleeping apartment, and was carrying his umbrella with him, when in some way it slipped between his feet and tripping him up caused him to lose his footing and fall headlong down the staircase.

Besides the shock received Mr. Hall has to contend with a painful fracture of the the jaw bone, which he sustained in his fall. At his advanced years such injuries assume a serious aspect, but Mr. Hall's many friends will be pleased to learn that he is now on a fair way to recovery.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disordered digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any other preparation known to science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just efficaciously does it aid and strengthen the processes of digestion.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent 289 George Street.

OUR ULTIMATUM!

The following correspondence will be of interest just now, especially to the Ladies of Peterborough, who are concerned in the breaking up of a monopoly of high prices for the Celebrated "Health" Brand Underwear:—

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS COMPANY, Ltd.,
MANUFACTURERS OF HEALTH BRAND UNDERWEAR.

MONTREAL, 22nd October, 1895.

Messrs. Kells & Co., Peterborough, Ont.:

GENTLEMEN,—Our attention has again been drawn to your advertisement in the DAILY EXAMINER of Oct. the 16th. We are at a loss to know where you are getting our goods from, but you are certainly doing that which you have no right to do. Firstly, you are advertising that you are getting our goods direct from us, or conveying such an impression in your ads, and secondly you are making a statement reflecting upon our customer in your town, in regard to their putting up the prices over our printed retail price list on account of their having a monopoly of the article.

We have not laboured for years to make the best Underwear in the market for the purpose of having our Brand or ourselves used as a sort of stepladder, to gain, for any firm, some notoriety for selling cheaply, and we scarcely think you appreciate the position you place yourself in by acting in this manner.

We have entered into a bona fide contract with the firm you are trying to injure and do not propose to have it interfered with any further. We await your ultimatum on this matter. Yours truly,

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., (Limited,) Henry St. Joseph, Mgr.

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 24th, 1895.

The Montreal Silk Mills Co., Limited:

GENTLEMEN:—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of 22nd October. Before discussing same we wish to recall to your recollection that the gentlemen whom you advertise as your sole agents, Herman H. Wolff Co., Montreal, sold to us in good faith direct, a bill of your "Health Brand" goods.

About 4 months after the order was given and accepted, your sole agent Messrs. Wolff & Co., refused to deliver the goods, not on the ground that it was impossible to carry out the contract, but because you deemed it profitable to break an honorable contract entered into in perfect good faith. You had not even the common decency to first inform us of your intentions and ask us to meet same or withdraw.

As we had promised our customers that we had purchased your goods, we were under the necessity of carrying out our words and we now inform you that we are selling your "Health Brand" goods, purchased direct from yourselves, and we believe that we are selling your goods below all competition, and we believe that we can sell your goods at the same price as our competitors pay you and then make a profit.

We thoroughly appreciate the position we now have you in and the public can appreciate your high standard of business honor. It is well for you that your goods are better than your morals.

Yours etc., R. H. KELLS & CO.

R. H. Kells & Co. have just received direct from the Manufacturers, another and a larger shipment of "Health" Brand Underwear. Ample selection in Ladies', Misses' and Children's Sizes at even LOWER quotations than our former Reduced Prize List.

From the Garden to the Tea Pot

Is the secret of our success. Do you ever think how many profits are made out of an article before you use it? None more so than tea, especially imported packet tea. We handle no teas but our own. Oak-K-oah is one of our reliable brands, and is as good as any forty cent tea in the market. We are selling it for a limited time at twenty-five cents a pound. Try a pound and you will want more. STROUD BROS., 370 George street, Peterborough, also at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston.

Accident in Douro.

On Wednesday evening while Master Trude Waldon was bringing in the horses from ploughing on his father's farm in Douro, he met with a severe accident. It appears that a colt was walking near the horses when one of them suddenly wheeled and kicked at it, missing the colt and striking Trude fair on the right side of the face, and inflicting several severe cuts on his cheek. It was very lucky that he was not any closer to the horse or he might have been killed. The injuries were attended to and he is getting along nicely.—Lakefield News.

Wonderful Butter-Making Record.

Mrs. Marion Burk, of Spring Creek Farm, near Bowmanville, has always been an interested spectator when Hon. John Dryden's travelling dairy has gone to that district, and the remarkable record she has made at the big exhibitions this season and honours won prove how well she has profited by the knowledge gained in butter-making. Mrs. Burk was brought up in luxury, and never even engaged in ordinary household duties until her marriage with Farmer Burk. Now she frequently milks fifteen cows night and morning, and invariably superintends the butter-making herself. All of her butter product ranks as high as creamery make, and she has never been able to supply the demand from Toronto and local. Last season she won 19 first prizes and a gold medal. This year she won twenty-six first prizes and a gold medal, the last named at the Central Canada Exhibition at Ottawa. She won two first prizes at the Industrial, Toronto; one at the Provincial at Montreal; two firsts at Ottawa and the gold medal and the balance at county fairs. At Ottawa the judges gave Mrs. Burk's butter 98 points out of a possible 100. She is receiving 25c a pound now for her output.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks of News From the Whirling Wheels—Interesting Cinders for the Eye.

A two-year'old heifer belonging to Mr. Edward Owens, a farmer residing about three miles southeast of Campbellford, was killed on the railway track by a Belleville train Saturday night. The heifer with three young cattle strayed out of Mr. Owen' yard in the evening and wandered to the track, having passed through a gate leading to the public road, which had been left thoughtlessly open by a neighbour who had gone that way a few hours before. The accident was not due to any negligence on the part of the trainmen.

The gravel train on the Missing Link has completed the filling in of the Tully and Doubes' bridges, and have been taken off for this season. The track is in excellent condition, and is perfectly safe for traffic. It required some 50 feet in depth for the Tully bridge and 70 feet for the Doubes bridge. It has required one train and about 100 men some five months to complete the construction so far, and with some 15,000 yards to be filled in next year to allow for sinkage, it will leave these bridges perfectly safe. It is said that the company has spent over $90,000 on the Tully bridge alone so far.

THE WHEEL.

The Campbellford Herald says,—A twenty-mile bicycle team race has been arranged to take place on the Agricultural Grounds here, on Saturday next, 26th inst. It will be open to riders of Cobourg, Peterborough, Belleville, Port Hope, Havelock, Hastings, Norwood and other places. Six men from each club will be allowed to start, the first four to finish from each club to score. A prize of four gold lockets said said to be valued at $50, is to be awarded the winning team. A time prize will also be given to the rider making the best time under one hour and five minutes.

Treasurer Knowles of the Goold firm is in Toronto perfecting arrangements for the long delayed trip of Harley Davidson behind a locomotive. The Grand Trunk officials were opposed at first to the idea on the grounds that the suction would be so great that the rider would be drawn into the engine and killed, but a scheme to obviate that chance has been hatched and it is likely that Davidson will make the attempt on a route somewhere between Brantford and Tilsonburg.

The final alteration in the record table has probably been made. T. B. McCarthy took advantage of the warmth of yesterday and made an onslaught on the five-mile record at the Toronto Island, paced by three tandem teams. It was not the best day that could have been chosen for work of that sort, there being a wind that constantly gained in volume and retarded his efforts during the last part of the journey considerably. He got well under the two and three mile mark, but fell behind at the fourth, the pacers finding it hard work to ride against the wind. It was only by superhuman exertions that the tandems pulled him inside the record on the last mile. His times were: quarter, .31 1 5; half, 1.05; three-quarter, 1.35; one mile, 2.10; mile and a quarter, 2.41; mile and a half, 3.15 2 5; mile and three-quarter, 3.45; two miles, 4.20 2-5; two miles and a quarter, 4.56; two miles and a half, 5.30 2 5; two miles and three-quarter, 6.05; three miles, 6.40 2-5; three miles and a quarter, 7.21; three miles and a half, 7.55; three miles and three quarters, 8.29 4 5; four miles, 9.05 3 5; four miles and a quarter, 9.41; four miles and a half, 10.16 1-2; four miles and three quarters, 10-50 1-5; five miles, 11.24 2-5. His ride was a very evenly-rated one. He rode under the two miles 1 2-5 seconds, but only got the third by a fifth of a second. At the four miles he was 5 3 5 seconds behind Davidson's mark, and apparently had not the least show to reduce the record of 11.25, but he went resolutely to work and, spurring the tiring tandem teams to renewed efforts, he got three-fifths of a second the best of the record, but only by doing the last mile in 2.19 1 5. He was paced by Parkins and Anderson, McIntosh and Wills, and Hyslop and Hulse.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious!

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases were the muscular force is greatly reduced, the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours. Try it.

LOCAL LEGAL.

A Case in Which Some Peterborough Citizens were Interested.

ELLIOTT VS WOODCOCK.

Wednesday the above case was tried at the Chancery sittings of the High Court at Belleville. The action was to set aside certain assignments of a mortgage originally held by Jos. Woodcock and afterwards assigned to the wife of Mr. W. P. McMahon, barrister, Belleville. The plaintiffs contended that the assignments were fraudulent, that no money passed between either of the parties and that the deed was void as against creditors.

On the other hand the creditors contended that they were innocent purchasers for a claim without notice.

The case was settled before trial by defendants paying plaintiff $450. Stratton & Hall appeared for plaintiff and E. B. Porter for defendants. The local witnesses in the case were Messrs. Alex. Elliott, R. S. Davidson and Ed. Brown.

Fashionable Buttons.

As the season advances, buttons cannot be ignored; they are appearing on plain and elaborate costumes from foreign and domestic dressmakers.

What is another sure sign of their revival is the fact of customers once more gathering around the button counter that has been of late seasons a deserted corner.

To be sure, the sales are limited to three, four, six, etc. but that is an encouraging beginning, and the amount is the same as though two dozen cheap buttons were taken.

An improvement is noticeable in buttons in so far as how much better buttons are demanded. The cheaper celluloid and horn buttons are almost solely used for the cheaper ready-made garments.

Hard-nut buttons above "54" are scarce. Four-hole buttons of this material are in good demand. A tasty four-holed design is much used. It has in the middle a narrow polished border; then follows a dull pressed ground and the outside border, which is polished in two colors.

Mother-of-pearl buttons in natural black are much seen, but various mother-of-pearl fancies also find buyers. Quite new are oval buttons, four-hole, in mother-of-pearl or in buffalo horn.

As the revival began here in the spring, it follows that pearl buttons are most in evidence. The outing suits of woolen fabrics, pique, duck and such cotton white suits as well, all accord with the large white and shaded pearls that may be found to harmonize with any of the fashionable mixtures.

These buttons are beautifully carved, set with steel, etc., and are worn on the jacket suits as three on either side of the front and two at the back of the waistline. The tailors often set three on each side of the front of a skirt, opening the skirt there in place of at the back.

The single and double-breasted pique vests worn with jacket suits have a single row of small buttons or a double row of large or small to the linen chemisette.

On silk or woolen waists buttons are placed as fancy dictates. Three on a center box-plait is, perhaps, the best known style. Norfolk basques often have two rows of ball buttons down the center plait; then straps over the shoulders are studded with buttons, and a new trimming shows a silk waist with vest of Valenciennes lace and insertion bordered on either side by a strip of velvet studded with small buttons.

Shirt waists are worn with stud buttons in enamel, the latest being set with a tiny Rhinestone.

Two large Rhinestones or miniature buttons serve as a belt buckle; two others may hold shoulder bows or the corners of revers. The brooch patterns in Rhinestones are veritable works of art, and are seen on the most elegant fabrics.

Jet and Rhinestones are combined to give the fashionable black note. A single pearl set in the strass reminds one of jewels, and steel forms a happy contrast as well. The beauty of these designs makes only a few necessary for any toilette.

Marie Antoinette Hood.

If there is no new dress under the sun, Aaron's linen coat being worn to-day by women and pantaloons having been found from the stone epoch, there are at least designs that re-appear like comets at such long intervals that they are new to some consecutive generations. Thus it is with a certain Marie Antoinette hood, part of a Marie Antoinette cloak, that has appeared and seems destined to a career. Not so very old in its design, it is so extremely odd and its career was so short in its day that it comes with all the effect of surprise. This hood is extremely wide and is hooped round the opening, and when on the head stands out like an inflated half balloon somewhat flattened on the top and leaving a wide space on each side of the face, that may be filled with hair or shadows. The width of this hood reaches out to that of the widest sleeve ever made. Attached to a long cloak it is bound to figure in evening wraps next winter, but forestalling the time they are occasionally seen on hotel piazzas at night and made of taffeta beruched or of satin lined with cloth; one or two travellers have worn them coming from Paris to the beach. The effect is truly marvellous.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty-five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience; they having cured when every other medicine failed."

Signs of Worms are variable appetite, itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

BEAUTIFUL AT 45.

A Grandmother Who Was the Belle of a Coterie of Young Ladies.

Three weeks ago I made one of a large house party given in the Berkshires—we numbered 16—and the belle of the week's pleasure was a beautiful young grandmother, the mother of our hostess. The woman in question was between 40 and 50. She is the most charming creature possible to imagine.

Picture to yourselves, all you dear readers who have dreamed about and meditated over and dreaded getting old, and yet have felt that it was inevitable, and that, as the French writer says, a woman dies twice—once when she sees her beauty gone—and such an hour was in store for you. This woman of splendid physique, weighing 140 pounds and measuring 5 feet 6 inches, with a perfect figure, lithe, round and svelte, with beautiful, intellectual brow, with rippling brown hair, violet-blue eyes, merry and yet infinitely tender; a strong, straight nose, a red-lipped, but rather large mouth; regular white teeth, dimpled chin, clear, firm skin, lovely throat, and shoulders dressed to perfection—and consider that I am telling you a bit of very recent history when I say that with two young maidens of the smart set—a pair of debutantes of quite noted beauty and a most lovely daughter, a belle in her first season—the grandmother was the undisputed centre of attraction of a delightful week.

It was she who spoke the purest French with our young Count and fluent German with the foreign attache, where the rest of us would have hopelessly floundered; she who played and sung, and never tired, whose endless wit and bright repartee sent us to bed thinking delightful things of her at night; she would delight us each morning afresh by her beauty, her dainty toilets, and her genuine enthusiasm and responsiveness.

It was the grandmother who surpassed us all as a horsewoman, and in the most correct bicycle costume mounted her wheel as gracefully as though she was stepping into a carriage. It was she again who had read every new book and knew the latest views concerning the most discussed problems of the day, and to whom girls and men made their confidences, and it was the grandmother whom I found at night with her daughter's tiny little son cradled in her arms while she sung softly and sweetly a little dream song of infinite charm to the restless little mite struggling with a new tooth.

Three New Hats.

The Old Menu.

In its old-fashioned form the menu was usually written large, on cards of such imposing dimensions that room for one only could be found at each end of the board. In the medieval dinner this aid to selection must have been an absolute necessity, for the medieval dinner was a mine of surprises. It was divided into courses, as are our own dainty meals, but whereas nowadays the dinner has a general idea that fish will follow soup, and that entree is succeeded by relevé, and can conceive generally the sort of demand that each course will make upon his appetite and digestion, there was no possible arguing as to what was going to happen at an early English dinner, and close study fails to reveal the existence of any principle of arrangement.

IN THE TREATY PORTS.

A Canadian Product Finds Favour in the Land of Confucius.

VANCOUVER, (Special), Oct. 14.—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favour in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds, known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians, and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers, many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases, which are very prevalent in the country.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Flogging in Russia.

Certain newspapers in Russia are protesting in a mild way against flogging as a penalty for non-payment of taxes by the peasantry and other offenses. The practice is a very common one in rural Russia, and there is a general belief among the intelligent classes that the peasant is not only indifferent to flogging but regards it as one of the pillars of the Russian social order. This assumption is warmly challenged by the papers referred to, the chief of which is Novosti, St. Petersburg. In support of its contention it publishes the views of an official who has lived for years among the peasants. He writes:

"To begin with, I am not aware of a single instance where flogging led to reformation, whereas in every village one can see men who had been industrious and law-abiding, but who have lost self-respect and the respect of others, through the degrading penalty of flogging. The feeling of humiliation and degradation deprived them of all incentive and ambition. Only the decent peasants are afraid of flogging, while the dregs of the peasantry would rather stand ten blows than be fined one rouble."

The fact that the peasants have so far submitted to flogging, the writer says, is explained by the lively recollections of the state of surfdom in which the old generation was brought up. Having lived under that system and its oppressions, this generation does not rebel against this survival; but the younger generation looks upon it with totally different feelings. Those especially who have attended school regard flogging as a great outrage, and when they are subjected to the humiliation the wrong is never effaced or forgotten.

Care of the Wheel.

Cyclists do not always seem to realize how much the durability of a bicycle depends upon the care which it receives. By this I mean not only keeping it clean, which is necessary for appearance sake, anyway, but the using of some judgment as to the way in which it is ridden. Just as on horseback, a heavy woman, if she rides well, will not tire her mount so quickly as a lighter, inexperienced one, so an expert cyclist brings far less train upon the machine than a careless rider, whose weight may not be nearly so great. If you have a rough piece of road to traverse, car tracks to cross, or come to any place where the riding is at all bad, do not rest your dead weight in the saddle, but rise a little and ease your machine, bearing harder than usual upon the pedals. Careful riding does not imply a slow pace. Those who make very fast time are often the most prudent and watchful cyclists. The outlook for obstacles becomes habitual, almost automatic, after a while, and saves much hard wear and many a break down.

It is a rare thing to find a woman who understand how to use the implements which she finds in her bicycle tool bag. She is often very punctilious about carrying it with her on her rides, but if anything breaks down it might as well be at home for all she would be able to accomplish with it. Her idea is that there will probably be some kind person around who understands such things to whom she can appeal for help. But this is not always the case, and she might find herself in a situation where a little knowledge of her own would be very valuable. If she has no one in the family who can explain to her the uses of the several tools, the information could easily be obtained at any bicycle store.—Harper's Weekly.

Not Particular.

Mistress (to cook)—Your name, Mary, and my daughter's being the same, makes matters somewhat confusing. Now, how do you like, say, the name of Bridget?

Cook—Sure, mum, it's not me that's particular. I'm willing to call the young lady anything you like.—Tit-Bits.

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit, both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

CANDY FOR CHILDREN.

The Popular Health Magazine says the desire in a child for candy and sweets is a natural one and should not be stifled. Good candy and sweets in moderation, not only do no harm, but are actually beneficial. Too much sweet upsets the stomach and spoils the appetite, but candy in moderation if it is not taken before a meal, is food which children crave naturally, and among the purest and most wholesome is that manufactured by

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from the prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

HUNTERS, BEWARE.

Ontario Game Laws to be Strictly Enforced—Circular Issued by the Crown Lands Department.

To better facilitate the enforcement of the game laws, and with a view of disseminating a knowledge of the same, the Chief Game Warden for Ontario is sending out the following notice, which will be posted up at all known resorts for hunters:

Notice to Hunters—Section 2, sub-section 1, of the "Ontario Game Laws" enacts as follows: No deer shall be hunted, taken or killed between the fifteenth day of November and the first day of November of the following year. Sub-section 3—No one person shall, during any one year or season, kill or take more in all than two deer. Section 14, sub-section 1—No person not a resident and domiciled in the Province of Ontario or Quebec shall be entitled to hunt, take, kill, wound or destroy deer without having first obtained a license in that behalf. Section 21, sub-section 1—Any person offending against any of the provisions of sections 2 and 14 of this act shall be liable, for each offence, to a fine not exceeding $50, together with the costs of the prosecution. The provisions of this act will be strictly enforced.

E. TINSLEY,
Chief Warden.

Toronto, Oct. 21, 1895.

He is also issuing the following notice to the lumbermen and their employees:

SIR,—Information has been received at this department to the effect that last year quantities of moose were killed for the use of and purchased by lumbermen for use in lumber camps. I desire to draw the attention of lumbermen and their staff of employees, and all persons connected with them, to the following clause in the game laws act: Section 2, sub-section 1.—No deer, elk, moose, reindeer or caribou, shall be hunted, taken or killed between the fifteenth day of November and the first day of November of the following year, but the period hereinbefore limited shall not, as to moose, elk, reindeer or caribou, apply before or until the first day of November, 1900, and no moose, elk, reindeer or caribou shall be hunted, taken or killed before the 25th day of October, 1900. 58 Vic., chap. 108, sec. 1. The penalty for violation of this law is $50. I now beg to point out that care has been taken this year to place officers at all points necessary to the discovery of violations of the law in the manner above mentioned, and further beg to intimate that the severest penalties will be imposed wherever violations of the above section are discovered. I trust that instead of either permitting or conniving at the violations of the law you will aid the officers of the department in strictly enforcing its provisions, both as respects moose and other game. I shall regret extremely if I am called upon to put the law in motion.

E. TINSLEY,
Chief Warden.

Fish and Game Commission, Toronto Oct. 10th, 1895.

The Hon. Commissioner of Crown Lands is also sending out the following circular, with a view to effectually putting an end to any violation of the laws:

Notice to Wood Rangers, Crown Lands Agents, Crown Timber Agents, Fire Wardens, Fishery Inspectors, or Overseers and Constables—By section 16 of the fish and game protection act, 1892, all constables, wood rangers, Crown Land agents, Crown timber agents, fire wardens, and fishery inspectors or overseers are vested with powers, as Deputy Game and Fish Wardens, and are authorized to enforce the provisions of the act, and to receive for their services the same fees as Deputy Game Wardens. It has been represented to the department that, instead of aiding the Game Wardens in the enforcement of the law, some of the officers aforesaid decline to do this, and that others wink at known violations of the law by hunters, lumbermen and others. The undersigned desires, therefore, to draw the attention of all the officers above named to the importance in the public interest of seeing the game laws duly enforced, and of their carrying out the intent and spirit of the provisions of the act in so far as it affects them; indeed, should it be brought home to any of the said officers that they either connive at or have a knowledge of the violation of the game laws, without either taking action themselves, or immediately reporting the same to the Game Wardens or other officers charged with the enforcement of the law, the department will take official notice of their neglect, and where such neglect is wilful or systematic, or where they are themselves guilty of a violation of the law, or connive at its violation by others, the case will be reported for such action (even to the extent of removal from office) as may be deemed fit and proper under the circumstances.

ARTHUR S. HARDY,
Commissioner of Crown Lands.

Mr. John Baskin and family have moved to the mill here. We understand he intends stocking the mill and running it this winter. It will be a fine thing for the farmers around here in reach of the mill as they will be able to draw logs and get their lumber home this winter.

We were pleased to see the smiling countenance of Mr. Wm. Shaw, of Stirling, here last week. He was looking after some property he has here. We are happy to see him look so well.

Some of our young men from this section left for the lumber woods last week. We understand they went to Pine Lake for Messrs. Howry & Sons. We wish them success.

As Mr. Thos. Lowry and Miss Graham were returning from a party held at Mr. N. Hawley's one night last week one of the wheels came off the buggy shortly after starting. Fortunately neither of them was injured. The next day the nut was found where the rig stood during the evening. It is supposed it was taken off by some one. A word to the wise—don't do it again!

There was a gathering of people in the street this afternoon in front of St. Patrick's Presbytery, and word passed from mouth to mouth that Mgr. On Sunday Mgr. was taken seriously ill while saying mass, and at his own request the last rites of the church were administered Mgr., however, got better, but just after taking dinner, and while preparing to take a walk, the learned prelate dropped to the floor and expired.

Ridgeway, Ont., Oct. 22.—The greatest gas well ever struck in this vicinity was developed last week by the Provincial Company. It is located two miles northeast of Ridgeway on the Homer Cutler farm. Conservative estimates place the flow at not less than 2,000,000 feet a day. When the cap is removed from the moth of the well and the gas is allowed to escape the noise is simply deafening.

"77"

FOR

SNEEZING.

Such a sneezing time was never known since the world began, caused by the sudden changes in the weather—people caught unprepared—girls in shirt waists—ladies, in summer silks—men in light attire—all contribute towards their portion of colds.

The greater number who escape, are the careful and prudent who carry and take Dr. Humphrey's Specific "77," which is a true preventive and cure.

With a bottle of "77" in your pocket as a Protector, particularly when exposed at night, and after violent exercise, such as bicycle riding, you can feel safe and secure from taking cold.

"77" will "break up" a cold that "hangs on."

MEDICAL BOOK.

Dr. Humphreys puts up a Specific for every disease. They are described in his Manual, which is sent free.

Small bottles of pleasant pellets—fit your vest pocket; sold by druggists, or sent on receipt of price 25c., or five for $1.00. Humphreys' Medicine Co., 111 and 113 William St., New York.

A CONFIDENCE EXISTS

Between the People and This Store,

Born of an acquaintence of twenty-three years of mutual service—a certainty that customers are served with the best selections of Fashionable Clothing—and that whatever they purchase they get at the lowest cost it can be given for, honestly.

This confidence increases as we do better, and we can trust the public to discover what is to their own interest.

Whatever the lowest prices for Ready-to-wear Clothing are in any store, it is more than likely there are better values here.

A price that is sheer cost to save is often a price at which we sell.

NOTHING FINER

THE LAST VOYAGE THE C.P.R. STEAMSHIP

"Empress of India"

Made across the Pacific ocean brought us a consignment of 75 bales Japanese Rugs and Squares, in the Osaka quality, direct from the manufacturers, and which we have just opened and placed on exhibition.

They come in all sizes from a small Door Mat to the large Crumb Cloth size, and the beautiful designs are characteristic of the Japanese artist.

DIMENSIONS.

1½ ft. x 2 ft.	2 ft. x 4 ft.
2½ ft. x 5 ft.	3 ft. x 6 ft.
6 ft. x 6 ft.	6 ft. x 8 ft.
8 ft. x 10 ft.	10 ft. x 12 ft.

Purchasing these goods as we did when the rate of exchange between the two countries was so favourable to us, we are thereby enabled to offer these beautiful Rugs and Squares 25 per cent. lower than they are usually sold for. They are specially adapted for Halls, Vestibules, Hearth Rugs and Polished Floors.

In this shipment we received some new and beautiful Silk Fabrics, in plain and Crepe Silks, suitable for evening wear.

As I Predicted

My Heavy-weight Blankets are having a rapid sale. The last two weeks has made a big hole in the stock. But that need'nt deter the Ladies from coming after more; for, although, the price of wool has gone up we can repeat orders at the same old price. Our Blankets live up to the label promise, in size, weight and price.

When we sell our best Blankets for $3.29, $3.76, $4.26, $4.76, it means a very considerable saving on the price you have to pay anywhere else.

There is a lesson here for the ladies. The extra price you pay elsewhere has to be put on for extra store expenses. If you are not buying Blankets you are buying Dress Goods or something else. The same holds true—money is saved in price here. We run our store with economy; that's why we can sell at smaller profits. Plain, isn't it.

Don't Overlook the Underwear.

We have something that undersells the undermost in Underwear. What do you think of 35c for a price. At 50c we can give you extra value. There's nothing that will please a husband, brother, sister or daughter we haven't got.

FREE:—All Mantles and Dress Goods bought here, costing 50c per yard and upwards, will be cut and fitted free of charge.
